This is the situation at Ypsilanti State Hospital. Many of its patients—some from this area — have been confined since its opening in 1931.

The hospital and its employees do their best by providing food and lodging and the necessities of life.

But rehabilitation takes more than that.

The patients need someone to take an interest in them, some tie with the outside.

☆

VOLUNTEERS take an active part at the hospital:

- By helping with the recreation and occupational therapy programs.
- By escorting patients on outings, to church or for walks.
- By "adopting" a patient or ward to visit regularly.
- By reading to them or writing letters.

Groups can "adopt" a ward by providing refreshments, gifts, games for a party; by bringing in entertainment such as plays, variety shows, orchestras.

Lamps, drapes and pictures for a ward to make it more comfortable is another way of adopting or by packing gift boxes, donating books, magazines, clothing or most anything that is usable.

A party for 100 patients can be provided for $25.

These are just a few of the ways that people can help. A person need have no special ability.

All that is required is a warm, personal concern for the unfortunate. Age is no barrier. Retired persons, individuals, couples or groups make fine volunteers.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

CULL DAIRY COWS that are eating up a good share of your profits. Non-fed beef prices are good now but will be lower by late spring. Start building your herd average for possible milk price drops in the future. Shoot for 9,000 to 10,000 pounds per cow. Here's a culling guide you may want to use — a cow which freshened last October and is now giving about 30 pounds per day will produce only about 9,000 pounds this lactation.

INCRESE WHEAT YIELDS BY TOPDRESSING WITH NITROGEN within the next few weeks. Generally you can figure that for each dollar you spend on nitrogen for topdressing you'll get back $2.50 to $2.75. On heavy type soils 20 pounds of nitrogen per acre may be sufficient. But on sandy soils you may want to go as high as 50 to 60 pounds, especially if you plowed under a heavy cover or residue last fall.

DIP, DON'T DUST, SHEEP TO CONTROL SCABIES. Now's a good time to check your flock. Chances are, mites have increased in number and spread since last fall. If treatment is necessary, hold sheep in a livestock grade lorsphene dip for 30 seconds. Dusting just won't get the job done. The dust doesn't make sufficient contact to give good kill.

PLANT YOUR OATS AS SOON AS WEATHER ALLOWS. Every 10 days you delay seeding oats past the normal planting date for your area, you can figure that yields will drop about 15%. If you have to plant late, consider increasing your planting rate by about a bushel.

playtex magic-cling bra 2.50

Now you can see on T.V. why this remarkable new bra won't ride up. The back clings...always stays comfortably in place. Shoulder straps won't cut or bind because elastic in the straps lets you reach, stretch, bend. And this bra keeps its shape and yours even after months of machine washings...long after ordinary bras have become limp, shrunken and shapeless. White. 32A to 40C. Only $2.50.

"A second thought on first aid"

We're constantly amazed at the number of children who cut, scrape and bruise themselves within sight (and sound) of our pharmacy. We do a big business in antiseptics, bandages, and other first-aid items. Same everywhere, probably. But sometimes we wonder if people don't depend too much on first aid—neglect proper medical attention. If there's the slightest question in your mind following what appears to be minor injuries, see your physician. First aid has definite limitations. You can only be sure of proper medical care by seeing your doctor. A prompt visit can save a half dozen later.

M. Kay McClure Weds Jere Michaels

M. Kay McClure and Jere L. Michaels were united in marriage by the Rev. Allen Wittrup at the First Methodist Church of Tecumseh Feb. 18 in a double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McClure, 1150 W. Monroe Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Michaels of Brighton.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums were used to decorate the altar of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bennett sang, accompanied by Mrs. Kenton Hunt at the organ.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of silk organza accented with iridescent sequins, lace appliques at the neckline and on the sleeves. The skirt featured a chapel train.

She carried a bouquet of Calla lillies centered with an orchid.

Fay McClure was her sister's maid-of-honor. Mrs. Lynn Spears of Brighton, sister of the groom, and Peggy Penrod of Dearborn were the bridesmaids.

Miss McClure wore a lilac colored gown and the bridemaids wore gold print gowns, all with chiffon over skirts, scoop necklines and three-quarter sleeves.

They also wore matching shoes and head pieces and white gloves, gifts of the bride.

The attendants carried white carnations trimmed in the colors of their gowns.

Douglas Bidwell of Brighton was best man and the guests were seated by Larry Pearsall and William Lampe.

Dennis McClure and Dennis Beamer were the acolytes.

A reception for 125 guests was held in the church social rooms following the ceremony.

Those assisting at the reception were Mrs. Jane Shawl, Donna Reblin, Caroline Easton, Mrs. William McGraw, Mrs. Robert Mallock, Judy Kempf and Carol McClure.

The bride is a senior at Eastern Michigan University and will receive her BS degree in June.

A 1960 graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Mr. Michaels is an accountant with the Cadillac Motor Division of General motors.

The couple will make their home at 16 N. Summit St., Ypsilanti.

Jolly Jokers Hold Gathering at Henkel Home

The Jolly Jokers met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rhae Henkel recently for a social evening.

Prizes for games were awarded to Mrs. Ray Hunter, Henry Korgh, Mrs. Bert Wilcox and Burton Goodwin.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Korgh.

LEADERS 4-H CLUBS — From left Mrs. Russell Mitzner, Mrs. James Feight and Mrs. Russell Starkey are three of the several leaders in this area who have extremely active clubs.

Youth on the Move

In recognition of National 4-H Club Week, March 4-11, the Tecumseh Herald interviewed three leaders of outstanding clubs in this area.

● Mrs. Russell Mitzner is the leader of the Country Hi-Steppers Club with a membership of 31.

The past few weeks this group have been focusing its attention on the career project, an attempt to help teenagers discover what they would like to do following graduation.

Other adult leaders working with the Hi-Steppers and their specialties are:

Frank Creger — forestry, trapping and gun safety.

Raynor Sweet — livestock, including swine, rabbits and sheep.

Mrs. Lee Purkey — clothing, knitting.

Mrs. Raynor Sweet — vegetable and flower gardening.

Mrs. Donald Woods — cooking.

Mrs. Frank Creger — entomology.

Ray Yenor — electricity.

Junior leaders are assisting Mrs. Mitzner with six other projects.

☆

● Mrs. Russell Starkey is the leader of the Lucky Clover 4-H Club with 25 members.

New people added to the club this past week are Thomas and Ed Stormes, Kristine Kittell, Katherine Thompson and Leon Richardson.

Leaders and projects of the club are:

Mrs. Charles Irelan — leathercraft.

Don P. Murphy — livestock, tractor.

Ernest Hammack and Bus Smith — archery.

Other projects of the club are led by Mrs. Starkey with the help of junior leaders.

Linda Starkey assists with flowers, horses and dogs.

Greg Smith helps with archery and horses.

Karen Helwig works with the cooking members.

The Lucky Clovers have a display this week in the window of Eggleston's Jewelry.

☆

● Mrs. James Feight and her husband lead the Lanning Wolverines Club, a new group with 12 members.

At present the group is working on a new handicraft project entitled plastics.

Enthusiasm is running high as the youngsters allow their imaginations to be their guides in molding the heated plexiglas or lucite into the desired shape.

Bracelets, tie racks, picture frames, lamp bases, coasters and dishes are some of the items made.

Embedding insects, butterflies and other interesting articles for scientific research have also proved satisfying experiences for the members.

Other projects and leaders of the Wolverines are:

Mrs. Loyd Stites — plastics, entomology.

James Feight — woodworking, electricity.

Mrs. Arthur Fritz — sewing.

4-H CLUBS ARE an organization of young people interested in learning by actual practice how to be better farmers, better homemakers and better citizens.

They work in close contact with the Agricultural Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment Stations of Michigan State University and United States Department of Agriculture.

They benefit from the guidance and cooperation of the public education system; civic groups; city, county, state, and federal governmental organizations; and business and industry leaders.

They have as volunteer leaders in their activities thousands of farmers, homemakers, and other adults interested in the future of the state's young people.

The 4-H Clubs have pioneered many improvements in farming and homemaking in Lenawee County. But no less important is the character-building that results from membership and active participation in 4-H work.

Many former 4-H members now hold prominent places in agriculture and other walks of life.

There is a place in 4-H work for more young people — and more adults who want to make a contribution to the welfare of youth and the progress of the state by lending a hand with 4-H work.

Mother Performs Doctor's Chore During Ice Storm

Allen Stites, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stites, 1854 Russell Rd., suffered a broken left arm Saturday, Feb. 25, during the ice storm.

The little boy was playing with his brothers in the living room when his foot caught between cushions on the davenport and he fell to the floor, breaking the bone on the underneath part of the arm.

No lights, no water and worse than that, no car. The family auto was in the garage for repairs. So Mrs. Stites administered aid.

When by Sunday at 10 a.m., Mr. and Mrs. Stites were finally able to get their child to Herrick Memorial Hospital, the physician said that Mrs. Stites had done an excellent job of taping to hold the bone in place.

Allen was returned to his home after a cast had been put on the injured arm.

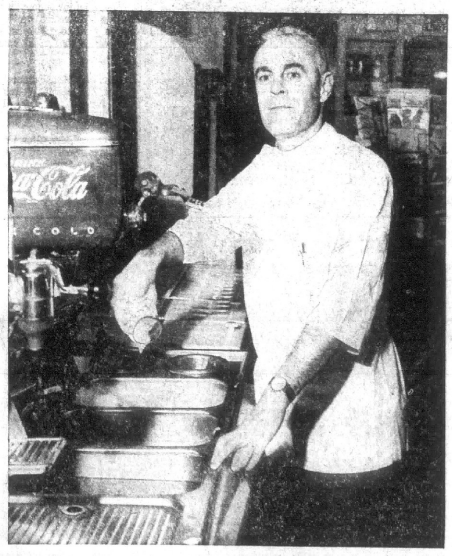
Soft Water — A Must

States Bill Wright, Owner

C. A. Wright & Son, Tecumseh



"We couldn't run without soft water. We tried operating our fountain without it about five years ago, but it just didn't work. The dishes were streaked. The health department inspector gave us a bad time. We had to use special dips, which were a real headache. With soft water all our dish washing problems were ended."

Bill Wright.

683 times "around the world"...they pounded the pavements and proved that concrete outperforms asphalt these ways...
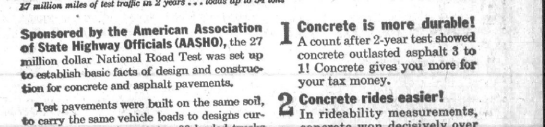
NATIONAL ROAD TEST GIVES THE EVIDENCE!



27 million miles of test traffic in 2 years . . . loads up to 54 tons

Sponsored by the American Association of State Highway Officials (AASHO), the 27 million dollar National Road Test was set up to establish basic facts of design and construction for concrete and asphalt pavements.

Test pavements were built on the same soil, to carry the same vehicle loads to designs currently used in various states. 99 loaded trucks —pickups to semi-trailers—pounded them 19 hours a day for 2 years. Millions of scientific measurements were made.

The test has demonstrated concrete's superiority for streets, roads and Interstate highways!

1 Concrete is more durable! A count after 2-year test showed concrete outlasted asphalt 3 to 1! Concrete gives you more for your tax money.

2 Concrete rides easier! In rideability measurements, concrete won decisively over asphalt. Only concrete can give you lasting driving comfort.

Your state helped finance this test to bring you better roads, full value from tax dollars.

LITTLE LAURIE HART, GRANDDAUGHTER OF MRS. LaRUE HART TESTS WALDORF CAKE

Wow! $350 for Recipe

Mrs. LaRue Hart, 706 River Acres Dr. is our cook of the week.

The unique red, red cake which she is shown giving to her granddaughter, Lauri Hart, is ideal for special occasions.

Mrs. Hart says, "My husband just loves this cake and I surprised him on his last birthday anniversary by making one for the coffee break in his office at the Products."

She says further that it is a rich dessert and the recipe came from that same office.

☆

LEGEND HAS IT that someone from the office went to the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City and ordered a slice of this colorful cake, which was on the menu at $1.50 per serving.

Curious, they asked the waiter for the recipe. He replied that the hotel chef would send it and he did with a bill for $350.

Amazed, the lady consulted a lawyer to determine if she would have to pay the bill. The lawyer replied that since she had requested the recipe she would have to pay for it.

In retaliation she has given the recipe to all her friends.

☆

THE HARTS recently spent three winters in Florida where Mrs. Hart became interested in shell collecting.

After one lesson in shell jewelry she began making rings, bracelets, necklaces and pins, even table centerpieces and shell plaques.

Mr. Hart enjoyed the shells too, but doesn't have much time to work at the hobby.

They have three sons, Albert and Vere, of Toledo and Larry of Tecumseh and one daughter, Mrs. Duane Bihlmeyer, also of Tecumseh. They have 10 grandchildren.

Sewing for herself and the grandchildren — she made ten pairs of pajamas at Christmas time—keeps Mrs. Hart occupied in her spare time.

She is the District Manager for a cosmetic house. She bowls in local leagues.

Mrs. Hart attends the Presbyterian Church and a Circle and is past matron of the OES.

Readers will certainly want to try this delicious cake made from Mrs. Hart's recipe.

FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED . . . ATTEND CHURCH!

Only wise men and hungry children fully appreciate their blessings!

Many of God's gifts, like the air we breathe, are received without thought. Others, like the abundance of the harvest, we think about only in season. Still others, like our religious heritage, get varying degrees of attention and response according to our spiritual perception . . . or the precariousness of our plight.

This isn't Christmas . . . or Easter. And we hope it is not a time of personal crisis for you and your family . . .

If it's just a normal week, full of the routine of life—then it's an ideal time to remember your blessings. And Sunday will be an ideal day to begin, renew or strengthen that wholesome habit of worshipping God in the church of your choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Michigan Needs Con-Con

We're disappointed in the Republican party of Michigan for not taking a definite and positive stand in favor of a Constitutional Convention.

The party solidly backed the idea, as championed by Paul Bagwell when he twice ran for governor.

We favored Con-Con then and do now.

Any Constitution as patched-up as ours should get a careful examination—especially in the area of taxation.

This doesn't mean that there should be radical changes in every paragraph, but certainly careful scrutiny of each.

Some folks from rural governmental units are lining up to fight Con-Con, fearing that their domains might be wiped out. Holding a convention does not automatically mean abolition of township and county government, it means primarily it, along with everything else, will be examined for its worth.

Opponents of Con-Con say that a convention call will cost several millions. Agreed. But when the job is done and done properly, this action could well save the state hundreds of millions in future years.

Michigan needs many things right now — one of them is Con-Con.

Learning About Schools

As a help to citizens to understand better the makeup and financing of our school district, The Herald is running a detailed series on local education.

Prepared by Marjorie Comfort, a former daily newspaper woman who specializes in school reporting, the stories have gone into great detail. At the same time they're easy-to-read and understand.

We hope that readers have availed themselves — and will continue to do so — of this opportunity to learn about the complicated business of operating our public schools.

It's an operation that hits most of us right where it hurts — the pocketbook. We should all know how and where our money is being spent.

The Herald has been extremely pleased with the caliber of Mrs. Comfort's work. This feeling was underlined last week by a letter we received from C. VanderLinden, superintendent of schools at Leslie.

It read:

"One of our local citizens recently handed me your paper dated Feb. 9, 1961, and called my attention to Marjorie Comfort's fine article.

"I am very much impressed by her writing and, since our school problem seems so similiar to yours in Tecumseh, would it be possible for me to have her entire series of articles on schools."

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

The Tecumseh Herald has provided some very interesting reading for me— "Bygone Years", Clara Waldron's history, Marda Gene's "Thru My Window" and the current letters concerning schools—similar to the controversy when the High School was built; the Athletic field was bought and many others.

I also enjoy the verbal controversies as to what we need in our schools and "the good old days."

I'd like to put on my rose-colored nostalgic glasses and go back with several business men and women to the "good old days".

I'd like to have education as it was then: when, if I were having difficulties in arithmetic or math, the teacher was still the best education authority and we (mother and I) drilled over the dining room table to be sure I was prepared for the next days lesson.

When we had physical education, art, music for all grades, glee clubs (both boys and girls and the big men of sports took part, too) a junior play, a senior play, an orchestra, debate, girls and boys competition in basketball and tennis, plus football, track and baseball for boys only.

A family of five children could graduate from THS and go to college and the rest of the family could still eat well.

A family on a medium income could pay cash for a new car and drive to school games no farther away than 15 miles.

Movies were open mostly on Friday and Saturday nights and you could go for 10c or 15c and on Sunday the family went to church — mostly three times a day.

Where teachers liked to come and teach because the town took them into its social life and respected them and the teachers provided local girls with great competition for the local boys.

When meat — swiss steak no less—was 25c a lb., bread 10c a loaf and veal 30c a pound.

I'd like to go back to the town and school from which I entered the U. of M. and found that educationally I was well prepared in some things, but the competition with students from cities with a more diversified curriculum was harder.

I still have on my rose-colored glasses, but in our home—maybe be yours too—education was a prime necessity.

I could go on—maybe some of you oldsters can recall WHAT you would like to retain from the "good old days".

Like salaries of $2,500 being high, rooms renting for $3 a week or less, college costing about $700 per year.

Our slogan for the purchase of the athletic field was, "One day's pay for a place for your child to play". The average pay was under $6 a day.

But you see I want more for my pupils and my son—I want the things I had and more so that when they go from Tecumseh schools into work here or elsewhere, or to college, they have the best preparation possible.

I want them to respect the educational personnel and the opportunities education gives them.

I just want them to be proud they came from or live in Tecumseh where the citizenry want the best they can give—socially, educationally and emotionally — for the younger generation, so they can say again "I'm from Tecumseh—the best little town in Michigan."

When I look at my school tax (do you KNOW what yours is?) and then look at the majority of boys and girls crowded into our schools and read the survey on our schools, I could pay more — even though it hurts.

I hope the people who paid taxes for my education felt the same way.

A local "girl", a THS graduate, a Mother, a teacher, a taxpayer.

TO THE EDITORS:

I am sure that few of us, realize the uselessly cruel procedures that are often employed in the slaughtering of animals which furnish steaks, chops and stewmeat. A visit to an average slaughter-house would be an eye-opener to many of us.

At present there is no legal means in Michigan to control heartlessness in commercial butchery. The Federal government controls only the packers who slaughter for inter-state commerce, or whose products are bought directly by Federal agencies.

But it is up to the individual states themselves to see to it that animals butchered for intra-state consumption are done away with in a less than savage manner.

Realizing the kindly, Christian, ethical necessity for such control, two altruistic Senators have introduced such a bill — Senate Bill No. 1015—into the agenda of the current legislature.

This bill would empower the Director of Agriculture to see to it that a minimum of pain and terror is inflicted on meat animals during their killing.

So, PLEASE won't you readers take a few minutes from your busy schedules and write to Senator Elmer Porter, Capitol Building, Lansing, and ask him to support Senate Bill No. 1015 on your behalf?

Sincerely,
John D. McColl

THROUGH MY WINDOW

IT'S BEEN A FUNNY WINTER

Yes, indeed it has been a funny winter—not funny ha-ha, but funny peculiar. We have had about the same variety of birds as usual but they have come in nowhere near the numbers that they have in past years.

For instance, instead of the usual eight, 10, 12, even 15 mourning doves, this winter we have had only one. Other people have reported the same thing, the birds just don't seem to be as numerous as usual.

Although we never have as many chic-a-dees as we would like, this year we have had only two. They are a faithful pair and every day come to freeload on suet and sun flower seeds.

The tufted titmouse population has dwindled to a single pair also. Never have we had so few of the gray birds.

But every day we have watched and when the two come for their breakfast, lunch and dinner, never are they accompanied by any friends or relatives.

The upside down nut-hatches are a little harder to keep track of, but their number, I am sure, is down, too.

Rarely do they share the feeder with another of their kind and although it used to be quite common to have one bird eating while two or three others patiently waited their turn, this hasn't happened lately.

We have three, maybe four nuthatches, but that is definitely not up to par.

FORTUNATELY, the downy woodpeckers are holding their own. The trim little black and white birds are almost the mainstays of our feeding stations — I am excepting of course the sparrows who are always with us in uncountable numbers.

Like the nuthatches, the downies much prefer to dine alone and so it is difficult to take a census. As long as one of the feeders is hosting a Mr. or Mrs. D. Woodpecker we will not worry about how many others are around, we will just enjoy what we have.

The beloved cardinals, as might well be imagined, are giving us their own particular kind of trouble. We can never have enough of the red birds, but I must be realistic and admit that this year there has been a fair sized contingent.

Three males are easily recognized, one is extremely bright, another almost an orange red and the third is small and dark. Two females are often seen together and I strongly suspect there is a third around, too.

No, our cardinal trouble is not number-wise, it's their behavior. They stubbornly refuse to come to the feeders with any regularity — in fact, they hardly ever come to the feeders at all.

They content themselves with seeds which have fallen to the ground but this doesn't afford us the closeup look we so enjoy.

THE REAL enigma of the winter has been the blue-jay, but we will deal with them in a later article.

Actually, I can't complain too much because although we haven't had as many birds, we have certainly had more new birds than ever before. In past weeks we have discussed them as they have come into our window pictures, but briefly bringing you up to date.

The Carolina wren has not visited lately.

A week or so ago the flicker suddenly became shy and although he sits in the tree and looks down at the suet, he acts afraid of the feeder.

The brown creeper has at last decided that our trees are as good as Dr. Marsh's and occasionally comes for a bite of the suet, which we put out for him especially.

The yellow bellied sapsucker has not returned.

But our pride and joy is the big hairy woodpecker — more about him next week.

So it is that our winter has been a funny one. How has yours been?

THE SAGA OF OLD NO. 9

When Confederates fired on Ft. Sumter, the original of this hand-drawn, hand-pumped fire wagon served Lansing. Twenty-eight heaving, sweating and sometimes cursing volunteers manfully hauled it to fires amid a chorus of yelling kids, barking dogs and clanging fire bells. In 1872, it was sold to Cheboygan and replaced by a horse-drawn fire wagon because people needed more protection from fire. Today, people rely on highly mechanized, full-time firemen . . . and the protection afforded by a Hastings Mutual fire insurance policy. And Old No. 9 is ending its days in the possession of the Michigan Historical Commission Museum, Lansing.

Schools Cut $67,423 — Also To Seek 4 Mills

By JIM LINCOLN

Months of investigation and study ended Monday night when the Tecumseh school board approved placing four mills before the electorate at a special school election May 8.

The board and Supt. James McDowell—since last fall's decision to end deficit spending—have seemingly probed all possibilities to pay off a $136,000 deficit without making serious cuts in educational services and without asking for additional millage.

Monday night's decision not only requests four mills, or approximately $136,000, but also includes cuts and reductions in services amounting to $67,423.

Part of the services will be restored if the millage passes. If not passed, the board will not be able financially to restore them and balance the 1961-'62 ledger.

PLEASE NOTE BREAKDOWN ON CUTS AT BOTTOM OF PAGE

Passage of the four mills would restore the kindergarten section, put grade one on a full-day session instead of half-day, keep Macon and West Branch schools open, incur purchase of new classroom furniture for additional students, and restore freshman football and basketball.

The board announced to over 50 residents at the meeting held in the high school cafeteria that the total deficit would be eliminated as quickly as possible, and savings acquired through cutting services would be used to reduce the deficit.

TOM RIORDAN'S Long AND Short

When an organization decides to stage a public event, about the first thing members do is appoint a publicity chairman.

His job: get the word around.

If the chairman knows what to do and hits area newspapers, radio and TV stations with stories; buys some ads; gets out posters, the effort will probably be well rewarded.

So it is with our state's annual "Michigan Week."

Paul Penfield, advertising manager of Detroit Edison Co., was dubbed for the job and he immediately tapped 26 chairmen for various categories.

These run from amateur radio through a speakers bureau—all to tell the story of Michigan Week.

Paul, who was my boss for three years back in the late Forties, asked if I'd handle newspaper advertising. I readily agreed — but not without great trepidation.

"It will be easy," Paul assured me.

His battery of chairmen met in Detroit last week and Paul went down the list, one by one, asking each to report what his category —newspapers, television, radio, magazines, trade associations, photographic, etc. — was doing to help sell Michigan.

There were no laggards. Some plans are fantastic. This is not pie-in-the-sky stuff either and much has been underway for months.

For example, in the school publication division, contests are in the works among Michigan high school papers for best Michigan Week issue, best ad, best story, best picture.

The ham radio operators are preparing stories about the glories of Michigan, which they'll broadcast to fellow hams all over the world. For 10 such contacts, they'll earn a special certificate from their state amateur radio association.

And so it goes.

In my own category, we're preparing a full-page ad on Michigan Week, which will be made available to each of the state's 350 papers, weekly and daily.

UNDER FIRE DEPT. SPOTLIGHTS, STATE POLICE CRIME LAB SPECIALISTS PROB E FOR CLUES AT SITE WHERE BODY WAS FOUND

'Self-Inflicted' Shot

Almost seven days to the hour after the disappearance of 13-year-old John Paul Marsh, his body was found in heavy underbrush at the south edge of town.

It was accidently discovered at 2 p.m., in a gully about 300 yards north and west of the Tecumseh Green Houses.

Death was termed "self-inflicted" by state police, following intense study at the East Lansing crime laboratory along with thorough investigation and questioning of the victim's family and friends.

The .38 caliber bullet, which was fired from within six inches, came from a battered gun which John's stepfather had been given.

Alex Glenn, the stepfather, said that when a neighbor, Robert Walker, died last December he left his possessions to Glenn. Among them was a .38, with friction tape on its handle.

The weapon, along with a box of shells, was kept in a bureau drawer in the parents' room and the six youngsters were forbidden to touch it, Glenn said.

Two small neighbor boys later told police they had taken the gun the day before John's disappearance, but then left it under a tree in the Glenn back yard.

Glenn said he didn't notice it missing until Monday, the day after John was gone. He said he had no idea at the time if any shells were gone since the box had never been full.

John apparently shot himself—police are not certain if it was an accident or suicide—late in the afternoon of Sunday, March 6. Death came at 6 p.m., according to Dr. J. H. Ahronheim, a Jackson pathologist, who performed the autopsy.

The shot went through John's left lung. It was probably some time before the youth actually died, the pathologist stated.

His body was discovered just one week later, lodged feet-first in a "hide-out" John, his brothers and other chums used when they played "army" in the woods about 1,500 yards from the Glenn home.

Twelve-year-old Dick Smith, a seventh grader at Tecumseh Junior High, was trying to lose the others and was about to leap into the boy-size "fox-hole" when he saw the body.

He called to the others and each of the four—John's step-brother, Alex Glenn, Jr., 13; Melvin Maynard, eight; Burton Gillem, 11 and John Moody, 12—raced over.

They then sprinted to the Glenn home at 311 S. Maumee St. Mr. Glenn notified Tecumseh police and patrolman Bob Arwood took them to the scene for positive identification.

Wins Fellowship

PRINCETON, N.J.—The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation has named 1,333 students from 381 colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada as Woodrow Wilson Fellows for 1961-62.

Among those chosen is Scott Harvey, son of Mrs. Bea Ring, 704 W. Chicago Blvd. He is a student of Kenyon College in Ohio.

The fellowships cover the first year of graduate study and are meant to encourage the newly-elected fellows to consider college teaching as a possible career.

Nominations for these highly-competitive awards are made by the students' professors.

Screening of candidates also is done by 15 regional committees drawn from the academic profession.

Winners were chosen from 10,453 nominees.

Scott attended Kenyon on a Baker scholarship. He did research work during the summer on a Ford Foundation research grant.

He was president of Beta Theta Pi fraternity last year and is president of the Interfraternity Council this year.

Scott is secretary-treasurer of the Senior Society, an honor group, and a member of the Chase Society, also plays varsity basketball.

He was president of his freshman class.

SCOTT HARVEY

Handicapped, He Also Gets Honor

Only other Woodrow Wilson Fellow in Lenawee County is Bill DeLoach of Blissfield.

Bill is completing his studies under circumstances which are unusual, to say the least.

Confined to a wheel-chair since June, 1957, when he broke his neck in a diving accident, he is paralyzed from the arm-pits down, with some impairment of his hands.

For six years, through high school and first two years of college, Bill attended Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit.

With his training for the priesthood terminated abruptly, Bill spent most of the following year in and out of hospital.

By an unique arrangement, primarily worked out by Prof. Allan Seager of Tecumseh, he was accepted by the University of Michigan to study at home, attend classes when he could, do extra reading, complete all examinations and term papers as required, and carry a full scholastic load.

On each subject he received full residence credit, usually A's and B's.

His nomination by the faculty of the U. of M. psychology department for the Woodrow Wilson fellowship aroused hope, but Bill still had two hurdles to surmount — processes of elimination by which the candidates were trimmed from 800 for Ohio and Michigan down to the 100 who finally received the award.

In Blissfield, the home-town of which he knew so little in the six years he was away at school, the warm response of neighbors and friends who raised a scholarship fund for him three years ago has been a source of continuing encouragement for him to go on and do his best.

$200 Profit Is Realized from Recital

About 250 people attended the organ recital by Prof. Lode Van Dessel at the St. Elizabeth Church Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Van Dessell is organist and choir director at St. Aloysius Church in Detroit.

The pipe organ at St. Elizabeth Church, built by the famous Casavant Freres firm near Montreal, is valued at $12,000.

It was installed here when the present Tecumseh Catholic church was opened in 1950. It consists of 372 pipes arranged in in four ranks.

The Catholic Church legislates that electronic organs and similar instruments may not support the voices in divine worship; thus only the "king of instruments" — the pipe organ — is allowed.

Profits from the event going to the school athletic fund will be more than $200.

2 Given GOP Jobs in County

Charley Trickey of Tecumseh was named publicity chairman of Lenawee County's Republicans last week.

Another city resident, Wayne Reganall, was elected to head up a membership drive.

The county committee officially named Howard Foust of Adrian as Lenawee chairman. Mr. Foust had been servicing on a temporary basis since the resignation of John Keller, Jasper Township farmer.

Both Mr. Trickey and Mr. Reganall, along with Tom Riordan of Tecumseh, have been busy preparing the new party paper for this county.

Called The Lenawee Republican, the publication will be distributed to 10,000 party members within the next week.

As membership chairman, Mr. Reganall has established a goal of signing 5,000 persons as official GOPs before the spring election.

This is News? Gals Keep Their Guys in the Dark

Tecumseh Kiwanis Club members and their wives will travel to Blissfield this Thursday evening to meet for dinner and a special program at the Hathaway House.

To provide a little variety from the traditional Ladies Night, the men asked the ladies to provide the schedule of events from the invocation to the closing remarks.

Thus far, the ladies have been extremely successful in keeping the men in the dark as to what is on the agenda for the evening.

SCHOOLS CUT $67,423

Three motions in regards to the school's financial troubles were passed unanimously:

1. Motion to place four mills on the ballot.
2. Motion to eliminate $67,423 in services.
3. Motion to restore certain services if the millage is approved.

The budget for the 1961-'62 school year is $1,069,021, approximately $59,000 higher than the income expected. If the millage request is defeated at the polls, the $67,423 cut would give the board an $8,000 cushion for the year.

Further reductions in service were shown to residents for the 1962-'63 year if additional money is not forthcoming. The reductions, needed to balance the budget then, would amount to $102,617 and would include services listed below plus closing of Tipton School, second and third grades on half days, and eliminate bus back tracking and decreasing bus stops in the country.

The board reported reluctance to cut educational services, but added that there's apparently no other choice.

Some residents questioned the heavier cuts in the elementary grades. The board explained that cuts in senior high school were unadvisable since the school would be risking its accreditation rating.

It was also explained that the State Equalization Commission's juggling of city's equalized valuations last year created a large percentage of the deficit. The commission first dropped city evaluations 20%, then restored 13.6% in the entire school district.

The effect was an approximate loss of $1 million in district evaluation and about $45,000 in income to the schools. Other losses of school finances were wasted, unavoidably, through interest for loans when state aid was either reduced or late in coming to the schools.

WITH A CHART, the board showed how the $136,000 deficit could be erased in four years with the four mills. Members also agreed that other savings achieved through cuts would be used to pay off the deficit as quickly as possible.

The additional millage would cost taxpayers just over $5 per $1,000 evaluations. For most tax payers in the $6,000 to $7,000 property assessment bracket, it would mean about $35 more per year.

One board member pointed out that passage would be an increase of only seven-tenths of one mill over what tax payers were paying before the State Equalization Commission lowered city evaluations.

This would be true only in the city, not in the rural areas which had evaluations — and their taxes — increased.

It was also explained that no teacher would be dropped from the staff, that principals already know of teachers leaving the system at the end of the year and that there will be vacancies to be filled.

All present teachers have been approved for employment here next year. Contracts to the staff will be distributed soon.

☆

IN OTHER action, the board:

● Approved obtaining a loan for $100,000 to cover the deficit.

● Appointed Donald Brazee, Duncan Lectka and Victor Lawson to the city's Park and Recreation Board.

● Discussed distributing a pamphlet in the district about the entire school situation.

teered the services of his paper to make it up — at no expense.

Incidentally, in almost every case, the help needed for promotion of Michigan Week is donated.

Here's a typical case — D. P. Brother advertising agency contributed nearly $5,000 worth of time and talent to fashion a beautiful booklet about products of Michigan.

These are to be used to stimulate local chairmen as they push the annual event up and down hundreds of Main Streets all across the Water Wonderland.

Printing of the piece was contributed by Sequoia Press of Kalamazoo, a task normally worth several thousand dollars.

Hearing the reports of various chairmen last week brought into clear focus one major thought: Michigan folks really love their state and are happy and willing to go out and boost its virtues to the sky.

Such adverse publicity as the article, "Michigan: the Problem State" which appeared recently in Saturday Evening Post, told everything bad about us. Such stuff has given us a black eye all across America.

Now the job is to help counter — with facts — this sort of image of a truly great state.

+ Presbyterians To Hear Theology of the Redemption

This Sunday's sermon at the Presbyterian Church entitled "The Theology of Redemption", will be the fourth in a series on Sin and Redemption.

√

A special Maundy Thursday communion service will be held in the Fellowship Center again this year.

The seating arrangement will be around the supper tables, similar to the arrangement at the inauguration of the Lord's Supper. It will begin at eight p.m.

√

The schedule for Easter morning will be:

9:30 a.m.—Worship Service
Church School
11 a.m. — Worship Service.

+ They That Mourn Will Be Comforted, Beatitudes Tell

The Beatitudes contain many inspirations and challanges for everyday living, but one strikes a somber note in "Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted."

The quality of our mourning is tested by the humility of our minds and hearts, causing us to fall back on the foundation of our faith.

The Rev. Allen Wittrup will speak on the subject "Blessed Are They That Mourn" at the Tecumseh Methodist Church, Sunday, March 19, at 10 a.m.

Dr. H. O. Martin will be the speaker of the evening, Wednesday, March 22. There will be a 6:15 potluck dinner followed by

+ Sustained

Man is sustained under all circumstances through an understanding of God's omnipotence. This theme will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science church services.

Merle Hoag Pleas Guilty

Merle Hoag pleaded guilty in circuit court to embezzlement of funds from the Country Market store in Tecumseh, where he was formerly manager.

Mr. Hoag admitted embezzling $380 as charged in information presented by Prosecutor Harvey Koselka.

"Though $18,000 is missing from the books evidence shows that Mr. Hoag is responsible for only about $900," said Mr. Koselka.

DR. FLOYD NORTON

Chairmen Report at Chamber Dinner

More than 100 attended a dinner, business and social meeting of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce Saturday at the Country Club.

Chamber President Royal Welch said, "If we do not have the attitude and enthusiasm to solve our own local problems, some higher authority will solve them for us — but in the process we will lose some of our freedom."

Mr. Welch added that the secret lies in developing a healthy, optimistic, enthusiastic attitude.

Chairmen of the different committees gave reports on what their committees plan to do this year.

William Powell, parking: "We expect to keep right on the top of any parking problems that may come up, and will try to keep ahead of any need that may arrive.

Karl Schneider, industry: "We will keep on trying to locate more industry and to try to induce our present industry into expansion causing more jobs."

Louis Schneider, planning: "We will have our ears to the ground from here on in, in this way we can find the needs and requirements of the members, then we will do our darndest to get it for them, at least we will plan on what the membership wants."

James Lincoln, dues structure: "Our dues are necessarily high and the committee is going to work hand in hand with the membership committee, the reason being, the more members we have the lower the dues."

Dr. Bob Murray, education: "We are trying to educate the business people to the importance of 'practical politics' and the Chamber is at present sponsoring a course on politics, meetings are being held at the city hall each Wednesday night for the next eight weeks."

Harry Beland, signs: "If you don's see signs at the city entrances then you'll know that the committee did not function."

Bob Aten, advertising: "Every media will help put across the importance of the Chamber and inform the people what we were doing."

E. D. Colthurst, heading a new committee on agriculture: "One of the aims is to cement relations between the city and the farmer."

Carl Lamb, retail: "We have our promotion calendar for this year and as always there'll be full cooperation between this committee and the rest of the Chamber."

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

An Independent newspaper, published every Thursday morning at 117 S. Evans Street. Entered at the Post Office in Tecumseh, Michigan as second class matter.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Shoulder - to - Shoulder

A great tragedy engulfed our community last weekend with the death of 13-year-old John Paul Marsh.

To the family, The Herald extends sincere sympathies.

Often, from such calamities, we can draw some constructive thoughts. We would like to advance one — and this is in no way a criticism of law-enforcement officers who worked long and hard on the case.

From the time young John was reported missing, police searched the entire area. As it turned out, one city patrolman found out he had walked within about 20 feet of the youth's body, but because of the way it was hidden from view, he didn't see it.

What The Herald would like to propose is a formal plan, to be worked out by city officials, through which mass searches for lost persons could be conducted.

It would be of such a nature that at the word of either the mayor or chief of police, a party of between 200 and 300 persons would be out and ready to search in a matter of 30 minutes.

When it was determined that a person was actually missing — in day-time or at night — a mass search could be started immediately.

Coordinated by our police, the small army could be made up of auxiliary police, Boy Scouts, service clubs, students and other volunteers. These would be set up on the basis of a 15 or 20-person group, under a leader, who would have a telephone system worked out to notify his charges in minutes.

Such a group could comb a large field or woods shoulder-to-shoulder.

If the missing person was in the area, he or she would bound to be found.

We hope city officials will consider this or some other type of search plan for any possible future happenings of this unfortunate nature.

'Self-Inflicted' Shot

State police went into immediate action, posting three men about 15 feet from the body and sealing off the entire area until crime lab specialists from East Lansing could arrive with the mobile laboratory.

It got here about dusk. The Tecumseh fire department's mobile lighting plant helped provide illumination as the team of six experts studied the situation and probed for clues.

The gun, found 4½ feet from the body, yielded no finger prints.

The body was wedged feet-first into the "fox-hole", so that only a portion of it was visible from the ridge above.

Patrolman Arwood said that he had walked only a few feet from the spot during a search of the area the previous week, but snow had covered the body.

Speculation among newsmen, sent to cover the story from most area dailies, was that the boy had been murdered.

The autopsy Sunday night did little to allay this theory when state police said results would not be made known until late Monday.

Teams of detectives had picked up the five youths who found the body and questioned them until about 10 p.m. Sunday in city hall. The victim's family also was interrogated.

Questioning went on most of Monday and into Tuesday. By then, the medical report was released and gave all indications that John had fired the fatal shot. Whether it had been an accident or purposely was not known.

JOHN'S final afternoon:

1. Ate sandwich shortly after noon, got in fight with brother, James, 16, when Jim took a bite from the sandwich. Chased James in yard, threatened to hurl a lead pipe at him, swung it and broke glass hood over electric meter.

2. Visited with James Williams of Willard, O. in front of Bud's Grill about 2:30 p.m. Williams was returning from stay with relatives in the area.

3. Was seen in lobby of Strand Theatre about 4 p.m., but did not see film. The 50c he had for the movie was found in his clothing.

The trail paused here — then ended in the wooded ravine.

☆

SERVICES were held Tuesday at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home with the Rev. Ben Watts of the Lower Light Mission officiating.

Pall bearers, boys of the Patterson School sixth grade, were Dean Hebb, Scott Edwards, Henry Mensing, Roger Hoag, Richard Baxter and Albert Birdwell.

Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

THE VICTIM'S stepfather is a furloughed factory worker. He said that his unemployment compensation checks run out in another week.

He has been hauling junk from the Clinton dump to Toledo for which he earns from $20 to $40 a week.

They Join To Present 4-H Program

Members of local 4-H and Future Farmers of America Clubs joined together in presenting a program in observance of 4-H Week before the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club last Thursday evening.

Sharon Ann Mitzner spoke on, "What 4-H Means to Me", emphasizing that membership in 4-H provides opportunities for personal development.

It also gives increased appreciation of the world, acquaintanceship with others from foreign lands and vocational guidance.

Jerry Forsyth spoke on, "Opportunities in 4-H", stressing the development of leadership qualities.

He said an individual becomes an effective leader only when his example is an inspiration to those he is leading.

Tories Capture District Crown

By CAROL BARRETT

BRITTON — "Who was going to Willow Run?"

This was the question asked again and again in all the Britton and Deerfield spectators' minds Saturday.

That was before the Tories won the Class D district championship from Deerfield, 66-52, at Adrian High School.

When the game started, cheering of the two crowds grew to a roar.

The tipoff went to Deerfield. Deerfield made the opening score by a free throw.

Neil Benedict made the first points for Britton.

The first and second quarters were so close both teams were kept busy.

The Tories had such determination to win, that at half time they led, 37-25.

In the last half, Pepper Griewahn fouled out.

Deerfield came within eight points of the Tories at one time.

When Gary Louden of Deerfield fouled out, he left Britton complete control of the back boards.

All the sound of the last buzzer the game ended with the Tories 14 points ahead and Britton fans limp, but thrilled.

Coach Sam Hamilton stated," My boys deserved to win this one they played a good game."

Britton was to meet Webberville at Willow Run this Wednesday evening in the opening round of the sectional tourney.

BRITTON BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rohrback and Judy spent last weekend with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Robertson of Utica.

While there, they attended the Ice Capades and the Home and Builders Show in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Covell of Clinton were Monday evening callers of Mrs. Bryon Covell.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Auten and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Auten and family spent Sunday in Athens as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Auten and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dicks and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Riggs and family of Ann Arbor Sunday.

Saturday evening callers of the Loren Dicks family were Mr. and Mrs. George Ballinger and son of Hamburg.

News Events Are Reported for Roll Call

BRITTON — Many interesting local news stories were revealed Thursday at the L and M Extension Club held in the home of Mrs. Albert Bailey.

Fifteen members answered roll call by giving a current event that had happened in the community.

Mrs. Bailey, assisted by Mrs. Bernard Clement, served a tasty chicken salad luncheon.

During the business session district teas were discussed.

The club volunteered to serve on the refreshment committee for the tea to be held May 4, at 1:15 p.m. in the Presbyterian Church in Tecumseh.

Mrs. Gerald Benedict is general chairman of the teas.

Mrs. Leslie Downing and Mrs. Bailey presented the lesson on "Styles and You".

New Teacher Salary Schedule Being Considered by Boardmen

BRITTON—A newly-proposed teacher salary schedule will be reviewed at a special Board of Education session Thursday evening in the superintendent's office.

Being considered is upping the yearly increment from $100 to $150—meaning an annual pay increase of this amount.

Boardmen have held numerous meetings on the salary setup, along with investigating ways to balance the school budget.

Present schedule for teachers with bachelor degree starts at $4,000 with $100 increments each year, up to eight years.

There is a $200 differential for master degrees, up to $5,000 maximum.

The proposal would lift the increment to $150 per year and increase the maximum to 10 years of $5,500.

"It should be pointed out that the entire budget is based on the present valuation and millage levy," states Supt. Russell Spalding.

The Britton-Macon Area School District voters increased the operating millage in 1959 by voting on two mills for two years.

This expires in 1960 and the board proposes to ask the people to renew this two-mill levy again at the school election this summer.

It would be necessary to reduce the budget if the two-mill levy was refused by the voters, the superintendent added.

In other recent action, the Board of Education accepted the recommendations for renewal of contracts for the teachers.

After the contracts are issued and returned this final action will be announced.

The proposal to purchase bleachers for football and outdoor sports was tabled until later.

Mrs. Clarence Schwartz Is Elected President

BRITTON — The Guild of Emanual Lutheran Church met last Thursday at the church with 19 members present.

The meeting was opened with a scripture reading hymn and prayer by the Rev. James Moehring.

Roll call was answered with a Bible passage.

The following ladies were elected to serve as officers of the guild for the coming year:

President — Mrs. Clarence Schwartz

Vice-president — Mrs. Donald Davis.

Write-In Candidate Wins Race

BRITTON—There was one surprise in Monday's village election.

A write-in candidate, Mrs. Raymond Auten, won the job of village clerk.

She outpolled Edmund J. Millyard, 46-39.

Going into the election, it seemed only a formality that the entire Progressive Party slate, all unopposed on the printed ballot, would be ushered into the various jobs.

Supporters of Mrs. Auten upset this premise.

Three other races drew write-ins, but in each case only one ballot was cast.

Wayne Dunbar topped Doug Fairbanks, 73-1, for village president.

Clyde Brown bested Robert Bush, 79-1, for a two-year term as trustee.

Andrew Crutchfield held a 74-1 margin over Bert Moore as assessor.

In other positions, all unopposed:

Treasurer—Mrs. Ronald Cheever, 83 votes.

Trustee (two years) — Fay Hindes, 81 votes.

Trustee (two years) — Fred Bryan, 79 votes.

Eighty-eight votes were cast.

The adults who received certificates were Frank Gerber, Charles Moore, William Wehner and Ken Moerison of Deerfield

Bernard Clement, Sam McCarty, Sr., Charles Studnicka, George Brablec, Larry Twork, Clarence Twork and Dick Cox of Britton also received certificates.

Young farmers given certificates were Richard Bruce, Louis Loesch, Ken Bortel, Jerry Papworth, Dick Cox, Ed Faust, Fred Long, Bob Long and Richard Harvey.

Five new members were elected to the advisory committee for the coming year, including George Brablec, Richard Bruce, Bernard Clement, Fred Long and Charles Studnicka.

A program on farm safety was presented by the young farmers and FFA members, a movie trial on farm safety, "The People of Michigan Versus Farm Safety."

Louis Loesch served as judge, Jerry Papworth as court clerk, Ken Bortel was prosecuting attorney Barry Brablec, defense attorney; Oliver Mueller, an accident victim; Richard Bruce, a rural medical doctor.

Larry Wagner reported on the statistics of farm accidents in Michigan.

He stated there has been a reduction in the number of accidents in the last five years.

The program was concluded with films on Farm Safety and Building the Mackinac Bridge.

Watch Out for Tank Cleaners

The Lenawee County Health Department is warning people to be on the lookout for unscrupulous septic tank cleaners.

"In the past, reports have reached us that cleaning companies have been telling people they represent—either the state health department, or the local health department.

"This is not so, and people should not be taken in by it. Neither the state health department, nor the county health department checks septic tanks routinely to see if they need cleaning."

"People should also beware of the septic tank cleaner who offers to do the work on a per pound, or per gallon basis. The home owner should realize that a 500-gallon septic tank will hold nearly two tons of clear water.

"At two cents a pound the cost is not cheap, especially as septic tank sludge weighs more than water," said Charles H. Niggeman.

"Be careful of the man who knocks on your door and wants to inspect the septic tank at your place and be especially careful if he represents, or leaves the impression he is from the health department.

"If you are doubtful of his reputation, send him on his way. There are several cleaners listed in the yellow pages of the telephone book, or, you can secure the names of reliable firms from the county health department.

"Be sure of what the total cost is going to be before you have the work done," he said.

Glee Club Has Unusual Cross Section

No better cross section of American college students can be found than the 77 men who compose The University of Michigan Men's Glee Club.

Directed by Philip Duey, the Glee Club will make its fourth annual appearance in Tecumseh, Wednesday, March 22 in the Strand Theatre at 8 p.m.

Tecumseh Jaycees are again sponsoring the event.

Tickets can be obtained at the door and are $1 for adults and 50c for students.

A look at Glee Club Soloists gives an idea of its international flavor.

Joon Min Kim is in his fifth consecutive year as a first tenor soloist with the Glee Club. Joon is a senior in the School of Music from Seoul, Korea. Joon is very active in the activities of the University's International Center.

PHILIP DUEY

Freshman Steven Jones hails from Jackson, Michigan. He is another first tenor who Dr. Duey has selected to be featured as a soloist with this year's Club.

Steve, who is enrolled in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, already has been selected as a member of the Friars, the Club octet.

Also appearing as a soloist with this year's Club is Richard Hazzard. Dick is a Junior in the School of Music and is featured as a baritone soloist.

In addition to vocal music, he has received some instrumental training while attending the University. He played two years in the Michigan Marching Band. This is Dick's first year as a member of the Glee Club. He comes from Frankfort, Michigan.

Dazzling Collection by MSU Band

Accumulated musical treasures of history will be displayed when the Michigan State University Concert Band performs at Tecumseh High School on Friday, March 24 at 8 p.m.

Under the imaginative direction of Prof. Leonard V. Falcone, the 100-piece musical company will exhibit a dazzling collection of music from the masters, contemporary compositions, selections from musical comedies, novelties and marches.

Among the numbers are the mighty "Siegfried Rhine Journey" by Richard Wagner, and such selections from the brilliant pen of Franz Liszt as the "Second Hungarian Rhapsody."

Certain to be a favorite with Michigan audiences will be the Concert Band version of Paul Dukas' "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," a rollicking and humorous description of an amateur's difficulties with black magic.

One of the highlights of the program will be the colorful and exciting "Stars and Stripes Ballet Suite" by the famed American composer John Philip Sousa.

Another rousing number favored by the band is "The Crown Imperial March," by Walton.

Designed to set toes a-tapping are a number of selections by contemporary American authors, including "Hollywood Jubilee," a medley of light opera tunes.

The program will also include such folk songs as the haunting Russian "Dark Eyes", and immortal melodies such as "Invitation to the Waltz," by Weber, and waltzes from "Die Rosenkavalier," by Richard Strauss.

TECUMSEH AND THE CIVIL WAR

Famous Horse Buried Here

(Editor's note: Few Northern units from this part of Michigan went into the Civil War without volunteers from Tecumseh among them. This included the calvary, which then was the darling of the battlefield. In her continuing series, Clara Waldron tells of more men from this community who served and also about a famous calvary horse, which was buried here.)

By CLARA WALDRON

In December of 1862, the 26th Michigan Infantry was mustered in at Jackson with more than 30 Tecumseh men enrolled. The regiment's Company F was commanded by Captain Lemuel Saviers of Tecumseh, with Morris Roberts of Tecumseh as second Lieutenant.

One very personal record of the men of the 26th has been preserved, for one of them was Abel Harding, father of Arthur Harding, who will be remembered by many.

He had collected, in a battered little album, photographs of the comrades who evidently meant the most to him.

Most were recruits from Tecumseh or nearby and most of the pictures were taken in Alexandria, Va., where they must have been stationed for some time.

Among them is one of a dignified, bearded man, across the back of which Harding had written, "Capt. Saviers. God bless our noble Captain, long may he live."

At that time the dignified Saviers must have been all of 22 and he did live to be promoted to the rank of colonel.

He was wounded and returned to Tecumseh to recuperate just before the close of the war, when he did something rather unique for that period.

He returned to high school, beard and all perhaps, and completed his courses.

Morris Roberts was not so fortunate. He also was promoted, to the rank of first lieutenant, but his record concludes with the laconic statement," died of disease at Alexandria in 1864."

A new item in the Tecumseh Herald of June 1865 is equally restrained, but sounds a happier note. It reads," Twenty men of the 26th Infantry arrived home, Friday morning."

There was scarcely a Michigan regiment, certainly none from the south part of the state that did not have at least a few Tecumseh men enrolled.

Cavalry units were not excepted. In fact an extra dash of color has been added to the town's record by its association with the cavalry brigade of Gen. George Custer. Much of this is through the person of Lt. Elliott Gray of Co. B, the 7th Michigan cavalry.

Gray, whose home was his father's farm on Russell Rd., now owned by Arthur Brady, joined the 7th as first lieutenant at the age of 30.

THIS REGIMENT was organized at Grand Rapids and did not become a part of Custer's command until a year later. With the rest of that brigade, the 7th probably saw as much action as any other unit in the northern forces and its losses were extremely high.

Gray was wounded at Williamsport in 1863, but remained with the company until 1865, when he resigned.

At some time during his service, he must have attracted the notice of Custer, for an association was formed which continued after the war.

That association, plus the fact that, for the rest of his life, Gray remained a sort of professional hero, has focused the spotlight on him to the neglect of the others in the company.

For he was not the only Tecumseh man in the 7th Cavalry. Company I, of that regiment, was commanded by Capt. Hugh Richard, a son of one of the town's prominent businessmen, and at least 25 other Tecumseh volunteers, several as non-commissioned officers, were members of that unit.

A relatively high number were killed in action or died of wounds. Two died in southern prisons and there is a record of several deserters. The same records show that desertion from Custer's command was not unusual, lending credence to his reputation as a cruelly harsh commander.

IT WAS his post-war connection with Gen Custer that shed glamour on "Ell" Gray, a connection that included Custer's Monroe family and especially one of his horses.

In the latter part of his southern campaigns, Custer's men "liberated" an especially beautiful, thoroughbred colt, which the general took as his personal mount. Named Don Juan, he added the last touch to Custer's dashing appearance.

In fact he proved so very dashing that he nearly brought his rider to disaster. At the close of the war, Custer's cavalry took part in the grand military review in Washington.

Leading the brigade, the general had just reached the reviewing stand when Don Juan bolted, taking him on a furious run down Pennsylvania avenue.

He was subdued, of course, and returned to the parade but not before he had effectively spoiled Custer's show.

Soon after the war, Don Juan was brought to the Ell Gray farm, where he was an object of interest and admiration to the horse-loving community and where he fathered many a high-stepping carriage horse.

According to tradition, he is buried there, "under the gate". But what gate no one remembers.

THE CHILD BUYER by John Hersey — An imaginary and absorbing record of the investigations of the Committee on Education, Welfare, and Public Morality of an unnamed state senate into the activities of Mr. Wissey Jones who has come to the town of Pequot on what he says in urgent defense business — namely the purchase of a male child. This is a biting commentary on some aspects of American education, on the uses of high intelligence, and on the means of defending democracy.

THE CONSTANT STAR by Dorothy Foote — A novel of the Elizabethan Age, of Sidney Essex, two of its greatest men, and of Frances Walsingham, the enigmatic woman who gave her love to both.

ALL THE DAY LONG by Howard Spring — Three heroines, each fascinating in her own way, and a narrative embracing almost a century of romantic and tragic events make this a rich and memorable novel.

DIAMOND HEAD by Peter Gilman — This saga is set in modern day Hawaii and concerns the turbulent story of the foremost family in the Islands, and is the story of Hawaii itself. The tensions of its sharply stratified, heterogeneous society and the fierce pride of its passionate people bring about sweeping events.

A DISTANT TRUMPET by Paul Horgan — The chief scene of action is an Army outpost on the Indian frontier in the southwest United States. At Fort Delivery, Matthew and Laura Hazard learn a great deal about themselves and the fellow-officers and their wives, but they learn too that one cannot always know in advance whether the people they know will turn out to be heroes, deserters, or just soldiers.

RUNWAY ZERO-EIGHT — How was it that in the space of half an hour a normal, everyday, routine flight carrying a crowd of happy football fans, could change into a nightmare nearly four miles above the earth? On the ground, hundreds of miles away, the helpless observers waited and prayed.

When did you stop improving your home?

Silly question. You'll never cease trying to make your home more pleasant, more modern and convenient.

It costs money, sure. But it's money well spent, and you get a lot of value from it.

Same thing with General Telephone. Good maintenance, expansion and improvement are a necessary part of our business. That's what keeps increasing the value and scope of your telephone service — keeps making it an even greater bargain all the time.

But only by being allowed a fair price for its services can General Telephone maintain top-quality performance for you — and steadily keep advancing it.

Because, in the long run, only a healthy business can give you the greatest value for your money. That's true about everybody you trade with. And it's equally true about modern telephone service.

What's Going on at Boysville

By LOUIS CIAVONE

Brother Aloysius Glambowski, C.S.C. Photo Club Moderator, has received some motion picture film from the General Motors Corp. concerning driving and the automobile in general.

Each Tuesday night at 8 the films will be shown to any interested students in the school building.

On March 5, the students of Boysville all enjoyed a chicken dinner, courtesy of a Mr. Arnone of Detroit.

It seems that Mr. Arnone had four daughters in his family. His wife was expecting another baby and Mr. Arnone wanted a boy so badly that he said he would donate enough chickens from his poultry market to feed the entire student body of Boysville if the child was a boy.

He got his wish, and Boysville got a chicken dinner.

The Boysville faculty basketball team defeated the Boysville All-Stars, a group of intramural players, 63-39.

The faculty started out slowly, falling behind by six or seven points early in the first quarter.

But in the second half, the faculty opened up a big lead on the All-Stars and won the game going away. Brother Austin was high point man for the Faculty.

After the tournament games in the area are completed, the faculty may take on the Boysville varsity.

✓

The Boysville Marching Band took to the streets of Detroit on Sunday to participate in the annual St. Patrick's Day Parade.

On Sunday, March 19, the band will again be in Detroit for the Knights Of Columbus Cardinal Mercier Council's Passion Sunday Corporate Communion parade.

The Boysville Fighting Knights lost their tournament game to University High of Ann Arbor, 59-51, Friday in the Saline gymnasium.

The Knights, at a height disadvantage but scoring well, took an early lead and maintained it until the end of the third quarter, when U. High pushed ahead 39-38.

The fourth quarter found the Knights unable to keep on the backboards because of U. High's Jim Beamer, a 6'5" star who had missed most of the season with a broken arm.

Jim came into the game at the half and proved the difference, pulling most of the rebounds down at both ends of the court, and scoring nine points.

Ken Snooks of Boysville was high point man in the game with 23 markers, followed by John McGeshick with 11 and Pete Mata with 8. Rich Michniak hit for 5 and Jerry Klos had 4.

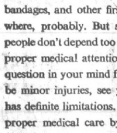
"A second thought on first aid"



We're constantly amazed at the number of children whocut, scrape and bruise themselves within sight (and sound) of our pharmacy. We do a big business in antiseptics, bandages, and other first-aid items. Same everywhere, probably. But sometimes we wonder if people don't depend too much on first aid—neglect proper medical attention. If there's the slightest question in your mind following what appears to be minor injuries, see your physician. First aid has definite limitations. You can only be sure of proper medical care by seeing your doctor. A prompt visit can save a half dozen later.

Jaycees Hold Open Gathering

An open meeting has been scheduled by the Tecumseh Jaycees for 8 p.m., Thursday, March 16, at the VFW Hall.

The session was set at the request of many of the city's young men who have expressed an interest in joining the Junior Chamber.

Jerry Barton, membership chairman of the Tecumseh chapter, has reported that many young men, already contacted, will be present for the meeting.

At this briefing meeting, Jaycee members will explain various phases of their operation, community and membership benefits resulting from Junior Chamber operations, and Junior Chamber membership requirements.

A question and answer period will close the meeting.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is a civic service organization, whose membership is open to all young men of good character between the ages of 21 through 35, regardless of occupation.

Purpose of the world-wide organization is the improvement of the communities in which units are located and personal development of its members.

Both objectives are accomplished through a wide variety of project activities.

Junior Chamber chapters are located in 3,900 communities in the United States and have a total membership of over 300,000. Internationally, Jaycee chapters exist in over 88 countries and territories.

Rabbit Raising for Youngsters Can Earn Cash

Looking for fun, challenge and profit? Then you are looking for the 4-H rabbit raising project planned for two young businessmen.

This project can be a money-making venture for 4-H'ers. Rabbits produce meat quickly, need little space and the initial investment is small.

They offer a good "first" in the business world. Commercially, rabbits are used for meat, fur and as laboratory animals.

At 4-H shows, youngsters can display the rabbits with those of other club members. This experience offers an opportunity to compare and evaluate stock.

Gary Seevers, 4-H county extension agent, can give full information. The address is the Courthouse at Adrian, Colfax 5-5108.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS,

Several times in the past you have printed poems written by children. I am enclosing the "Penthouse Press", a publication that the patients help put out on the polio ward at the University Hospital.

In it is a poem and story that our daughter, Susan Buell, wrote.

I wonder if you would print them in your paper so that Susan could see some of her work published.

We have also sent the poem to "Jack and Jill" magazine.

She didn't have any help at all in writing these and we and the teachers think that she did a very fine job, hoping that you will think the same.

THE WITCHES

Have you ever seen the witches fly,
Over the sea up in the sky?
Have you ever seen them fly
at noon,
With their big black cat and yellow broom?
I never have, but if you do,
Tell me some day so I can too.
'Cause it would be a great delight
To see the witches fly at night.

Patrick Sharpe Feted by Friends on 8th Birthday

Mrs. Warren Sharpe of Tonneberger Dr., entertained 18 boys and girls for the eighth birthday of her son, Pat, Saturday afternoon.

Several games were played and prizes given, after which ice cream and cake were served.

Pat received many lovely gifts.

A feature of the afternoon was a fish pond in which each child had a chance to do some fishing. The article they snagged was theirs to take home as a momento of the afternoon.

ONE END OF TROUBLE—City Engineer Cal Zorn studies one end of the water line at the northern tip of Red Mill Pond, where about 800,000 gallons of water leaked away in the past few months. Other end of the line is across the water and the trouble lies somewhere in between. The main was shut off, until repair work can be started in warmer weather. The leak cost the city about $40 a day in pumped water from the well near Tonneberger Estates on N. Union St. How many days it had leaked is unknown.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

ONE THING LEADS TO ANOTHER

Not many mornings ago, the telephone rang about 7:30 and a very excited Gertrude wondered, "Are your drapes open yet?"

"No, they're not. Why?"

"I just looked out back and there is a big racoon sitting at the top of the bank eating corn!"

Wow! A racoon—just imagine! No wonder she was thrilled. At once Mom swished our drapes open and rushed for the binoculars.

Trees and shrubs blocked the view so we could see nothing of the racoon from here, but it was exciting just to know there was one around.

Needless to say, we spent all day hoping against hope that the 'coon would forget he is primarily a night moving animal — wouldn't it be something to see one of those black masked bandits come ambling our way.

Well, of course we didn't see him, but last Wednesday we saw signs that he sometimes does come down this far.

That morning the first thing we noticed was the big piece of suet, which had been tied to a small mulberry tree, was gone. It had been there the afternoon before so the theft took place sometime during the night.

☆

BY THE WAY, suet tied to this tree has been quite an interesting experiment. A successful one too and so a new piece was immediately put up to replace the stolen one.

Gertrude's friend has not paid us a second visit, but we would be more than happy to have him come again. If he's around enough maybe someday we might catch a glimpse of him.

But back to the motive for putting a big chunk of suet into a mesh bag and tying it to the tree. It was done in the first place to lure the brown creeper away from Dr. Marsh's monarch of an elm tree.

The big piece of suet proved far more effective than several small can tops filled with melted suet and so naturally we have abandoned the latter to concentrate on the former.

It took the brown creeper some time to make the "big step," but finally the bait must have proved irresistible. He hasn't completely abandoned Marsh's, in fact most of his time is still spent in their trees, but quite often these days we look out to see the little brown mite dining out with us.

Such tiny birds are the creepers that they are difficult to see unless one happens to be looking just right.

I wonder if it has only happened that we haven't seen him investigating any of the other trees on our creek bank or could it be that he comes exclusively to the suet-holding mulberry?

☆

THE BIG THRILL—and the completely unexpected one — is the beautiful big hairy woodpecker, who is fast becoming a regular.

In past years we have occasionally seen one of these birds, but to have him visiting every day is most exciting.

Appearance-wise the hairy woodpecker looks like the familiar little downey woodpecker's big brother—he wears the same dapper suit of black and white and sports a small red cap on the back of his head.

The hairy does not, however, seem to be proportioned like the downey — in relation to bodysize the big fellow's head and bill seem much, much larger.

Actually, his bill looks huge. According to the books there is only two or three inches difference in the bird's over-all size but, although I won't argue, it certainly looks like more.

The hairy woodpecker is a big bird!

So it is that the pile of corn Gertrude puts out for the ducks attracts a racoon and our hunk of suet, intended for the brown-creeper, affords a small 'coon thrill and a great big hairy woodpecker treat.

One thing really does lead to another.

TOM RIORDAN'S Long AND Short

A lot of smoke screens about a possible Constitutional Convention are being tossed around these days.

Even several of our astute state senators are trying to hurl a body-block at Con-Con by some legalistic sleight-of-hand.

They reason that if the issue is approved April 3, they can stall the Con-Con call by sitting on the bill which is to designate the schedule for electing delegates.

These same fellows, as they stumble about in their futile efforts, fail entirely to see that Michigan has been sick.

And much of the illness stems right from their august chambers.

But the issue at hand is not these senators, but rather whether the people of this state need to take a long look at the laws which govern us.

I feel we should.

A week ago I was invited to attend a Farm Bureau discussion group, which had Con-Con as its topic.

It was a session I looked forward to attending, but a wretched sinus attack that afternoon knocked me down and out for the day.

A report of the gathering appears elsewhere in this week's paper and, as expected, the group came out four-square against Con-Con. This is the Farm Bureau feeling pretty much all across the state.

It also is the attitude of many rural groups, including representatives of township government.

Norman H. Bless, discussion leader of the local group, loaned me his copy of the current Michigan Farm News, which is the official Farm Bureau publication.

Most of a page is devoted to the fight against Con-Con, as sat down by Donald D. Kinsey, coordinator of education and research for FB.

Basically, Mr. Kinsey says that Con-Con would end with government being centralized, with reapportionment, the 15-mill tax limitation ended and earmarked funds kicked out the window.

He fears the Michigan Education Association, which would probably lobby through its every desire, as well as other pressure groups.

He wonders if elected judges might become appointees and thus minions of the governor who named them.

I'm afraid that Mr. Kinsey has been carried away.

His alarm that a Con-Con would put Michigan into the hip-pocket of the Big City Slickers is off base.

Because urban areas would send more delegates to a convention does not mean that the out-state representatives would suddenly vanish into the misty Lansing night.

No, Mr. Kinsey, I cannot buy your fears and I hope a lot of your fellow Farm Bureau members won't either.

You see, I have trust in my fellow Michiganders.

I honestly think that those men and women who will be elected to examine our Constitution, will do so with great care and feeling.

Our patch-work tax situation needs the fine-tooth-comb treatment.

The tremendously expensive election system — which sometimes costs the state $10 a voter in sparsely-attended spring primaries — needs a long look.

The time for Con-Con is now.

John Britton Wins Position on 'Star' Five

John Britton, high-scoring Tecumseh High School forward, was awarded a first-team spot on the Huron League all-star squad.

3 Receive 40-Year Awards

Three members of the Underwood-Orr American Legion Post received 40-year membership certificates Saturday.

Perry Satterthwaite, Albert Bagshaw and Percy Bowen were present to accept theirs at the 42nd birthday anniversary celebration.

Commander Don Woods presented the certificates and added that Charles Howe, Dr. Arthur Brown, Jack Smith, Sr. and Hans Christianson are others eligible for 40-year certificates.

About 200 were served a roast beef dinner at tables appropriately decorated with blue and gold.

Mrs. Vern Manwaring, assisted by Mrs. Dennis Goller and Marilyn Baaske, made the arrangements for the event which honored past commanders and past presidents.

Commander Woods read the names of the past commanders, acknowledging those present. He then introduced this year's officers.

Mrs. Louis S. Schneider read the names of the past presidents and those present stood. President Mrs. Otto Baaske introduced her officers.

Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw and Al Bagshaw cut the first piece from the decorated cake.

Youth Needs Religious Background

William Bannon, warden of Jackson Prison, spoke to members of Herrick Park PTA, March 15.

He related facts of child rearing, which make for good social and functional adjustments.

He placed emphasis on religious training to develop a conscience to determine right and wrong. The guest said parents should assume the responsibility for laying a firm foundation of good discipline.

In the business portion of the session, Mrs. Jack Curtiss, Mrs. Richard Lask and Mrs. Homer Colson were chosen to serve on the nominating committee.

A public card party has been planned for Thursday evening, May 11. Mrs. George VanCamp and Mrs. Ben Gillies will be chairmen for the event.

The attendance award was given to Mrs. Colson's third grade.

Refreshments were served to members by Mrs. William Sisson, Mrs. Dale Carpenter and Mrs. Richard Fielder.

Hospital May Increase Capacity by 20 Beds

By JIM LINCOLN

Tentative plans to complete the second floor of a wing at Herrick Memorial Hospital were reported to Council Monday night.

Kenneth Herrick, board chairman, says the hospital is seeking cost figures at this time and nothing definite for expansion has been agreed upon.

The second floor of the wing, constructed in 1958, is presently a shell. Construction would finish it off, boosting the hospital's beds by 20 and enable the administration to move the maternity section there.

Capacity now is 78 beds.

Administrator Orrie Gilbert, optimistic about the proposed expansion, says the additional space would afford patients rooms with adjoining labor and delivery rooms, recovery room and nursery.

He reports present hospital conditions as crowded and there is a need for more space.

CITY APPROVAL for renewal of beer licenses for two downtown Tecumseh taverns was practically assured after police chief George Kilbourn reported tremendous improvements in redecorating, lighting and general clean-up.

Kilbourn, who is also the city's health inspector, said nearly all recommendations for improvements had been carried out.

☆

CITY MANAGER Ed Nelson said a plan is now being developed to organize search parties to help locate missing persons.

Mayor Harold Easton, in reference to action taken to locate the missing Marsh boy who was later found dead, termed local action as "rotten."

He requested the city manager to come up with a competent plan soon.

Doug Aylesworth, member of the National Guard unit at Adrian, reminded city officials that Guardsmen are available for search parties and would again cooperate with officials.

The Adrian unit was called in to search for the Marsh boy and about 15 men responded. Council suggested a letter of appreciation be sent.

☆

IN OTHER action Council:

► Accepted the state highway department's recommendations for speed limits on N. Evans St.

► Approved appointment of Donald Brazee, Victor Lawson, John Hamilton, Carl Lamb, Mrs. J. A. Galazzi, Hugh Donahoe and Gordon Garlick to the Recreation and Parks Commission.

Scholarship for $600 Given

Merton Boss, a member of the Michigan Chapter of National Hemophilia Foundation, announced Monday that the chapter has donated $600 as a scholarship to Wayne State University for blood research.

The organization is contemplating a $2,000 donation to the University of Michigan for the same purpose.

The chapter meets monthly in Lansing.

Coin-Op Dry Cleaner Opens

Tecumseh will have a coin-operated dry cleaning shop about May 1.

Being established by Bancroft Cleaners, it will be located in the Adrian Federal Savings & Loan building, space formerly occupied by the telephone office.

Bancroft's will incorporate its regular service headquarters at the new location, leaving the present shop at 120 W. Chicago Blvd.

Loraine Bancroft, owner of the firm, states that six units will be installed.

There will be no do-it-yourself pressing gear.

"Mainly, garments done in coin-op dry cleaning equipment require little or no pressing," he states, "such things as coats, dresses, sweaters."

The Bancroft plant in Morenci has used a unit for the past six months, being one of the 20 test locations in the United States.

"It worked real good, people loved it," Mr. Bancroft reported.

Now, the idea is ready for full-scale use. Tecumseh was chosen, among the communities in the Bancroft chain, because the company was able to get a prime location here.

Entrances to the new setup will be both through the front and rear of the building.

The Bancroft family has operated dry cleaning establishments in Lenawee County for more than 50 years. There has been a Bancroft outlet in Tecumseh since the mid-Forties.

Good Friday Service Will Start at Noon

Friday, March 31, the Union Good Friday Service, sponsored by the Ministerial Association, will be held at the Methodist Church.

Beginning at noon, the service will run for three hours and conclude at three.

This traditional three hour service will be centered around the seven last words from the cross. It will be a service of hymns, scripture, prayer and anthem, with ministers from the churches of Tecumseh giving meditations.

"All are invited and encouraged to attend this service. Many however, will find it impossible to attend for the entire period. This is understandable, and it is not necessary to be at the entire service in order to attend. Come when you can, leave when you must. If you have only a few minutes, you are welcome to stop at the Methodist Church and spend those few minutes in worship and meditation," said The Rev. Allan Wittrup, host pastor.

Those ministers participating in the service are: the Reverend Blair Bashore, First Baptist Church; the Reverend Paul Brantingham, Friends Church, the Reverend Laszlo Gero, Gloria Dei Lutheran Church; the Reverend Julian Gresham, Presbyterian Church; the Reverend Frank Hawthorne, St. Peter's Episcopal Church; the Reverend Ray Warnick, Assembly of God, and the Reverend Allen Wittrup, Methodist Church.

Fire Damages Kuhlman's

Fire damaged the concrete batching plant at Kuhlman Concrete, Inc., last Thursday and halted mixing operations there for two days.

Terry Mackin, manager, estimated damages at $1,500.

The Tecumseh firemen first answered an alarm there shortly after noon and then were recalled about four hours later when a passer-by noticed the building still smoking.

MSU Band Concert Is Friday

The Michigan State University concert band, sponsored by the Tecumseh Rotary Club, will present a program at Tecumseh High School gymnasium Friday at 8 p.m.

Tickets are $1. and 50c.

University historians point out that the band began to function in the middle 1870's.

It has occupied an outstanding place among the leading university bands and its history contains many highlights and achievements including appearances before three presidents of the United States.

The late Edwin Franko Goldman termed it as "One of the three best bands in the country."

Recently, guest conductor Lt. Col. William F. Santelman, former conductor of the Marine Band said, "this has been one of my most inspiring concerts as a guest conductor of one of the nations' finest bands."

It is interesting to note that although the band has been organized over 70 years, it has only had three permanent conductors.

Leonard Falcone is now heading the organization for the 33rd year.

Three bus loads of musicians will arrive in Tecumseh at 4:30 p.m. Friday.

They will have dinner at the high school cafeteria. Following the concert, they will be given box lunches to take with them on the bus.

Tells About Civil War

Clarence Damon presented a program, "Lincoln in the Civil War" for members of the Business and Professional Women's Club Feb. 27.

With slide pictures, letters, books old and new and a collections of weapons, Mr. Damon made real the life of Lincoln.

From his birthplace in Hodgenville, Ky. to New Salem, Ill. and Springfield, the final resting place of Lincoln's body, Mr. Damon related history in great detail.

He told of the various battles of the Civil War, dates, stategy used, the strong points of the general's opposing each other and numerous points that he has uncovered through about 10 years of research.

Mr. and Mrs. Damon have driven some 10,000 miles in five different trips to various eastern states during the past 10 years taking pictures and gathering data on Lincoln and the war, their favorite hobby.

Clara Waldron and Edith Ingersoll were guests for this program which has been said to be the banner meeting of the year.

Dr. Coak Gives Talk on Humor

Thirteen couples met at the Hathaway House in Blissfield last Thursday evening for the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club Ladies' Night surprise program.

The ladies had so carefully kept secret as to who the guest speaker would be that the men were greatly surprised when one of their own members, Dr. Richard Coak, was introduced.

He presented a talk on humor, using the record "Thurber's Carnival" as the basis.

Mrs. John Pobuda acted as president for the evening and Mrs. David Ousterhout was the fine-master.

☆

THE PROGRAM on the agenda for this Thursday evening is an opportunity for the members to meet the candidates for council seats in the upcoming election.

Invitations have been extended to all those expecting to run in the election for these positions.

Dinner Is Set for Candidates

Tickets are available for a dinner honoring candidates Chief Justice John R. Dethmers and Justice Harry F. Kelly, both campaigning for re-election to the Supreme Court April 3.

The spaghetti and fish dinner for Lenawee Republicans will be held March 30 at the Tecumseh Grange Hall, sponsored by the Tecumseh Republicans.

Mrs. Yale Kerby and Mrs. Royal Welch are co-chairman of the event with serving at 5:30 p.m.

Mrs. Kerby said, "Since the tickets are only $1.25, this should be added incentive for people to come out for a short visit with these candidates."

Chief Justice Dethmers and Justice Kelly were renominated by the Republican State Convention, but their names appear on the separate non-partisan judicial ballot in the April 3 election.

Gaylord Baker of Adrian has been named chairman of the Lenawee County "Dethmers-Kelly Re-election Committee."

He says, "Both men have demonstrated their integrity, ability and devotion to the concept of a government by law, not by men. Their re-election to the Supreme Court is essential to the best interests of Michigan."

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Pussy Willow has a secret
That Snowdrop whispered to her
And she purred it to the south wind
As it stroked her velvet fur.

And the south wind hummed it softly
To the busy honeybees,
And they buzzed it to the blossoms
On the scarlet maple trees;

And they dropped it in the wood's brook
Brimming full of melted snow,
And the brook told Robin Redbreast
As it babbled to and fro.

Little Robin couldn't keep it,
So he sang it loud and clear
To the sleepy hills and meadows
Wake up! Cheer up! Spring is here!

Beth and Geneva Satterthwaite left Berkley, Calif. Tuesday. They expect to visit in the homes of *Camilla Satterthwaite Munson and Mr. and Mrs. George Adamson in Arizona and also see Tom Naser before arriving home about April 4.

Medicines Now Need Your Doctors Prescription

The dispensing of some medicines is limited to your Doctor's prescription—and for many reasons. Of these, your own safety is most important.

Greater potency progressively makes medicines of greater value—and with some risk. Strength, dosage and use schedule must be carefully directed for your exacting need. Your Doctor must know the facts and prescribe the directions, as well as the medicine itself. The Wright Drug Store cares for every detail.

Mystery Receives Big City Coverage

Jim Creflin of The Detroit News — one of four men sent here by that paper to cover the John Marsh tragedy — was in and out of The Herald office much of Monday last week.

Leaving for Detroit about 5 p.m., he bid our staff goodbye, adding,

"But we'll probably be back. We just bought tickets for the Tecumseh Policeman's Ball."

Veteran Free Press reporter, Ralph Nelson, has been covering crime for that paper 26 years.

A distinguished, white-haired fellow, he seemed to sense what would happen next as state police experts tried to unravel the case step-by-step.

Ralph was sent by his editor from his Dearborn home late Sunday afternoon, worked on the story until midnight. He labors on the 6 p.m. to 2 a.m. trick and says this is his favorite time to be on duty.

☆

Al Deneau, Detroit News prize-winning photographer, was with Creflin Monday. They replaced a two-man News photo-writer team, which worked the story Sunday evening.

☆

The Jackson Citizen-Patriot had people from its staff in Tecumseh most of two days. The Toledo Blade also sent a reporter.

With every daily, the story got large chunks of front-page space.

Adrian's WABJ had Bob Aten and Gene Brill at the scene, but the remainder of radio and TV newscasters merely used copy from news wires or what they lifted from newspapers.

It isn't often that broadcasters bother to get out into the cold and mud as newspaper reporters and lensmen will.

☆

Photos taken by The Herald appeared in The Free Press and Toledo Blade. United Press International also moved Herald pictures on its Michigan circuit Monday, March 13.

☆

Ollie Musch's Tecumseh Green Houses served as temporary press headquarters Sunday afternoon. First bulletins of the disaster were phoned out to editors all around the state from there.

Incidentally, all the boys called collect.

The Herald office later became press headquarters.

Each newsman would always ask, "Anything new?" Or, if he came from the scene, Herald personnel would ask him the same question.

The long-distance calls poured in all day Monday, as city desks checked on any break in the case just before various deadlines arrived.

Old Fashion School

Theme for the evening, "School of yesteryear", with Elizabeth Hayden, was presented at the Tecumseh Friends Missionary Society meeting March 16.

Mrs. Hayden as a school teacher dressed in a floor-length black skirt, opened with the singing of hymns.

Carol Campbell, Joyce Randolph, Carolyn and Marjorie Chase formed a quartet to sing a hymn as did Betty Hodge, Wilma Randolph, Roweena Kilbourn and Peggy MacDonald.

The names of Friends missionaries were scrambled on the blackboard and were to be identified.

Peggy MacDonald presented the conversion of Saul of Tarsus from a faithful Jew, brought up under the Law, hater and prosecuter of Christians, to be faithful Apostle Paul.

An old-fashioned spell-down ended in a tie. Names and places of the Mission field in India were the words.

Ardys Drewyer, as gym instructor, was in charge of the limbering up exercises.

Carol Campbell was the winner of the merry-go-round game which was played.

Geography lessons consisted of naming the Friends mission fields and physiology lessons were presented in Scripture verses to be identified in their relationship to the parts of the human body.

Class was then dismissed.

The regular business meeting followed with Margaret Watson presiding.

Marjorie Martin read a letter from a Friend missionary in New Delhi, India.

Refreshments were served by Marilyn Kilbourn and Carolyn Chase.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

I would like to add a bit to the somewhat muddy stream of comment about taxes.

There has been criticism of the townships getting one-half mill in 1960. We had gotten along without any township tax for several years, but now we are obligated to pay for fire protection and now contribute to the cost of the community dump.

Both of these expenses are fair and reasonable, but will not decrease. The township pays the city $1,000 per year for maintenance, plus paying the men who answer calls.

This is probably as good for us as paying a large sum per fire and certainly much better than maintaining a separate department.

The county tax covers a multitude of expenses and to the best of my knowledge has been handled as economically and expertly as possible.

Party politics does not intrude in this. In fact I have never known just who were the Republicans and Democrats on the County Board.

Actually a man of either party can be chairman without question.

Why should we not put it up to the powers who forced us to accept state control and money for our schools.

We were forced to accept big government in the way of consolidation and regimentation and in return the state was to pay an amount per pupil for support, which for a while did provide a large part of the expenses.

The source of this support has not enlarged nearly as much as the costs per pupil have pyramided, while the overload which has to come out of the same source has mounted annually.

One big item is the constantly increasing size and interference of the big tax commission.

Under the system this is unavoidable, but beyond the necessary equalization they have broadened their control until the result is that they are a means for squeezing more and more tax money out of good old John Q.

Local assessors have very little to say or do anymore except try to see that Mr. A. B. and C. are somewhere near equal.

To close for now, I would like to pay tribute to our Township Board of the last few years.

We have had nearly 100% attendance at board meetings and our building inspector and Zoning Board have handled those difficult jobs extremely well.

In addition to this group I have not found a single person in our area whom I disliked.

Sincerely,
W. G. Waldron

Dave Holden on Sabre Drill Team

S/Sgt. David L. Holden is a member of the Sabre Drill team of the AFROTC at the Michigan State University.

During the past two years he has served as operations NCO, drill instructor and is currently supply sergeant.

The drill team is a voluntary organization of about 20 basic cadets, freshmen and sophomores, sponsored by the Arnold Air Society, a national cadet honorary named after General "Hap" Arnold.

The team represents the MSU AFROTC as a precision drill team and requires the deep interest of the cadet and many more hours of practice to master the difficult and intricate manuevers used.

The Sabre Drill team is semi-unique in that it uses regulation West Point military sabres while most teams use rifles.

The unit will take part in annual Michigan Drill Competition at the University of Michigan, the Purdue Invitational Competition, Armed Forces Day demonstrations at Selfridge Air Force Base and the Cherry Blossom Festival at Purdue.

7,000-Mile Preaching Junket

The Rev. William A. Pelly, pastor of the Deerfield and Holloway Presbyterian Churches, has just returned from the Preaching Mission in Jamaica, Puerto Rico and Haiti.

He visited the homes of the natives and preached in several of their churches, while working with missionaries and their local pastors.

He also visited the native schools and studied their school system.

The Rev. Pelly said, "My heart was stirred as I preached in Cap Haitien, Haiti. I saw the unfoldment of a great hunger for the gospel of Jesus Christ in most of the natives.

"Their churches were overcrowded for every service. Both sides of the aisles were crowded with people standing. Especially in Haiti there was a display of a first century zeal which is almost foreign to the people of America.

"I was not ashamed for the tears in my eyes, for those people have gone through a great deal of hardships.

"Whole families attend the church, not just women, as is often the case in the United States.

"There were many children and young people, despite their severe poverty.

"It was really gratifying to hear them sing the familiar hymns, for example, "What a Friend We Have In Jesus".

Most of the services lasted over two hours and no one made a move to leave.

At the front was a Communion Table banked with flowers. Behind the table was a choir loft with a 30-voice choir.

"When I spoke to the congregation in Port au Prince, Haiti, I felt so inadequate to meet their needs. Their patient personalities told a suffering, but their tears told a spiritual victory. "All in all, I felt that they did more for me than I did for them. Really, it was a very humbling experience," he said.

The Rev. Pelly traveled over 7,000 miles by plane during the mission.

When asked how he happened to go on the tour the pastor replied that it was requested by the natives and the missionaries.

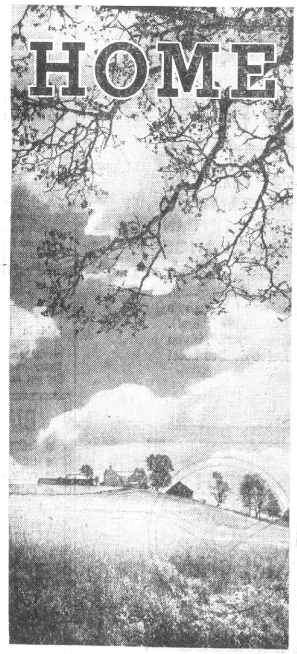
ALTERATIONS A SPECIALTY

FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED . . . ATTEND CHURCH !



What is home? A blend of memories and mortar . . . walls and roof and smells of breakfast cooking . . . a place of rest at the end of day . . . a feeling of possession, of belonging . . . a place of hates, loves, anger . . . the center of things living.

Home may be a mansion on a hill, a cramped apartment, a farmhouse, a hovel, a new suburban split-level, the house Father built . . . but only to you and your family is it home. No one else may call it that. For home is a part of you!

Centuries ago a shepherd-poet felt this. Weary, lonely seasons on the grazing slopes had taught him to love . . . to long for . . . HOME.

But he realized that, through this life and beyond, the nearness of God is part of the sense of home. Goodness and mercy would follow him all the days of his life. And he would dwell in the house of the Lord forever!

Give the Church and its Truth a place in your home. And God's presence will give eternal meaning to that home.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

MICHIGAN IS WATER UNLIMITED
Whether in single stream from a factory faucet or in thundering volume, water is at work and at hand for industry in Michigan.
Water is almost everywhere in Michigan. Michigan has 11,000 inland lakes and 36,000 miles of streams, and Michigan has a vast underground water reserve. Lake levels vary little, stream flow is stable and, except for very limited areas, ground water levels have shown no appreciable change since record-keeping began.
Michigan is almost surrounded by the greatest supply of fresh water in the world, the Great Lakes. Stand anywhere in Michigan and you are within 85 miles of one of the Great Lakes.
Michigan is first in water resources — today, tomorrow and for the whole foreseeable future.
Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip these ads and mail them to people in other states with your own comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together, we can assure a greater future for all of us.

Tories Bow Out of Tourney

BRITTON—Britton basketball fans have their memories.

The Tories bowed out of the state tournament in the Willow Run regional, failing to Detroit St. Bernard, 59-51, Friday evening.

Two days earlier, Britton eliminated Webberville, 53-42, to keep the flame of hope flickering.

But the speedy Detroit quintet ended the dream of the Tories going on to the sectional.

The Webberville game, the first half was on even terms, but in the second half the Tories pulled out in front.

Even though the Tories didn't play the brand of basketball they were capable of Dick Seagert, Larry Hummel and Phil Benedict on the backboards gave Webberville a lot of trouble.

Neil Benedict and Pepper Griewahn hitting from the outside helped the Tories romp to a great victory.

This was the fourth win for the Tories in the tournaments. Benedict led the attack with 16 and Seagert had 12.

In th first half, against St. Bernard, the lead changed five times. The Tories were ahead, 32-27, at one point.

In the third quarter the Tories were hurt when Larry Hummel went out on fouls.

The Rams out-scored the Tories in the third quarter 13-8.

The Tories came within three points twice, but never could overcome St. Bernard.

Benedict's 15 points topped the Tories.

FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT NATURAL GAS

How Times Have Changed!

The year is 1859 — men are drilling for GAS. They are digging with hand shovels. A white oak battering ram lays close by to pound down lengths of cast iron pipe. A six-horsepower, river-boat boiler powers the salt water bit that cuts through the earth — three feet a day — to the final and amazing depth of sixty-nine feet!

A hundred years later, hard teeth of a rotary drill rapidly grind through rock, clay and sand. A stream of water cools the bit while a chemical compound speeds the drill through the hardest rocks. A large pipe, then a small pipe, is lowered. Powerful bullets shoot perforations into the earth. From Nature's reservoir, "stored sunshine" * is released — sometimes from a depth of five miles!

* This "stored sunshine" is one of America's favorite fuels — seven out of ten homes built today use Natural GAS for heating. Call or write your Heating Equipment Dealer or Consumers Power Company for information about inexpensive, automatic Natural GAS heat.

Percy Remembers

Percy Cadmus, 8248 Milwaukee Hwy., is the owner of last week's mystery farm.

Born on this farm, which his parents purchased about the year 1900, Percy recalls that there were no improved roads at the time, just lanes and trails.

Had the farm been in the same family since it was first settled, it could easily have been a centennial farm.

Of the 100 acres contained here, 25 are planted to tomatoes for the Campbell Soup Co. The rest contains grain.

He and his wife Lilah are the parents of seven children of which four are married.

Sons, Richard of Clinton and John of Adrian; daughters, Mrs. Donald Mueller of Tecumseh and Mrs. Jack Patterson of Adrian. Three children are at home, Elaine, 17; Russell, 15; and Tom, 14.

Mrs. Cadmus is a teacher in the Milan Area schools, past president of the Britton Womens Club, active in extension work and with her husband, members of Tecumseh Grange, State and National Grange and attend the Britton Congregational Church.

Percy is a director of Patrons Mutual Insurance Co. and has been associated with the Pioneer Seed Corn Co. for the past twenty years.

The Cadmuses do not raise cows or chickens any longer, but do raise a few hogs.

Barbara Younglove of Britton was the first to identify the farm and receive two passes to the Strand Theatre.

Farm Bureau Group Opposes Convention

The Constitution Convention issue was the subject of much discussion at the meeting of the Newburg Farm Bureau March 11.

Fifteen members and one guest, Henry Vaughan, met at the home of James Tonneberger.

Other legislative issues as well as local school matters were also discussed.

On the question of how to make changes in the Michigan State Constitution, all present were unanimous in the decision that the amendment method was far more desirable than that of holding a Constitutional Convention.

"You know a good doctor for this?"

It's a question we answer all the time. Sometimes it's someone new in the neighborhood. Sometimes it's an old friend who just doesn't happen to have a family physician. The boy sprains an ankle... the baby runs a temperature... Grandma has a bad cough. Troubled people often turn to us for help, and rightly so. We work closely with physicians, providing the medicines they prescribe and use in their offices. We know who they are, their specialties, their office hours. In an emergency we're good people to ask. And we're always happy to be of service to our friends and patrons.

Railroad Station Out of Union Hall

The Products Union Hall became a railroad station for the March 15 meeting of the Cub Scout Pack 73.

There was a hustle and bustle around the ticket booth, constructed by Cubs from Den 1 with Mrs. Francis Dalton as leader, as the "passengers" obtained their train tickets.

These tickets were punched by Cub railroaders wearing authentic caps of the railroad crew.

Cubmaster Gerald Creger led the Pledge to the Flag as the Stars and Stripes were brought into place by Norman Creger, Tom Witt, Reed Heavener and William Lambes.

As the audience sang "She'll Be Comin' Around the Mountain," members of Mrs. Roland Boyers' Den 3 and Mrs. Milton Meyers' Den 4 chugged around the hall behind railroad cars, which they had constructed from large cardboard packing boxes.

Den 12, with Mrs. Donald Brees as leader, portrayed a comedy skit of a station master and the characters he must contend with as a daily routine.

A candlelight ceremony inducted into the Cubbing program as Bobcats Dean Finnegan, Michael Seitz, Philip Milosh and Robert Gilbert.

Other awards presented:

Wolf Badge—William Gibson.

Mike Fowler (also received one gold and two silver arrow points), William Lambes, Arlo Gettings, Jr. (also received one gold arrow point), Billy Filber (also received one gold and one silver arrow point), Robert Wood and Mark Osburn.

Tecumseh High School has been selected as one of 20 schools in the state, to build a prototype of a Civil Defense home shelter on the school grounds.

The Federal Government has alloted $250 for construction of the shelter, according to CD specifications, states John Saling, local CD chief.

Industrial arts teachers Charles Gross and Gerald Potter will have charge of building the shelter, which is designed so that it may be constructed in a basement.

School Board Plan

Following long hours of study and discussion, the Tecumseh Board of Education has come up with a plan to meet its current financial crisis.

Boardmen agreed:

► Starting next fall, cut $39,400 off budget.

► To ask for four more mills operating funds over a five-year period.

If the levy isn't approved by voters, the board will slice another $28,023 in school services.

Thus, the total reduction could amount to $67,423 — with possibly more in the future.

Items that definitely are slashed, beginning with the new school year.

1. Special vocal music teachers and art supervisor in elementary $14,500
2. Double-up present elementary physical education classes $10,000
3. In junior high, reduce class time from 59 to 37 minutes, cutting school day from six to five hours....$12,500
4. In senior high, drop senior trip advisors, adult education, driver education during school year, debate and orations .....$ 2,400

These total $39,400.

If the four-mill vote fails, then these items come under the ax:

1. First grade on half-days, kindergarten sections reduced $20,000
2. Close Macon and West Branch Schools .....$ 6,053
3. Use furniture from closed rooms instead of buying new for additional enrollment .....$ 1,100
4. Freshman football and basketball .....$ 870

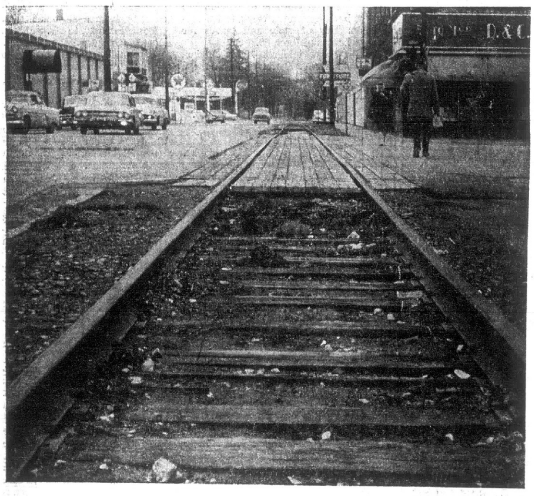
These total $28,023.

If the four-mill levy is not approved, the board will also be forced to make more cuts in 1962-'63—close Tipton School, but first, second and third grades on half days, cut some bus service.

This would bring the budget reduction to $102,617.

The special vote on the four mills is scheduled for May 20. The Herald will comment editorially on the issue in future editions.

We suggest you clip this so that you will know where cuts are being made.



Time To Beautify Tracks

The scene above is in downtown Tecumseh.

Not too beautiful is it?

The appearance of the New York Central's spur through town has long been a problem, especially as it slices Chicago Blvd. in the heart of town.

City and Chamber of Commerce officials have made overtures to the railroad in bygone days to beautify the tracks. But nothing has been done.

How does one beautify railroad tracks?

Basically, where you now see the bare crossties and tracks, would go some sort of pavement. This could also be done between the curb and tracks and over to the Evans St. sidewalk, as wood planks are used on Chilago crossing.

When such a project is finished the tracks would be flush with pavement.

A new Chamber committee has been formed to re-negotiate with the NYC. Let's hope that this time the desired objective can be reached.

1,100 Hear Bands

Dorinda Winters, Larry Harper, Gale Kimmerer and Louise Stutesman, members of Tecumseh High School band were selected to play in the all-county band at the 11th annual concert.

Judy McClue and Frank Forgaes were chosen from Britton-Macon School.

The event was well attended, with 1,100 guests beside the 13 bands.

Dr. James Spencer, professor of music of Adrian College, welcomed the throng and also conducted the mass band at the conclusion.

Following a presentation by each of the bands from Deerfield, Clinton, Hudson, Morenci, Madison, Britton-Macon, Sand Creek, Adrian Junior and Senior High Schools, Addison, Onsted, Tecumseh and Blissfield, the county band played on the stage.

Their number was "Parade of the Charioteers" from Ben Hur by Rozsa, directed by Alvin Benner, director of Adrian College Bands.

Tecumseh's band played "Cabo Yubi" by Smevig and Britton band played "Michigan March" by Sutton.

Robert Whitacre, conductor of Adrian Junior High Band, announced the appearance of the Michigan State University Concert Band in Tecumseh March 24.

Scholarships to Interlochen are made available through sale of tickets for the county concert.

Ninth, tenth and eleventh grade students of the all-county band are eligible to try out for Interlochen with a limit on winners at one per participating band.

U. OF MICHIGAN REPORT

Deficiencies Are Reported

WEAKNESS OF THE PROGRAM

Inadequacies and weaknesses in specific instructional areas can be found in the reports of the individual consultants. This section attempts to highlight those weaknesses which seem to permeate several instructional areas. No significance should be attached to the order in which they are presented.

1. Instruction is not coordinated adequately throughout the system. There are separate administrators at the elementary, junior and senior high school levels, and inadequate attention is paid to coordinating instruction between levels.

This need was cited in the field of guidance and testing, home economics, library, English, mathematics, physical education, science and social studies.

2. Teaching materials and equipment are severely limited for many areas of instruction. Some of the areas mentioned were art, audio-visual, business education, mathematics, vocal music, physical education, junior high science and the social studies.

There is a tendency in several areas to follow one textbook to too great a degree rather than using supplementary, enriching material.

3. Several instructional areas are weakened by large classes and excessive teacher loads. One English teacher has as many as 213 English students, whereas the recommended limit is 100.

Several high school teachers have six classes a day instead of the recommended five. Elementary class size average 33. Four first grade classes total 36 or more.

Class sizes are too large and added personnel are needed in the fields of art, audio-visual, guidance, English, mathematics, junior high school physical education and biology.

4. There is little provision for real in-service education. Teachers need to be kept abreast of current developments. Because of heavy administrative duties, administrators must devote most of their time to mundane administrative activities rather than instructional leadership. Department heads are not provided with time for leadership in curriculum development.

5. Additional advanced courses to challenge gifted students are needed. Many schools provide third and fourth year language, advanced biology, theater, journalism.

6. The secondary school library program has serious limitations. The junior high school library lacks adequate space, personnel and a basic book collection. The high school library program needs to be up-graded.

7. The industrial education program is restricted by space and program deficiencies. The program is weak at the junior high school level because of inadequate room and scheduling problems.

8. The programs in art and music are limited because of insufficient personnel.

9. Several areas of administrative work have not received adequate attention because of limited personnel. These areas include a continuing plan for informing citizens of school programs and problems, further development of policies, cooperative planning of the budget, greater organization of business affairs, and coordination of instruction.

10. Counseling services are provided at present only in the high school and special education programs reach elementary students primarily.

11. A number of consultants questioned the adequacy of the junior high school program in their field. Some of these questions came from plant and equipment inadequacies (industrial education, library) while others came from program weaknesses (physical education, foreign language, social studies, art, mathematics, science and music).

12. To a great degree the length of the school day is determined by bus arrangements. The day seems too long for students in primary classes and the special education program.

13. The facilities at the secondary school level are inadequate. There are pronounced weaknesses in music, art, science, library and industrial education. The high school, now housing 700 students, is actually rated for housing 575.

Population projections indicate an 80% growth in the next 10 years.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

A LITTLE ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Last week, if you will remember, we talked a bit about the exciting Hairey Woodpecker and how much he looks like the Downey Woodpecker's big brother.

Well, just lately the Downey has taken to acting like the worst sort of a little brother.

Pester, pester, pester, he is a real brat. How does the big fellow re-act to all this tormenting?

Actually he is remarkably calm, he tries to remain aloof, but when things get too bad, instead of playing the bully, he merely flies away.

As near as we can tell, it is just one of our Downey Woodpeckers who is being so unfriendly. One has a much smaller than usual red cap and he is the ill-mannered culprit.

No matter how busy at the suet on the feeder he is, as soon as the Hairey flies to the mulberry tree, he, the Downey, starts bristling and then zoom!

Bristling? Sure, and it's a very funny sight, too. The little short feathers on top of his head stand up.

It almost looks like a butch hair cut, and the straighter the feathers go the crosser and crabbier the bird looks.

When he has worked himself into a sufficient state of bad temper, away to the mulberry tree Little Red Cap goes.

☆

I WONDER if the big Hairey, who so enjoys the piece of suet tied to the tree and bangs away at it in such trip-hammer like fashion, is surprised when the little Downey flies at him?

Really, the attacks are quite ridiculous to watch. No actual contact is made, but there is certainly much harrassing done.

If the swooping and circling and dive bombing continue long enough Hairey leaves — not afraid, he gives the impression of just wanting to avoid trouble.

Fortunately, most of the other Downeys are of a much kinder disposition and it is wonderfully exciting for us to look out and see a little Downey Woodpecker busily eating at the near feeder while the great big Hairey happily bangs away at the suet on the mulberry tree.

SUNDAY, March 12, was a red-letter day. Not only did our first crocus of the year open its pretty yellow head in the flower garden beneath my south window, but we finally found out who our sweet serenader was.

For several weeks we had puzzled over the identity of the birds who every once in a while will burst forth into such a lovely, lovely song.. A bouncy complicated trill, so happy and light—its merriment is contagious. A song-sparrow! Mom saw him sitting on the ground just singing his heart out.

At least we know how truly beautiful the song sparrow's song is. Friends have told us and most of the books rave — how right they are. Let's hope he stays around and sings to us often.

☆

WERE IT not that I am so hesitant about using horrible puns, this could be entitled "A Tale of the Tailess."

Every winter it seems that we have a bird who has somehow lost his tail. This year we had almost begun to think we might not have one but the other day, the record was continued.

It's not always the same kind of bird who comes up minus his tail-feathers; in fact, each year it seems to be a different one. Lets' see, there has been a tailless sparrow, actually several tail-less sparrows, a mourning dove, a cardinal and a tufted titmouse.

The latest "member of the club" is a little female downey woodpecker — the others got along all right, but woodpeckers sit on their tails so much that we wonder about the downey.

My, we have certainly talked a lot about woodpeckers lately, but next week I promise that we will try to peck out a different subject.

TOM RORDAN'S Long AND Short

Just remember HHH — Hugh H. Holloway.

He's a candidate for state superintendent of public instruction.

Mr. Holloway was in Tecumseh last week and gave answers to some vital questions.

"How do you feel about federal aid to education?" was one.

HHH explained that of every dollar Michigan would send to Washington for education, our state would be lucky to get 80c back — probably much less.

Mr. Holloway vigorously opposes the "Handout from Uncle Sam" plan, especially when Michigan would shoulder so much of the load.

Where will the money go?

Primarily, it will be sent to states, which are already doing everything in their power to lure industry out of our state by offering lower taxes.

Michigan gives up its plants — then we are asked to help finance schools in these states because of their unrealistic and depressed tax setup, which is cunning bait to snag plants.

In one state, for each dollar that is sent to Washington, well over $2 will come back. Nice deal, eh?

HHH feels that citizens in individual districts must assume responsibility of providing educational opportunities for their youngsters, not ask Uncle Sam to do it.

Here are some of his other ideas:

Leadership: My program calls for active leadership from the minimum standard of education must be guaranteed to all children. I am disturbed about the non-high school graduate now past school age. A new approach to adult education is necessary to salvage these people who will be most cut by automation.

Tax Relief: Relief from high property taxes by modernization of the property tax system is a must. Increasing equalized valuations is a stop-gap measure and not a long-range solution.

End Duplication: The state must end duplication to bring about greater economy and efficiency in the use of public funds for school purposes.

Quality Education: To guarantee the best education for our children we must demand high standards for our teachers, and we must pay them accordingly.

Coordination: The development of uniform practices and procedures for the orderly coordination of education with other functions of government recognize that all institutions, services, and duties of the state are important—must exist on tax dollars — and must therefore all be coordinated.

HHH is an experienced school administrator, currently is running the district at Sault Ste. Marie. He held the same post in Brown City, Nashville and Dearborn Township.

He holds a master's degree from Michigan State.

I think he deserves your vote.

INSTRUCTOR DeLOACH WATCHES AS MICHIGAN STUDENTS EXAMINE HERALD

Herald Goes to Class

The Herald served recently as a "practical textbook" for a journalism course at the University of Michigan.

Taught by Duane DeLoach, editor and publisher of The Blissfield Advance, the class deals in community newspapers.

Copies of The Herald were introduced during one period to show what a weekly can do to serve better its readers.

The series of articles on the Tecumseh School District by Marjorie Comfort was the basis of the discussion.

Mr. DeLoach explained to his students, "The weekly newspaper does more than just report who had dinner with whom.'

"This is an example of how one paper is bringing to its readers information vital to them and their community," the instructor said.

In the three-hour course, which mets Monday and Friday, students are taken behind the scenes of the weekly operation.

Each student selects a weekly, usually in his or her home community, and then makes a complete analysis of its content.

The course is a regular part of the Michigan school of journalism curriculum and is taught by guest instructors.

Man Burned Badly When Drum Blows

Henry B. Kaidan, 36, of rural Tipton is a patient at University Hospital where he was taken after receiving third degree burns over 60% of his body in a freak explosion March 26.

The blast occurred as he was using an acetylene torch to cut the top from an oil drum, which he planned to use for a trash burner.

His wife, Mae, was treated for hand burns at Herrick Memorial Hospital after she beat out the flames.

Mr. Kaidan was also taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital and transferred to Ann Arbor.

His condition is still critical. His eyes are reported to be all right.

Emergency Plan Will Have 100 Out for Search

An emergency search plan, which could have upwards of 100 men in action in an hour's time, has been worked out by City Manager Ed Nelson.

It would be employed to locate lost persons.

Council ordered Mr. Nelson to work out some type of arrangement at its last meeting. Action was prompted by the Marsh case, in which a youth was lost for one week and later discovered dead in the southeast section of the community.

According to Mr. Nelson's plan, key people would be the chief of police, mayor, a representative of the State Police and himself.

In the event of a missing person, the four would huddle to determine if, where and when a search should be made.

Within 60 minutes, they would have on call about 100 men — eight city policemen, 50 state policemen, 32 Tecumseh Civil Defense Auxiliary policemen and 50 National Guardsmen.

"We have the assurance from the Civil Defense unit here and the National Guard unit of Adrian that they would be on hand at a moment's notice," Mr. Nelson states. "Also, several men have volunteered to help at any time."

Policemen Will Stage Benefit Ball

A Policeman's Benefit Ball—first of its kind here—will be held at the Tecumseh Country Club on April 22.

Proceeds from the dance will be used for youth activities, for needy families and needy children at Christmas time.

Tickets for the ball may be purchased from any Tecumseh policemen or at the door. Music for the dance, 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., will be furnished by Cal Damon's orchestra.

If the dance is successful, plans already are underway to make it an annual affair.

George Kempf is chairman of the ball this year with Shelton Chase and Gene Skinner, secretary and treasurer.

Only Two Races

Except for the offices of justice of the peace and constable, there will be only Republican candidates listed on the ballot at Tecumseh Township election Monday.

Wilfred Waldron (R) and Jack Osburn (D) are candidates for justice and Donald Smith (R) and Edwin Gove (D) for constable.

THS Band Director Does 'Guest' Bit

"Now, I would like to have the Tecumseh band director, Don Johnson, conduct the next number," Leonard Falcone told the audience.

There was warm approval from the 600 spectators as Mr. Johnson strolled to the podium.

He accepted the baton from Mr. Falcone, long-time leader of the Michigan State University concert band.

At Mr. Johnson's downbeat, 100 MSU musicians swung in "High School Cadets" and the THS director did a vigorous job of conducting.

To many, this was a highlight of Friday's appearance of the MSU band in the Tecumseh High School gymnasium.

Tecumseh Rotary sponsored the concert.

Mr. Johnson's appearance could be likened to the MSU varsity football coach Duffy Daughtery halting a Big Ten game and flagging Duncan Lectka out of the stands and asking him to run the team during the third quarter.

Certainly, Mr. Johnson must have been thrilled.

☆

THE SPARTAN bandsmen served up a delightful evening.

During "Pines of the Appian Way" one could easily envision the Roman soldiers swinging along.

"El Relicario" was a toe-tapper, with fine pacing and use of all instruments.

A clarinet solo by John Alleman of East Lansing received tremendous applause.

In an encore of marching music, the group nearly lifted the roof off the gym.

"MSU Shadows," the school's alma mater, and the "Fight Song" concluded the program on a rousing note.

Rotarians are to be congratulated for bringing the concert band here.

Sunrise Service Is at 6:30

Easter Sunrise Service, with the Rev. Paul Brantingham of the Friends Church as the speaker, will begin at 6:30 a.m. at Hidden Lake Gardens, weather permitting.

A quartet made up of Linda Dean, Susan Nichols, Dan Harvey and Leslie Bennett will sing, "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" by Bach.

The Baptist Church will be the setting for the service if the weather is inclimate. Those who plan to attend will know of a change in place if the Baptist Church is fully lighted.

Buses will provide transportation to the Gardens. They will be on Union St., west of the Baptist Church at 6 a.m.

Youth from the churches of Tecumseh made final arrangements Sunday afternoon. Some will assist Mr. Brantingham with the service.

This year, guests will take places in the valley, while the speaker will be on the hillside.

The annual meeting of the Macon cemetery Association will be held April 4 at 2 p.m. at the cemetery.

GOOD FRIDAY

7 Churches Are Joined for Service

The Methodist Church will provide the choir and special music for the Union Good Friday service from noon until 3 p.m. at the Methodist Church.

Dan Harvey and Linda Dean will sing the duet, "O Divine Redeemer" during the early part of the service, accompanied by Dexter Bailey.

Leslie Bennett will sing "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" and the choir will conclude the service with the anthem, " 'Tis Finished."

The traditional service with seven churches participating will be centered around the seven last words of Christ from the cross.

During the singing of hymns people will enter and leave the sanctuary if they are not able to attend the full three hours.

The Association extends a welcome to anyone to attend the service of meditation, prayer and praise.

Tecumseh merchants are cooperating with the Ministerial Association by closing their business places from noon until 3 p.m.

Easter Egg Hunt Will Be Saturday

An Easter Egg Hunt will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. on Recreation Field.

This year's event will be sponsored by Tecumseh Eagles.

Prizes will be awarded in many categories.

Children up to 12 years of age may participate, according to the committee composed of Bob Heavener, Duane and Leonard Creger.

Plans have been made for coloring 300 dozen eggs.

Mary Lou Perry Becomes Bride

Tall cathedral candelabra outlined the kneeling bench at the Methodist Church Saturday evening when Mary Lou Perry and Lt. Darrell A. Lowrey exchanged their wedding vows.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Perry, 714 River Acres Dr., and he is the son of Mrs. Virgil Lowery and the late Mr. Lowery, 3618 Rogers Hwy.

The Rev. Allen Wittrup performed the ceremony and Carl Demlow sang, "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer" with Mrs. Kenton Hunt at the organ.

The bride was radiant in a white gown of acetate lace and nylon over taffeta fashioned with scoop neckline accented with seed pearls and long sleeves coming to a point over the hands.

The floor-length skirt featured ruffles of lace and net at the back.

☆

HER VEIL of nylon illusion was caught gently to a coronet of white nylon leaves and seed pearls.

She wore a single strand of cultured pearls at her throat with single pearl earrings, the gift of the groom.

Amazon lilies and stephanotis in cascade design topped a lace covered Bible that the bride carried.

Mrs. Collen Hoag of Blissfield was the matron of honor wearing a white brocade sheath dress with overskirt, three-quarter length gloves and white shoes.

A garland of heather with a single pink camellia formed her dainty headpiece.

She carried a crescent cascade of pink perfection camellias and French feathers on a double ring of imported Swiss braid.

Gloria Baughey of Adrian, Brenda Heeman and Kay Schultz were the bridesmaids, wearing aqua dresses of the same design as that of the matron-of-honor with matching accessories and flowers.

Joan and Jana Upell, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Upell were the flower girls wearing white nylon dresses and carrying baskets of camellias with clusters of violets.

☆

TOM PRICE was best man and the guests were seated by John L. Perry, brother of the bride, Gary Crawford and John Garrison.

A reception for 500 was held at the Tecumseh Grange hall with Mrs. Ray Tasker, Mrs. Thomas Gallant, Mrs. Robert Betz, Mrs. Virgil Lowery, Jr. and Mrs. Donald Lowery serving.

The four-tiered cake outlined with six heart-shaped cakes centered the table and was flanked with pyramid candle arrangements of white carnations and iris.

A china bride and groom centered a bouquet enclosed in a large crystal chimney on the punch table.

BOTH YOUNG people are 1958 graduates of Tecumseh High School. The bride is also a 1960 graduate of Ann Arbor Practical Nurse Education and has been employed at Bixby Hospital until her marriage.

The groom attended Adrian College and is presently a lieutenant with the air force.

They will make their home in Reno, Nevada.

The groom's mother entertained for a rehearsal dinner Friday evening at th Presbyterian Church at Holloway.

Warn Children

Possible molesting of children can and has happened in Tecumseh.

Last week Neville Hart, high school principal, cautioned young ladies over the public address system against accepting rides with strangers. He told of two students who had been asked by a motorist to ride with him on Thursday.

Police are now searching for the motorist.

Mr. Hart warned students to refuse a ride from anyone they did not know.

☆

"THE BEST rule for children is to avoid strangers completely," Sergeant Carl Anderson of the State Police emphasized.

"Caution youngsters often to beware of strangers while outdoors at play, or on the way to or from school. "Tell them to report any strangers who make offers or promises of candy or gifts for going for a walk or a ride with them."

Child molestation cases reach a peak in the summer.

To help eradicate the menace, parents should notify police immediately of all incidents, no matter how minor they may seem, reported by their children.

The failure or reluctance of parents to do so makes it difficult for police to cope with the problem and gives the child molester the chance to strike again.

No publicity is given to the names of the children or the parents except in the case of murder.

Amazing Car Runs by Sun Is Coming Here

The amazing Sunmobile — a miniature auto which actually runs on sunshine — will be featured in Previews of Progress, world-famous General Motors science show, in Tecumseh Wednesday, April 5.

It will be at the high school at 10 a.m. and the junior high at 2 p.m.

Previews is a non-commercial stage show which tells the story of industrial progress in a free economy. It is designed to stimulate student interest in careers in science and engineering.

The 40-minute presentation makes use of dramatic sequences to illustrate each scientific principle shown.

The Sunmobile depends on eight photovoltaic cells located on its hood for its operation. These cells convert light energy into electrical energy. Each cell produces about one-half volt of direct current electricity when light falls upon it.

They are connected to a small electric motor mounted inside the car which moves the auto by a chain drive.

In the Previews show, the demonstrator uses a 300-watt lamp to duplicate the sun's rays. As the light strikes the cells, the 15-inch Sunmobile moves smoothly across a table.

The Sunmobile, one of the exciting features at the Brussels World's Fair of 1958, is just one of many scientific sequences to be presented.

Tournament Highlights Available

A half-hour color film of the highlights of this year's state high school basketball tournament final games, carrying a traffic safety message, is available to schools of the state.

This film uses a series of five-second superimposed animations over various actions in the games to call attention to similarities in the application of knowledge, training, attitude and behavior by the good athlete and the good driver.

It is narrated by Bob Shackleton, sports director of Michigan State University broadcasting.

The film is offered without charge for showing to school assemblies, for use in driver education classes, or for junior or senior PTA's or civic organizations.

It can be booked through the Driver Education Section of the Department of Public Instruction, 230 North Grand Avenue, Lansing.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Recommendations for Council

Five men are running for four seats on the Tecumseh City Council at Monday's election.

The Herald here reviews qualifications of the candidates.

ROBERT BONNER

An appointee who succeeded the late H. H. Hanna last fall. As former president of the Planning Commission, his experience should be helpful. He has taken a more active part in discussions and decisions at recent meetings. Would probably be a good councilman, especially after he's had more time to adjust and to familiarize himself with council problems.

TERRY MACKIN

One of Tecumseh's outstanding businessmen, running for public office for the first time. Has been active and successful in several community organizations. His background and experience, especially in construction and street improvements, would be a tremendous asset. His election is highly recommended.

JOHN HAMILTON

Has served on Council longer than any other member and has a good record. His experience and knowledge in dealing with old problems undoubtedly would be invaluable to newer members. Always takes part in decisions and should be elected again.

GEORGE McCOMBS

A veteran in city government, who definitely has a controversial record. Although aware and capable of handling council problems, he rarely attends a full session, often leaving about half-way through to bowl. Should decide whether to be a city official or bowler.

ROYAL WELCH

Incumbent now serving his first term. He has probably been the most progressive and active member, an outspoken Councilman who has sought action instead of excuses in governing the community. Has participated in practically every Council function and has good record in getting things done. He should be re-elected.

Positive Step Forward

When Michigan voters OKed our present constitution just after the turn of the century, Michigan had a population of 2½ million.

The great era of industrialization was dawning.

The doors of great opportunity were starting to swing open.

This was also a time when folks apparently didn't want to place too much responsibility into the hands of state government.

So the delegates to that constitutional convention wrote until they had done a fine job of binding up most of the departments.

Then started the patch jobs. Over the 53 years since then, a variety of amendments have been added—a total of 69.

Our state now has so envolved an organizational chart that it would resemble the web of a spider. A business could make little progress so encumbered.

The cost of a con-con will approach $3 million, but the result of the session could save the state 20 or 30 times this amount in future years. How much deadwood, how much duplication and over-lapping there is in government is anyone's guess.

Opponents of con-con give the impression that there really isn't anything amiss in Michigan and that we can continue along the road we've trod for many more years.

They fail to remember that this state was all but bankrupt a few short months ago and we're a long ways from being out of the woods.

Get out and vote for con-con. This is the most positive step forward electors of Michigan can take in the direction of putting our government on its feet.

Color slides illustrated the talk

The Club will sponsor a Flower Show in Tecumseh July 15.

Stationery was distributed among members so that they may write representatives in Lansing asking them to vote for highway billboard legislation.

Plans were made for the district meeting to be held in Tecumseh Oct. 18. The Little Garden Club will furnish favors for over 300 people attending the meeting at the First Baptist Church.

Blueberry cheese cake was served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. William MacBeth and Mrs. Wilbur Andrews.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

We have lived in and near Tecumseh for the past 39 years and in that time we have never voiced our opinion on the way the city has been run, just going along with the laws as best we could.

But we feel that now just once we have a right just once to say our piece.

For the last year in The Herald the big issues have been the school, the parking lots, and the disposal of garbage and trash. It seems as if our citizens can always see what is being done wrong, but when the city comes up with something good every Tom, Dick and Harry try to strangle it.

Last fall when the dump was closed to garbage we decided to put a garbage disposal in our sink. Then we got to thinking we still had our trash to take care of.

We felt the cost of the disposal and the many trips to the dump with our trash was pretty expensive so we decided to give the hauling service a try first.

We have had it now for six months and we can honestly say that never in our married life have we had anything we got so much good out of that we paid so little for.

No piling our car full of trash to take to the dump, no burning of papers and trash to annoy our neighbors with foul smells and knowing that on specified days we can depend on the truck to take everything.

As we drive on the back roads near town we can see garbage, old shoes, tin cans and you-name-it strewn everywhere. If the people that are doing this would do without one or two bottles of beer a month and use the money they are putting in gas to sneak down these roads to dump this terrible filth and to keep the law from catching up with them they would soon find out they were paying a lot more than $1.50 a month getting the best of a "good job".

We are proud of our home and our community as every good citizen should be, not for the expensive things but for the beauty of them.

If the people would only give this hauling service a tryout we know they would feel as we do. They could see what a wonderful job these men are doing.

They will take anything from broken false teeth, if they are wrapped in newspapers and put in containers, to your last year's flannels, old tires or the broken down sofa, without a murmur.

Oh yes, these men will make mistakes. Sometimes they will take your trash and forget the garbage, but if you will just give "our Mr. Dillon" a ring the next time around it will be straightened out with his help and all "his Chesters".

They will keep our town clean if you will give them a chance. So people for goodness sake try to keep a good thing when you have it.

George and Irene Finnegan
S. Occidental Rd.

TO THE EDITORS:

In your column "LONG and SHORT," March 23 issue, you mention the name of Norman H. Bless as discussion leader of a Farm Bureau group.

I believe this was an unintentional error on your part and I wish to make a correction. Mr. Bless is not a member of the group to which you refer. In fact he does not live in the Tecumseh area.

Your comments under "LONG and SHORT" in support of Con-Con consist mainly in ridiculing those who, to me, have given acceptable reasons why the constitution should not be completely re-written.

You have given no logical reasons why our Michigan Constitution should be re-written. The obvious function of delegates to a constitutional convention would be to re-write the basic document.

You refer to the "patch-work" tax situation. I see no point in confusing the voters with all the other issues that go to make up the constitution in order to re-write that small portion pertaining to taxes.

The changes we want to make in our Constitution can be made via the amendment method which enables citizens to study and vote on one issue at a time.

There is no limit to the number of amendments that can be submitted at ony one election.

A re-written constitution submitted as a package would present an impossible situation in that it would contain undesirable as well as desirable changes.

Ruth E. Halley
Route 1,
Tecumseh, Mich.

Editor's note: We still contend there should be a Con-Con and hope that Mrs. Halley and others opposed to it will read our editorial on the subject in another part of this week's edition.

—o—

TO THE EDITORS:

In reference to your "Long & Short" Column, Thursday March 23, it appears not all of the smoke screen is coming from opposition to Con-Con.

There are sincere, well-informed people on both sides of the issue, and both arguments are well worth listening to.

Groups, and individuals, actively opposing a convention, want an up-to-date document as well as those favoring a convention, but believe this can be accomplished more equitably, and without endangering our rights, by amending our present constitution, where every issue will have to stand on it's own merits to be examined and voted on individually, rather than a new document to be accepted or rejected as a package.

I find it hard to believe the sickness of our state is a result of the Constitution.

Don Buell
Tipton, Mich.

Artists Perform

Have you ever heard the 'North, South, East and West Winds' on a pipe organ?

Tecumseh Music Club members and guests enjoyed this selection by a modern composer, as well as more traditional organ works by the old masters such as Bach.

The artist performing these difficult feats was Mrs. Donald Bush of Macon, who demonstrated many things possible on the pipe organ at the Methodist Church.

Another versatile musician was Mrs. John Thorpe from Jackson who played selections on her violin.

Her accompanist was Mrs. Carl Stohlberg, President of the Jackson "Tuesday Musicale", a group similar to the Tecumseh Music Club.

Following the program, refreshments were served.

$200 Damages in Monday Fire

The Tecumseh Fire Department answered a grass fire alarm Sunday afternoon at 813 S. Union St., Harry Snyder residence.

Another grass fire in the rear of Tecumseh Acres School Monday at 1:40 p.m. resulted in no damage.

Monday at 8:10 p.m., the department answered an alarm at the Russell Stites residence, 1954 Russell Rd. A child's playhouse burned with damages of $200.

They Oppose Con-Con

Twenty-three members of the Jolly Farmers Farm Bureau met recently at the home of Mrs. Ralph Young to discuss the Con-Con proposal.

The two main points brought out were the importance of voting on the proposal, because simply leaving the ballot blank will not defeat it. Cost of the convention was also stressed.

The group unanimously agreed that if passed, the proposal would leave the representation of delegates mainly in the municipal areas.

Seven counties including Wayne would have the majority vote.

The cost of over $3 million, including salaries of delegates, the expense of a special primary election, secretarial personnel and janitors would add to the already deficit state budget, the members reported.

Besides this, there is no room large enough at the capitol to accomodate 144 delegates.

It was also pointed out that Michigan's constitution is younger than that of 41 other states now; that the US Constitution, the oldest, has only 21 amendments and still holds good.

Cake, Jello and sandwiches were served with coffee for refreshments.

What's Happened To Mastoid Operations?

Twenty years ago Mastoiditis an inflammation of the mastoid bone cells located behind the ears, was responsible for many operations which left unsightly scars. Now, a prescription for a few dollars worth of medication, if taken in time, makes an operation unnecessary.

But, any pain about the ear should receive immediate medical attention. You save sickness time and perhaps even your life when you consult a physician.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Constitution Should Be Simple

Michigan's constitution has been likened to a long neglected field — good soil, some hardy plants, but choked with useless weeds, dead roots and the leftovers of past plantings.

Many say that it needs still more growth to fix it up, while others say it needs some weeding out and some plowing under.

One tangled section that might be plowed under describes parts of Wisconsin as being within Michigan's boundaries.

The constitution also touches our daily lives. When we use the highways, pay taxes on our food, or enroll our children in school, we are governed by provisions of the constitution.

Michigan has actually had three constitutions.

As a matter of fact, within a seventy-three year period, (1835-1908) Michigan wrote five constitutions.

The voters decided "yes" on three (1835; 1850; 1908) and "no" on two (1867; 1873).

Apparently at that time people did not fear, as some do now, that deciding on a new constitution would be too "confusing" and "difficult" for the voters to undertake.

The constitution of 1835 was short and simple in the tradition of the Federal document.

By 1850, though, the young state had experienced corruption and mismanagement of funds in local and state government. A general feeling of suspicion of government was also at a high point throughout the country.

Many constitutions reflect 19th century efforts to closely regulate state power and authority.

The distinguished writers of Michigan's new constitution of 1850 were determined to curb the "rascals" and so wrote a long, detailed document.

Among other provisions, they took from the governor the right to appoint top administrative officials, and curtailed the finance and taxation powers of the legislature.

The next constitution to be approved was written in 1908, and though a number of provisions were added, actually few major changes were made in the document of 1850.

So essentially, the restrictions inspired by "skullduggery" 110 years ago regulate the governor and the legislature today.

The more details in a document, the more likely it is that changes will have to be made. To the long, detailed constitution of 1908, a total of 69 amendments have been added. Some of these are still good. Some are deadwood.

A constitution, ideally, should be a simple, easily understood framework for government. Measured against these standards, Michigan's present constitution would seem to be overlong and confusing.

Only fifty-three years have gone by since 1908. Yet Michigan now has a population of eight million, not 2½ million. We sell autos, not lumber.

On April 3, Michigan's voters will decide on the question of calling a constitutional convention for the purpose of revising the constitution.

HAROLD SCHUMACHER

RUSS RIEVE

Youth from Tipton Named State Farmer

State Farmer Degrees were awarded to Russell Rieve and Harold Schumacher, members of the Onsted Chapter, by the State Association March 21 in East Lansing.

Russell was one of the 28 boys out of 214 State Farmers to receive the Outstanding State Farmer Gold Award.

It is an award to boys who show outstanding leadership, and co-operation in the chapter and community activities.

They must have an outstanding program of supervised farming in connection with their agricultural instruction.

Harold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schumacher of Brooklyn. He is treasurer and was Star Farmer of the chapter last year, won the Dairy award, and the corn trophy last year for having the highest yield in the chapter.

Harold's projects for his four years in agriculture have been dairy, corn, and potatoes.

He lives with his parents on their 400-acre farm near Brooklyn.

Russell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rieve of Tipton. He has been reporter, vice-president, and is now president of the Onsted Chapter.

He won the corn trophy in the chapter this year for having the highest yield.

Russell's projects for his four years in agriculture have been dairy, sheep, swine, and beef.

He rents an 80-acre farm where he raises corn, wheat, oats, and hay. Russell lives with his parents on their 160 acres farm near Tipton.

Both boys were delegates to the convention from their chapter.

LETTERS

TO THE EDITORS:

Out of necessity the Tecumseh School Board has decided to go to the voters of the district and ask for a four mill raise in school tax. What this means is:

"For the next five years, 1961-1965 inclusive, we would have a four-mill raise on our school tax for operation of our schools. Even with the four mills there will still have to be a cut-back in the curriculum of our schools in order that the budget may be balanced in five years."

The world around us is changing so fast that a man must read and study continuously in order to keep abreast of the changes. If he hopes to advance himself he must have a systematic plan of personal study and must attend formal courses to the greatest extent possible.

Otherwise, he will find himself far behind the parade as those with superior knowledge pass him by. One thing the American man will not stand for is, "to be passed by or taken for granted."

These ingredients have been furnished by the people themselves, and we have survived as the greatest nation in the world. For us, the adults, education was made possible through the efforts of combined people in towns, cities and townships-parents and friends, and if we stand by and let our own school system deteriorate to the smallest degree, then we have failed not only our ancestors but our children.

I am writing this as a private citizen.

Don Murphy,
500 Stacy St.

DON'T JUDGE COWS ON LOOKS. No matter how good a judge you may be it's not easy to pick the best milkers on appearance alone. Dairy specialists have found there isn't really much relationship in how a cow scores on a judging sheet and her ability to produce. Production records are the real indicator of how a cow has been performing. Consider getting on a production record-keeping system if you aren't already.

IMPROVE HAY STANDS BY BAND SEEDING if you sow forage seeds with oats this spring. By placing forage seeds right above the fertilizer, seedlings are better able to compete with the oats and weeds. Most grain drills can easily be converted for band seeding. Add rubber tubes to the seeder box which extends to the ground and trails nine inches behind the disks. Remove the drag chains so they won't scatter the seed.

IT DOESN'T ALWAYS PAY TO CULL PULLETS at this time of year. Pullets which may be molting some feathers around the neck and have stopped laying may still have a lot of production left in them. If your pullets are one of today's better strains the chances are good they'll soon be back on the job. Consider giving the pullet a second chance to return the $1.50 to $2 it costs you to raise it to laying age.

HANDLING FERTILIZER IN BULK CAN SAVE YOU MONEY. As much as $12 per ton can be saved by purchasing bulk fertilizer compared with buying it in the bag, not figuring the costs of hauling or spreading. Actual savings will depend on how hauling and spreading costs compare between bulk and bag forms on your farm. The reduction in cost of fertilizer on your farm will help pay for adapting equipment for its use and heavier applications.

One American in four has this disease

Physicians call it obesity, but it's just as unhealthy if we call it pounds—too many pounds. In some places a chief cause of early death is malnutrition but in this country the Grim Reaper's number one helper is overeating. Overweight people subject their heart and blood vessels to undue stresses and strains. Every ounce of excess flesh is a menace to health. Which is why so many of us diet today. And those of us who are wise see a physician first. We, as professional pharmacists, know how effective a doctor's advice can be.

TOM RORDAN'S Long AND Short

What do you think about today's automobiles?

Do you like them? Are they doing their job?

Is an automobile still a status symbol?

A couple dozen Tecumseh folks got a chance to answer these and other questions about cars last week — making their remarks where they'll do the most good.

The local owners of automobiles were quizzed by a Detroit advertising research man, whose agency represents a major line of cars.

He spent an afternoon and two evenings in town, conducting three group interviews.

With an average of 10 for each set, Tecumseh car owners spent two hours responding to questions, giving opinions on styling and just sounding off.

To put it mildly, there were many adverse comments about today's autos.

"Too much glass, you boil under sunny skies."

"Distortion in wrap-around windshields."

"Most cars look good, but getting a comfortable ride is another thing."

"If you're 6'2" you're dead."

"Workmanship is often sloppy, window handles on new models fall off."

So it went.

The adman took it all with a grin as his tape recorder ground away, taking down the comments.

This was the start of a survey which will be done nationally and Tecumseh has helped pry the lid off.

What about cars as status symbols?

Apparently, in many instances they have given way to sail boats, swimming pools and other things. Folks interviewed seemed less impressed with the burning need to get a new car each year than a dozen years ago.

One man said he is sticking with his '57 model because he likes the way it rides. He added that he had purchased his wife a station wagon, though.

Foreign cars and U.S. compacts received considerable mention — especially the Volkswagon.

VW manufacturers would surely grin if they would have heard the remarks of praise. Even the ads run by the German auto builder drew comment.

One fellow quoted the headline from the last VW ad, "Haxe you ever noticed how Volkswagon owners have to open the window a little before closing the door?"

Several ads of American-made compacts were passed around in one group and the fellows mentioned that those in color held more allure more than just black and white.

But one man injected that VW ads, regarded as among the best in the nation, used black and white, depending upon a striking picture for the attention-getting factor.

It was fun for the people being interviewed and maybe their feelings will filter right to the top of the auto-making industry.

So, if you notice car changes for the better in future years, you can say, "They started right in Tecumseh."

One-Way Street Plan Backed - Also Opposed

Planning Group Invites Residents to Gathering

The controversial proposal in the city Master Plan to change Logan and Pottawatamie into one-way streets will be discussed again next week.

It's on the agenda for Tuesday's gathering of the Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

Commission members ask that resident of Logan and Pottawatamie attend, including those who were at the previous session because more information will be made available.

As the Master Plan stands now, in about seven or eight years, Logan would become M-50 westbound. Extensions from that street would join it to the present road near Globe Pond, east of the city, and near Kroger's to the west.

Pottawatamie would become east-bound M-50.

Residents on the street have protested that they disapprove the proposal. (Please see "Our Readers Write" column on the back page of last section.)

Downtown Chicago Blvd for four blocks would be turned into a shopper's mall.

Mackin Elected to City Council

Tecumseh has a rookie councilman, Terry Mackin, manager of the Kuhlman Concrete Co.

Mr. Mackin, who resides at 205 Pine St., edged eight-year veteran George McCombs Monday in a five man race for four chairs.

Others winning in the council race were John Hamilton, Bob Bonner and Royal Welch, all of whom won two-year terms. Mr. Mackin's will be one-year.

Breakdown of Council voting:	1	2	3	Total
HAMILTON	251	348	272	871
BONNER	227	307	259	793

Proposal No. 1, the question of calling a constitutional convention, which won state-wide, failed in Tecumseh, 482-470.

On the other hand, Proposal No. 2, whereby the state could underwrite loans for industrial development that went under, got approval here, 590-469.

Turnout here totaled 1,103. There are more than 3,000 city residents eligible to vote.

Mr. Hamilton starts his seventh year as a city father and Mr. Welch his second.

Mr. Bonner, who was selected to complete the late H. H. Hanna's unexpired term, has served since last fall. Prior to this he was chairman of the Planning Commission.

24 Merchants Give Their OK to Proposal

A total of 25 downtown merchants, meeting early last Wednesday morning, gave their OK to the Master Plan one-way street idea.

Many businessmen opposed the proposal when it was first announced about six weeks ago. One even started a petition against the idea.

However, after meeting twice with Master Plan designer Jim Smith, many have changed their minds.

Mr. Smith explains that the philosophy of the one-way streets is to break the heavy flow of traffic through town, helping to make the downtown area into a compact shopping center.

Buyers would enter off-street parking lots in the business district from Logan and Pottawatamie.

Their entry into stores would be through what now are rear doors, but which would eventually be redesigned and modernized.

The merchants attending last week's gathering told Mr. Smith that they went along with this thinking.

Assessments in City Up $233,000

Total Now $18,630,000

By JIM LINCOLN

Routine matters were handled by Council Monday night at a short session.

A petition from 18 Burt St. residents, requesting a closer check on speeding violations there, was acknowledged.

Mayor Harold Easton suggested that the speed-timer be set up to discourage violators.

Dick Colson, who presented the petition, also showed Council a sketch of the plans by the American Legion and VFW for erection of a memorial monument at city hall. The plans were approved.

City manager Ed Nelson reported that spraying for the elm disease was being conducted. He stated residents on private property with elms could utilize the service at $1.07 or $2.05 per tree, depending on the size.

Residents are urged to call city hall for scheduling the service.

Cal Zorn, city engineer and assessor, reported total city evaluations at $18,630,500, an increase of $233,000 over last year.

A discussion about tokens for parking meters was turned over to the off-street parking committee.

An organizational meeting of Council will be held next Monday night. A brief discussion of the budget is also anticipated.

School Fair Profit: $900

Mrs. Jerry O'Brien reported a profit of $900 was made on the Patterson School Fair held recently.

The popular Easter walk netted about $65 of the total amount.

Cold Doesn't Deter Youths Easter Morning

Biting cold did not deter the young people of the city as they proceeded with plans for the Easter sunrise services at Hidden Lake Gardens Sunday.

The lake was completely surrounded by autos as the people assembled in the valley below the three crosses on Juniper Hill, against a background of early morning sky.

Larry Harper gave the call to worship, Roger Wittrup, the invocation and Bill Thomas and David Grigg read the scriptures.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham used the topic, "Victory in Christ" for his sermon.

The voices of the quartet made up of Linda Dean, Susan Nichols, Dan Harvey and Leslie Bennett rang out clearly over the public address system set up by Cook Electrical for the occasion.

They sang "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" and the congregation sang two Easter hymns.

Advisor Named

Mrs. Fred Robinson will be Irish Hills Girl Scout Council district advisor and co-ordinate the day camp program in Hillsdale and Lenawee counties, through the summer months.

They will work east from the bridge to the Mill Pond building race dams, removing debris, grubbing stumps and, in general, making the area suitable for future picnics and recreational activities for all Tecumsehites.

Fred Nash, chairman of the work program for the evening, promises the men hearty appetites for dinner which will be served at 7:15 p.m. in the IOOF Hall.

Two additional opportunities are available for citizens to learn about the present Tecumseh school crisis and discuss the solutions which the Board of Education is considering.

► Parents of junior high pupils and their friends are invited to a meeting to be held in the junior high school building on Tuesday evening April 11 at 8 p.m.

► On Thursday evening, April 13, parents of senior high pupils and their friends will meet in that building for a similar program.

All interested citizens are invited.

Board members and Supt. James McDowell will be present at both. Open discussions will conclude the sessions.

FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED . . . ATTEND CHURCH !

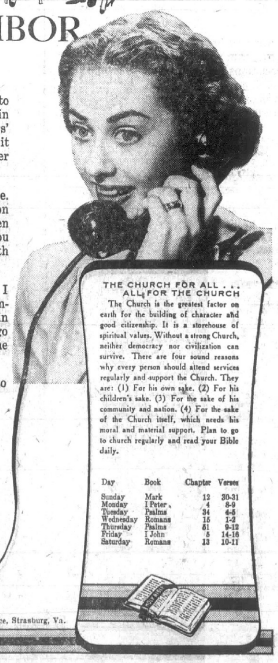
NEW NEIGHBOR

When Betty Marlowe moved into our neighborhood we invited her to join the garden club and the baby sitters' club and the civic association, but it never occurred to any of us to ask her if she'd like to go to church.

Then, one Saturday, she phoned me. "My husband is often out of town on Sundays and I don't have the car when he's away," she explained. "Would you and Bill mind if I went to church with you?"

Mind! We were delighted—but I was also a little ashamed. And I wondered how many others there were in our neighborhood who would like to go to our church, if they were given the encouragement of an invitation.

From now on, I'm not waiting to be asked. I'm asking first!



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Escapee from Prison Picked Up by Police

By ALMINA HUNT

Two Tecumseh citizens' keen observation led to the apprehension of an escapee from the Correctional Institution at Milan Tuesday afternoon.

John Jacob Marsh, 48, escaped from Milan prison at 6 a.m. Monday. He was serving a 15 year sentence for a bank robbery committed in Pioneer, O. in 1953.

He was heading towards Adrian to talk with his wife when picked up by Tecumseh police, who had been notified by several local men of a possible prisoner on the loose.

Harold Warren, of 1203 Russell Rd., was hauling gravel for the Ridgeway School when he noticed a man walking on Green Hwy. dressed in what appeared to be a prison uniform.

He called Tecumseh police officer Robert Arwood, who was off duty at the time.

Mr. Arwood drove to the gravel pit, was unable to find the suspect and so returned to the station with Mr. Warren.

In the meantime, he notified Chief George Kilbourn and State Police, sheriff's department and Britton police.

Ned Swift, 5502 Sutton Rd., observed the same man walking along Green Hwy. about four miles south of the city limit and also called the station.

This time officer Arwood and officer J. T. Callahan drove to the area and spotted Marsh.

They stopped the patrol car and called to him, asking him his name, then frisked Marsh, handcuffed him and they returned to the station.

Milan Prison was notified and officials there in turn notified the FBI.

Two men from Milan and an FBI agent from Ann Arbor arrived in Tecumseh late Tuesday and returned the prisoner to Milan.

Marsh had served seven years of his sentence and was soon eligible for parole. He was at work in the prison boiler house when he apparently walked away and scaled a wall to freedom.

He said he wanted to straighten out some marital difficulties with his wife when apprehended.

Patterson Patrol Boy Getting Trip

James Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Goodman of 413 Brown St., was named to make the AAA all-expense paid trip to Washington, D.C.

There are 14 boys on the Safety Patrol at Patterson School where James is captain.

Four years ago Jerry Hebb, then a student at Patterson, was selected to represent Tecumseh as top safety patroller.

Outstanding member of the Patterson School safety patrol James was named as Tecumseh's official delegate to the 25th National AAA Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D.C., May 11-14.

This year's rally will mark the silver anniversary of the event, during which period Automobile Club of Michigan has sent thousands of youngsters to the nation's capital.

The safety patrol movement began in Detroit in 1919, and since then has spread throughout the world.

The local youngsters will join over 100 other top state patrollers for the four-day, all-expenses-paid trip as guests of the Club.

"The schools earned the honor of nominating delegates through their patrol activities and efficiency during the past year," said Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club safety and traffic director.

JIM GOODMAN

He added that the schools are expected to name their outstanding patrollers in about two weeks.

The patrollers, representing some 90 Michigan communities, will meet in Detroit May 11, where they will board a special train for Washington.

During their stay in the nation's capital, they will spend two full days touring famous historic sites and meeting leading Federal officials.

The annual rally will reach a climax when 30,000 patrols from throughout the U.S. join in the traditional march down Constitution Avenue.

In addition, Auto Club is currently searching for the teacher who has the longest consecutive service as a patrol sponsor in Michigan. That person and a patrol member of his or her choice will be special guests in the parade and other festivities.

The giant, four-hour parade, reviewed by well-known television and movie personalities, is the largest such affair held annually in Washington.

Auto Club sponsors the Washington trip each year to honor Michigan's 58,000 safety patrollers, who each school day perform the invaluable service of safeguarding their classmates from the dangers of traffic.

Approximately 2,500 Michigan youngsters have made the junket since 1936.

Overcome Sickness

Those attending Christian Science services Sunday will hear a challenging call to overcome sin and sickness of every kind through wholly spiritual means.

Lack of Calcium In Diet of Hen Weakens Shells

Weak egg shells may be a result of a lack of calcium in the diet of a block of layers. As birds get older, they do not lay down calcium on the shell of the forming egg as well as when they were younger.

High summer temperatures also reduce calcium deposits in the shells with the result that they are not so strong.

About 100 pounds of oyster shells in each ton of feed will supply two% calcium, and the other ingredients in the mash usually provide the additional one per cent of the mineral.

If the flock consumes all these shells, the poultryman might profit by providing an additional amount.

On the other hand, if the flock doesn't clean up all the shells, the amount should be reduced accordingly.

Layers may not get enough calcium in their diet when the shell hoppers are in a location where the layers don't get to them easily.

Under these conditions, it will be an advantage to mix the unbroken oyster shells directly in the laying mash.

Firemen Close Up Department

A request for $1,600 to defray costs to operate the fire department in Franklin Township has been turned down by the township's trustees.

Volunteer firemen voted Tuesday night to close down the department, making it necessary for residents in and around the Sand Lake area to contact either Clinton, Adrian or Tecumseh in case of fires.

The trustees reportedly offered firemen $1,000, which firemen ruled inadequate to meet costs.

Two fire trucks and an ambulance will be idled.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Nobody's in the Doghouse

The question of our town dog catcher came up at the last town meeting and someone started a little fuss about Slim Thomas — said he'd been dog catcher for a year and hadn't caught a single dog.

Buck Hanson spoke right up. "Aren't any dogs to catch. Any stray turns up, and if the dog's healthy, Slim gives it to some youngster to keep for a pet. We don't want to elect a man who'd put harmless little pups in cages, do we?"

I guess we don't, because Slim got re-elected, and they even gave him a raise in pay.

From where I sit, the folks in our town are a pretty nice bunch. Live and let live, they say—and they don't just apply this old axiom to strays, either. Me, for instance. Most every time a neighbor asks me over for dinner he serves me a glass of beer. He knows that's my preference, even though I might be coffee or tea. The no "catch" to being a good neighbor — just be a tolerant one.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

Don't look now, but a little scheme is underway to have people not make up their own minds concerning the four mills being asked for in a special election May 20, 1961.

Response to my "letter to the editors," published in last week's Herald lead me to make the above statement. A telephone call, no less, and the party's refusal to give his name, and this in Tecumseh, Mich., U.S.A.

From the conversation, and the way it was presented, almost had me thinking that I was in another country, one where you are not "free" to make up your own mind and one where you are not free to use the freedom of the press to express your views.

I was told that I should change my mind and also my ideals concerning the four mills being asked. As I recall I did not come right out in the other letter and make this statement but I am going to do so now.

After studying the situation as thoroughly as I could, I came to this conclusion.

"If we are to maintain our scholastic curriculum, give our kids what they rightly deserve under the American Constitution, then we must vote YES on the millage proposal.

My reasons are obvious, Mr. Telephone Conversationalist, what are yours?

My advice to you undecided people is to come to the next school board meeting, Monday, April 10, at the High School Cafeteria, and find out for yourselves just how important it is to vote "yes" and how badly we need the four mills.

The public is invited, it will be a regular meeting.

Incidentally, you do not have to be a property owner to vote on the millage raise, every registered voter in the school system is eligible.

She Wants Job for 'Client'

Mary Seager, a freshman at Radcliffe College in Boston, is doing some "job placement work."

Now in Tecumseh on Easter vacation, Mary has one "client", her roommate-to-be, Nancy Conover.

Nancy's parents reside in Buenoe Aires, Argentina, where her dad is United States economic counsellor.

Nancy will be staying in the States during summer vacation this year and would like to get a three-month job in a community where she has at least one friend.

Mary thinks Tecumseh is a natural for Nancy.

Nancy has not lived much of her life in her hometown of Bethesda, Maryland. She has traveled all over the world with her parents and two younger brothers.

NANCY CONOVER

As a little girl, she lived in Oslo, Norway.

When she was 10, they moved to Paris where Nancy attended a French school for a year.

Her junior high years were spent in Bangkok Thailand. She received her high school education at the Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School and the MacDuffie School in Springfield, Mass.

Last summer Nancy lived in Buenos Aires for seven weeks and then moved all of her belongings to college.

Art and Music Cut in Grades

By MARJORIE COMFORT

The Tecumseh Board of Education has announced its plans for cutting school costs. The plans include eliminating special elementary vocal music teachers and the elementary art supervisor.

Just what will these cuts mean?

First of all, they will mean a reduction of $14,500, now spent for salaries for these people, two of whom work full-time and another who splits his day between elementary and secondary school classes.

Children still are expected to have some art and vocal music work, but it will be handled by classroom teachers with little or no help from specialists in these fields.

The children will notice most the lack of the music program. They have had music classes every week with the special teachers.

But in art, many classes will continue the same as they have been carried out this year. Many teachers, according to the school administration, have not been using the services of their art consultant.

Tecumseh once had an art teacher who visited the classrooms every week to instruct the students. But with the number of elementary classrooms growing to 47, a single teacher no longer could handle the load.

It meant more teachers needed, and more money, for the classroom program.

So in the 1956-'57 school year an art consultant program began. The former art teacher, who has been with the district 13 years, became a supervisor. She now works with the teachers, instead of directly with students.

Each week, while her students are with their music teachers, the classroom teacher meets with the art consultant, Mrs. Dorothy Westdyke.

During this consultation, the teacher is given ideas on developing art studies in her classroom, and aid in carrying out the art projects.

At least, this is the theory.

☆

IN PRACTICE, according to the school administrators, some teachers are not seeking or following the advice of the consultant.

Some have no interest in teaching art in their classrooms, and others may prefer to use their own methods.

It appears, say the school officials, that the teachers most interested in art work are the ones who make most use of their supervisor's services.

Those with the weakest background in art, who would most profit from the service, are among those who don't use the help offered.

In addition to her meetings with the teachers, the art supervisor publishes a monthly bulletin for teachers containing ideas they can use in their coming art classes.

She also assists school groups and teachers in planning decorations, such as those for Parent-Teacher Association meetings.

Superintendent James McDowell says the consultant program has not worked as well as had been hoped, and that he hopes to be able to return to the former program of having art teachers work directly with the children.

One large help for the children's art experience will be a special course next September for Tecumseh's elementary teachers.

The course, offered by a manufacturer of art supplies, has been planned the last two years, but had to be postponed. The first year, the instructor was married and went to Europe. Last year the instructor was on leave to set up the art course for Purdue University's experimental "flying television" school program.

Next September, the course definitely is scheduled. It will consist of three five-hour classes.

☆

SCHOOL WILL be dismissed three days at 2 p.m., so teachers may take the course. They will meet at Patterson School and the sessions continue through the evening.

There is no charge to the school district, and the only expense to the teachers is for a simple lunch, which will be served each evening during a 45-minute class break.

The sponsoring company will provide all materials used. It also insists that the course be voluntary for teachers. But an inquiry sent to teachers indicates much enthusiasm for the course, and indicates few teachers will miss it.

Several universities in Michigan consider the course so good that they will offer college credit to teachers who take it.

All elementary teachers now schedule art classes in their rooms at least once a week. Sometimes the class is held in connection with other studies.

Classroom schedules are kept flexible enough so that if the students are especially interested in some project they are working on—be it science, reading or art—they are allowed to spend more than the scheduled time for that day to complete the project.

This practice will continue, so children will receive art studies even if the special art teacher is not available.

Tecumseh has several elementary teachers with good backgrounds in art instruction. These, and school art magazines to which the district subscribes, are expected to furnish aid for the elementary art program.

☆

THE VOCAL music program presents another problem.

Students in the first, second and third grades now have two music periods a week. Those in grades four, five and six have a single period each week.

Each period lasts 25 minutes. Each elementary school, except that at Macon, has a small piano.

These are wheeled from class to class with the music teachers. Each school has at least one record player, but these too must be shared among the classrooms.

Some elementary teachers have the talent and training to be able to offer some music courses to their students, but others will be at a loss.

The school administration hopes that the teachers will be able to work out agreements among themselves to trade classes occasionally, so that the teachers who have musical ability will be able to reach several classrooms, while those without the talent are handling the musician's regular classroom instruction.

During the current school year the district has had one music teacher working full-time in elementary classes, and another splitting his time between elementary and high school classes. During the last school year, one part-time and two full-time teachers were available.

This was one of the programs cut this year because of the July millage defeat.

Average Pay Is $5,417

DEAR READERS:

A group of Tecumseh School District's teachers recently pointed out that their average salary is not the $5,782 reported several weeks ago in one of this school series article.

Investigation by Superintendent James McDowell has shown that the Michigan Education Association, which compiled the published figures, had used Tecumseh's preliminary budget figures from February, 1960, in figuring out the average salaries here.

But when the millage was defeated, the board of education cut several teachers from the planned staff. This cut the budget figure.

The actual salaries here, based on the contracts in effect now, average $5,391.62 for each of Tecumseh's 110 teachers, Mr. McDowell says. To this may be added $79.88 as the average additional pay for extra-curricular activities such as school clubs, school publications, class activities and sports.

This makes the entire salary average $5,471.50.

Sincerely yours,
Marjorie Comfort

THROUGH MY WINDOW

THE WORN-OUT WELCOME

Red squirrels are cute and fun to watch, but they are neither so cute nor such great fun that we are happy with them when they drive the other squirrels away.

This is precisely what we are afraid is happening. The big squirrel population is definitely down and toward the two or three, who still call this neighborhood home, the Little Reds are increasingly aggressive.

Several years ago when the first Little Red made an appearance we were excited and thrilled.

Surely such cute tiny mites could not be as destructive as people said, we thought.

Now, I must admit that they are living up to their poor reputation — because of their bad manners they have worn out their welcome.

They're chasing the big squirrels we always frowned upon, but there was, to a certain degree, something funny about it.

Funny until we realized perhaps the constant harrassing has something to do with it.

Now, when a Little Red takes after his bigger cousin, we don't find it as humorous as we once did.

Of course, it does seem that the big squirrels could help themselves a bit — with such a difference in size, why don't they stand up for their rights?

The other morning we watched the "fast straw" in this chasing bit. It was a lovely morning, and pape cardinal was sun-bathing.

Sitting on the small limb of the mulberry tree, whistling a pretty "thank you" to the weather, he was a gorgeous sight — the scarlet bird bathed in warm morning sun showed up so well against the bright blue sky.

Suddenly, into this peaceful scene came the villian. Not one, two, three, but four times he raced at the cardinal. At first the bird tried merely hopping to a near-by limb, but after the fourth attack, he flew away.

Oh, that naughty little red squirrel — what possible reason could there be for such actions except pure orneryness.

☆

ANOTHER MARK against them as far as we are concerned, is their unwillingness to pose for pictures. The big squirrels are regular hams and most co-operative models.

With an ear of corn, a sunflower head or an apple, their antics are wonderful to watch and perfect for taking pictures.

Not so with the Little Reds — seldom do they come to the feeders and on the rare occasions when one forgets himself and does climb up, the visit is a short one.

So flighty and nervous are they that free loading so close to the window is just too dangerous. Of course, if they could get over their skittishness I must admit, even though I am mad at them, the Red squirrels would be cute to photograph.

Snowy white fronts, bottle-brush tails, bright, little, white ringed eyes, perky ears and the reddish brown stripe which runs down their backs and tails — oh, these characters are attractive.

If only their dispositions matched their good looks.

Usually to see a Red squirrel running through the trees is to merely see a streak and flash of color. They are unbelievably fast.

They are also always on the go — here, there, everywhere, it is helter skelter, run, run, run.

The other day, however, one of the Little Reds let his sweet-tooth get the best of him and spent almost an hour in the maple tree by our window.

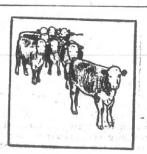
An unusually heavy flow of sap literally had the tree dripping and after a sudden drop in temperature it was decorated with sapsickles.

From one limb to another went the squirrel and where-ever some frozen sap was encountered he stopped, took a few licks and, if the taste were right, broke off the sickle and ate it.

Just imagine a little Red squirrel sitting on a tree limb, tail nicely arched over his back, nibbling at a sapsickle daintily held in his two front hand-like paws.

So it is that we have squirrel troubles.

The Little Reds, with whom we were once so happy, are more and more letting their bad points overshadow their good ones. They have definitely worn out their welcome.



USE CARE WHEN TREATING FOR FOOT ROT. Some cattle in your herd may be susceptible to iodides present in serums used for treating foot rot. Watch your cattle for any symptoms which may show up. The most common signs of iodism are running nose, sneezing, watering eyes, loss of appetite and increased saliva secretion. Stop treatment if you notice any of these ailments and consult with your veterinarian.

POPULARITY OF GRANULAR HERBICIDES is growing as farmers discover how convenient they are to use. Applicators for mounting on the planter can be obtained for $75 to $100 for each 2-row unit. Be careful that you buy an applicator which can be accurately calibrated. Set the applicator according to the chart on the herbicide package. Then run a check at your usual planting speed to see that you are getting the application you want.

WHEN OVERHAULING TRACTORS AND MACHINERY, clean parts with some relatively non-inflammable liquid cleaner. Using gasoline and other flammable materials can be dangerous if the hired man becomes careless about smoking or the farm shop is equipped with a welder and similar equipment. Instead, use Sloddard solvent, kerosene, carbon tetrachloride or some similar liquid cleaner. Be sure the ventilation is reasonably good when using carbon tetrachloride.

LINDANE TO CONTROL SPITTLEBUGS has just been added to the recommended list. Use one pint of 20% emulsion concentrate per acre as spittlebugs begin to hatch during the next few weeks. Remember fields treated with lindane must not be grazed for 30 days.

Tom Wills Takes Flight Training

Lieut. Thomas Will is now taking flight training at Webb Air Force in Big Springs, Texas.

He is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and the University of Michigan. He received his commission through the AFROTC.

He is the son of Mrs. Hilda Will, formerly of Tecumseh.

His wife, Nancy Lee, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Randall of 213 N. Maumee St.

It's California for Mrs. Butler

Mrs. Ronald Butler left last week for Long Beach, California, to meet her husband who has been on sea duty in the Pacific and Japan. She was accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Butler.

Marching Unit Will Stage Herald Subscription Drive

Have news? Please Call GL 1-2311

BRITTON—A talented marching group, the "Twirling Steppetts" of Britton, is out to earn some money.

The young people are going to conduct a door-to-door Tecumseh Herald subscription campaign.

For each new customer that they sign up they'll be paid a $1 commission. For renewals, they'll receive 25c. (A renewal is one which has been on The Herald circulation list within the past six months.)

The drive opens Friday afternoon and continues until April 23.

Directed by 16-year-old Sharon Watkins, a junior at Britton-Macon High School, the "Steppetts" have already been booked for five public appearances this summer.

They'll appear at the Hillsdale Fair, the Monroe Fair, the Hudson Grange Fair, the Tecumseh Moonlight Sale and the Britton Homecoming parade.

Travel expense money is needed for these and other trips, which will be coming up, and this is a major reason the Steppetts are selling subscriptions.

They also want to buy more trim and accessories for their attractive scarlet and white uniforms.

Incidentally, the young people will wear their uniforms while selling subscriptions.

The Steppetts, who do baton twirling and precision marching, were founded last summer by Miss Watkins and John Perry of Tecumseh for a parade in Toledo. It has now become a permanent organization in the community.

The ranks include youngsters from kindergarten through high school.

Miss Watkins has her charges practicing nearly two hours each week.

Members of the unit are:

Lois Auten, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Auten.

Kathy Auten, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Auten.

Mary Lou Servoss, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecile Servoss.

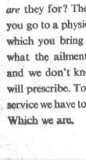
"Who takes all those pills?"



This is often the question when a customer sees the shelves in our pharmacy. Row on row on row of bottles, boxes, canisters, tubes, vials, jars . . . about 2,000 items in all. Good question. Who are they for? The answer, of course, is you. Say you go to a physician and he writes a prescription which you bring to us to be filled. We can't tell what the ailment will be—there are thousands, and we don't know what medication the doctor will prescribe. County Will Spend $80,918 Fixing Roads

LANSING — Michigan's 83 counties will make a record $50 million worth of highway improvements during 1961, the Michigan State Highway Department reported today.

Lenawee County will do $80,918.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the estimate is based on program reports submitted to the Highway Department by the County Road Commissions under provisions of the Motor Vehicle Highway Law.

"This represents an increase of nearly 14% over the estimated $44 million spent on road improvements by the counties during 1960," Mackie said.

Mr. Mackie said the big increase is the result of an advance by the Highway Department of federal aid secondary road funds.

The counties will receive an estimated $7 million in federal aid funds this year compared to about $3.5 million last year. Counties must match federal funds on a 50-50 basis.

Which Came First, Egg or Chicken?

"Schools, education and taxes" or "Taxes, schools and education?"

Which way does it go?

Bill Austin, Adrian school superintendent talked about the subject to Rotary Club members at their regular meeting last week.

This has been a problem in the United States since our founding fathers elected to provide 100% education for 16 years of every child's life at public expense.

Mr. Austin pointed out that education is not a business in the usual sense.

Such departments as public relations are not a part of the system.

Thus it is necessary for the cause of good education to be sponsored by truly civic-minded lay people.

This is the reason why good education is dependent on every citizen interesting himself in the problems with which the educational system is faced today, the speaker said.

'Michigan Marching Forward'

"Michigan Marching Forward," has been selected as the slogan for the 1961 Michigan Week, May 21 to 27.

Suggested by Governor John B. Swainson, honorary chairman of Michigan Week, the dynamic slogan focuses attention on the state's greatness.

"Gov. Swainson has expressed to us a deep interest in Michigan Week," John Carton of Battle Creek, general chairman, said. "He has accepted the honorary chairmanship with real enthusiasm and has assured us that he wants to do everything possible to help make the program a great success."

Heading the program locally is Roblee B. Martin, president of Dundee Cement Co. and regional director, and D. J. Luce of Blissfield, county chairman.

"If extraordinary effect is any indication, this celebration will be a great one," said Mr. Luce.

A song about Michigan has been written especially for Michigan Week. A veteran Lansing newsman has written a book about Michigan.

Interest about the product-of-the-year contest has already developed.

Florian F. Mueller, associate professor of music at the University of Michigan, composed the march, "Michigan Marching Forward," at the request of Gov. Swainson.

"This is Our Michigan" was written by Willard Baird, veteran newsman and chief of the state capitol bureau of Federated Publications, Inc. It is a complete story of a powerful and progressive state.

The product-of-the-year contest is held throughout the state to select an outstanding product that is significant, successful and relatively new.

Hush Puppies, the casual shoe by the Wolverine Shoe and Tanning Corp. at Rockford, received the state product award last year.

"It Ends Corrosion"

Says JOHN DAY, Woolworth's Manager

MRS. W. C. COWEN SERVES MR. DAY A TREAT AT WOOLWORTH'S FOUNTAIN

"Our fountain contains a lot of metal equipment, which is constantly being washed. Hard water would quickly corrode these things and soon require their replacement. That's why Woolworth's is so sold on soft water. Our service from Culligan is excellent, which makes us real happy."

CIVIL WAR SERIES

Sabers Are Given to Cavalry Officers

(Editor's note: In Clara Waldron's last installment, she told of Lieut. Elliott Gray, who commanded Co. B of the 7th Michigan Cavalry and Gen. George Custer.)

By CLARA WALDRON

A news item of 1863 says that the men of Lieut. Elliott Gray's company presented him with a special cavalry saber, a custom which seems to have been a fairly common mark of appreciation.

Another Tecumseh cavalry officer received one, not from his men but from the citizens of the town. Capt. James Merritt, commander of Co. G of the 11th Michigan cavalry was visited in camp by a delegation of admirers in 1864 and the presentation was made by a S. H. Niblack, with "appropriate remarks".

The men of Company E of the 18th Michigan bestowed the same honor on Lt. E. H. Hoag, with what appears to have been genuine affection, without overtones of apple polishing.

Among the records of the many commissions received by Tecumseh's enlisted men, during the latter part of the war, were several of peculiar interest. They read "Resigned to accept commission in such and such a colored regiment."

A letter, written by an officer of the 14th U.S. Colored troops, stationed in Alabama, went into detail regarding these commissions. He said recruiting stations had been opened, where colored men who could pass the physical examination were accepted for service.

If their former owners could prove that ownership and also prove their loyalty to the Union cause, they received a certificate for $300 for each ex-slave. Southern sympathizers were not paid.

Officers for these regiments were chosen from applicants from the ranks of white regiments, thus giving competent men who had had experience in action, an opportunity that would otherwise be denied them.

This officer who signed himself, "More-Anon", was enthusiastic about these troops, saying they were accustomed to hardship and discipline and quick to learn.

He asked for books for the schools that had been set up by the officers saying the colored men were eager to learn and would put many white students to shame.

He also asked that sewing "house-wives" and other items be sent to his troops, as well as to white boys, since the ex-slaves had no homes to supply them.

☆

THE MAKING and shipping of such things as the sewing kit requested by 'Anon', were part of the war work for the civilians of the 1860s.

An organization, called the Sanitary Corps, served the same purpose as did the Home Service of the Red Cross in the World Wars.

Its members collected contributions of clothing, comfort items and food delicacies, such as jellies, dried fruit and—oddly enough—kegs of pickles and packed and sent them to camps and hospitals.

Groups of women met regularly to make shirts, slippers, quilts, etc. and to cut and roll bandages and "scrape lint" for dressings.

Concerts, socials, plays and all sorts of fund raising affairs were held to purchase materials and supplies. Lists of things sent were published, always with pleas for more.

Work meetings in Tecumseh were held most often in the Murray house (now Mulvaney's) and the organizing genius behind it all, directing, pushing, proding the laggers and shaming the indifferent, was that gad-fly of good causes, Mrs. Cynthia Spofford Bissell.

Nearly 40 years before, she had been the town's first bride, now she was its first business woman.

In the Chicago Blvd.-Pearl St. house, presently owned by Mrs. P. B. Hardy, she took tin-types, daugerro and ambrotypes (good ones too), led the local temperance movement and kept the village council in a chronic state of apprehension.

BY OCTOBER 1863 her son, Henry, had been serving with the 4th Michigan for two years and she could see no reason why others should not make an equal sacrifice, thence this letter in The Herald:

"Excuses for not giving are usually confined to those who have no friends, husbands or sons in the ranks, nor enough patriotism to take themselves there.

"How well I remember the speeches made two years ago, urging the men to come forward and enlist—saying, have no fear for your families, they will be taken care of—yes I will divide my last crust with them!

"Will any family come forward and tell how much they have received from those men? And yet they claim to be both honest and patriotic and to honor the brave boys who have gone to protect us and our flags!"

So came home to roost those rally speeches of April 1861.

How Do You Rate as Parent

ANN ARBOR — How do you rate as the parent of a school-age child?

In the age when parents are prone to stress academic achievement for children, many parents fail to provide a stimulating environment at home, according to Robert S. Fox (EdD), director of The University of Michigan University School.

He suggests parents might ask themselves these questions:

► Do you subscribe to a variety of magazines and read them?

► Do you discuss "meaty" problems at home, such as local, national or international affairs?

► Does dad take the youngsters with him to some of his civic and social activities?

► Does the family, on vacation trips, make it a point to visit historic spots or special-interest places?

► Does the family have available in the home some reading resources the child can use, such as a good encyclopedia, and good general interest reading material?

► Does the family attend cultural programs, go to concerts, visit museums?

► Does the family read aloud occasionally?

Any parent who answers "yes" to less than four of these categories has some home work of his own to do, says Dr. Fox.

IN AMERICA'S BIGGEST, TOUGHEST 1961 ECONOMY CONTEST...

Which man drove Rambler?

In the most realistic test of all-around gasoline economy ever staged—the NASCAR sanctioned 1961 Pure Oil Economy Trials at Daytona—Rambler won three trophies, held by driver Les Viland in the photo above.

No other make won more than one award . . . most won none.

Unlike other runs that put a premium on feather-footed driving, the Pure Oil Economy Trials closely parallel your own everyday driving experience.

Every U.S.-built production car is eligible. None are arbitrarily barred, as in some runs. In 1961, 145 cars representing all 5 U.S. makers competed.

Rambler American Custom with overdrive beat them all to win the cherished Overall Winner Trophy and captured the Class 6 trophy in competition with Falcon, Corvair, Lark and Tempest 4. In fact, it took the first 6 places and 8 of the first 10.

And Ambassador V-8 by Rambler won its Class, swept the first 8 places and 9 of the first 10 spots.

With speeds up to 65, and averaging more than 40 M.P.H., the winning Rambler American made 14 complete stops, shifted through the gears 15 times while circling the 3.7 mile course, and still averaged 26.86 miles per gallon!

This is the second straight year Rambler won the Pure Oil Economy Trials.

Want more proof of Rambler value? Then see your Rambler dealer. You'll find top gas economy is just part of your savings. Rambler costs less to buy, is voted most trouble-free by owners, has top resale value.

Rambler dealers sell twice as many compact cars per dealer as most other dealer groups. So, you get a better deal . . . on the best of the compacts. Rambler—world standard of compact car excellence.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

There will be many reasons for voting against the four-mill school issue, next May 20.

BUT if everyone will go to the trouble and take the time to investigate for themselves, I believe the four-mills will pass.

Attend the next school board meeting. Ask questions of the board members, do not support rumors. Find out the facts.

A good education is intangible, but for most of us it is the only gift we will be able to give our children.

We must support our school board and back its program.

A four-mill increase in the school tax will cost the average taxpayer only the cost of six cigarettes a day.

Royal E. Welch
President
Chamber of Commerce

—o—

TO THE EDITORS:

A Master Plan is being proposed for Tecumseh. I wonder how many of us fully understood all that it will mean. Radical changes are involved.

For instance — the character of two streets, Logan and Pottawatamie, will be completely altered. Turning these into state trunk lines will spoil them as attractive, tree-lined residential streets.

Bridges — two in fact — will be built over Evans Creek, several blocks of homes are in the way of the proposed "new Pottawatamie" — even the Globe Pond and the Hospital will be affected.

The promoters of the Plan say it is a plan for the future and nothing will be done for a few years.

Time flies quickly however and when such a drastic change in our way of living is concerned, a few years do not mean much.

If events which occurred four or five years ago seem as though they happened yesterday, does it not hold true that plans for four or five years hence will be upon us tomorrow?

It is time that we all take a long and serious look at this Master Plan. Is it really what we want our Tecumseh of the future to be?

The Planning Commission meets Tuesday, April 11, 1961, at the City Hall, eight o'clock in the evening. The meeting is open to the public.

Marda Gene Duncan

—o—

TO THE EDITORS

A little over two years ago the City Council requested the City Planning Commission to prepare a Master Plan for the future development of the city.

Prior to that time, Tecumseh had been growing very rapidly and some means had to be provided for an orderly arrangement for business and residential areas. Population growth has decreased recently, as well as industry.

Portions of this Master Plan have been published. These have been made available to the public in disconnected items over the past year or more.

Recently one item appeared indicating that M-50 would be diverted to Logan St., going west and Pottawatamie going east.

One-way traffic on these two relatively narrow streets would not be too inconvenient if used for local traffic, but to make these two streets into a state highway is entirely different.

Anyone who has observed the state highway department building a road, knows what happens to property on each side of the road or street, especially the trees! For example, drive through Britton.

The property owners of Logan and Pottawatamie will not like such a change. Property values will go down. The lives of residents on these streets will be seriously disrupted.

Imagine trucks thundering past the Hospital day and night. The site of the Hospital was originally chosen to avoid traffic noise.

The Master Plan indicates that the east bound route will go diagonally across two blocks from the corner of Adrian St. and W. Chicago Blvd. to Van Buren St. and Pottawatamie.

That means that nearly all the homes on S. Van Buren St. and S. Democrat St. between Chicago Blvd. and Pottawatamie St. will have to be moved or demolished. A similar construction will happen at the east end of Pottawatamie with a lesser degree of change.

The extension westward of W. Logan St. will require the building of bridges over Evans Creek and marked changes in the vicinity of the Kroger store and the automobile and farm implement dealers west of it.

It is none to soon for the property owners of Logan and Pottawatamie streets to make known their opinions on the matter to both the City Council and the Planning Commisson.

There will be a meeting of the Planning Commission on the evening of April 11. Be there, and express your opinions.

THE CHESS PLAYERS by F. P. Keyes — Paul Morphy, the scion of two outstanding Creole families, has been obscured by time, but emerges as a vital and appealing figure in these pages. We also see such great Civil War leaders as Beauregard, Benjamin and Sidell, together with their families interwoven into a fascinating pattern of fact and fiction that bring the underlying intrigues of the time vividly before us.

POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE by Noel Coward — This is the first novel by the famous Noel Coward. It is a comedy filled with preposterous dialogue and riduculous situations about the manners and mores on a tropical island, told from the disarming viewpoint of an amusing woman.

EPIDEMIC by Frank G. Slaughter — To residents of Manhattan, it was just another blistering hot day in the August of 1965. No one knew that on that day death, in the form of a ghostly exodus of flea-ridden rats from a tramp steamer in from the Cameroons, had moved silently onto the streets of New York. A tale of Hitchock-like suspense about an ancient, monstrous destroyer that could strike again.

BEFORE YOU GO by Jerome Weidman — Benjamin Franklin Ivey. Julis Carno remembered the name even though she was just eleven years old when he came into her life and the lives of her family. He came to them in his need, but when they needed him he disappeared. Ben always disappeared when the chips were down — mostly because he knocked them down himself. Who was he and what did he want, this man the press called "Poison Ivey"?

THE INSPECTOR by Jan de Hartog — Out of the teeming crowd of figures emerge two leading characters who are joined together in a strange pursuit that leads them from the ruins of London, along the rivers of Holland, to the casbah of Tangier. Their destination is Palestine.

TOM RIORDAN'S Long AND Short

In order to protect the innocent, the names in this column will be withheld.

It's about a popular Tecumseh sportsman, who loves to hunt and fish and takes pride in his knowledge of the great outdoors.

The other afternoon, his wife was in the A&P. She spied a lovely, whole white fish and bought it for supper.

When she got home, one of her young sons saw the fish and called his dad.

"We just caught a great big fish, dad," the youngster said, "And mom is going to cook it for dinner."

Mom just smiled as she overheard the conversation, going about her supper chores. She had sliced off the head of the fish and placed the rest of it under the broiler.

Suddenly the door flew open. In dashed dad, hatless and a little out of wind. He was clutching the family camera.

"Hey, hold everything, I want to get a picture of the boys with the fish. Where is it?"

"Gosh, mom, is already cooking it."

"Oh, darn it," replied dad, a trifle dejected. "What kind was it?"

"Nobody seemed to know," chimed in mom.

Dad turned a little green, "Probably a sucker."

"There's the head in the sink, maybe you can tell," Mom rejoined.

Pop looked carefully, but just grunted. The great sportsman couldn't identify the variety.

"Let me see the rest of it."

Mom slide out the broiler and dad looked, but again was stumped. Then he brightened, "But I still want the picture. Which one of you boys caught it?" he asked, turning to his two older sons.

They looked at one another, then one blurted out, "Gee, dad, it was so heavy we pulled it in together."

The father was pleased.

"Now boys," he instructed, "When the fish is done, I want you to hold the platter and I'll take your picture."

Everyone kept a straight face. The youngsters accepted the platter from their mother stood sober-faced behind the platter as ordered.

Dad carefully focused and fired.

Hardly had the brilliant light of the flash bulb died down when one of the sons shouted, "April fool!"

Dad wilted when he heard the full story.

At last report he was able to talk — but not about streams and fields.

Bill Conlin of Tipton, veteran representative to the state Legislature, was in The Herald office Monday to ask if we were planning to reprint our school series by Marjorie Comfort in booklet form.

We couldn't give a positive answer although we had considered the idea.

Bill said that the articles have been excellent and show specific application of school taxation laws which would be of value to every school board in the state.

☆

Gov. John Swainson pulled a goof as far as I'm concerned.

He ordered State Police to stop showing the film "Operation Abolition."

This is the controversial movie about antics of communists at the House Un-American activities hearing in San Francisco.

I'm one up on the governor. I saw the film, he admitted he hasn't and was going on recommendations of others.

I saw it along with the Rotary Club several weeks ago and it has a real message, one every American should get.

Naturally, there are those Casper Milktoasts who wouldn't step on an ant. These people, egged on by fellow travelers, are protesting the movie.

They say it is distorted, not a true picture. They claim it's propaganda.

I say it's time Americans saw the other side of the coin, learn exactly how the red brethern dupe normally sane Americans, especially young people, into beating the drums for communism.

"Operation Abolition" does this, not perfectly, but well enough so that the commies are squealing. That's a good sign.

School Deficit Could Be Erased in Two Years

By JIM LINCOLN

Four mills for the Tecumseh schools, if passed by the voters, could erase the $136,000 deficit in two years.

This fact was pointed out to the board at Monday night's session.

Several residents attending the meeting explained cuts in the school program plus four mills would enable the schools to get out from under their deficit in two years, instead of five years as previously projected.

The board agreed that this was possible providing that none of the services was restored.

At the March meeting, officials approved cutting services amounting to $87,423. Services amounting to approximately $28,000 will be restored if the millage is passed.

Officials also announced that only the millage needed would be levied — if four mills were approved and the schools needed only three, just three mills would be levied.

In the millage orginally approved for bond retirement, the voters approved eight mills, but the schools are actually levying less than seven mills.

Much of Monday's meeting dealt with ways of publicizing the schools' need for the four mills. Local groups organizing to inform the voters and publication of phamphlets were discussed.

Several residents, some in attendance, asked by letter for participation in a citizens committee. They were referred to two organizaitons now making plans.

The residents consisted of the H. L. Prettymans, Wendall Disbrows, Warren Puffers, Duaine Murphys, Thomas Jacobys, Robert Morses, Larry Harts, Alden Libbys, Mrs. George Burkhard.

In other action, the board elected Aden Meade as president pro-tem for the next several weeks. He will temporarily replace Jens Touborg, who is enroute to India.

Next regular meeting of the school board will be on Monday, May 8.

Credit Bureau Is Purchased by Dillingham

The Credit Bureau of Tecumseh and Clinton has been sold to R. G. Dillingham by J. M. Artman, who organized the bureau in October, 1945.

Mr. Artman moved into the present location at 111 N. Evans St. and had operated the business there since that time.

The Tecumseh firm is a member of the Associated Credit Bureaus of America and the American Collectors Association, both national groups, making it possible to forward and receive reports from any place in the world.

Mr. Dillingham came to Tecumseh with his wife, Mary Elizabeth, in the summer of 1959.

He was active as an appraiser and real estate consultant and expects to continue with this work along with the operation of the Credit Bureau.

☆

PRIOR TO coming to Tecumseh, Mr. Dillingham was the superintendent at Kellogg Station for the Michigan State University. Earlier he was a vice president of a Kalamazoo bank and was associated with the Mortgage Loan Department of the Aetna Life Insurance Co. for about 20 years.

The Dillinghams have two children, a son, Ronald, in Parchment, Mich., and a daughter, Mrs. Ray E. Miller, in Oregon, Ill.

Mr. Artman and his wife, Martha, recently celebrated their 15 wedding anniversary.

When asked what he expects to do now that he has sold his business, Mr. Artman said he had been told by his daughter that he should join the Honey Do Club. This is an organization of men whose wives say, "Honey, do this" and "Honey, do that."

Garden Club Holds Luncheon

The Tecumseh Garden Club will hold its annual luncheon Friday, April 21, at the Country Club at 12:30, followed by a program presented by Mrs. R. J. McCoy.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Earl Wickwire, Mrs. Earl Lindsley, Mrs. George Wright and Mrs. Clayton Bigelow are the hostesses.

CLAUDE HELMS

Friends Honor 'Beth'

By TOM RIORDAN

They told Beth Satterthwaite there was going to be a dinner for doctors and nurses of the hospital.

As she strolled into the United Products Workers Union Hall Saturday evening, Beth saw a roomful of friends.

She chattered happily as she walked with her two brothers and two sisters to her place, exchanging cheery greetings to dozens and dozens of folks.

Not until Beth took her seat did she notice the dinner program.

On the cover it said simply "Beth".

Thus, 10 minutes passed after she had arrived, before the lovely Miss-Satterthwaite come to realize this was more than a dinner for the doctors and nurses.

It was for her.

Then followed two delightful hours.

☆

WHEN THE evening drew to a close, Beth grinned, "I know I don't deserve this, but I enjoyed every minute."

But the point is, Beth surely did deserve the honor. The 300 friends at the dinner will loudly attest to this, as will the thousands of others, who know and love Beth from all around the world.

At one point in the program, Dr. Carlton Cook, who served as toastmaster, gave Beth a packet of letters, which arrived last week from every point on the compass.

The notes were from Beth's acquaintances who couldn't come and wanted to express their congratulations.

☆

BUD GUEST, WJR "Sunny Side of The Streeter" and the evening's speaker, noted the mood.

As he began his talk, Bud said, "This is an expression of love. It's something you can feel."

And so it was, a roomful of true affection for a lovely lady.

Beth, who was born March 15, 1890, graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1907. She then attended the Friend's Church Westtown School in Philadelphia and Oberlin College in Ohio.

She received a nursing degree from John Hopkins Hospital.

As a member of the Friend's Service Committee in World War I, she was overseas and worked in French civilian hospitals.

Returning to Tecumseh, she did home nursing here and in the surrounding area.

When Herrick Memorial Hospital was opened in 1938 Beth joined the staff.

☆

THE DINNER booklet told guests, "Beth is unique in that she has always taken the time to follow up the recovery of many of her patients by visiting them at their homes and continuing to perform helpful deeds of kindness."

This, probably more than anything else, tells the life story of Beth Satterthwaite — kindness and consideration.

Beth loves children. More than 8,000 were born during her tenure of hospital service and the nursery was her favorite haunt.

Her fellow nurses, with visions of Beth rocking hundreds of infants to sleep, presented a new rocker to the hospital in Beth's name. Mrs. Journey Stoner, chairman of the staff nurses, did the honors.

The nurses aides, represented by Mrs. Margaret Maschino, gave a beautiful frame, in which a color picture of Beth will be placed and then hung in the maternity ward.

Dr. Al Phelan, chief of the medical staff, thanked Beth for her loyal service and said doctors were giving an isolette, an incubator for premature infants, to the hospital for Beth.

☆

SEATED WITH Beth were her two brothers, Joe and Perry, and sisters, Geneva and Alice.

Residents Oppose Plan

Violent opposition to the Master Plan one-way street proposal was made Tuesday.

More than 100 residents of Logan and Pottawatamie, the streets affected, packed the council room at city hall.

A variety of spokesmen from the floor told the City Planning Commisison that they wanted no part of the idea.

The long-range Master Plan calls for one-way Logan, as westbound M-50, and one-way Pottawatamie as one-way east-bound According to the planning group, Logan would be the first roadway changed and this wouldn't happen for about six or seven years.

Pottawatamie would come several years after this.

The proposal was to eventually close-off Chicago Blvd. for four block downtown and make it into a shopping mall.

Commission chairman John Zeigler said that the group has not made a decision on the one-way street suggestion and probably won't for some time.

Tuesday's hearing was to get thinking of residents living on the two streets.

Furniture Dealer Succumbs to Attack

Services were held Wednesday afternoon for Claude Helms, 62, Tecumseh furniture dealer and one of the community's outstanding businessmen.

He succumbed suddenly to a heart attack shortly after noon Sunday, at his home at 203 E. Chicago Blvd. Although known to have suffered a heart disorder several years ago, he was apparently in good health.

Mr. Helms was one of Tecumseh's most progressive merchants, shown by three building expansions which in a period of 10 years converted his original business-home into one of the largest and nicest furniture show places in southern Michigan.

The last expansion was completed in June, 1959, and multiplied five times the space available when he and his wife moved here on April 16, 1949, from Lansing.

MR. HELMS was born at Elwood, Ind., on Feb. 27, 1899. On Oct. 4, 1919, he married Goldie Kiser. He was furniture salesman at Lansing before starting his business here.

He was active in the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Michigan Retailers Association, and a veteran of World War I.

Survivors, besides the widow, are two sons, Dwight of Tecumseh and Wayne of North Little Rock, Ark.; two grandchildren, three sisters and a brother.

The Rev. Laszlo Gero, pastor of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, officiated at the services. Burial by Green-Dunn Funeral Home was in Brookside cemetery.

Bankruptcy Is Filed by Cook

Voluntary bankruptcy was filed in Federal Court on March 31 by Cook Electrical Contracting Co.

John Zeigler, local attorney, has been appointed receiver.

Perry Cook, president of the company, and his wife Shirley, formed a partnership in February and will continue in business at 115 S. Evans St.

Guest Artist Steals Show at Concert

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Tecumseh High School's band under the able direction of Don Johnson and Miles Cowdrey presented a concert of superb music Friday evening.

Larry Harper and Dorinda Winters were featured in solo numbers on the cornet and flute.

A German band and a dance band also presented several numbers.

Highlighting the event for both students and the audience was the appearance of the "guest artist," Neville Hart, who brought peals of laughter from the assembly as he played the glockenspiel accompanied by the band.

Ron Lemerand announced the selections.

Easton Re-elected

Harold Easton was re-elected unanimously as mayor Monday night at the Council's annual organizational meeting.

John Hamilton was re-elected mayor pro-tem. Councilmen Arthur Schwartz and Royal Welch also received a vote for the position.

Preceding the meeting, Terry Mackin received the oath of office as a new councilman, succeeding George McCombs.

During the business session a resolution favoring renewal of tavern beer licenses was approved. A copy of the resolution was authorized for the State Liquor Commission.

Major part of the meeting concerned the proposed budget for the next fiscal year.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Hearts of Tecumseh residents glowed this past week as news of the "secret" was spread. Now "Our Beth" knows of the love and esteem felt for her as was shown at the banquet held in her honor Saturday evening.

Tributes to Beth are often spoken at the mere mention of her name. Some of them are like this,

"She gives so much of herself."

"It's the things beyond the call of duty."

"You always feel better when you see Beth coming."

This last from the many who have been her patients at the hospitals.

So much has been said respecting Beth and so much more could be said. Let it suffice, would that we had more "Beths"

Friends Honor 'Beth'

Alice is Mrs. Fred Woods of Berkeley, Calif. Only last week the Woods were host and hostess to Beth and Geneva.

It was a bit of a surprise for Beth seeing Mr. and Mrs. Woods arrived in Tecumseh only a few days after she and Geneva had left them.

To have brother Joe, recently-named ambassador to the Union of South Africa, jet to Michigan was another surprise.

But the family fooled Beth, saying that Joe was dashing home for a weekend before his trip to Africa later this month. They said that the Woods were coming to see Joe.

So everything seemed logical. Beth exclaimed in the afternoon, "I don't know how all this could possibly be arranged (her family being together), but I think it's wonderful."

She didn't realize that much more was in store for her.

Perry, as a member of the Hospital board, told that he had to attend the dinner for doctors and nurses.

He added that he didn't want to leave Joe alone, so he'd take him. Then he said they might as well take the whole family. Beth protested that she really shouldn't be going.

Even when Perry showed her the program, after they sat down to eat, Beth still couldn't realize the dinner was in her honor. She thought the "Beth" was only printed on her's.

☆

OTHERS taking part in the program were the Rev. Alvin Brazee, who gave the invocation and the Madrigal Singers of Tecumseh High School, who sang several songs, including one in which the words were adapted to praise Miss Satterthwaite.

It was a wonderful evening for a wonderful person.

Old Ideas Still Used

Superstitions of past generations and now may bring on a superior chuckle that anyone could have believed such things.

That such ideas could have so effected and directed people, seems foreign now.

Yet, an objective analysis of modern thought would find a number of parallels between present thought patterns and the superstitions of other days.

The sermon at the Presbyterian Church this Sunday, entitled 'God of the Hills and Valleys,' is concerned with this area of thought and considers the similarity between a superstitious thought of the Syrian army more than 2800 years ago and present-day Christian thinking.

The Session of the church will meet Thursday, April 13, at 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Center.

The youth choir will sing during the regular morning worship service Sunday.

Darlene Kay, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Nichols, was baptized April 9 in the church.

The planning committee of the Church met April 5 at the home of William Cyr.

There will be no choir practice Thursday, April 13.

The Sunday School staff meeting has been postponed until Friday, April 21, because of a delay in obtaining teaching filmstrips.

Family Night will be Thursday, April 20, at 6 p.m.

Grace Bible Has Guest

The Grace Bible Church on M-50 at Carson Hwy., will have as guest speaker at the 7:30 p.m. service Friday, Angelo LoVallo, a former Roman Catholic priest.

Mr. LoVallo was born in Dunmore, Pa., of Roman Catholic parents. During his childhood he attended the public schools and was awarded a scholarship to the University of Scranton, staffed by the Jesuits.

He attended St. Mary's University in Baltimore, where he matriculated in philosophy.

In 1936 he received a four-year scholarship to the Collegio Brignoli Sale, the International University, of Genoa, Italy. It was there that he was ordained as a priest in 1940.

Following his return to the United States, Mr. LoVallo served the Roman Catholic Church as assistant pastor, and administrator of various churches in the Scranton Diocese.

Humility Is Shown

The Church of God Seventh Day of Tecumseh met Saturday morning in the Pythian Hall for regular Sabbath services.

"Transformed" was the subject of the Sabbath School lesson with Howard Priddle as superintendent.

Walter Williams chose "Come" as his subject for the church service. "Come unto me ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest."

Men's hearts are failing them for fear and for looking after those things that come upon the earth and will until that day when Jesus will come and there will be no more problems and Jesus will say "Come ye blessed of my father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the earth," said Mr. Williams.

The Lord's Supper March 30 was celebrated by partaking of the unleavened bread and the wine, and by the act of humility of washing one another's feet, in remembrance of Jesus who said, "This do in remembrance of me."

Supremacy of God

The oneness and supremacy of God will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon. The Golden Text is from the first chapter of II John: "He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son."

Youth Is Elected to College Groups

Hal Weakly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weakly, has been elected president of Phi Alpha social fraternity at Western Michigan University.

Les Bennett Resigns as Vocal Instructor

Tecumseh High School vocal teacher Les Bennett is leaving the local system.

He has accepted a position in the St. Clair Shores system.

Regarded as one of the finest vocal music instructors in the area, Mr. Bennett has been on the staff here since 1956.

He received a Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Engineering from the University of Wisconsin in 1951 and a Bachelor of Music Education degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1956.

Mr. Bennett said, "I am intending to get my master's degree at Wayne University and the new location will be much more convenient."

He added that he "Was disappointed in the recent cuts to the vocal music budget."

Mr. Bennett's wife, Lee, who had also taught here and was most recently on the staff of an Adrian nursery school, may teach kindergarten part-time in St. Clair Shores.

Tecumseh Dentists Featured at Session

Dr. Robert Laidlaw and Dr. Robert Murray were prominent participants in the 104th annual meeting of the Michigan State Dental Association April 10-12 in Detroit.

Dr. Laidlaw, president of the Jackson Dental Society, was one of the after-luncheon speakers and Dr. Murray had charge of the nearly 100 table clinics.

Fellow Michigan dentists who have achieved distinction in some new technique or research conduct the table clinics to share their findings as the dentists assemble in small groups and go from table to table.

The Tecumseh dentists gave a clinic for the Detroit Clinic Club Monday.

MORE THAN 4,000 Michigan dentists attend to learn about the past year's advances and discoveries in their profession.

Acclaimed for years as holding one of the best meetings in the country, the state association presents the nation's leading dentists as instructors and lecturers in a scientific program that covers most phases of dentistry for the general practitioner.

Dr. Charles H. Patton of Philadelphia, president of the American Association, and 12 outstanding essayists and study clinicians from various sections of the county including Col. Robert B. Shira, chief of oral surgery at Walter Reed General Hospital in Washington, D.C., were the speakers.

Dr. Allen R. Beach of Grosse Pointe was the general chairman.

Dr. Robert Mohr also attended the sessions.

Mix-Up on Fly Leads to Loss for THS Nine

An infield mix-up on a routine pop fly led to a Tecumseh baseball defeat in the team's opener last Thursday when visiting Milan won, 7-5.

Eugene Brion, who took over the mound in the sixth when Mike Robison tired, was the victim of the four-run rally.

Milan's final four runs were unearned.

Robison hurled three-hit ball for five and two-thirds innings, and Brion, the loser, should have fared better although nicked for three safeties.

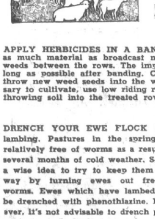
Anniversary Has Surprise For Driscolls

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Driscoll were surprised recently on the occasion of their 46th wedding anniversary.

The guests included 20 of their family who played cards and enjoyed refreshments featuring a decorated cake.

It was also the 14th anniversary of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Driscoll.



GO SLOW IN SWITCHING COWS TO PASTURE. A sharp change from barn to nasture feeding usually causes cows to lose weight and drop off in milk production. Spring grass is high in water. Cows may not be able to eat enough to meet their nutrient needs. It may take as much as 100 pounds of forage to equal 36 pounds of hay on a dry matter basis. At the start, turn cows out only a few hours. Increase pasture time gradually to get cows on full grazing by the end of two weeks.

APPLY HERBICIDES IN A BAND. Banding requires about one-third as much material as broadcast methods. You can cultivate to get the weeds between the rows. The important point is to delay cultivation as long as possible after banding. Otherwise, cultivating may uncover or throw new weed seeds into the weed-free row. If it's absolutely necessary to cultivate, use low-lifting row guards to keep the cultivator from throwing soil into the treated row.

DRENCH YOUR EWE FLOCK after lambing. Pastures in the spring are relatively free of worms as a result of several months of cold weather. So it's a wise idea to try to keep them that way by turning ewes out free of worms. Ewes which have lambed can be drenched with phenothiazine. However, it's not advisable to drench pregnant ewes. Instead, use a phenothiazine-salt mixture.

CHECK THE AIR CLEANER ON YOUR TRACTOR OFTEN to prevent excessive engine wear. Remove the oil cup and fill it with new oil frequently. While you have the oil cup off, take the cover of the stack and look through it to see if it's clear of dirt. Use a cloth or a stick to clean it. Give the cleaner a complete overhaul about once a year.

School Bus Drivers Rank Among the Best

Tecumseh school bus drivers are among the best in Michigan.

This was established last weekend when local operators swept through the regional driver competition in Ypsilanti at Eastern Michigan University.

Out of the top four position, among the 25 men taking part, three spots went to Tecumseh drivers.

► Harold Anderson took first place, posting a 446 point total out of a possible 500.

► Bert Wade finished third with 438.

► James M. Mobley captured fourth with 437.

In the women's division, with 26 competing, Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks tied for second, Mrs. Donald Woods of Tecumseh took a fourth with 421.

Mr. Anderson and Nina P. Von Hofe of Ann Arbor, women's winner, competed Sunday against Jackson regional victors for the state championship.

Their scores were to be announced Wednesday evening at the Michigan Safety Conference in Lansing's Civic Auditorium.

☆

THE RUGGED competition was based on three catagories:

► Knowledge of motor vehicle code (written test).

► Personal grooming.

► Pre-operational vehicle check procedure.

The third part accounted for nearly half of the points and involved driving a 60-passenger bus through a course in which the vehicle went between posts and stakes, ending up with one-inch clearance on either side.

In the fourth section, each driver had to go over a bus, in which officials had created 15 trouble spots. These had to be found.

☆

JUDGING was done by 35 persons, representing the State Police, Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Ypsilanti police and Ann Arbor police departments.

The contest was sponsored by the Michigan School Bus Driver Education program, which is a part of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

Altogether, 25 schools were represented at the Ypsilanti test.

DICK SHOWS 'EM—Richard Sweet shows fello w 4-H members at a style revue, in the Presbyterian Church, that fellows can do some fancy needlework, too. Admiring his work apron are Cynthia Feight, Linda Corwin and Karen Hendricks. Four clubs joined to stage the event

4-H Style Winners Named

Dolores Wegner of the Clinton 4-H Club and Karen Hendricks of the Country Hi-Steppers 4-H Club were selected winners in the style revue at the Presbyterian Church Friday evening.

Seventy-five parents watched their daughters and sons model spring styles and display their projects.

Jane Campbell and Nancy Mitchell judged the garments of 26 girls and a boy as they modeled the setting of a French restaurant with a large yellow and orange awning.

Two gentlemen were seated at tables "Watching all the Girls Go By."

The winners will model their garments at the Lenawee County Style Show in Adrian.

☆

JUSTIN SUTTON judged the electrical and handicraft projects, commenting that they were good and he liked the procedure followed by the members.

He told each one about the good points of his project and also where improvement could be made. He said that he thinks the club will have good results at the Lenawee County Fair.

Susan Relyea played the "Minute in G" on her organ and Gary Stretch played "April Showers," "Tammy", and "I'm Looking Over a 4-Leaf Clover" on his cornet.

Refreshments of cookies, punch, tea and coffee were served.

FOUR MODEL IN "COTTON" REVUE — Diane Ries, Cathy Brown, Cheryl Aebersold and Debbie Black display garments they have made. The girls modeled in the 4-H Club show Friday evening at the Products Union Hall. Winners are named in a story elsewhere in the Herald.

Cotton Styles Are Presented, Models Named

Winners in the "Cottons on Parade" 4-H Club style revue Friday evening at the Products Union Hall were Debbie Osburn, North Franklin Maidens; Diane Ries and Debbie Blanchard, Ridgeway Sunny Rays, and Pam Gautz of the Holloway Homemakers.

These young ladies were judged on modeling as well as the craftmanship of their garments.

They will model their own entries in the Lenawee County Style Show in Adrian April 21.

Mrs. Roger Williams welcomed guests to the showing and Mrs. Robert Ries presented the program.

Ann Marks presented a vocal solo; Fran Cooper, a piano solo, and David Day, a coronet solo.

Dance numbers were presented by Debbie Blanchard, Pam Chumney and Martin Korth. Susan Smith presented an acrobatic act.

Mrs. Arthur Schwartz provided the musical accompaniment for the revue.

Mary Williams led the pledge to the flag and Brenda Golat seated the guests.

Trackmen Win

Tecumseh's track team got off to a running start Wednesday of last week with an easy 64 3/4 to 44 1/4 win over Grosse Ile.

The Indians, Huron League champs last year, dominated the distance and field events but showed poorly in the sprints.

Dennis Bryan paced the Tecumseh scorers with wins in the broad jump and 440. He also was a member of the winning 880-yard relay team.

Tecumseh scorers were:

Shot put—Koffron (1st), Hathaway (3rd). 43'8".

High jump—Robison (1st, tie). 5'5".

Broad jmp—Bryan (1st), Eddy (2nd). 19'3½".

Pole vault — Tuckey, Greene, Fisher (1st, tie). 9'6".

Mile relay — Greene, Packard, Smith, Simmons. 3:49.6.

120-yd. high hurdles — Koffron (3rd). 16.2.

100-yd. dash—Eddy (2nd). 10.9.

880-yd. run—Sisson (1st), Wilbar (3rd). 2:18.

440-yd. run—Bryan (1st), Johnson (3rd). 55.1.

180-yd. low hurdles — Koffron (2nd). 21.6.

220-yd. dash—Aho (2nd). 25.2.

Mile — Lawson (1st), Deaner (2nd). 5:14.

880-yd. relay — Bryan, Eddy, Koffron, Aho. 1:41.2.

Slow times were recorded mainly due to a rain-swept track.

Install Officers

Mrs. Eddie Kirkland had charge of installation services, "The Lord is My Light" for officers of the Baptist Women's Society Monday evening in the Youth House.

Those installed were:

President—Mrs. Robert Smith

First vice-president—Mrs. Orville Bishop

Second vice-president — Mrs. James Danforth

Secretary—Mrs. Llewlyn Sisson

Treasurer—Ellen Snedecor

Love Gift Chairman — Mrs. Vern Manwaring

The challenging service concluded with each officer lighting her candle of service from a huge candle representing the master of service and light.

The officers in turn lighted each attending member's candle.

Members pledged $150 to the building program of the Michigan Baptist Assembly.

They voted to send the incoming president and vice-president to the summer Women's Conference at Hillsdale.

The May calling committee will be Mrs. Cecil Viele and Mrs. Norman McConnell.

It was announced Mrs. Ray Herrick and Mrs. Floyd Barret are patients on the fourth floor of St. Joseph Hospital and Mrs. Peters Socks is a patient at the local hospital.

Eating Habits Seen in New 'M' Survey

Where do you eat your meals? When? What do you eat?

Eating habits will be examined in the second phase of the University of Michigan's Tecumseh Community Health Study.

A sampling of 144 men is being contacted, with two conferences abount a month apart. Eventually, all 8,200, area residents will be interviewed in the health study.

The sample will serve to show the University School of Public Health how to conduct the large-scale study.

Current methods of collecting this kind of information are not adequate for studies of large population groups such as the Tecumseh Community, the school comments.

Three different collection methods have been incorporated into a carefully planned study design in such a way that the results will aid greatly in the development of better ways of collecting information on food intake and eating patterns, the surveys continue. "The results also can be related to the medical information which we have already collected, to study the interrelations between nutrition and health," reports Dr. Robert J. M. Horton, study director.

The kinds of food eaten — meats, vegetables, fruits, desserts and all — and the times and places meals are eaten all are part of the current study.

He Was Writing Personal Opinion

In a letter to the editors last week, Royal Welch wrote favoring the four-mill school tax proposal.

The signature included, "President, Chamber of Commerce."

Mr. Welch was writing as a private citizen and he did not necessarily represent the thinking of the Chamber membership, explains a member of the board of directors.

Parish House Renovation Is Discussed

He stayed in the home of Bill Wright's father until his graduation from Tecumseh High School in 1918, when he went to Chicago to study commercial art.

The Class of 1918 is the one of which Joe Satterthwaite, recently appointed ambassador to the Union of South Africa, was also a member.

Over a 20 year period, the Johnsons have gathered paintings, drawings, collages, woodcuts, etchings and lithographs in extensive travel throughout this country and Europe.

About 128 pieces of their collection were exhibited in the display at UCSB and a reception was held in their honor.

Mrs. Donald Wright and her daughter, Mrs. Warren Steurer, attended the event.

William Dole, curator and chairman of the UCSB art department, said that like other creative acts, the formation of a collection becomes in part autobiographical.

He said that this collection is a sensitive record of a sustained commitment to the world.

He Farms 500 Acres

The mystery farm of last week is operated by John Quigley and is located at 7702 Milwaukee Rd.

This 80-acre layout is a small part of the 500 acres he and his son Herbert work.

Herbert lives on Ford Rd., is married and the father of one child.

John's wife, Gwendolyn, is interested in refinishing furniture and has two projects underway at the present time.

Mr. Quigley keeps up to date with farming by attending courses offered for adults at the Tecumseh High School.

Besides general farming, custom work such as combining, corn shelling and custom drying are a part of their operation.

The Quigleys have lived on this farm, owned by Clarence Beach, for the past 13 years.

Charles Cox was the first to phone in the identity and receive two passes to the Strand Theatre.

Furniture Man Tells Monday Club of Coordination

Luther Shook, furniture consultant at DesErmias, was the speaker at the Monday Club meeting held April 3 at the Aebersold Hostess House.

He spoke on color coordination in woods, fabrics and wall color and answered many questions.

Forty two members and two guests, Mrs. Mabel Kohler and Mrs. Russell Mitzner, were present.

Mrs. Kenneth Hunter was program chairman. Mary McWilliams was hostess chairman.

Homemade cookies were served with tea from a lace covered table centered with sweet peas.

The next meeting will be the spring luncheon at the Baptist Youth House. Mrs. Edna Codling and Mrs. Floyd Elliott will accept reservations.

Banquet Is Help in Adrian

While the battle is far from won, John O'Brien of the Adrian Chamber of Commerce feels that much has been accomplished toward obtaining new industry.

When he spoke at the meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday evening he said that Adrian may eventually employ many more than did the industrial plant that has moved.

Mr. O'Brien said that one of the important factors in such a transition is keeping the economic spirit of the town at a high level.

Adrian hit on the idea of an appreciation banquet to help this situation to attract favorable publicity in the hope that a new industry would find the town attractive and unwilling to accept a move as defeat.

"The banquet, Mr. O'Brien said, "is a way to draw the community itself closer together in order to be just that much more effective. That is exactly what has happened and Adrian looks forward to new industrial life over the long pull."

Mr. O'Brien now hopes to set up a committee designed to evolve and consider creative ideas drawing from all fields so that every possible consideration can be given to any idea that might possibly have development potential in Adrian.

He is firmly convinced that sound economic growth is best founded on small beginnings.

1,000 Eligible for Extended Unemployment

The Adrian branch office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission is prepared to take claims for temporary extended Unemployment Compensation benefits.

Claims will be paid during the week beginning April 17 for unemployment occurring and filed for during the week beginning April 9.

Approximately 70,000 Michigan workers whose benefits have been exhausted since June 30, 1960, will be eligible immediately for benefits under the new program.

They will include 1,000 from the Adrian office.

Edward Handley Sr. and son Thomas were in Paxton, Ill. two days last week for the funeral of an uncle.

SCHOOL BUILDING COSTS

$2 Per Square Foot Over State Average

By MARJORIE COMFORT

For most school expenses, Tecumseh Public School District has been shown to be below state averages. Tecumseh pays less than the average Michigan school district for teacher salaries and other costs of running the schools.

But there is one area where Tecumseh's costs rise well above the state averages. That is for the buildings themselves.

In 1957 Tecumseh voters gave the school board $1,900,000 in bonds to put additions on the high school, Ridgeway and Patterson schools, and to build the new Macon, Tecumseh Acres, Herrick Park and Tipton schools.

Counting only the contracted work, (general construction, plumbing and heating, electrical), here are the final costs, as shown in the 1959-'60 school audit:

High School Addition	$181,882.36
Tecumseh Acres	491,285.67
Herrick Park School and Patterson Addition	489,138.25
Macon, Ridgeway and Tipton	597,223.38

Also from that bond issue were paid $14,768 for kitchen equipment and $106,430 for architect fees.

In previous stories in this series, the writer has brought all expenses down to the point of "How much does it cost for each student?"

This is difficult to do for a building. For example, how do you count a multipurpose room used at different times as a gym for a few students, or a cafeteria for all?

Do you figure on 25 students for each classroom, or perhaps 30. The fewer students in the class, the more expensive the cost of the classroom will be.

☆

Figures are available for some buildings to show the per pupil costs. Remembering that the actual enrollment in the school may be different from the planned figures, here are representatives per pupil costs:

Tecumseh Acres	$1,002
Tipton	$1,136
State Average ('57-'58)	$ 873
Ann Arbor (1960)	$1,197
Ann Arbor (1960)	$ 986
Monroe (1960)	$ 977
State Average ('59-'60)	$ 869

Figures for the high school addition were not available, but here are the square-foot costs listed by Superintendent James McDowell for the other parts of the latest building program:

Macon	$17.00
Herrick Park	16.92
Tipton	16.74
Patterson	16.71
Ridgeway	15.38
Tecumseh Acres	15.13

These figures count only the actual buildings. The contracts also include some site work, such as grading, blacktopping and paving.

Some of this can be added to the cost of the building, since the building cannot be started without at least the rough grading.

The amount to be added to the building costs varies widely from project to project.

For instance, all this "ground-work" took only $5,930 at Tipton. But the Tecumseh Acres site required a lot of grading, and the site work there took $20,060 of the total $491,208 contract.

Including these figures would raise the cost of each building project by several cents per square foot.

In the case of Tecumseh Acres School, the change would be more, from $15.13 to $15.61.

How does this compare with the state average? Here are the costs for the last five school years, as prepared by the Michigan Department of Public Instruction:

1955-'56	$14.84
1956-'57	15.17
1957-'58	13.99
1958-'59	13.45
1959-'60	13.77

Bringing it closer to home, how do Tecumseh's figures compare with those of nearby school districts?

This school year Ann Arbor opened two elementary schools. One had nine classrooms and a multipurpose room. It cost $323,319, or $14.97 a square foot. Another has two kindergartens, 10 classrooms, multipurpose room and library. It cost $394,560, or $15.17 a square foot.

MONROE JUST opened a school with one kindergarten, eight classrooms and a multipurpose room. Cost was $283,218, or $13.67 a square foot.

Other elementary schools opened in the last few years by Monroe Public Schools, according to Superintendent Herman Dunseith, cost $13.27 in 1956 and $14.32 in 1959 for each square foot. A high school addition cost $16.29 a square foot in 1958.

Bedford Public Schools, at Temperance, has the reputation of getting the most out of each dollar it spends. Its cost of school operations is less than any other high school district in Monroe or Lenawee Counties.

Superintendent Charles A. Scheltema writes:

"In 1952, our senior high school was built at a cost of $8.97 a square foot.

"This figure does not include architectural fees, landscaping or furniture. The junior high school, which was built in 1955, is a much superior building and cost $11.32 per square foot.

"The elementary school (a consolidated building housing a large portion of the district's elementary enrollment) which was constructed in the years of 1960-'61, was built at a cost of $10.50 a square foot.

"It is my opinion that the last two buildings are far superior in construction and detail than the senior high school building. There were many things left out of the senior high school building. There were many things left out of the senior high school building, such as glazed tile in the corridors, the use of wood window frames instead of aluminum, and the use of wood trim instead of rubber base cove.

"All of these items reduce the original cost but have, in my opinion, increased our annual maintenance cost.

"It is my further opinion that our junior high school and our elementary school are outstanding examples of what can be done to provide adequate school housing for a minimum cost."

☆

WHAT MAKES the Tecumseh schools cost so much?

For one thing, glazed tile, terrazzo floors and other items, which are designed to lower maintenance costs and improve appearances. They have resulted in low maintenance costs, as shown in earlier stories.

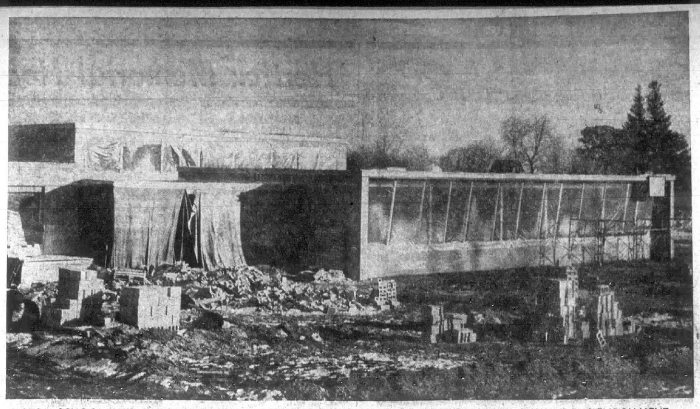
A major factor is that some buildings are small. They are planned for future additions, which means that such areas as the multipurpose room, cafeteria and furnace room must be large enough to handle the future expansion.

Special features, such as showers in all the buildings, add to the cost. The showers were installed as an integral part of the health program.

Supt. James McDowell attributes the cost to "built-ins," as much as to the other factors. He says that all the library shelves were built in, as well as cupboards for classroom teachers' supplies, and even office files.

Anyone who has built shelves or cabinet space recently will know what this means.

But most of all, they simply were not designed for economical construction. Whether the schools are of high or low cost is determined by the architectural advisors selected by the board of education.



TIPTON SCHOOL WAS CONSTRUGTED AT A COST OF $1,1 36 FOR EACH OF ITS NORMAL 210-STUDENT ENROLLMENT

MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

'When one car outsells all the rest the way this new Chevrolet is doing'—there's got to be a reason. And we can think of some pretty good ones. The clean-etched looks of the new Body by Fisher, for example. The eager brand of "git" that's under the hood. The easy way it handles. Plus the added advantage of extra-cost options like triple-turbine Turboglide.

But to sample all these reasons together, you have to get a Chevrolet out on the road. And there's where that Jet-smooth ride takes over with its own gentle kind of persuasion. If you weren't absolutely sure, you'd imagine you were riding in a far costlier car.

AND JUST ONE JET-SMOOTH RIDE WILL SHOW YOU WHY!

No wonder people are buying more Chevrolets than any other make! Chevrolets have more of what it takes to please people!

VOICE of THE HERALD

Microscope Put to Schools

In five weeks residents within the 86-square-mile Tecumseh School District will vote on a four-mill question.

The board of education has been immersed in a critical financial bind for nearly a year.

Last July boardmen put a two-mill levy to a vote. It was soundly swamped.

The feeling among voters at that time seemed to be, "Let's cut the budget FIRST before we are asked about additional funds."

With this thought in mind, the board and superintendent did some digging. Interested citizens made suggestions.

The upshot was that $39,000 was sliced from next year's figure—and even with this, the board felt it needed four more mills.

Boardmen announced that there would be still another cut, this for about $28,000, if the four-mill levy failed. But this would get extremely drastic, such as putting three lower grades on half days and closing down the 210-pupil Tipton elementary school.

The Herald has been devoting considerable space to the school problem, in the way of informative articles.

There is more to come.

This editorial is not going into the problem as such, but briefly to explain what your editors plan for the next five issues.

We hope to cover every side of the situation—pro and con. We intend to tread on what may seem to be mighty thin ice, exploring the "personality" aspect of this vote as well as facts and figures.

It is our desire that all residents — whether violently for adding four mills or violently opposed to the idea — read and weigh our words.

In addition, we wish that readers would express their opinions in the form of letters. We want every opinion possible brought into print.

This is the newspaper of the community and we wish to have all feelings expressed within its columns.

Merchant's Loss Felt

Business row suffered a serious loss Sunday with the passing of Claude Helms, owner of Helms Furniture.

A 12-year fixture on Tecumseh's main street, Claude was an astute merchant who had a simple philosophy: "Sell quality and remember the customer is always right."

He was a perfectionist, a go-getter and tireless in his efforts for success.

Claude was successful. His place of business became a model after two tremendous building expansions, the last less than two years ago. Folks came back and back again to do business with him, some from 50 to 60 miles away.

Work? His success was founded not only on pleasing his friends but through endless hours in his store. Until recently, Claude was open every night of the week, and he was always there.

In 12 years in business here, he took one vacation, a short one several weeks ago to visit his son, and wife, at Little Rock, Ark.

Claude was active in promoting Tecumseh and in the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce. His passing will be felt among the business folks, who greatly respected him and his opinions.

We'll Miss Les

One fellow the local schools will miss is Les Bennett, vocal music teacher who is leaving for a new post.

As has been noted in our editorial columns on several occasions, Les has done marvelous work with our young people.

His THS Chorus was always outstanding and at least one of his pupils qualified for the Michigan Chorale, the state group which tours Europe or South America each summer, in the past three years — a high honor in itself.

Les made his chorus members work hard and they loved it. A major community function was not complete without the whole group or its Madrigal Singers providing a portion of the entertainment.

Words for songs often were re-written by the talented Mr. Bennett to fit the occassion.

Herald Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

I am wondering who it is that is behind this program of moving or demolishing homes in our city to put in a new state highway.

I have talked with a great many people and I can find no one who is in favor of such a plan.

Who is to gain? Certainly not the business of our community. Certainly not the people. Someone must be, and gaining in a financial way and we, the tax-paying citizens, have a right to demand who.

I have heard of one person who has been buying up property for a great deal less, then he can sell it to the state in the event that this plan does materialize.

There is a strong flavor of political corruption here that needs and should have a very thorough investigation by some disinterested party outside of our community.

Why should such a serious decision be left to a so-called "Planning Committee" — one of whom definitely would gain financially by such a program. Another member does not own any property in our city. Are we at their mercy and left helpless? No!

Someone's thinking is out of balance, in my opinion.

Just because the state will subsidize state highways are we to make Tecumseh one big highway?

This would take millions of dollars of our state's money, if our state has such money—and if it has, it should be applied where real progress is sorely needed.

Change is not necessarily progress. For example—our schools are meeting a change next year but it is not progress. It is rather going backward 50 years.

Our children are being denied the very necessities which would help them to become good citizens and strong leaders.

I know of one fourth grade boy who displayed traits of poor sportmanship, a poor looser, but after one year of being under the influence of our physical education program these traits are being overcome and he is developing into a finer person.

However, he will not have this training next year. It is being taken away from him because there is no money to pay for this instruction and he is just one of many of our children.

His school day will be shortened and opportunity for further character training with his own peers is being denied him. I live in the west end of our city where I can observe the traffic.

There is no congestion on M-50. That highway was widened just a few years ago and it easily is adequate for traffic.

How would this program benefit Tecumseh? Who is to gain by this plan? I can see no reason that is obvious to anyone outside the planning committee.

If this program is to put money in a few people's pockets, we have every right to know who they are, what influence they are using, and how they got their power.

Citizens of Tecumseh, I ask you to unite, to investigate and to not allow yourselves to be pushed around by a few fast talkers who are planning on making a faster buck!

A Paradise for Fishermen

Evans Creek will soon become a fisherman's paradise.

A variety of interested residents, so far mainly members of the Tecumseh Jaycees, are working hard to put the waterway into shape.

The project is being coordinated by Hugh Donahoe, 304 Herrick Park Dr., of the Tecumseh Conservation League.

Mr. Donahoe's plan was unfolded a year ago before members of the Michigan Department of Conservation.

State officials were enthusiastic and made a detailed survey of the Creek as it runs through Tecumseh.

Plans were drawn up, with rip dams and foot bridges noted in at strategic spots.

A rip dam is built of field stones and odd chunks of concrete. It narrows the flow of water to only a few feet.

The effect is unique:

► Water speed is greatly accelerated.

► The water is aerated and cleansed.

► Silt and debris are washed away.

► Bed of the creek is deepened immediately below each rip-dam site, making good fishing areas.

When the state first was called in, it was agreed that the Conservation Department would eventually stock Evans Creek with trout.

This plan may now have to be altered, Mr. Donahoe learned in a telephone call to Lansing earlier this week. It seems, Michigan's financial problem extends right through trout.

However, other avenues can be used, Mr. Donahoe feels, and when the creek is ready for stocking, the mission will somehow be accomplished.

As volunteer workers, come forward, the cleaning program will move forward, section by section.

Jaycees have "really put out" with several hundred man-hours of labor in the past few weeks. Some even worked through Sunday's "blizzard."

Kiwanis Clubmen are also interested and last week started to work. So far they mainly have been devoted to the park the club is fashioning immediately east of the new Maumee St. bridge.

Later, they'll also help in the creek.

Boy Scouts have been contributing labor.

☆

A WORD of warning is issued to youngsters along the creek-bed.

► Please use foot bridges provided for crossing.

► Don't fill in openings in rip dams to make a bridge. This hampers and delays the work.

► Discontinue chopping trees along the bank. This is illegal and will ruin the finished job. Those who cut down trees could be subject to property damage legal action.

As the effort stands now, work is centered on the creek from the Evans St. bridge, near Henkel's Barber Shop, around behind the swimming pool and Little League diamond, just past the Maumee St. bridge.

Gradually, the job will expand upstream to the N. Union St. bridge, just south of St. Elizabeth's Church.

When finally completed, the creek will be cleaned all the way west to the Kroger Store area.

Marda Gene Duncan's

THROUGH MY WINDOW

SOMETHING TO CROW ABOUT

It was a beatiful morning, the kind which is a most welcome forerunner of the delightful spring days soon to come, and I must confess to being lazy.

Before sitting up to start the work of the day I had my bed pulled down in front of the window and prepared to spend a few minutes just looking out and enjoying the view.

A gentle wind was teasing the trees and their still leafless limbs gracefully swayed against the background of a clear blue sky.

Nothing much was happening birdwise until a trio of crows came lazily flapping into view. In a twinkling, as they settled down on one of the big limbs of Marsh's elm tree, the idea for this week's article came to mind.

As the big birds sat huddled together, no one who had enjoyed Lois Service's English Lit class could have thought of anything but the three witches in Shakespeare's "Macbeth."

It took no imagination at all to hear the crow chanting, "Double, double, toil and trouble; Fire burn and cauldron bubble."

Oh, the entire article was writing itself when, from somewhere across the creek, came an unwanted and uninvited idea killer. A fourth crow joined my evil looking threesome and suddenly the witches were gone and there were merely four big crows sitting in a tree.

So it is that sometimes ideas come fast and are gone even faster.

☆

I SUPPOSE one's attitude toward crows is greatly influenced by the nature of the contact one has had with them.

Farmers whose corn fields are raided or back yard gardners who fight the same battle quite naturally have strong feelings.

On the other hand, a person who has been entertained by the antics of a pet crow would undoubtedly hold the opposite point of view.

Actually, we belong to neither, class, but if sides must be taken I suppose we tend to lean toward the latter.

Their loud coarse voices rasping out the distinctive "caw, caw, caw" can be quite exciting and their big size and jet black color demand attention.

Although not regulars, we often see crows strutting up and down the creek bank and the bold cocky impudence they seem to personify is good for many chuckles.

The pro and con debate is noticable in our bird books, in fact it often occupies most of the space alloted to these birds.

Quoting from one of John Kieran's books, "The 'black crow' is all black—wings, body, head, feet and beak—and some persons go on to say that it has a disposition to match its color."

But Henry Ward Beecher, commenting on the birds remarkable intelligence, maintains, "that if men wore feathers and wings a very few of them would be clever enough to be crows."

As we said before, it's all a matter of opinion and depends upon how recently your corn patch has been stripped.

☆

ONE THING every one agrees upon is the crow's affinity for stealing. They are regular kleptomaniacs.

I have a cousin, who once had a pet crow and he can spend hours telling the things his bird stole. Anything bright or shiny was irresistible — nothing the bird could carry away was safe and it was surprising what large articles he could manage.

Admittedly these birds do have some regrettable dietary preferences— corn they do eat, but they are not nearly the villainous nest robbers some people say.

To their credit are the many bugs, grass-hoppers and beetles which during the summer months, are the mainstays on their bill of fare.

Well, it does seem that even though the Shakespeare's witches idea didn't work out, we found something to crow about anyway.

TOM RIORDAN'S Long AND Short

Just as Tecumseh folks had safely tucked away overcoats and long johns, winter arrived again.

There were a lot of surprised faces Sunday morning peering out of windows at a full-blown blizzard.

This was difficult to take, especially after a sunny Saturday, during which temperatures ranged in the 70's.

Will we ever learn that Michigan is not only a Water Wonderland, but a land that makes you wonder?

☆

Candidates for the Tecumseh High golf squad were busy making practice drives last week under the watchful eye of Coach Doug Murdock.

A little gallery of townsfolks gathered, including Charley Butler.

Dave Blanden, son of Dr. M. R. Blanden, took a terrific swing. The ball shot straight down the middle. Suddenly it began to bend to the right, finally slicing badly into an adjoining fairway.

There was silence.

Charley, who is a constant golfing companion of Dave's dad, commented: "Dave, there's nothing you can do about that. It's hereditary."

☆

The City Planning Commission took a real lambasting in "Our Readers Write" column last week

Even though your editors were not in accord with some of the implications, our policy is that if someone has an opinion he or she wishes to express in public, we'll print it.

For the record, the Planning Commission was established eight years ago by the City Council.

During those years, the commission has spent hundreds of hours attempting to bring to Tecumseh an over-all orderly arrangement of residential, business and industrial sections.

This is a mighty tough job in a community—and this includes every town in Michigan—that has "grewed like Topsy."

The Council hired Jim Smith to draw up a Master Plan and he works closely with the commission.

No one paid much heed to the folks helping to fashion a Master Plan for the city, until a few weeks ago when the one-way street proposal went into the wringer.

Suddenly, everyone was Master Plan conscious. The public implication was "how come everything has been so secret."

It hasn't.

Rather, folks didn't bother to read about the Plan (there have been dozens of stories in The Herald over the years) or go to any of the regular commission meetings.

Members of the planning group serve without any compensation. When the commission was appointed, the sum of $25 was alloted for mailing expenses.

Mr. Smith is being paid by the Council for his labor, which has run into thousands of hours.

I'm not arguing the one-way street plan here, simply pointing out that the commission has worked long and hard for you and the future of the community.

☆

There's going to be a National Labor Relations Board election at Clinton Engines April 25.

The CIO would like once again to become the plant union.

Clinton employees were CIO affiliated seven years ago when the shop was closed down and all operations moved to Iowa, where there now are about 1,500 employed.

The firm, still owning and paying taxes on property in the nearby community, re-opened in Clinton several years back.

A local union, similar to the United Products Workers Union in Tecumseh, was established.

Now, there are 530 jobs at the Clinton plant, including 200 which were established when a portion of the Iowa operation was returned last fall.

The Clinton NLRB vote will be interesting to watch.

Perry Cook would like to make some clarifying statements about the story which reported his firm filing bankruptcy in last week's Herald.

The corporation, which was run by Mr. Cook, but owned jointly by him and several others, entered the proceedings.

Before this was done, he borrowed $3,086.36 on a personal

On the job as carrier on Post Office Rural Route 1 is Lyle Hayford.

Mr. Hayford's appointment was effective last Saturday.

He entered the postal service as a substitute carrier on city Route 1 in May, 1955, and was appointed regular city carrier on that route in May, 1958.

Mr. Hayford's appointment is to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Percy Bowen on July 31, 1960.

Mr. Hayford spent six years in the army, with 16 months in Korea. He was awarded the Combat Infantry Badge, two battle stars and a commendation ribbon, among other awards.

The Hayford residence is at 103 Cairns St. Mr. Hayford and his wife, Ruth, have three sons, Mark, 5½, Michael, 4, and Marvin, 15 months.

Mayor Is Attending

Mayor and Mrs. Harold Easton will attend the Mayors Conference in Washington, D. C., May 5.

The all-day session will include meetings with top administrators of such federal programs as community facilities, water and sewage treatment, urban renewal, hospital construction, airport construction, small business and defense procurement, area redevelopment, rural development and the highway program.

Senator Philip A. Hart said in a press release that Michigan cities and communities should have full knowledge of federal programs in order to have equal access to them.

Mr. Hart says, "We aren't trying to sell anyone anything. Rather I have asked the mayors to come to learn what the programs of the new administration will be and have invited them to bring their problems with them to discuss with these officials."

General Promoted

MAJ.-GEN. WEBSTER ANDERSON

Maj.-Gen. Webster Anderson a Tecumseh native and son of Mrs. R. K. Anderson, has been nominated Quartermaster General of the Army.

The nomination, announced Friday by President John F. Kennedy, now goes to the U. S. Senate for confirmation.

Credited with saving millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money through his administration of the Philadelphia Quartermaster Center, Gen. Anderson, on confirmation of his appointment, will move to Washington, D. C.

A bulletin released by the Philadelphia center reports:

"Under the single manager concept, he has reduced inventories by a half-million dollars and at the same time dramatically improved supply effectiveness.

"He has developed a model distribution system, resulting in the reduction of storage space, improved personnel requirements and the elimination of costly overhead.

"These programs have saved an additional 16 million of the taxpayers' dollars."

The general was graduated from Tecumseh High School before attending West Point, from which he was graduated in 1928. He has been in the Army since then, serving in the European Theater during World War II, among other assignments.

General and Mrs. Anderson, have one daughter, Mrs. Robert B. Hughes, following in the military tradition by marrying an officer. Captain and Mrs. Hughes are living in Fulda, Germany, where he is stationed.

General Anderson has a brother, Colonel John H. Anderson West Point 34 who is now retired and living in Dennison, Texas.

The general plans to visit several days in Tecumseh, beginning April 28. It will be his first trip here since last spring.

Share Bounty On 26 Fox Pups

Three young Tipton boys will share in the bounty on 26 red fox pups.

Bing Crosby, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crosby, and two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Latham Dewey, Danny, 13, and John, 10, shared in the luck.

Mr. Crosby and the boys had been watching several fox dens for some time. Mr. Crosby and Danny Friday found one den not being used, but fox pups playing near the entrance of another. Each shot one pup before they could re-enter the den.

Danny kept watch on the den while Frank ran for shovels.

They dug for about 1½ hours. One section of the den had eight pups and the other 15.

While digging they uncovered remains of chickens, pheasants, rabbits, rats and birds.

That evening a neighbor, Willis Davenport, told them they could dig up a den he had on his farm.

So Saturday morning with great expectations the boys and their fathers went to look at the den. As they approached the area they saw at a distance the mother fox and three pups. As soon as the mother saw them she darted into the nearby woods and the pups into the den.

After digging several holes over a distance of 33 feet and at spots over 6 feet deep — about four hours work—they recovered three pups.

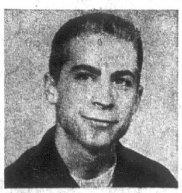
Carl Wilt Is Elected State Church Post

Carl Wilt, Tecumseh High School junior, Sunday was unanimously elected moderator of the United Presbyterian Youth, Lansing Presbytery, heading the slate of ten officers.

This action was taken at the annual spring rally in Marshall.

Candidates for the office were selected on a basis of leadership ability as demonstrated in school and church activities, as well as an expressed interest for the job.

As moderator, Carl will represent this Presbytery at Synod Youth Assembly in Kalamazoo, April 28, 29 and 30.



CARL WILT

During the meeting the new bi-laws to the constitution were adopted.

Janice Hall, Tom Dickinson and Bruce King have been chosen delegates from the local group to the Kalamazoo meeting.

Fifteen members of the local senior high fellowship braved the snowstorm Sunday to go to the rally.

The Rev. Dr. Henry Kuizenga of Ann Arbor was the convocation speaker.

His theme, "Youth Ministry in Evangelism," challenged the 250 young people to be themselves in fulfilling the mission of the church.

His scripture reading was from Matthew 10:25, "It is enough for the disciple to be like his teacher and the servant to be like his master."

An installation service for the new officers was incorporated into the closing worship by the Rev. Douglas Trout of Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, advisors, accompanied the young people from here and were among the discussion group leaders during the afternoon.

Citizens Group to Promote Issue

A citizens committee has been organized to promote the Tecumseh schools and will participate actively in the forthcoming four-mill issue.

Any interested resident may join the group by calling HA 3-2307.

Policemen's Ball Benefits Needy, Kids

Prizes and a floor show are planned for the Policemen's Benefit Ball April 22 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Tecumseh Country Club.

The floor show is being given by the Dance Club of America.

Tickest may be purchased from any Tecumseh policeman or at the door.

Cal Damon's orchestra will furnish the music.

George Kempf, chairman, said proceeds will be used for youth activities, for needy families and children at Christmas time. If it is successful, he added, the ball will be made an annual affair.

Kiwanians Bring Light To Finances

Tecumseh Kiwanians are seeing the light. Or rather, the lights.

The Board of Directors has approved an order for 4,320 Solar light bulbs, which will be sold in the Tecumseh area to help provide funds for the many youth and civic activities in which the club is engaged.

The bulbs, with a life expectancy 35% longer than ordinary bulbs, will be sold in packages of six 60, 75 and 100-watt units for $1.50 donations to the club.

The shipment is expected in two weeks, after which the club will announce its distribution plans.

Speakers Take Firsts In District

Michael Rohrer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rohrer, and Arthur Collingsworth won first places Friday in a speech contest in Milan.

Michael won first place in interpretative reading and Arthur, first in extemporaneous speech.

They will go to the regional competition May 9. Ten students from Tecumseh participated in the contest among five schools, Milan, Ypsilanti Lincoln, Grosse Isle, Flat Rock and Tecumseh.

Folks Not Informed on Proposal

By JIM LINCOLN

One-way streets came under discussion Monday night at the Council meeting with architect Jim Smith and John Zeigler, president of the Planning Commission, attending the session.

Mr. Smith, in charge of the making the Master Plan, suggested that people opposing one-way streets are not aware that changes would not be made for years to come.

He said, that under most rapid growth, Pottawatamie probably would not be one-way for at least 15 years.

In regards to last week's opposition, Ziegler said one-way streets are still under consideration. He feels some of the people are misinformed.

Both hoped that the people would acquaint themselves with the entire master plan and not just one phase.

The Tecumseh architect informed city officials that other solutions had been checked out and proved to be economically unsound.

He also stated that in 15 years other solutions might arise and be favorable.

Another meeting with a representative of the state highway department is planned. The state has approved the Master Plan's recommendation for one-way streets on Logan and Pottawatamie.

Most of the discussion centered over last week's citizens-Planning Commission meeting where over 100 local residents voiced opposition to changing the streets.

☆

CITY ATTORNEY James Beardsley and Don Murphy, Chamber Secretary told councilmen that government representatives have apparently made final checks on the post office building site here.

The site and general plans for location and construction materials and architecture have been approved. Submission of specific plans and request for bids are expected within the next few weeks.

☆

COUNCIL approved leasing two police cars from Schneider Bros. Garage for the next fiscal year.

Two bids, Schneider's for $150 per car per month and E. L. Simmons Inc., for $145 per month, were received.

Police chief George Kilbourn, when questioned about leasing cars last year from Schneider's, said the service and performance of the cars had worked out well.

☆

IN OTHER action, Council:

► Appointed councilman Terry Mackin to succeed Carl Lamb on the Parks and Recreation Board.

► Appointed Jack Colson as marshal of the day for the Memorial Day parade.

► Dropped plans for a city-wide liability insurance policy.

► Scheduled public hearing for 1961-62 budget on May 1 at 8 p.m.

► Delayed action on a petition for a water main between S. Union and S. Evans on Russell Rd.

► Referred back to the Planning Commission a request from the Pythian Sisters for building expansion.

► Authorized the city attorney to contact schools about taking back the park area across from Central school and cleaning it up. The city originally leased the area to the schools.

► Approved Tecumseh Community Foundation's request that Mr. Murphy be its representative on the Parks and Recreation Board.

Mrs. Joseph Galazzi was to serve, but the organization's by-laws prohibit its officers from holding a position on a board, which receive funds from the Foundation.

Ads in Paper Help Cut Food Costs

ANN ARBOR — Shopping newspaper ads for food bargains is one method to reduce family food costs recommended by a dietitian at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Miss Delores Highgate of the U of M Nutrition Clinic says, "Income, family size and food preferences help determine how much a family should spend for food. Nevertheless, there are several money-saving principles which everyone can heed."

Before you go to the store, says Miss Highgate, plan your menus and make up a marking list, taking into consideration the "specials" offered in the newspaper.

Then shop in person, she recommends, so you can further compare the prices and quality of food. Compare the brands, labels and weight of foods to the price.

To make a sizeable dent in food costs, the U of M specialist suggests you switch to such less expensive foods as milk and cheese, dried beans and peas, whole grains and enriched products. Also look for fish, liver and other variety meats, but avoid those with gristle, fat and bone.

How you prepare food in the kitchen can also help or cripple a food budget, Miss Highgate says. "Be sure to use accurate measurements and follow reliable recipes. These are basic guides in getting the most out of your food dollar.

"In addition, you can use the water left over from cooking vegetables—to save the vitamins which might otherwise be lost—and use that water in sauces and gravies.

"Wise food management," she says, "is a complex task whether you are running a restaurant or planning a family dinner. The goal is to produce meals that taste and look good, are properly nutritious for individual needs, and which fit the family budget."

School Budget Cuts Hit Many Departments

By MARJORIE COMFORT

When the Tecumseh Board of Education cut its budget recently, it was making cuts in on already-trimmed expenses.

The board has now made its second series of cuts. The first were made before the current school year opened, and were the result of last July's millage defeat.

Compared with the 1959-'60 budget, current expenses are lower in the areas of maintenance, plant operation, capital outlay, auxiliary services, loan repayments and administration.

The only areas which are taking more money this year are instruction — teacher salaries and classroom supplies—and the fixed charges, such as interest payments.

But the amount instruction expenses rose more than cancelled out the cuts in other areas, leaving the district with a budget higher than last year's.

Since the school district's income also dropped this year, the red-ink spending went up—even with the cuts which were made.

The schools got one break this year. Because of the general slowdown in business and industry in the area, the pupil enrollment grew much less than had been expected. Only 77 children were added this year, although last spring the school administration was expecting around 225.

This meant that fewer teachers than expected had to be hired. Also, the district was able to get by without using Sutton School, which allowed some cuts in operation of the school buildings.

Superintendent James McDowell lists cuts of $32,727.42 made between the time the budget was set up in January, 1960, and the present time. These are:

ADMINISTRATION: By delaying purchase of supplies and trimming other expenses the budget was cut $2,980. Some of this will have to be made up later.

For instance, in the past several hundred teacher contract forms have been purchased at a time, to be used over a period of several years.

This year, the supply is being exhausted, with only enough forms on hand for current use.

INSTRUCTION: Cuts totaling $12,397.42 were made. Of this, $12,152 was realized by not having to hire several teachers.

Cutting hours of school clerks has totaled $117, and cutting hours at the public library accounted for $128.42.

OPERATION OF PLANT: This area was cut $8,350. The wages of a full-time worker and a part-time worker not hired accounted for $6,000.

Fuel and utilities saved, mostly by not opening Sutton School, cut the budget $2,250 and miscellaneous items were cut for another $100.

MAINTENANCE OF SCHOOL PLANT: By eliminating the "preventive" maintenance, the "stitch in time which saves nine," some $500 was cut.

FIXED CHARGES: This area was cut $3,500 from the original budget. A re-evaluation of the school insurance program—fire, vandalism, theft, vehicle and all—brought a cut of $1,000 from the expected cost.

By re-investing some bond millage tax money already collected, the school district had to pay out $2,500 less than expected in interest.

AUXILIARY SERVICES. This field was cut by $5,000. Of this, $1,500 came out of the recreation budget, and $3,500 from the health services.

The latter cut was made possible by the closing of the Lenawee County branch of the Huron Valley Child Guidance Center, which the schools helped support, and by the fact that the school cafeteria is taking in as much money as it is spending, and so is running at no cost to the school district.

These cuts, totaling $32,727.42, are in effect during the current school year. The board also has made cuts of $67,423 in the budget for the 1961-'62 school year. This results in a total amount cut of $100,150.42.

Current plans call for restoring $28,000 of these cuts if the millage is passed by voters next month.

Seeking Candidates

The United States Coast Guard is seeking applications from qualified young men of military age who wish to serve in the regular Coast Guard.

The enlistment period is 4-years with 12 weeks of basic training at either the New Jersey or California Training Stations whichever the enlistee desires.

Upon completion of training, after a period of "boot" leave, enlistee either attend one of the many selective service schools for further advanced technical training or they are immediately assigned to a Coast Guard ship or station.

The Coast Guard being the smallest branch of the military services, is well known for its maintenance of navigational aids, port security, weather and ice patrols, law enforcement, life saving and many other important humanitarian services.

An excellent opportunity awaits young men in this service that offers action, adventure, education and security with retirement that cannot be equaled.

Interested applicants may either call, write or visit the Main Coast Guard Recruiting Station, Room 409, Federal Building, Detroit 26, Mich. for particulars.

Scouts Plan Gal-a-Rama

The Tecumseh Neighborhood of the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council is planning a Gal-a-Rama at the Products Union Hall June 3 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

This is the first event of this kind that the Girl Scouts have attempted.

Each troop will have a booth to depict one of the 11 fields of Scouting so that the public may have an insight as to how badge work is accomplished.

"Girl scouts define their special interests through badges," said Mrs. Creger, neighborhood president.

She also said, "In gratitude to the people who gave so generously that Tecumseh Scouts might become members of the Irish Hills Council, the neighborhood would like to show the public what they are doing."

The Brownies will display arts and crafts on the stage, with literature, dramatics, music and dancing presented by the troops at different hours of the day.

The Senior Scouts will operate a cotton candy booth and a snack bar. They'll also stage a bake sale to earn money to be used for the Senior Round-Up and for other trips.

The Senior Girl Scout Troop 112, led by Mrs. Orville Bishop, will graduate from 10 years of Scouting at the evening service to close the festivities.

Editorial Opposes School Aid

The Rev. K. F. Koeplin read an editorial from "Christianity Today" opposing Federal Aid to parochial schools to members of the Grace Lutheran Church Ladies Aid Society April 12.

It was decided that the Society will serve a banquet for Pioneer Boys and Girls and their parents May 24 and also to hold a work meeting to clean the church Tuesday and Wednesday.

The committee in charge of the meeting was Mrs. A. J. Silberhorn, Mrs. George Heeman, Mrs. Fred Ward and Mrs. Elvin Fretwell.

The Rev. Koeplin spent April 17 and 18 at a pastoral conference at Apostle's Lutheran Church in Toledo.

OPEN DAILY 2 TO 9 P.M. SATURDAY 11 A.M. TO 6 P.M.

THE SECRET OF THE KINGDOM by Mika Waltari — Against the background of the strife-torn land of Judea two thousand years ago, the author has written a fascinating novel. A young Roman follows a quest for the meaning of his life through all parts of Jerusalem and into contact with men and women of all stations of life who had known the remarkable Jesus of Nazareth.

THE EMPTY SHRINE by William Barrett — Whether little Valerie Rivard actually had a vision of the Virgin Mary that summer's day remained a mystery; but her experience touched the lives of many in the Canadian community on the narrow island in the St. Lawrence River.

THE SANDS OF KALAHRI by William Mulvihill — To the desert came the plane — to the immeasurable wastes of Africa. And by the dawn of the second day, after the night storm, the hours of flight, the crash, the day of waiting, the death of Detjens; six remained alone with only themselves and the wreckage and the black mountain on the horizon for company.

A SENSE OF VALUES by Sloan Wilson — This is the record of a man who has struggled through the last forty years of history. In small part it is a war story. In larger part it is a study of success in 1960 — the way one man won it, and the impact of money and publicity on an entire family.

THE AFFAIR by C. P. Snow — A great English university is the scene of this new novel and the story revolves around a case of scientific fraud. Charged with this, a young scientist has been dismissed from his academic post; and with the revelation that he may, after all, be innocent, the Affair makes a moral and political crisis which splits the college from top to bottom.

Tip for Mom

If you stack items in your cupboard, stack only like articles together, advises Ruth Kettunen, Michigan State University.

Italian Street Fair Is Next for Youth

Seventeen attended the Youth Fellowship meeting Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church when Mrs. Anna Grigg conducted a devotional period, "Prayer of a Young Teen."

Two film strips were shown.

An association talent night is being planned at Shelton Park, O. April 29.

Mishaps Help Lose Ball Game

Base on balls and errors led to the second defeat of the season for the Tecumseh baseball nine last Friday at Flat Rock, 6-3.

The Indians took the lead in the first inning when Clarence Campanois smacked a home run with Tim Sisson aboard.

MICHIGAN IS AGRICULTURE

Michigan is rich in food stuffs. In fact, no state is richer and this is another reason Michigan ranks high in industrial opportunities.

By the variety and volume of its agricultural production, Michigan fills the family table and the pantry shelves more completely than any other state. Michigan is among the first 10 states in 30 agricultural commodities, and of course stands first in several of these.

Michigan is a rapidly advancing leader in food research — an ideal location for the research laboratories of nearly all food processors.

Where foods are produced, foods are processed. Michigan has many food processing industries and offers opportunities for many more.

A state which is built on such a sturdy and steady agricultural foundation is a good place in which to live and work and do business. That's Michigan.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your own comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together, we can assure a greater future for all of us.

MICHIGAN IS EVERYTHING FOR INDUSTRY

Banquet Will Be on May 13

Mrs. Edna Codling entertained members of the Mable Lawrence Circle of the Methodist Church April 17, when Mrs. Ena Whaley conducted the devotions.

The Mother-Daughter banquet for May 13 discussed.

Mrs. Duane Steele, program leader, introduced her grandfather, the Rev. Charles Bragg of Dundee, who spoke on "Church Played in Methodist Union."

Salad, nuts, mints and coffee were served to 32 members and guests by Mrs. Joseph Poley and Mrs. Clyde Smith.

A letter was read from Mrs. Leslie Bennett, telling of the planned move to St. Clair Shores for the Bennett family.

She expressed gratitude for the understanding of the group in the matter of her non-attendance at meetings.

Church Notes

Hope Aided in Reading

How hope is strengthened through spiritual understanding of the Bible will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings from the Bible in the lesson-sermon on "Probation after Death" will include this passage from Romans: "For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope."

Witnesses Minister Has Course

Kenneth Ball, presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, returned home last week-end from ministerial refresher school at South Lansing, N.Y.

Mr. Ball said refresher schools now operating in United States, England, France, Australia and several other countries will continue to operate until all the overseers of 21,000 congregations through-out the world have been served.

During the four weeks Mr. Ball was at school such subjects as Bible doctrine, congregation meetings, public ministry and congregation oversight were given attention.

Minister's Father Is Speaker

Tecumseh Methodist Church will have as speaker on Sunday at 10, the Rev. C. E. Wittrup of Le Sueur, Minn.

The Rev. Wittrup is a retired member of the Minnesota Conference of the Methodist Church and is the father of Rev. Allen Wittrup, the local pastor.

On Wednesday evening, April 26 at 8, Dr. Edwin Streiker, district superintendent of the Ann Arbor District will conduct the Fourth Quarterly Conference in the Social Hall.

Reports will be given of all the organizations of the church, and officers elected for the new year.

WITH TECUMSEH TEENS

The Science Club presented "Previews of Progress" by General Motors April 5, with Bill Hein and John Belahlavek, public relations representatives, in charge.

Synthetic rubber was made from an organic compound combined with a sodium compound catalyst.

Mr. Heiff gave us his version of the Twelfth Street Rag using microwaves. By waves and motions of his hands, he was able to create an interesting effect.

A model car without wheels was demonstrated. This craft and three men can be supported by a five horse power motor and can travel over ground or water.

Some of the unusual problems encountered would be braking, effects of wind, changes in grade and expense at more than a few feet above the ground.

Sunshine may be a source of power, which can run cars. This was demonstrated by a model with eight-photo electric cells.

Some of the properties of a gyroscope were demonstrated by Tom Simmons. This instrument may serve as a compass to navigate accurately in outer space.

Three new molecules, which do not occur in nature, have been developed. Insulation material and crash pads can be made from foam plastic.

In three weeks, pure synthetic mica can be made pure. Pyroceram, which is lighter than aluminum and harder than steel, can withstand the high temperatures of space travel is used in the nose of cones of guided missiles.

✓

Saturday the seniors are leaving for Washington D.C. where they will visit the nation's capitol.

While staying at the Woodner Hotel the group will tour Arlington National Cemetery, Mount Vernon, Washington National Monument, Lincoln, Memorial, Smithsonian Institute, Congressional Library, and many other interesting places.

Midsemester exams were April 10, 11 and 12. They are over, leaving only 43 school days until graduation and the Honor's Assembly.

Local Ladies Attend Course

Mrs. Joseph Galazzi, Mrs. Robert Murray, Mrs. Orrie Gilbert, Mrs. James Beardsley and Mrs. Carlton Cook attended the course in Landscape Design recently at the University of Michigan.

Another two-day session will be held October 11 and 12.

Hand of Fellowship Is Extended to 17

Seventeen were extended the right hand of fellowship Easter morning during the worship service at the First Baptist Church.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Royal Welch, Mrs. Marvin Schroeder and son, Mark, E. C. Topps, Mrs. Robert Montgomery and son, Michael, Mrs. Harold Kohler, Virginia Reasoner and Calvin, Cheryl and Camilla Rickard.

Others included Terry Packard, Michael Cook, Carol Ann Kohler, Betty Lou Andrews and Marta Puffer.

During the service Mrs. James Danforth and Mrs. Lee Prettyman sang a duet, "The Savior Liveth" and the choir sang the anthem, "Alleluia, Christ is Risen," directed by Professor Blaine Ballard.

Professor Ballard is directing a play for the Eastern Michigan University Players, thus making it necessary for choir rehearsals to begin at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday evening rather than at 7.

There will be no rehearsal on May 10.

The primary department of the church school under the direction of Mrs. Anna Grigg presented an Easter program April 2 in the Youth Houses, which was filled with parents and friends and the students.

Dean Kirkland was the announcer. Nineteen students were presented with perfect attendance awards by Mrs. Grigg.

Korths Entertain Jolly Jokers Club

Members of the Jolly Jokers spent an enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Korth recently.

Games were played with high prize presented to Mrs. Rhae Henkel and Mrs. Bert Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Goodwin won low prize.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Next meeting will be held at the Goodwin home.

"No Streaks or Spotting on Milking Equipment"
Says ART MUNSON

"Can't Operate without Soft Water"

"Keeping modern, stainless steel equipment in spic-and-span order while milking 40 Holsteins every day is a job made easier with soft water," reports Art Munson of Tipton Hwy. Mr. Munson farms the Ray Hess spread and handles the dairy herd on shares. A rugged, ex-Marine for eight years, Art knows the value of 100% cleanliness in making equipment operate at top efficiency. "Our water comes from a deep well with a high content of iron," he explains. "Without soft water, the milkers and 400-gallon stainless steel tank would be streaked and spotted. Another point, soft water cuts our soap bills in half."

Rena Vanderpool Weds Don Bailey

Rena Rose Vanderpool and Donald Bailey were united in marriage by the Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins in a double-ring ceremony Saturday morning at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rebottaro of 6901 Centennial Rd. and Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Bailey of Station Rd., Blissfield.

White gladioli and pompoms filled the altar vases for the wedding.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father in a sheath dress of delicate pink silk with a lace overskirt. She wore a matching seed pearl hat with shoulder length veil and carried a white orchid bouquet.

She wore pearl necklace and earrings, the gift from the groom.

"Children who are ready for kindergarten must have reached the age of five years by December 1, 1961.

"Parents should consider seriously of children whose birthdays are later than September 1, 1961.

"Many children that are three months younger are slow to adjust to school. Therefore your child does better if they have reached the age of five by September 1.

"It is also important that you bring your child's birth certificate with you when you register your child.

"We wish to extend an invitation to the parents to bring your child in to pre-registration with you. Feel free to contact the school for further details.

"The registration is important at this time because of scheduling problems, transportation and organizing our kindergarten program for the coming year," he concludes.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Silence, Please!

Cap Edwards' little boy started taking saxophone lessons a few weeks ago, and they tell me the noise on Upper Main Street was pretty bad.

Then, one afternoon, the Edwards' house was quiet again, and Mrs. Jackson next door figured the boy must have given up tooting his horn. Next time she saw Sis Edwards she asked her about it.

"Well," Sis said, "we knew that racket must be driving you folks crazy. So Cap got a soundproof telephone booth from the phone company second-hand. Junior practices in it to his heart's content. Even I don't have to hear him!"

From where I sit, Cap is living up to one of our oldest American principles — respect for a neighbor's privacy and feelings. You can be sure a thoughtful man like this never tries to force his opinions and preferences on anyone. He's the sort of man who'll go out of his way to have a bottle of beer ready to serve his guests even though he may not prefer beer himself. We can all learn a "lesson" in tolerance from Cap's phone booth.

Some light on a dark subject

Ever wonder why some pills come in clear, transparent bottles, while others hide behind brown or dark-green glass? It's no accident, but by design. Why . . . ? Simple daylight can reduce the potency of some medications. Consider how sunshine fades a rayon print, for instance. Thus, where needed, we use dark bottles, not to hide anything, but to preserve the medical effectiveness of the drug your physician prescribed for you. This is but one of many precautionary measures that are taken to provide you with the best in pharmaceutical service.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By LOUIE CIAVONE

The Student Council Dance was held on Saturday in the gymnasium.

The theme of the dance was "Spanish Harlem," and the decorations were based on a Latin-American motif.

Girls for the dance came from St. Mary's Academy in Monroe.

The dance was originally scheduled for a date before Lent, and was to be entitled Mardi Gras.

But complications arose when the basketball team had to use the gym the day before the dance was to be held, and the event was postponed.

√

The concert band of St. Edward High School in Lakewood, O. under the direction of Brother Robert Siegel, CSC, will play a short concert in the Boysville gym at 11 a.m. on Saturday, April 29.

Their appearance is part of an exchange tour between the St. Edward band and that of Detroit Catholic Central.

√

The Boysville Concert Band and Glee Club will present their annual Spring Concert on Sunday afternoon, April 30, at 2:30 in the Boysville Gymnasium.

The concert will feature some original numbers plus vocal solos and ensembles.

It is open to the general public.

√

The Boysville Baseball nine split a doubleheader with St. Charles of Coldwater April 8 in Coldwater.

The Cougars of St. Charles won the first game, 1-0, even though Boysville's Rich Michniak pitched a one-hitter for the Knights, striking out 10.

Boysville won the second game, 3-2, with Ken Snooks on the mound.

He allowed two hits and both runs in the first inning, then tightened up and held the Cougars at bay.

The Knights were scheduled to play Adrian CC in their first league game of the season, but snow and rain rendered the field more fit for boat racing than baseball, so the game was postponed.

√

The Boysville trackmen won their first two meets. Both were run at the Tecumseh track.

In the first, the Knights defeated league rival Adrian CC, 75½-33½, taking all first places except in the high jump and broad jump.

The meet was run on Tuesday, April 11.

On Friday, the Knights raced past the Deerfield Minute Men, 90-19.

Knight runners took all first places in the meet.

Outstanding in the meet was Pat Collins' running the 440-yard dash in 55.2.

The Boysville half-mile and mile relay teams are doing some fast work, having averaged 1:41.8 in the half-mile, and 4 minutes in the mile.

Choristers To Present Concert

The annual spring concert of the Cecilian Choristers of Siena Heights College in Adrian will be held Sunday, April 30, at 3 p.m. at Walsh Hall.

Dr. Harry Robert Wilson will be the guest conductor and one of the selections featured will be a song arranged for women's voices by him and written by Bizet, "Open Thy Heart."

Folk songs in Latin, Spanish, French and German will be presented, as well as selections from Leonard Bernstein's "West Side Story" and Brahm's Love Songs.

The Adrian Community orchestra will also participate in the concert.

Marcia Kunkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kunkle, is one of the Choristers.

5 Tables Arranged for Rebekah Cards

Five tables were arranged for cards at the Rebekah party at the Odd Fellow Hall Saturday evening.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Grace Coffey, Mrs. Orin Beevers, Mrs. C. C. Richard and Mrs. Roy Allshouse.

Refreshment were served by Mrs. R. C. Stauffer and comittee.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

APRIL SHOWERS

"April showers bring May flowers."

Sunday, April 9, it showered all day long—the only trouble being the showers were not rain, but snow. How ridiculous, the Sunday after Easter to have an honest-to-gosh snow storm.

Saturday we had laughed at the juncos and wondered why they were still around. Admittedly, for the past month or so, mean little flurries of wind-driven snow seemed to be almost daily occurences, but when Saturday dawned clear and bright, I thought maybe the worst was over.

By the calendar, spring has been here a long time, weatherwise it has to catch up soon. Such were our thoughts Saturday as we laughed at the juncos.

Sunday however, the tables were turned and the juncos laughed at us. Our April showers were of white rain—Mother Nature, what gives?

☆

EVEN HAD there been no snow the 9th would have been ringed in red on our bird calendar. Early that morning, just after the drapes had been pulled, we heard a loud harsh rattle.

Mom raced to the window and sure enough, clinging to a dead limb which hangs over the creek, there was a king-fisher.

Our first of the year Dad had seen him about a week ago and the Snedecors had reported one on the pond, but this was our first.

Even though there were tiny white particles in the air the king-fisher was back — surely spring must be close at hand.

After a leisurely breakfast, I sat up intending to accomplish much. The latest issue of "Audubon Magazine" was on my reading table and although it looked interesting, so much was going on outside.

I must admit my attention was not often directed toward the printed page. juncos, a song sparrow, mourning doves, blue-jays and cardinals were all so very, very busy.

Chick-a-dees, nuthatches, both the hairy and the downey woodpeckers, sparrows, robins and grackles—see what I mean about much activity going on outside?

☆

BY LATE afternoon who was thinking of spring—the ground was covered with snow, the trees bent low under their load of the heavy wet stuff and still it came.

The incongruities of an April snow storm are many. Big, fat, warm-weather type robins sitting on the snow covered top rail of the fence.

Evil eyed grackles coming to the feeder and as they eat, snow collecting the V-shaped groove of their tails; green shoots of tulips, daffodils, even hyacinths and the red buds of peonies poking up through the white carpet; and perhaps the strangest of all, at 7:30 it was still light outside. It was beautiful, too, a black and white fairy-like etching but just imagine seeing it at seven-thirty in the evening.

☆

WE WERE happy to find that in April, even as December, snow brings cardinals and, although it seems impossible, they are more gorgeous against the white back-ground this time of year than in the winter. Their spring goin' courtin' garb is so brilliant now.

We had three pair of the red birds and what a show they put on. The snow looked like winter but the birds acted like spring. The lovely ladies led the now humble males a merry chase.

To see papa cardinal patiently follow his lady friend from one snow-covered limb to another is a strange sight indeed.

Six o'clock and we thought the feeding -tray business about done for the day when oh, how wrong we were.

Mr. Bright Red Boy, the most brilliant of the cardinals, deserted his mate for a few minutes and came calling. What a way to end an exciting day—cardinals have been conspicuously absent from the feeding-tray this year and then to have the brightest of them all come—wow!

So it is that Sunday, April 9, turned ot to be quite a day. Actually Gertrude summed it up quite well when she came in and greeted us not with "Happy Sunday After Easter" but "Merry Christmas."

I don't know how many May flowers our April snow-showers will bring but they certainly brought birds.

But please, Mother Nature, let's see if a few warm sunny days won't bring just as many.

New Hampshire to Paris, Mass to Ball Is Trip

Have you stood on the crest of a hill in San Francisco and seen the narrow network of streets running together?

Have you sat in the Absinthe House in New Orleans and put your head so close to Papa Celestin's trumpet that you could feel the wild free notes of "Tiger Rag" vibrate through your body?

Have the famous "Petite Guignol" puppets laughed you back to the whimsey-world of children?

This vast expanse of experience, taking you from the childish to the mature; from New Hampshire to Paris; from High Mass in Notre Dame to the Artists' Ball in Montmarte is compressed into two hours and 15 minutes of the latest close-in life Cinerama production "Cinerama Holiday."

It is now appearing at the Paramount Theatre, Toledo, O.

Yes, some vitamins are analyzed. Over one-third of the F.D.A. seizures of health products in 1958 were vitamins of "food supplements."

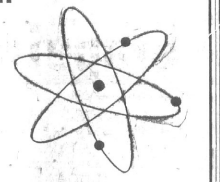
VERSATILE NATURAL GAS

As Modern As The Atomic Age . . .



Exciting things are happening today . . . dramatic developments in Gas appliances and the ever-increasing availability of Natural Gas has brought the "space age" right into the home! When you look around at the modern miracles Natural Gas is performing . . . high-speed cooking units and push-button ovens with automatic controls— refrigerator-freezers that never need defrosting and automatically keep a supply of ice cubes handy—smokeless odorless incinerators that make the garbage can passé'—fully automatic Gas dryers and washer-dryer combinations that make laundering a convenient "anytime, any day, any weather" affair—and water heaters that satisfy "modern living" demands . . . it all sounds futuristic. But no indeed, these household benefits are here today, making the home as modern as a space satellite!

OUR READERS WRITE

Long & Short Squib on 'Operation Abolition' Blasted

DEAR TOM:

I am both surprised and disturbed to read of your feelings in your column Long and Short regarding criticism of the film "Operation Abolition."

I am surprised that you should take such a position and I am disturbed that you wrote the article without giving more thought to the implications of what you have written.

You have a perfect right to disagree with Governor Swainson's cancellation of State Police showing of the film. There is something to be said for both sides as to whether the film should or should not be shown.

However, there is very little to be said in favor of the conclusions that you draw regarding the truth of the film, the type of people protesting the showing of the film and their motivations in protesting it. I strongly disagree with what you said and here is why.

In your article you wrote, "Naturally, there are those Casper Milktoasts who wouldn't step on an ant. These people, egged on by fellow travelers, are protesting the movie. They say it is distorted, not a true picture.

"They claim it's propoganda. I say it's time Americans saw the other side of the coin, learn exactly how the red brethren dupe normally sane Americans, especially young people, into beating the drums for communism."

In writing the above, you do the following disservices to your readers and to the cause of honesty inquiry.

1. You imply that there are no errors in the film, and that it is therefore factual.

2. You imply that because it is anti-communist, it is educationally good and should be shown to Americans.

3. You state that those criticizing the movie are "Casper Milktoasts who would not step on an ant" and are being egged on by fellow travelers, meaning that such criticism is not coming from any intelligent source and should be ignored as valueless.

4. You state that the squealing is being done by communist and that is a good sign.

Each of the above implications and statements simply adds to the confusion and misunderstanding swirling about the film today, and does nothing to further an honest appraisal of the film's value, the work of the House Un-American Activities Committee that brought the film into being and is now promoting it, and the search for truth in fighting communism.

Taking my above four points in order, let's examine them in detail.

1. The film plays fast and loose with the truth to such a degree that it gives a vastly distorted picture of what happened during the HUAC hearings in San Francisco last spring.

These distortions have been documented by Newstape of the hearings, the transcript of the hearing prepared by the HUAC, House Report No. 2228, statements by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI and admitted by Chief Investigator William Wheeler.

When distortion is so well documented and supported by reliable people, even the man who prepared the film, it cannot be passed off as the truth. In fact, in searching for the truth, one might well ask, "To what end does a Congressional Committee so sacrifice the truth for promotion and propaganda?"

If in the struggle against communism we use the lie and the distortion to convince people that communism is wrong, we do not defeat them, we become like them. We have not believed in this country that the end justifies the means. Nor should the HUAC seek to do it now in the fight against communism.

2. Simply because the film is anti-communist does not necessarily indicate that constructive education will result from its showing. Across the country it is being reported that criticisms regarding the distortions in the film are being met by smear tactics and accusations of communism. This is an education, but hardly one in democracy. Rather it is an education in coercion, insinuation, confusion, and dishonesty. This kind of education I can do without.

3. You state that those criticising the film are "Casper Milktoasts" who can't think for themselves and who are being egged on by fellow travelers. May I list some of those critizing the film and some of those who feel the HUAC no longer serves a useful purpose.

Those condeming the film:

The Oklahoma Courier, official weekly of the Oklahoma City—Tulsa Roman Catholic Diocese.

The Catholic Bulletin, official organ of the St. Paul, Minnesota Archdiocese.

The National Council of Churches

Christian Century

The American Civil Liberties Union.

Those believing that the committee has outlived its usefulness:

Washington Post

New York Times

St. Louis Post-Dispatch

American Civil Liberties Union

Christian Century.

I would hardly call these organizations, publications and the vast number of individual leaders across the country who have criticized the film "Casper Milktoasts" or dupes of fellow travelers.

On the contrary, they represent a far greater amount of intelligence and loyalty to truth than evidenced by members of the HUAC.

4. Your statement that "squealing is being done by communist is a good sign" leads me to ask, "What communists are squealing?"

I haven't read of any and I know you are not inferring that any of the above mentioned publications or organizations are communists, for you and I both know that these publications and organizations are honorable and outstanding.

Yet, others do not know this, and might well get the impression from what you wrote that you are suggesting that anyone protesting the film is communistic.

There is much more involved here than antagonism at Governor Swainson for calling a halt to State Police showing of the film. Much, much more. There is:

1. Right of free speech
2. Censorship
3. Questioning of methods used by a Congressional committee
4. Distortion of truth
5. Smearing of innocent people.

None of these can be taken lightly nor dismissed with a few off hand remarks.

In summing up, may I quote from a recent publication regarding the film. "A Committee as important as the HUAC and engaged in the kind of work it is doing has a special responsibility to be an example of honesty and integrity.

The HUAC has had a great deal to say about the deceitfulness and dishonesty of communists. In the movie in question, the narrator refers to the "Lack of respect for truth, which is common practice within the communist propaganda press."

If in the struggle against the communists we become like them, then even if we win we lose. If the truth about communist activity is distorted by dishonest presentation, we run the risk of misjudging the nature of the enemy. We may even deceive ourselves as to who the real enemy is. We will then be aiming at wrong or nonexistent targets."

What I have said in this letter is well documented. If you print this is your Letter to the Editor column, which I hope you will, please put in the entire letter, I know this is asking you to devote a lot of space to one subject, but this is something that needs to be said and considered by every thoughtful person.

Sincerely,
Julian R. Gresham
Minister
First Presbyterian Church

Editor's note: Mr. Gresham is to be commended for his efforts in this regard. I go along with him on much of his letter, but he misses my point.

My argument is not for or against the House Un-American Activities Committee. Goodness knows, I have taken exception to some of its antics, going back to Joe McCarthy.

My point is simply this: American must wake up to the tactics of communism. This film is a fine example of just that.

A hard-core of five or six communists—and not one of them has come forward and cried "libel" at the film—went to San Francisco to "load up" against the hearing.

Their motives carried one theme: lash out at everything that can possibly stall the objectives of world communism. HUAC hearings, of course, are a thorn in the party's side.

Now comes the point of my feeling. Working through "dupes" on the University of California campus, including editors of the campus newspaper, the commies brought together a mob.

These were American kids, who probably felt pretty ashamed of themselves when the whole deal was over.

But for the few days of the hearings, they imagined themselves as Knights on White Chargers, out to lick what they felt was an injustice—the House Un-American Activities group.

But you don't do it by shouting, ranting, raving and creating a riot, all tactics of world communism.

Egged on by the communists, the maniacs tried to overflow the hearing room, turning it into a frenzied, mess in which no orderly business could be conducted.

This was just what the reds wanted.

The young students were duped, they were pawns.

America must be made aware of these tactics, this is my point.

Again, the House committee isn't my concern here. Great publications, as pointed out by Mr. Gresham, have condemner the committee. I do not refute their thinking.

I only am opposed to the way communists "use" otherwise loyal Americans.

"Operation Abolition" may not be perfect, but it depicts this maneuver most graphically.

VOICE of THE HERALD

We Have Two Choices

We've often heard the remark, "Tighten the belt, cut expenses."

The statement in conversation is nearly always aimed directly at the Tecumseh schools, which will ask the voters for four mills next month.

We suggest that voters read carefully the school article written by Marjorie Comfort in this issue of The Herald.

It shows that the administration and board have cut the budget over $70,000. Another $28,000 slash will automatically come if the four-mill levy fails.

These questions arise:

► Is elimination of services the answer to financing our schools?

► Is the delay in purchasing supplies, or reducing maintenance work the answer?

Our schools are getting bigger and bigger. More and more teachers will have to be employed in the future. The old saying that "what was good enough for me is good enough for my youngster" is far from logical.

Youngsters attending our schools should ge given the best education possible, well-rounded, a better education than our generation received.

Why?

The world today is much more complicated. The challenges are far greater. The stakes in the struggle between free land and slave are enormous.

The only way we as parents can assure that our children get the education that they deserve and need is by paying for it — by paying more as inflation pushes costs up and as our school system grows.

The school board has a deficit of $136,000. It will grow unless there's additional millage.

Residents of the Tecumseh School District have two choices:

► Keep cutting the educational program in the schools.

► Pay an additional four mills for an approved elementary and secondary education.

The Hour of Decision will come May 20.

When We Support Schools, We Are Supporting Nation

TO THE EDITORS:

Whether you are a Republican or a Democrat, these lines, "Ask not what your country can do for you. Ask what you can do for your country," have a message for you.

Some of us have forgotten that when we take an interest in and support our schools, we are working for our country.

Our strong country and high standard of living are closely connected with the belief, of this country, in a good education for all our children and not just a favored few.

How can you cut a first grader's school day in half, double his teacher's load and still feel that we are helping our children and our country?

We must all unite, for the sake of our children and our country, and vote YES for the extra mills needed to continue our good educational program.

Can we, in Tecumseh, start cutting our basic education in half, when even in darkest Africa they realize that education is a basic tool necessary for survival?

Can we put our children on the chopping block because of some petty likes or dislikes concerning the school system? Can we afford to treat our children's futures so carelessly?

We must work together and support our schools, realizing that one of the greatest gifts we can give our children is a good education.

Because most of us tend to talk about the bad points of a subject, some of us have forgotten to mention that right now we have a good school system with fine, sincere, hard-working teachers.

Can a thinking person undermine the good things we have, by refusing to consider the decaying that can quickly set in, if we do not support our schools?

The heart and health of a community is closely tied with good schools. Tecumseh would become a classy community, indeed, if we had a ritzy downtown shopping mall and half-day school sessions.

Town leaders, trying to lure new industry and hang onto the old, might find that situation rather difficult to brag about.

I could go on about our need to support our schools, for I have three children whom I love dearly, but this letter is getting too long.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Donna Howard

She Opposes Liquor Ad

TO THE EDITORS:

I sincerely regret to see that your otherwise excellent newspaper has resorted to advertisements for liquor.

This product is known to be the cause of untold misery—particularly broken homes and often fatal and maiming automobile accidents.

The Tecumseh Herald is doing a fine job in trying to stand for what is right and good. Certainly liquor advertisements are not in this category.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Murray Day

Wants Your Help on Bill

TO THE EDITORS:

Fortunately or unfortunately, depending on one's point of view, we have a representative form of government in this country and this state.

Most of the issues and legislation which come before our governing bodies are voted upon by our representatives, not as they themselves believe, but in accordance with the wishes of their constituteunts, we, the people.

So, in order to have them carry out our desires, it is necessary that we let them know what we DO think, and how we wish them to vote when legislation we are interested in is before them for acceptance or rejection.

Last week the Humane Slaughter Bill passed in the Senate by a substantial vote, largely due to the efforts that all of us who are compassionate have put forth in writing to our Senators.

In normal procedure, that bill now goes to the House of Representatives for passage or rejection. We are informed that there will be a powerful lobby there to defeat it, paid by the selfish commercial interests who put the making of an extra dollar or two ahead of the exercise of justice, compassion and mercy.

The only way we can combat this opposition and insure that decency shall prevail is to write to our Representative, Rollo G. Conlin, State Capitol, Lansing, Mich., and also to Rep. Andrew W. Cobb, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, same address, and ask them both to support Senate Bill No. 1015, the Bill to abolish slaughter-house cruelty.

True, this letter writing business is a nuisance and a bother, but it is a small price to pay for the privilege of a good night's sleep with a clear conscience!

Sincerely,
John D. McColl

Street Proposal Not Only Problem

TO THE EDITORS:

Some folks feel distressed about the possibility of one-way streets and a mall in Tecumseh. May I comment on that subject?

If it takes as long to put the Master Plan into effect as it does to get the following, then there is nothing to worry about: an auditorium built in Tecumseh, curb-and-gutter repaired, which was a bad span of cement that started crumbling within a year (five years have passed now), a full-time art teacher in our high school, public rest rooms, safe sidewalks and trees pruned, well-paved streets, full-time services of a school nurse and a visiting nurse, enforcement of the dog ordinance or the noise out of buzz saws and power mowers.

However, I am happy to see our citizens come forward and assert themselves. Let's hear from more people. The Town Hall meetings of other years were not a bad idea.

Sincerely,
Ruth V. Rentschler (Mrs. T.)

'Means Never Justifies End'

TO THE EDITORS:

May I take strong exception to the comments of Mr. Riordan in "The Long and Short of It" in the issue of April 13, concerning the so-called anti-Communist film "Operation Abolition", recently shown in Tecumseh.

The film is under attack by many citizens because of its gross distortions of the events in San Francisco during the House Un-American Activities Committee hearings in San Francisco.

Distortion has even been admitted by the Committee's representatives, who were challenged on the film's accuracy, but the official attitude seems to be that it makes no difference that we tell the truth when we deal with the "untruth" of domestic Communism.

The question is not one of my personally being "soft on Communism," because Communist theology and mine are poles apart, but it is a fundamental moral question, namely, do we want the legitimate aims of our government furthered by deliberate fraud?

The end does not justify the means in Christian moral theology or in Christian democracy.

I am disappointed that Mr. Riordan seems to support this popular, yet shaky thesis in our all-important dispute with Communism.

Yours truly,
(The Rev.) Frank W. Hawthorne

TOM RYORDAN'S Long AND Short

Special arrangements are being made to have a public showing in the city of the controversial film, "Operation Abolition."

It was screened in Tecumseh for members of the Rotary Club about six weeks ago.

Since then the movie has provoked considerable comment all over the nation.

Michigan's Governor Swainson focused attention on the film in our state when he ordered State Police to stop showing it to recruits.

A criticism of the governor's action by the Long & Short three weeks ago brought down a shower of comment locally.

Two more letters from readers, regarding "Operation Abolition", appear in this week's edition.

The film is tentatively slated for a Tecumseh showing Thursday, May 4. There is also a possibility that immediately following, a round-table discussion will be held for those interested in talking about the merits —pro and con—of "Abolition."

☆

Date of the town hall meeting on the four-mill tax levy has been changed to May 15.

This session is being sponsored jointly by Kiwanis, Rotary, Jaycees and Exchange.

A six-man panel, to get the ball rolling and answer questions, will include Jim Austin, Aden Mead, the Rev. B. O. Bashore, Herb Long, Art Eaton and Milton Porter, county superintendent of schools.

Being held in the Tecumseh High School gymnasium public gathering will begin at 8 p.m.

Vote on the issue comes May 20—a Saturday.

☆

If you like reading letters to the editors, you'll have a ball again this week.

We figured that our immediate past editon had hit the peak, but this has been handsomely topped in the current issue.

They're in the second section, beginning with three on page two and continuing to the last page.

Several tickled us and I imagine you can guess which ones.

Being kicked in the teeth is really fun, after one gets used to it. By this I mean the notes which tear us limb from limb.

No matter how hot they get, the letters will be printed.

This newspaper has a firm policy that if a reader will take the time to express an opinion, it should and will get in.

So keep 'em coming.

Two of our more vigorous citizens took a refreshing dip in the River Raisin Tuesday afternoon.

Jim Beardsley and Tom Corkery really didn't intend to open the swim season, but managed to when their canoe flipped.

Mr. Schneider says he'll offer a reward to the person finding his craft, which is believed somewhere between the Blood and Comfort bridges. Call HA 3-4165 or 3-2525.

The reward: one free lesson in the art of canoing.

Music Club Presenting Short Opera

A "grass roots" opera, "Sunday Excursion", was performed for the Tecumseh Music Club April 18 at the home of Mrs. Perry Hayden.

This particular kind of opera has its "roots" in American soil, that is, it is purely American in subject matter and sung in English.

It is of short duration, generally, with most of the scenery and props left to the audience's imagination. The Club did its first such demi-opera, "Monette", two years ago.

"Sunday Excursion" is the story of two couples on a train going back to New Haven from New York after their excursion.

The parts were ably performed by Mrs. Ray Sommers, Mrs. Al Merz, Mrs. Arthur Schwartz, Mrs. Lee Prettyman, and Mrs. John Westgate.

Mrs. Fred Oberlin was the accompanist.

What 4 Mills Means in Dollars and Cents

By MARJORIE COMFORT

What do four mills for school operation mean in dollars and cents to the one who pays the taxes?

Last week the Lenawee County Board of Supervisors accepted the equalization committee report showing equalized values of each city and township in the county.

A state tax official sat in on the committee meetings, and indicated that the state equalized value will be the same as the county value—at least in most townships.

The city of Adrian and one township have indicated they oppose the county figure, which they would like reduced.

Barring unforseen changes by Michigan tax officials it now is possible to tell what the totals will be for next December's tax bills.

The county equalization is an attempt to eliminate the differences which arise in assessment practice among the various township and city officials who decide what value should be placed on a piece of property.

In this way, it is hoped that a house or acre of land, which has a certain re-sale value, will be taxed for the same value no matter where it is in the county.

The equalized values now are placed at one-half of the real, marketable value of the property.

To tell how much the tax will be in any particular city or township, you have to know how your assessment compares with the equalized value.

In all cases, the asssessment is less than the equalized value. Some are nearly 80% of the equalized value, but most of them are about half.

☆

FIGURING the equalized value at 100%, here is how the government areas in Tecumseh School District compare:

Tecumseh City	79.13%
Tecumseh Twp.	73.43%
Clinton Twp.	56.19%
Ridgeway Twp.	52.55%
Macon Twp.	52.01%
Raisin Twp.	48.44%
Adrian Twp.	46.55%
Franklin Twp.	46.34%

Since the taxes are levied on the equalized value — and the figure which appears on your tax bill is the assessment — you have to do some arithmetic to find out what your dollar-and-cents tax will be.

Your writer can give you only an approximate figure on what your tax bill will show next year. It depends on whether many tax rates now in effect stay the same.

For instance, the schools now receive nine mills for operating expenses from the allocated millage. Clinton Township is seeking a full mill from the allocation. If granted, this would cut the allocated milage for schools to 8.5 mills.

The city tax rate hasn't been set yet. It currently is 11 mills, figured on the local assesment, and will likely stay there.

The bond millage hasn't been set by the schools, and won't be until the board discovers what the district's valuation is. Enough millage must be levied to collect $214,500. Last year this took 6.32 mills.

This year, the amount probably will be slightly lower, because the value of the district has gone up slightly.

Assuming that the tax rates stay the same, here is what a city resident will be paying for his December ta bill, if he has a $12,000 home, which would be assessed at $5,000:

County tax	$34.75
School operating	$56.86
School bond	$39.93
Special Education	$ 3.16
Library	$ 2.05
Total	$136.75
Proposed 4 mills	25.27
Grand Total	$162.02

SUPPOSE YOU live in Raisin Township. That same house, which had a $5,000 assessment in the city, has about a $3,000 assessment in Raisin Township. (Remember, the equalization figures will bring your taxes nearly level for the same value in actual marketable property.)

Here approximately is what the taxes will be on your December bill:

County tax	$34.08
School operating	$55.73
School bond	$39.13
Special Education	$ 3.10
Library	$ 1.98
Total	$134.00
Proposed 4 Mills	24.77
Grand Total	$158.77

Since your reporter is working without benefit of adding machine or calculator, some minor short cuts have been made in the arithmetic, including cutting decimals to two places.

However, the totals should not vary by more than a few cents.

☆

TO FIGURE out your own tax, divide your assessment percentage given earlier into 1. This will give you the number of mills levied on the assessed value for each mill figured on the equalized value.

(For example, in the City of Tecumseh, you would divide .7913 into 1, and get an answer of 1.2637.)

Multiply this by the number of mills levied on the equalized value. This is the same for every township:

County	5.50 mills
School operating	9.00 mills
School bond	6.32 mills
Special Education	.50 mills
Library	.32 mills
Total	21.64 mill

Multiply the answer from your division by 21.64, to get the tax you pay for each $1,000 of your assessment.

Although the dollars paid in taxes for each $1,000 of assessed value varies a lot from place to place, just remember that a house which would sell for $12,000 would have an assessment of $4,745 in the City of Tecumseh, and only $2,780 in Franklin Township.

To make the taxes approach the same figure for both these places of equal sale value, the County Equalization Committee places an equalized value of $6,000 on each.

So each would pay about $24 for the proposed four-mill school operating tax.

Art Exhibits by Students To Be Shown

The Tecumseh Acres PTA will meet Thursday, April 27, at the school with room visitation at 7:30 p.m.

Art exhibits for the year will be displayed in each room.

At 8 p.m., a member of the Clinton State Police Post will speak on elementary school traffic safety.

The business session at 8:30 will include the election of officers. Safety patrol awards will be presented.

Refreshments at 9 will conclude this, the last meeting for the year.

Unique Art Work Guides Set Crew for Coming Show

When the curtain rises on the set of "Golden Fleecing" the audience will be transported to the Gritti Palace, a hotel in Venice.

All action takes place in the hotel and on the balcony overlooking the canal basin where the U.S. Naval Fleet is at anchor.

The comedy's characters, confident that they are going to win a fortune on the roulette wheel, have rented this lavish suite without ready money to pay if they don't win.

The Tecumseh Players are constructing a set, giving the warmth and richness found in this hotel suite. The decoration is elegant in Rococo design. Architect Jim Smith, set designer, has defined the space and made work drawings so that the technical director, Russell Cheever, and his crew are making real progress on set construction.

All of the three dimension art work is being made by Richard Kureth. He is also blending the colors for the paint crew to start work this week.

The total effect created is a fabulous setting for this farce production.

Russell Steinke painted an artist's concept of the Rococo Period, giving the feeling of elegance which prevails.

In any theatrical production there is a need for many talents and abilities. This set is an exceptional example of this type of co-operation.

There is after all, more to producing a play than acting talents.

THS Seeks 2nd Win in JC Track Relays

By JIM LINCOLN

Coach Don Brazee's thinclads will be out to defend their Class B Tecumseh Jaycee Relay championship Saturday at the local track.

The Jaycee Relays, the biggest annual track event here, boasts 10 Class B schools and 12 Class C teams.

The pole vault, broad jump, high jump, shot put, and preliminaries in the hurdle events and the 100-yard dash will be held in the morning, starting at 10 o'clock. The finals get under way at 1:30.

Milan's great 1959 track team holds most of the Class B records with five. Milan also copped the B title that year.

Tecumseh has two records: Terry Hendricks with 5'6½" in the high jump, and the shuttle-hurdle relay team of Solarski, French, Koffron and Walters.

Ypsilanti Lincoln won the Class C 1959 championship, and Ann Arbor University High in 1960.

Class B teams participating this year are Airport Community, Bedford, Hillsdale, Jackson, St. John, Milan, Monroe Catholic Central, South Lyon, Grosse Ile, Ypsilanti Lincoln and Tecumseh.

The C group includes Adrian Catholic Central, Ann Arbor University High, Boysville, Brooklyn, Chelsea, Dexter, Dundee, Ida, Jackson St. Mary, Pinckney, Saline and Ypsilanti Roosevelt.

Team trophies will be presented to the winners in each class. Medals will be given first, second and third places in the relays, with ribbons for all other place winners.

Coach Brazee is meet director; Carl Hale, starter and meet referee; and Vic Lawson, clerk of course.

Rx MEDICINES NOW ARE MORE HELPFUL

Not so long ago we had very few drugs that could always be depended upon to give positive help. Usually, relief from pain or discomfort, till the disease subsided, was the expected help.

But, now we have potent medicines, obtained only after a physician's examination and by his prescription, which really offer prompt relief and usually a speedy cure. It is now unnecessary to suffer from any repeated discomforts or pains.

JUMBOS AND JACKASSES by Edwin Hoyt — Republicans and Democrats first squared off against each other in 1860 when Lincoln and Stephen Douglas were nominated. (True to form, the Southern Democrats withdrew and nominated their own man.) Ever since, the organized chaos called the nominating convention has put forth candidates for the most important elective job in the world. The author relates the whole funny, sorry, magnificent process of our presidential campaigns and conventions—their leaders, kingmakers, intrigues, blirrance, and inanities.

CORPORATION WIFE by Catherine Gaskin—The arrival of Amtec Industries was a joyous occasion in Burnham Falls, for the town had been declining. But although the corporation meant new and more prosperous ways of life for the townspeople, it was also to bring many unforeseen, often tragic changes in the village, and in the lives in particular of four women.

AUSCHWITZ, A DOCTOR'S EYEWITNESS ACCOUNT by Dr. Miklos Nyiszli—When the Germans invaded Hungary in 1944, they immediately shipped virtually the entire Jewish population to Auschwitz. Separated from his family, Dr. Nyiszli was chosen to direct the medical pathology work carried on among the prisoners by the Nazis for the purpose of "scientific research" in that most infamous of all concentration camps. Almost miraculously, Dr. Nyiszli survived, and later wrote this document of his experiences.

THE HURRICANE STORY by Paul Gallico—The Hurricane was the tenacious little single-seater plane that stood forth against the Luftwaffe. If ever a machine could, it personified the indomitable spirit of those who withstood, and won, the Battle of Britain.

FUN IN TIPTON—Third graders at Tipton School were in a world of wholesome fun when The Herald photographer happened to be driving by on a rural assignment. He hopped out of his car and soon was snapping this happy scene. The playground was alive with activity as the children were proving that it's fun to feel springtime again. Besides the rope-skippers, there were kids chomping about on stilts, boys playing marbles and catch with baseballs. Ah, spring, a wonderful time of the year. The youngsters really know how to enjoy the sun and pure, fresh air.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By LOUIE CIAVONE

Brother Paulus McGory, CSC, principal of Boysville High School, has been re-elected to a second term of office as president of the Central Unit of the Catholic Business Education Association.

Brother Paulus is also president of the Executive Board of the National Business Honor Society and a member of the National Executive Board of the Catholic Business Education Association.

He has also been named as general chairman of the 1962 national convention, which will be held in Detroit.

☆

Brother Romain Healy, CSC, athletic director of Boysville, has purchased a volleyball and net combination for the boys in Dettman Recreation Hall.

The net has been set up next to the gymnasium, and, when weather permits, the boys make good use of it.

☆

Bill Dettman, John Milner and Arthur Lips, Boysville's maintenance man, have installed four new sets of fluorescent lights in Dettman Rec Hall.

These new lights greatly improve the interior and are appreciated by the boys.

☆

Gary Southwell, a Boysville graduate of 1960, married Dorothy Sadley of Detroit on April 15. Miss Sadley is the sister of Boysville sophomore Tom Sadley.

☆

The Boysville Band and Glee Club, under the direction of Brother Philip Armstrong, CSC, are ready to perform Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the Boysville gymnasium in their annual Spring Concert.

The concert is open to the public and no admission fee is charged.

☆

The baseball nine defeated league opponent Ida April 20 on the Boysville diamond.

John McGeshick was good for four hits and five runs, providing the impetus needed to coast by the Bluestreaks, 10-5.

☆

The track Knights suffered their first defeat at the hands of Tecumseh by one point in a triangular meet with Tecumseh and Addison.

Tony McFarr set a new school pole vault record with 9'6", but still managed only the third-place position.

☆

After the points were tallied, the score read Tecumseh 56, Boysville 55, Addison 28.

☆

Competition for campus volleyball championship is finally getting under way. On Friday, the Dettman Rec Hall Pros defeated the Neri Rec Hall All-Stars on the Neri Hall court two games to one.

☆

Intramural softball finds teams comprised of those boys not out for varsity baseball or track divided into the Junior League and the Senior League.

☆

The Spring Frolic, a dance put on by the Boysville Alumni, is looming closer on the horizon.

The dance is to be held at the K of C Council 305 in Detroit on Saturday.

Music will be furnished by Carlos Rivera's orchestra. The dance is open to the public.

A donation of four dollars per couple includes refreshments.

☆

The Brothers of Holy Cross Auxiliary of Detroit held an open house Sunday at the Council 305 in Detroit. Several of the Brothers from Boysville were invited as guests.

Brother Romain, CSC, of Boysville, is moderator of the Detroit Auxiliary.

☆

The new infirmary wing in the Administration Building is nearly finished. Mr. Dettman, Mrs. Lips, Mr. Milner and John Szymanski have done a fine job.

They have also been working on six new rooms just above the new infirmary.

The rooms, which, like the infirmary, are almost completed, will be used as quarters for faculty members.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Not Popularity Contest

One of the most difficult positions in any community is that of the superintendent of schools. Its complexity has few equals.

He's often subjected to criticism, but seldom receives any praise. In many ways, it is a thankless position.

Jim McDowell, our superintendent, is like his counterpart in practically every city in the country. He has taken the brunt of blame, whether deserving or not.

This administrator, during the past 10 years, has made mistakes, a fact we're sure that he'll agree with. His task has not been easy. Although there have been errors, there have been many achievements, almost always without credit.

He is an able administrator and a dedicated educator.

There's no question that our schools have improved during the past 10 years. The youngsters are receiving a better education each year—and need to if they are to compete with others.

Our superintendent has guided the Tecumseh schools through a tremendous building program.

Jim McDowell and the school board now find themselves faced with the unenviable task of asking taxpayers in the district to approve four more mills for school operation.

The request has brought a rash of complaints. Many have been directed at the superintendent personally.

The levy, with many folks, has come down to a question of being for or against a personality, Mr. McDowell.

Jim McDowell has been accused of making statements in the past which were misleading. This was called to his attention at a recent meeting.

He denied this, explained his position, and urged the party to check published accounts and with Milton Porter, county school superintendent, who had attended meetings with him.

Some voters are confusing the four-mill issue with the superintendency. It should not be.

Next month we'll vote on four mills for the education of our children, not on the superintendency.

We've observed Jim McDowell as superintendent for three and one-half years now, and we've observed other superintendents for even longer periods of time.

On the whole, Jim McDowell has done an excellent job here. He is a good administrator, and that's his job.

Unfortunately, perhaps, he's a poor politician and his administration could improve its public relations. Also, and this is admitted by him, he needs help in the business department.

Let's not confuse the four-mill issue with the superintendent and let's not unduly criticize Jim McDowell. He has a task that few if any of us could begin to cope with.

Esteron 99 — kills weeds that other weed killers find too hard to handle . . . yet costs as little as 25¢ an acre

It's not what a 2,4-D costs—but what it controls that counts. More farmers buy and rely on Esteron 99*—for they find it's too costly to experiment with less-known brands. Tests show it's extra effective and easy to apply . . . doesn't foam . . . mixes easily in hard water, and sprays evenly. A single gallon covers many acres—an extra bushel an acre more than pays the cost. Order your supply of America's leading brand of weed killer today.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

A PROGRESS REPORT

It's ridiculous, absolutely ridiculous. For two weeks now I have planned to discuss the progress we are making toward that oh, so longed for spring weather.

So what happens, it snows!

Because these articles are due at The Herald office each Friday, I try to work on them Sundays or Mondays.

That is to say what you are reading today, April 27, was written April 17. Weatherwise much can happen in 10 days and I suppose it is possible that while reading this you may be basking in bright warm sunshine, wearing colored glasses and sipping iced tea.

From the weather yesterday and today however, it is much more likely that we'll all be buried 'neath tons and tons of snow.

Bitter—well, yes, I am. Here it is, the middle of April—where is spring?

☆

IF YESTERDAY brought nothing but disappointment and disillusionment with what went on outside, we did have an exciting bird experience and guess what—it happened inside.

About noon the telephone rang and after a brief conversation, Dad turned to me and said that Mrs. Greenwald had a kinglet, would I be interested in seeing it before she turned it loose.

Would I—wow. In the few minutes before Mrs. G., her sister and the bird arrived, I tried to think back to what I had read about kinglets and was shocked to find that nothing much was remembered.

I quickly resolved that as soon as possible it was me for the bird books.

Once, perhaps twice, we have seen kinglets flitting from branch to branch in the nearby "wren-tree" but it was a long time ago and really, the birds are so tiny that at a distance, they can't be fully appreciated.

Sunday, seeing the little jewel of a bird, gently cupped in hands which completely dwarfed him, was a great thrill. The golden-crowned kinglet, smallest of all our birds except the humming bird, has a brilliantly colored head—red on top and stripes of yellow, black and white.

His body is a rather non-descript olive-tannish-brown, his wings are dressed up with bars but by far the most striking feature of a kinglet in his brilliantly colored head.

☆

THE STORY behind this particular bird is an interesting one, I think. About 10:30 Saturday night the Greenwalds heard something fluttering against their picture window.

A bird—it just couldn't be.

That is exactly what it was, however, and after rescuing it from the raging blizzard and bringing it inside the question arose, what next?

The bird was surprisingly unafraid, but when the dog showed an unhealthy interest in what was going on, they decided the safest place for their visitor was in with the parakeet.

A wild kinglet and a tame parakeet, quite a combination. Guess how it turned out? The parakeet was terrified, but the kinglet was quite unconcerned.

In fact, he made himself right at home and even hoped to the swing and swung a bit.

But we said the bird was small, didn't we—well, the next thing his benefactors knew, he had squeezed between the bars of the bird cage and was flying around the living room.

Sunday, while we all admired the bird and obed and ahed at the perfection of his markings, many questions were asked. Was he on migration, had he become lost in the storm, etc?

Something in the back of my mind kept nagging, but it wasn't until this afternoon that I had a chance to check. And now I hang my head in shame and chagrin.

I should have known better, the bird was probably not fresh from the farm southern climes and at an utter loss as to how to cope with a blizzard.

☆

GOLDEN-CROWNED kinglets do migrate, but this is the climate which they consider perfect for a winter retreat. Like their bigger cousins, the chickadees, with whom they often associate, they frisk and frolic in the coldest of weather and as the books say, their spirits seem to rise as the severity of the storm increases.

So it is that we were wrong about many of the bird's habits, but it is reassuring to know that when turned loose, he was undoubtedly able to fend for himself.

April 16 will long be remembered for its snow storm, we will long remember it because of the wonderful Golden-crowned Kinglet.

Our Readers Write

Much-Needed Open Forum

TO THE EDITORS:

Much credit is due our editors for inviting their readers to use the local paper for a much needed open forum, and in so doing help to mold an informed public opinion.

Added praise for last week's letters on "Operation Abolition" for trying to give us all second thoughts! . . . even Tom?

Also, the Master Plan is a splendid idea, but the letters of Dorothy Updike and Ruth Rontschler point up the considerations of first things first, and working from the "curbs" up to build and deserve an ideal Tecumseh.

These opinions help us all to have "second thoughts" concerning important matters. But isn't it too bad that it takes a crisis in the world or a crisis over local education and city planning to wake people up!

Oh, happy day to work for — when love and interest in the common good, rather than anger and self interest, are the reasons for "unfogging" our addled or uninformed minds and prodding us into action!

Is it time to do some real soul-searching on how we spend our time? Are our 57 (or so) organizations substituting quantity for quality, or causing us to spread ourselves too thin?

Do we allot our time and effort to family, church, education and local government, in that or a similar order, and THEN go onto other things according to our abilities?

More than one new minister has come to this town and been appalled by our "busy-ness — "too busy to come to church" as one remarked.

Girls Will Vie in Competition of 'Horrible Hats'

Ladies will wear "horrible hats" at the next meeting of the Happy Home Builders of the First Baptist Church.

Neil DePuy, president, made this suggestion at the meeting of the group held Wednesday evening.

The lady whose hat is selected to be the most horrible will be crowned queen of the evening.

The Robert Gillispies were hosts and Mrs. C. O. Baily conducted devotions.

For the program, Mr. DePuy gave a review of his years spent with the State Highway Department.

Members voted to hold two summer barbecues, one June 16 and another June 23.

Toledo Couldn't Make Mall Idea Work, She Says

TO THE EDITORS:

I think Tecumseh should dispose of the Master Plan and chalk the expense up to experience. If Toledo, O. could not make out with a mall, how can Tecumseh? It will drive people out of town, and business away.

The Master Plans sounds like the Master Race, and we all know what happened to the Master Race.

A mall would be a fire hazard since the fire trucks or the ambulance couldn't get close to the heart of town. It would encourage loitering. The business section should be for business.

Clean off the banks of the River Raisin, and make a park. The record speaks for itself. Tecumseh tries to live beyond their means, and does not have the industry to back it up. You can't depend on good Joes to carry the financial load alone. There is nothing worse than being educated beyond intelligence, and I am sure the average taxpayer in Tecumseh wants a clean, safe town with no frills.

MORE LETTERS ON PAGE 8

Meanwhile the city should hire a street cleaning crew to clean the present streets. I have talked with a lot of people about their hometowns, and conditions, and they are always stunned to find out the tax rate of Tecumseh, the elaborate school system, a one-factory town tries to manage, as well as an expensive swimming pool being built that can only be used a few months of the year.

There is no magic formula all citizens will have to roll up their sleeves and help.

One more thing it seems like a town as large as Tecumseh could afford a building where teenagers can meet for a hobby club, and entertainment other than dancing.

There is nothing wrong with dancing, but there are other things too, some teenagers are handicapped and can't rock and roll, but still could have fun meeting people in a hobby group.

I would be glad to help on Saturday nights, but I have never met anyone interested enough to find a place to meet where all races, and religions would feel welcome.

Sometimes when the same people run the same jobs too long they can't see for looking and a change would be refreshing to all.

It seems like a town with as many beautiful churches, modern schools, and service clubs would have more creative talent than it would know what to do with it.

The answer may be in positive thinking, but that Master Plan is for the birds some place any place, but a retired farmers town like Tecumseh. Right or wrong I have a right to my opinion.

We cannot afford to sit back and be satisfied with past achievements when other places are going around us because of the distrust, and bickering over petty issues. If honest hard working citizens get disgusted, and move away the people who move in to take their place may even create worse problems, so the city officials should consider that.

I think it is unwise for an agriculture town to run schools until the middle of June because the farmers need their sons in the spring, and that will cause many high school boys to quit school.

Michigan is too hot humid and has too many insects to have school run half of the summer, and thinking people have a lot of things of importance to consider, and they can't afford to let a few make all of the important decisions that effect our future health and wealth.

Arlene M. Handy,
(Mrs. Clair Handy)
4391 Comfort Rd.

(Editor's note: We're afraid, Mrs. Handy, that many folks in the community will take exception to your comments. We do, especially that this is a retired farmers' town. It's far from that.

(The Toledo mall has no comparison with what has been proposed for Tecumseh. As to right-of-ways for fire equipment and ambulance, there would be wide walkways primarily for this use.

(In the school department, going to the middle of June is not "half way through summer." It's true, the Tecumseh system has the longest number of days in classes in this area, by about a dozen. At present, the school operating tax rate is second lowest in the county, just edging Sand Creek.)

This Farm in Same Clan Since 1867

Herbert Gillmore and wife, Beatrice, reside on the farm of his father, Ray Gillmore, which was featured as last week's mystery farm.

'Not in the Best Interests'

TO THE EDITORS:

The recent interest in the proposed "one way M-50" use of Logan and Pottawatamie Streets is entirely justified.

Information gained to date by the writer indicates that the proposal is not in the best interests of residents of either of these streets.

The constructive need for this future proposal is negated by the immediate effects derived in terms of probable decrease in real estate value and anticipated inconvenience if not hardship for persons residing on either of these two streets.

As a home owner on Logan St. and a person born in Tecumseh, I feel justified in writing these comments.

At the same time it is also appropriate to state that a Plan for the future development of this city is mandatory.

It is also appropriate gratefully to acknowledge the sincere efforts of the City Council, the Planning Commission and Planning Architect Jim Smith, the city manager and engineering department.

At the recent meeting of April 10 of the Planning Commission, where petitions against this proposal were presented and where there were an abundance of interested persons in attendance, the discussion was revealing in the description of causes and effects for this "one way M-50" traffic plan, both in stage 1 (use of Chicago Blvd. for eastbound M-50 and Logan St. for westbound (M-50) and stage 2 where Pottawatamie St. is substituted for Chicago Blvd. on eastbound M-50 traffic).

Most, if not all, City Council members were unofficially present at this meeting.

Several points are evident to me on the subject proposal:

1. It was reported that no "on-street" parking (as presently posted in residential areas of Chicago Blvd.) will be permitted. This solves nothing, and this creates the obvious undesirable imposition of side-street parking.

2. The Planning Architect stated that state highway studies showed that 90% of traffic in Tecumseh is generated as "in-Tecumseh traffic and not traffic moving through Tecumseh.

I challenge the accuracy of this information at the present time, especially in the summer when the Toledo and Monroe traffic moves to the Lake area west of here.

The new Route 23 exiting at Dundee makes an easier route via M-50 to area west of Tecumseh than Route 223.

The presence of large trucks and the occasional driver who is "in a hurry" are not in any sense an asset to residential areas. Persons who reside on Logan and Pottawatamie Sts. live there because it is residential, relatively quiet, and safe.

3. A comment was expressed that with the inception of "one way M-50" traffic property values would probably decrease for property on Logan and Pottawatamie Sts.

This comment was expressed by the Planning Architect, and was augmented by a comment from a resident who lives on E. Pottawatamie St. that the same type of traffic diversion was instituted in an Indiana city — results were that property values were decreased by approximately 1/3 and taxes were increased. Is this not a fine prospect?

When you hit someone in the pocketbook not to mention family safety, you must expect a strong reaction. If there is any reader who is a property owner who would not react to this type of proposal, please let me know.

4. A further decrease in grass and/or other type frontage to many homes on either of these two streets (Logan and Pottawatamie) would be disastrous to the value of the property, to safety of persons living in these homes, and to the safety of any children residing in these homes.

This traffic noise is highly objectionable, and I believe can be proved to be a factor to injuries and damage occurring in homes due to traffic vibration, noise, and odors.

5. I believe that the Planning Architect stated that this proposal would not be carried into effect for 10 to 15 years and then he stated that the State Highway Commission engineers wanted to include this in their 1967-1972 five-year program at least for the first stage (the use of Logan St.).

6. In the April 19 issue of The Tecumseh Herald, a report of the Council Meeting of 17 April was printed. The Planning Architect and the chairman of the Planning Commission are reported to have stated that this proposal was discussed at the previous Planning Commission meeting and that because people were uninformed concerning the whole proposed Master Plan, that this "one way M-50" traffic proposal was still being favorably considered. Perhaps I mis-interpreted these comments in the Herald.

In summary, the continued study of this "one way M-50" street proposal can not be construed as in the best interests of affected persons nor in the best interests of the traffic problems which may arise.

Property values (dollar-wise and personal-wise) are immediately subject to decrease and will be so long as this proposal remains under favorable consideration.

It is suggested that if planning of rerouted M-50 traffic is considered, that this should be done by re-routing M-50 south of Tecumseh with industrial road into the city via S. Maumee St.

These comments are written with the thought that they will be considered as constructive.

New York Man Liked Editorial

DEAR MR. RIORDAN,

I want to congratulate you on your stand on "Operation Abolition" and your editorial sandwiched between a long tirade and a short one from two of your ministers.

Why is it so many of our theologians are always defending the commie side and never think of the poor victim on the other side? One quotes an imposing array of authorities.

Well, I want better authority than National Council of Churches, Christian Century, American Civil Liberties Union or even good grey New York Times.

After hearing, reading, sifting and digesting, I prefer my own conclusions.

As to distortion, the discrepancies are minor, in contrast to the terrific and tragic major reality of what is called Communism, but which is really the most drastic and dangerous dictatorship.

And as to free speech the San Francisco hoodlums refused to allow even a hearing and that is always their tactic—abusive and often incoherent screaming.

We have been peacefully sleeping now for 44 years until this thing has taken over more than half the world population and is now on our own doorstep.

Also I congratulate you on your newspaper. It has come a long way since Scove Stacy's time away back when I was born in the celery district, written up so well several years ago by Clara Waldron.

I wouldn't say how far back, because I suppose Clara, like Benny Goodman, no longer has birthdays and she wouldn't want too much known.

Keep up your independent editorials.

Spent Three Months Near San Francisco

TO THE EDITORS:

As I was the one who brought the film "Operation Abolition" to Tecumseh and as I spent nearly three months in and near San Francisco last fall and had conversation with a number of people including police officers who were present at the hearing on Un-American activities at the city hall in that city last May, perhaps I should comment a little.

The film was all taken inside and on the steps and in front of the city hall.

If anyone doubts the authenticity of the proceedings there and the pictures of it they should talk with the San Francisco police department, the California State Police in that area or with the people trying to hold that investigation.

They will tell you that anyone trying to belittle the danger of communism and the effort made there to expose it are in much danger of becoming "fellow travelers."

I had several talks with a lawyer who was one of the attorneys representing the University of California students who were arrested for disturbing the peace that day.

He said 99% of them testified that they were told to come over to the city hall if they wanted to see some fun. That they had no idea what they were getting into. That they were much chagrined and ashamed to be involved in such a riot.

That they did not believe in communism and felt very sorry about the whole thing. They were let go with a nominal fine and a lecture by the judge.

California citizens will tell you that the two principal leaders, Bridges and Brown, have been trouble makers for a long time out there.

Anyone who comments on this picture not being authentic, who has not seen the film, should do so or travel to San Francisco and learn what transpired at the hearing on the Un-American activities there that day.

Prohibiting Film Doesn't Serve Purpose

TO THE EDITORS:

I read with interest the various comments concerning the film "Operation Abolition".

The fact that a film (or a book) is controversial does not mean that it is bad, and even if it were, there is always a lesson to be learned.

Hitler's "Mein Kampf" is available in most public libraries. Even the Bible is still controversial piece of literature.

Certainly, prohibiting this film can serve no good purpose, except, perhaps, to whet the public's appetite for seeing it.

Unfortunately, I have never had the opportunity to view this film and so cannot intelligently commend or critisize it.

I am sure that many of the local citizens are in this same position and it would therefore seem that some local organization would be contributing a public service by bringing this picture again to Tecumseh at which time the entire city would have the advantage of judging it for themselves.

Very truly yours,
Gibbs Barber
310 N. Union St.

(Editor's note: The film will be shown for the general public in early May. The Herald will announce time and place when details have been completed.)

'Nothing Very Sudden about This Awareness'

607 W. Logan Street

DEAR TOM:

Last week in your "Long & Short Of It" the Master Plan for Tecumseh was discussed. You took one point of view, may I tell you another?

You said that just all of a sudden people have become Master Plan conscious and the "implication was 'how come everything has been so secret' ".

There is nothing very sudden about this awareness and I'm not too sure people are using the word secret. Try "brush-off."

For a long time there were vague rumors and occasionally a story was printed in The Herald, but on the day the article appeared about the State Highway Commission approving the one-way street plan, then we became really frightened.

We decided it was time to find out exactly what the Master Plan was, why it was necessary and what all was involved.

Several people on Logan St. know various members of the Planning Commission personally and they tried, through friendly conversations, to find out what the score was. However each one seemed to have a different idea about what was planned for our streets—it was most confusing.

We next decided to ask the City Council, and so a group attended their meeting — sorry I haven't the exact date but it was sometime the first of March — nothing was learned, the Council said they had taken no action in regards to the Master Plan and referred us to the Planning Commission.

Following this suggestion the group attended the next (March 21) meeting of the Commission. Mr. Smith was not present, but the chairman said that to the knowledge of the Commission there was no such Plan. With no plan we, of course, got no answers.

In the meantime a letter had been sent to the State Highway Commission asking what they knew about the one-way streets. Our City Council has done nothing officially and there was no Master Plan at the Planning Commission and yet Mr. VanHoef of the State Highway Division said that it was agreed by Tecumseh city officials, City Planning Commisison and the officials of the Highway Department that Logan Street would be put into one-way operation. He went on to say that this was a long-range plan.

Now we come to the Planning Commission meeting of April 11. The council room was filled to over-flowing and it was, by all reports, quite a meeting.

The proponents of this Plan keep stressing that it is a plan for the future, designed to meet the city's needs in 30 or 40 years. They further keep saying that Logan Street will not be converted for six or seven years and Pottawatamie Street sometime after that.

What they have not been able to explain to us is why a few years from now we must build a highway system capable of handling the possible traffic 40 years hence.

Really, Tom, the people who oppose this plan, and they are by no means confined to merely the residents of Logan and Pottawatamie Streets, are not terrible, narrow-minded creatures who are automatically against everything. We are not utterly selfish and completely lacking in civic spirit.

We love Tecumseh, but we also love our homes. We can't understand how destroying the beauty of these streets and destroying our homes will benefit our town.

Junior Citizen Explains Why He Disapproves

TO THE EDITORS:

Although I am not old enough to be a taxpayer, I am a Junior Citizen of Tecumseh and would like to express my opinion on parts of the Master Plan for the future development of our city.

I wonder if the people who are backing this plan ever looked around and realized how beautiful the residential area of Tecumseh really is.

As I see it this plan calls for many changes which should concern every resident in Tecumseh and not just those living on Pottawatamie and Logan Sts.

Are you as a resident and taxpayer going to sit back and let the value of your neighbors property be lowered or wiped out, hundreds of trees removed, and many nature spots be destroyed?

No, please do something about it now!

What I can't understand is why people are so willing to pay their hard-earned money for an unneeded mall when the schools need the money to give us a good education. Could this mean that the mall is more important than education?

If the changes take place, why not give our city another name. This would just be another place to live and not "Tecumseh, Michigan, U.S.A."

Tom Dickinson
514 W. Pottawatamie St.

She Says It In Verse

Now and then I wonder why
We folks raise such a fuss
About a dollar here and there
To help the schools help us.

Those lodge dues, club dues, this and that
Will soar from time to time:
This hardly brings a second thought.
Why isn't this a crime?

Why don't we raise a lot of hob
When bowling costs us more?
Who cares about a thing like that:
We want to lift that score!

Why don't we sit right here at home
When gas rates take a hike?
For hunting trips, we might recall,
Most any price is right.

This could go on and on you know
From hobbies to champagne;
But we had best begin to think
Along a deeper vein.

Will people a few years from now
(Our little ones perhaps)
Be free to choose, to live and love;
Will they be free to scrap?

We're being taxed to death, we scream,
But is this really true?
No doubt there is an easier way;
It's red — no white and blue.

Four mills may seem like millions, true
But let's get values straight;
Compare a million dollars with
A million eyes of hate.

We may think lightly of our part,
We are so small and broke;
But let's not forget the acorn,
Let's not forget that oak.
We look upon the waste involved.

How true, how true, we groan;
But which of us would feel just right
To throw out that first stone?
We're bound to gripe a little, sure,

For this I don't ask why;
But letting our own schools down now,
Is hard to justify.
We're proud of our Tecumseh;

And we should rightly be.
Let's make it like the acorn,
For oaks stand strong and free.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Thomas Smith

Story on 'Beth' Goes Abroad

TO THE EDITORS:

In The Herald that had pictures and the write-up about the Satterthwaite family I sent my paper to a Miss Julia Gordon Caty, a cousin of mine near Saline.

She gave it to a neighbor, who sent it to England to a relative of her's that knows the Satterthwaite family—I think it would be nice to print this in your paper.

Thank you so much.

TOM RIORDAN'S Long AND Short

Once upon a time there was a land called Asu.

Many things of beauty were found in Asu — deep green valleys, stately timbers, clean blue lakes.

Most of all though, Asu had a hearty band of inhabitants. True, they were independent in their thoughts but they were good folk, God-fearing and hard workers.

The citizens of Asu sat up an unusual type of kingdom, one that was different than all the others of their neighbors.

They decided that no one person would hold sway over them, but that various wise men among them would form governing bodies.

The people chose one man to be their leader, but his power was limited and he was subject to the people and he readily served them.

Over the years, Asu grew and prospered. Its youth, filled with visions of an almost unbelievable future, studied and worked.

Generation after generation found their dreams coming true. Asu became a mighty nation. Its people never tried to expend into their neighbor's land, no matter how small and weak, they were. Rather, the people of Asu always extended helping hands to them.

As the sun from heaven smiled down upon Asu day after day, there lay a foreboding nation thousands of miles across the great sea.

Its leaders heard about Asu and cursed fate for not having given them and their people the good life which citizens of Asu had.

A twisted mind among the rulers in that land came upon a device by which he and his depraved fellows could capture Asu.

It was not by military force. No, this would be too obvious.

His plan dealt with everything which God forbad—lies, deceit, treachery, murder.

Not all of the wicked leader's people would accept this, but they were so busy planting their fields and caring for their families they merely shrugged their shoulders when he told them and walked away.

So, the evil man began his scheme. He carefully picked his followers, making certain that they would be willing to do anything to win over Asu.

Then, one brilliant summer day, he and his small band set sail for Asu.

They came wearing fine garments. As they stepped onto the shores of Asu, the wicked plotters smiled, with lies already in their hearts.

The Asuians, who met them, accepted the arrivals with warm hand clasps, giving them ripe fruits and bolts of brightly-color cloth as tokens of their love for their fellow man.

As night decended, following a great feast, the strangers asked if they might live among the Asuians in their cities and on their farms.

Soon they became as natives of Asu, even fooling innocent Asuians into thinking they were citizens.

Not many years had passed, when one morning, the Asuians awoke to a strange world.

They no longer had a free land. The guests had become their leaders and the Asuians were slaves.

As the months dragged by, the people of Asu grew thin and wane. Their eyes were hollow. The once-beautiful clothing they wore had turned into tattered rags.

"Who ever might have guessed such a thing could have happened to us?" one worker in the dusty field whispered to another slave while the guard wasn't looking.

"And not a shot was fired," was the reply.

Work Starts on $79,394 Hospital Project

By JIM LINCOLN

Last Thursday the Herrick Memorial Hospital board took initial steps for expanding the local hospital—and Monday night Council approved the board's action.

A low bid of $79,394 from Krieghoff Lenawee Co. of Adrian was accepted to complete the second story of the hospital's south wing, which was constructed two years ago.

Plans for the addition have been under consideration for several months.

Kenneth Herrick, chairman of the board, says the expansion will enable the hospital to move the maternity ward from the first to the new second floor.

It also will:

► Increase beds by 20 and total hospital beds to over 100.

► Create a doctor's lounge and medical library.

► Complete the piped-in oxygen system to all rooms.

An annonymous donor has contirbuted $50,000 to the project, with the balance to be taken from the hospital treasury.

Cost to equip the rooms is estimated at an additional $10,000.

Crowded conditions and a desire to provide better medical care for mothers and babies insti-

'Operation Abolition' To Be Screened Twice

Two showings of the controversial "Operation Abolition" will be held Thursday, May 4 at 3:15 and 7:15 p.m.

They'll be screened in the Presbyterian Church, instead of the local American Legion hall as was announced last week.

The showings are free and arranged for by The Herald as a public service.

Following the evening performance, there will be a round-table discussion, with questions welcomed from the floor.

A four-man panel — two favoring the film and two opposed to it — will comment and then answer questions.

On the "pro" side of the table will be Royal Welch and Maynard Wolfe of Toledo, who is bringing the film here as a member of the Lucas County (O.) American Legion.

Representing the "con" will be the Rev. Julian Gresham and Maynard Lucas.

Tom Riordan of The Herald is going to serve as moderator.

"Each speaker will be limited to three minutes," Mr. Riordan explains, "as will persons who wish to comment from the audience."

"It is our intention to keep the discussion objective and adult. We wish no frenzied or emotional remarks.

"I favor the film," Mr. Riordan adds. "But in my role as moderator I will remain strictly neutral. My job is to maintain order and give all who wish to speak a chance to do that — limited to three minutes or less."

"Operation Abolition" has brewed a tremendous storm all across the nation and particularly in Michigan.

Up until four weeks ago it had been shown to recruits in the State Police during their training program. This was stopped on orders of Gov. John Swainson.

The movie is made from film footage taken by television newsreel photographers during student riots at the San Francisco hearings of the House Un-American Activities committee a year ago this month.

☆

OPPONENTS of "Operation Abolition" say that editing has distorted the film.

Those who favor its showing content that the positive message about communistic-provoked riots far outweigh the alleged alterations.

It is suggested that as many persons as are able attend the 3:15 showing so that those who can only go in the evening will be able to see the film.

The Rev. Mr. Gresham and Mr. Wolfe will answer questions after the 3:15 showing.

How Much Is Education Worth?

By MRS. H. LEE PRETTYMAN, Guest Writer
113 N. Democrat Street

How much is education worth? How much are your family, church, home, friends, community, job and savings worth? The question is really the same whenever any one of these valued items is under consideration.

It appears then that education is life. Therefore, what is life worth to you and your children?

Do not conclude from this that a formal high school or college education is completely necessary to achieve reasonable success in all these avenues of life. Certainly many of you and your friends have performed satisfactorily in many of these areas via the school of "hard knocks" rather than public or private schools.

How many of you have looked back to regret that you didn't take more advantage of the educational opportunities available during your youth?

Surely in these fast-moving current times your concern must be with having children taught full-time by experienced, happy, well-paid and well-adjusted teachers in the best school environment possible.

Assuming this is your wish, May 20, 1961, is a day to prove it with your vote for our four-mills operational levy.

Drycleaning Center Has Do-It-Yourself Coin-Op Equipment

Self-service drycleaning comes to Tecumseh this week with the opening of the new Drycleaning Center at Adrian Federal Savings Bldg. under the management of Loraine Bancroft.

The Center, which is the latest addition to the growing array of do-it-yourself establishments, will provide local residents with professional drycleaning as well as do-it-yourself drycleaners, according to Mr. Bancroft.

The RCA Whirlpool coin-operated drycleaner uses the same cleaning fluid used by professional drycleaners to remove dirt and grease, even many spots, from woolens, synthetics and other drycleanable fabrics.

Entirely automatic, the operation of the drycleaner is simple and safe. The user places up to eight pounds (dry weight) of articles in the drycleaner, shuts the door and inserts the necessary coins.

Fifty minutes later, the clean garments are removed from the drycleaner. The door of the unit locks automatically one minute after the beginning of the cleaning cycle and remains locked throughout the cycle.

The manufacturer recommends that garments be placed on hangers after cleaning and frequently, according to Mr. Bancroft, this hanging, when seams and collars are straightened and smoothed, leaves the garments ready-to-wear with little or no pressing.

Although the RCA Whirlpool drycleaner does not remove wrinkles, neither does it cause wrinkling during the cleaning cycle. In addition, pre-set creases and pleats are not destroyed by cleaning in the RCA Whirlpool drycleaner, Mr. Bancroft said.

☆

ANY ARTICLE recommended for drycleaning by the fabric manufacturer can be cleaned in the RCA Whirlpool drycleaner, such as sweaters, skirts, slacks, children's outerwear, dresses, jackets, draperies and slipcovers.

Hours for regular service will be 8 to 5 daily. Do-it-yourself drycleaners will be in operation seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Meet 'Mister AE'

There's a brand new "horse" in the "stable" of Tecumseh Products compressors.

Actually it's not quite one horse—horsepower, that is.

This is the new Model AE household refrigerator and home freezer unit.

The AE compressor has been developed specially to met the changing requirements of industry of size, weight and shape.

The AE is more compact than the pancake style compressor, weighs only 17 pounds to the 29 of its older brother.

It is also shorter, standing just over six inches high. The pancake is approximately 10" high.

The company so far is making 1/12, 1/8 and 1/6 horsepower models. Capacity is 320, 370 and 450 BTUs in that order, matching other models now in production.

One big difference is the speed. The AE electric motor turns at 3,500 revolutions per minute to the pancake's 1,750 RPM.

Development of the AE came after thousands of man hours of research and planning by the company's engineering and production departments. The unit has been thoroughly tested, both in the laboratory here and by compressor customers in the refrigerators and home freezers.

☆

THE AE CAME into being for several reasons:

► Its physical size offers a new application for built-in appliances. Minimum size increases refrigerator cubic volume and permits installation of built-in restrictions.

► Design features of the AE compressor reduce costs of installation, mounting and wiring to reduce further final costs.

The AE has been in production here for two weeks.

Tecumseh Loses by Single Point

Fifteen young people of the Youth Fellowship of the First Baptist Church attended the Association meeting at Shelton Park, O. Saturday night, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carter and Earl Kotts.

Tecumseh's group lost the attendance award by one point. Monroe had an attendance of 20 persons and Tecumseh, 19.

'Fleecing' Hits Boards May 17, 18

In less than two weeks, theatre fans will have another opportunity to see the Tecumseh Players in action.

The local Guild has scheduled "Golden Fleecing" here at the Strand Theatre, May 17-18, with evening performances at 8 p.m. and a matinee Thursday afternoon at 3:30.

Tickets may be purchased now at Hodges Drug Store, Wright's Drug Store, Eggleston's Jewelry or from members of the Guild.

"Golden Fleecing" is based on one ludicrous premise. A Sgt. Bilko-type navy character convinces his buddies that the cybernetics machine on the fleet flagship can be used as a flawless computor to fleece the roulette wheel in the casino at Venice, Italy.

Wayne Reganall is the leading character, Fergie Howard, Dick Boyd, portrays his buddy, Beau, a green, idiot-type halfback.

Earl Kotts plays the role of Jake, an introverted scientist.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

"There, now she's happy," exclaimed Lover Boy as he dashed into the kitchen, slid into his chair and prepared to tell us about his venture between good-sized bites.

May Day always has received special recognition from 14-year-old Marv and this year he was really pleased with himself.

He had just come from leaving a floral box at the home of his current girl friend. Quite a change from the paper May baskets of past years.

Pa and I wondered just what Chris Taylor thought when he arrived that evening and saw the pretty bouquet brought his wife of many years by his young rival.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Barton, Missy and Jill entertained for 25 relatives Sunday honoring the birthday anniversary of his grandfather, C. W. Glenn, of Stockbridge.

Granddad Glenn, 70, brought his ball glove in anticipation of the game during the afternoon and sure enough 15 relatives and neighbor boys played.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Glenn, guests were great-great-grandma Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis White and four children, Mr. and Mrs. David Glenn and three children, the Russ Hyatt and family, John Barton family and James Barton family.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnson and family entertained 26 at a family gathering Sunday honoring the birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. F. M. Chappell, who is a guest in the Johnson home.

The families of Mrs. Johnson's brothers, Richard of Pontiac, David of Plainwell, Jerry of Allegan, and Paul of Kalamazoo were all present as well as another brother, James, of Hartford who is single. All were present except for one brother who lives in Texas.

$60 Profit Is Earned in Project

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Manwaring were hosts at the Baptist Youth House Friday evening when the Christian Workers Class met for a potluck supper.

Two traveling baskets were reported to have completed the circuit of members with a total of $60.65 realized from the sale of items enclosed.

Mrs. Lee Prettyman presented the devotional period on the theme, "Do Unto Others" saying that "if we live our lives by ideals our lives will be better." She read a list of ideals.

The next meeting May 26 will honor the families of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Grigg, both to move from the community soon.

Problems for Council 'Routine

Rountine problems and questions were handled by Council Monday night.

As anticipated, the 1961-'62 budget was accepted with the same 11 mills as last year.

City manager Ed Nelson told several residents from S. Union St. that their street would be paved when the weather is warm and dry.

He also said that until that time the city would chloride the street to hold down the dust.

John Zeigler, Dick Eggleston and Harry Spencer were re-appointed to the Planning Commission.

A sidewalk contractor's license for Lenawee Homes, Inc. was approved.

HOSPITAL

gated the board's decision to proceed with expansion plans, Mr. Herrick explains.

The new maternity section, including nursery, will be completely modern. The present maternity ward will be used for medical isolation cases.

Krieghoff is expected to start work as soon as possible and complete construction by fall.

☆

MR. HERRICK says no rate increase for patients is anticipated despite the large expense.

Through efficiency and economical practices, the board has been able to serve over the years and has forseen improvements and changes in the hospital and equipment.

Also, Mr. Herrick reports that the Hospital Auxiliary has been equally proficient in curtailing expenses through services and purchases of equipment, such as heated food carts.

Expenses will continue, though. A new $30,000 to $40,000 sprinkling system and fire doors for the original hospital building are already on the improvement agenda.

These additions, recommended by the state fire marshal, will be carried out as soon as companies specializing in this work can complete arrangements. Bids have already been requested.

☆

Three bids were received for finishing the second floor.

► Goodrich-Hazen, Inc., $81,925 (base $74,000, alternate No. 1 or doctors' lounge and library, $6,200, alternate No. 2 or oxygen system, $1,725.)

► Wes Haeussler, $81,367 (base $72,960, alternate No. 1, $7,147.78, alternate No. 2, $1,260).

► Krieghoff, base $72,200, alternate No. 1, $5,717, and alternate No. 2, $1,477.

Perry Satterthwaite, Harold Easton, Administrator Orrie Gilbert and Mr. Herrick, besides representatives of the construction companies, were present for the opening of bids.

In just over 20 years, the local hospital has not only expanded through buildings, but it has become the second largest employer in Tecumseh with 125 to 130 on the payroll. Total annual payroll is in excess of $360,000.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

An Independent newspaper, published every Thursday morning at 117 S. Evans Street. Entered at the Post Office in Tecumseh, Michigan as second class matter.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Area Industrial Team

News that Harvey Aluminum — and well over 2,000 brand new jobs — will be coming to Adrian is all good as far as we're concerned.

Folks in the Maple City really pitched in to get the new industry. They asked for, and got, help from their neighbors, including Tecumseh, and government officials all the way up to President Kennedy.

Once again, it shows what people can do when they're willing to hustle and work for an objective.

Most communities have industrial development committees, searching for such firms as Harvey. Our own group, which is a part of the Chamber of Commerce, has been doing this job for several years.

We were wondering the other day if the various industrial committees in this county, or possibly from a two-county area, might wish to join hands on a permanent basis.

The objective would be to entice industry into the area, not just a single community.

We know that when Tecumseh industry prospers, the effects are felt all over Lenawee County. This will be the same when Harvey gets into operation at Adrian. We'll receive healthy sound waves from there as will Hudson, Morenci, Blissfield and Clinton.

So it would seem logical to pull as one "area team" in attracting industry. This would allow for greater financing, more advertising and a bigger site selection from which prospects could choose.

Let's think it over, you members of industrial committees.

How Much Will It Cost Me?

"What will it cost me?"

That's the question which always comes up, whether you're buying a TV set, new car or grass seed.

When the possibility of an increase in school taxation arises, the inquiry often becomes a statement:

"I can't afford it! Taxes are too high now!"

The inference is that the subject should be dropped then and there, that if we don't talk about it, the problem will go away.

Unfortunately, that's not the case — on two counts.

First of all, we wonder about that "can't afford to" part. Secondly, the problem won't "just disappear."

How much money are we talking about, anyway?

Well, for the average home owner in Tecumseh, as we showed in detailed formula last week, the fellow with a house he could sell for $12,000 tomorrow, his school tax would increase about $25 a year.

How much is that?

Broken down, it's about 50¢ a week. Can't afford it? That's less than the cost of two packs of cigarettes or a couple of popular magazines.

In the rural portions of the district, where a farm family owns a place worth, say, $25,000 — meaning it could be sold for that amount tomorrow on the open market — the additional taxation would hit approximately $50.

(In addition to the tax on his land and buildings, the farmer must also pay taxes on his personal property, which includes machinery and livestock. This can vary widely, depending on what type of farming he does). This is twice as much as the city property owner is taxed, but wait a moment.

We must consider that the farm is worth much more and is making money for its owner, while the house is not.

The home owner helps make up much of the difference though, because wherever he works in the district, that factory or store is taxed by the school and he indirectly helps pay this.

Just like the man who rents a home helps because a portion of his monthly rental payment is used by the property owner to meet his school tax.

So, everyone pays — and fairly close to the same level.

Now as to the thought, "if we ignore it, the problem will go away."

This is something much too serious and vital to ignore. It's not like the weeds in the garden or the leaking roof.

Here in a nutshell is our problem: which way do we want the education of our youth to go.

Do we:

► Wish to see it slip backwards a little, have our faculty start moving on, end up with almost entirely fresh-out-of-school teachers? or,

► Wish to maintain the same program and strive to strengthen and build it into something bigger and better?

Tecumseh's School District has reached a critical juncture. The Hour of Decision is rapidly drawing closer.

What is your opinion?

Our Readers Write

'I Am with You 100%'

TO THE EDITORS:

As I have written before, we certainly do enjoy receiving and reading The Herald each week.

I would like to take this opportunity to write and let you know that in regard to your criticism of the film "Operation Abolition" being outlawed in Michigan, I am with you 100%.

I believe that every American, both young and old should see this film for it reveals communism in action for the monster it is.

I was privileged to view this film twice and I can honestly say, I was amazed at how easily these college students were duped by these communist agitators.

But, let us remember that many of these communist propagandists have been trained in special schools, some even in Russia itself.

If our college youth can be duped so easily, what can we hope for the less intellectual.

In this day when men read for knowledge in all parts of the world, communism far exceeds America with the printed page as recent figures reveal that Russia and China now print some 3,600,000,000 books per year while America in 1959 only managed to produce 5,000,000 books for foreign consumption.

This total does not include such things as magazines, pamphlets, etc., which adds an even greater distance between the two.

Communism appeals to the intelectual first so as to gain leaders among groups who are their

He's Surprised at Her Reasons

TO THE EDITORS:

I was surprised to read Mrs. Day's letter in your April 20 issue. I was surprised not because she did object to the advertisement of liquor in your newspaper, but rather because of her reasons.

She is right when she says that liquor causes some broken homes, some misery and untold other calamities but so do many other things. Drugs, for instance.

I'm sure no one objects to Mr. Wright advertising his drugs in your paper and yet drugs are just as much a problem and cause even more misery than liquor.

Used with discretion and intelligence liquor is an excellent therapeutic. It can relieve tension and provide temporary escape from pressing problems among other things.

I'm sure no one will argue that this isn't good for most of us. A very eminent British psychiatrist has doubted that men could even exist without liquor for the afore mentioned reasons.

It is not my intent to discuss that statement here but I use it to support the point I'm trying to make. Liquor is like any other luxury, it can be used for good or bad depending on what one lets it do to himself.

Very few people advocate the abolition of television merely because it is detrimental to a certain minority.

Yours is a very fine paper. You don't always stand for what I believe right or what I believe good but you are not in business to print only my beliefs or anyone else's.

And, you have no obligation to advertise only Pepsi because I might not happen to like Coke.

In closing, I would like to add my appreciation for your newspaper to that of so many others. I have been in the United States Air Force for nearly four years now and have been stationed in such places as Syracuse, Turkey and Plattsburgh, New York, but in none of these places have I felt that I had lost contact with Tecumseh or the fine people who live there because of your newspaper.

Sincerely,
Patrick D. Fero

'Are You Guilty?' This Lady Asks

TO THE EDITORS:

As a newcomer to your wonderful town, I am privileged to voice an opinion on the Master Plan.

Not at present being a home owner, I can contemplate the opinions and reactions of the interested home owners and tax payers to this article. They are correct in their thinking. "What do I have to lose?"

A point well taken. Financially speaking, nothing at present, but being a civic minded person, and a person who believes in progress, a betterment of the best I feel the mall as well as the conversion of Logan and Pottawatamie Streets would be an asset, adding modernization to an already modernized and beautiful town.

In my opinion moving with progress, is real progress. By adding and improving, (as in the past) new families have moved, and will continue moving to Tecumseh.

Concerning the school system and the extra four mills needed; hesitation on approval is beyond my comprehension. What could be more beneficial or important to our children than maintaining and supporting our school system.

Are we being good parents, considering our childrens future welfare, giving them the best to give, an education. An education with unlimited opportunities, an education many of us now parchments could not and did not have.

By not approving the needed funds to support our schools we as parents are failing our children, hampering their future.

ARE YOU GUILTY?

After serious intelligent thinking I feel assured the school system and the civic minded citizens of Tecumseh will succeed in their efforts and over-rule winning actions of those (live for today) persons who cannot forsee the future.

THANK YOU!

COMMENT?

Herald Holds 'Straw Vote'

How do residents of the Tecumseh School District feel about the proposed four-mill levy?

The Herald, in cooperation with Wayne Reganall's Tecumseh High School economics class, is attempting to find out.

A survey will be made in the district Saturday morning by 40 students.

They'll stop at 450 widely-scattered homes, chosen so that every section of the area will be represented in the final "vote."

Householders in the city outnumber those in the rural areas about two to one and that's the proportion of houses which will be contacted in the two sections.

A replica of the brief questionnaire the students will ask voters to check is shown above. All votes will be anonymous.

Results of the straw ballot will appear in next week's Herald.

The Tecumseh High Band and Chorus will perform from the deck of a full scale river boat, stretching from wall to wall and from floor to ceiling.

Chorus and Band members have been constructing the boat, section by section during the last four Saturdays, then dismantling each section, making a package for it, labeling it and storing it for assembly this weekend.

So far, 250 student hours at the rate of 1½ per student per Saturday have gone into construction of this stage setting.

All Band and Chorus members will be dressed in costumes typical of the 1870s. In addition, there are 30 special character parts in character costumes.

☆

THE LEADOFF performer will be the Showboat's genial, talkative, captain, Ron Lemerand. He will keep audience and performers in a festive mood.

The program opens with a Minstrel Parade which features a small band actually parading into the gym — New Orleans style. This is followed up by "Alexander's Ragtime Band," and Showboat Medley by Jerome Kern.

The Elixir Salesman, alias Mike Rohrer, appears next to bamboozle his listeners into buying his marvelous tonic. The chorus members show some interest, then mob him into the boat and they turn around to sing, "When the Saints Go Marching In."

Three songs follow, "Robert E. Lee," "Weep O Willow" and "Sing Me a Song."

The traditional melodrammar is presented next, this one written by high school students, Little Nel is Lana Wright. The Hero is Bill Bishop. Granny is Susan Nichols. The Villain is Ronald O'Neill.

The Band reflects Lil Nel's mood by playing "Birth of the Blues," then the "Dixieland Concerto" featuring a small ensemble.

A startling change of pace is presented with a piece called "Cabo Yubi," a combination of Congo and Asian rhythms.

To quiet things down, the Madrigal Singers appear as traveling minstrels, singing "A w a k e, A w a k e, "Heav'n, Heav'n," and "Beautiful." A romantic duet team of Linda Dean and Dan Harvey will sing "The Desert Song," "Moonlight Bay," and "Hallelujah."

☆

DURING intermission time, typical riverside refreshments will be served by girls of the FHA, sponsored by Mrs. Brown.

The second half will get under way as the band plays "Lassus T r o m b o n e," followed by "Charleston." Four girls will dance the Charleston during this performance.

"Set Down Servant" by the Chorus will be one of three spirituals including, "Oh, Lord Have Mercy," and "Satan's Kingdom's Fallen Down."

After the band plays "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans," they move to the "Chinal Boy Blues." Stephen Foster will be saluted in a medley of his favorite tunes.

A rather dusty vagabond will appear from up north, going south, to sing "Swanee," done by Dennis Bryan. The Chorus echoes his sentiments with "Oh Susanna."

☆

THEN A wild west tune about the Apache Indian Chief Geronimo. The Barbershop Six plus one will follow as they warble "Carolina in the Morning."

After the poor Elixir salesman loses his Elixir at gunpoint to two dangerous Mexican bandits, alias Bill Wallace and Mike Cook, the band joins the chase to the border with "Chica Boom," while two dancers do the Samba.

As a finale, the Chorus will sing five beloved tunes from Jerome Kern's immortal Showboat, "Make Believe," "You Are Love," "Can't Help Lovin Dat Man," "Why Do I Love You," and "Old Man River."

The performance will be conducted by Donald Johnson, Miles Cowdrey and Leslie Bennett.

Tickets are on sale at Wright's Drug Store, with band and chorus members, and will be sold at the door. Adults are 75c, students 50c.

One Cent Sale on at Cameron's

Prominent among Tecumseh's leading business events is the Rexall Original 1c Sale at Cameron's Rexall Drug Store this week.

This famous "Penny Sale" originated in 1913 and this year again provides the unusual opportunity to purchase nationally advertised Rexall Drug products at two for the price of one, plus a penny.

Hundreds of items are offered during the six days of the sale.

How Do Grads Rate?

By MARJORIE COMFORT

How good is the Tecumseh Public School District?

There's only one way to tell: How good are its students?

But what makes a student "good?" Is it the grades he receives? The paycheck he earns? The respect his neighbors have for him? The service he gives his community?

All of these things can be counted. Which is counted heaviest depends on who's doing the "toting up."

One thing is certain. There is seldom an issue of The Tecumseh Herald without at least one item about honors given to a Tecumseh graduate.

Sometimes the honors take the form of scholarships.

Sometimes they may be special certificates of merit.

They may be notices of election to state or national posts.

They may be commendations by officers to Tecumseh young people in military service.

☆

BECAUSE OF the close cooperation between local schools and universities, which accept Tecumseh's students, the academic achievements of Tecumseh's graduates are the quickest and most reliable answer to "How good is Tecumseh School District?"

One set of figures will show that Tecumseh has had some really top-notch students.

Four of last June's graduates are freshmen at the University of Michigan.

U of M is generally considered — even by graduates of other schools — to have the highest standards of any public school in Michigan.

It is accepting only the top 10% of any high school's graduating class.

Once students enroll at U of M, they can expect to have no babying. They have to work.

So what did these four freshmen receive for their first semester's work?

No. 1—A,B,B,C
No. 2—A,A,A,A,B
No. 3—A,A,A,B
No. 4—B,B,B,B

These weren't easy courses, either. They included English, Spanish, Russian, German, psychology, philosophy, mathematics and chemistry.

Two of the students were singled out for special awards from the university.

☆

FIVE OTHER state colleges and two from outside Michigan also report students' grades back to Tecumseh High School.

All of them figure grades on a point system, with four points for an A, three for B, two for C and one for D credits.

All of the state colleges report Tecumseh's graduates averaging above C grades, although the range is all the way from 3.4 to 1.4.

The out-of-state colleges, with three students, report their point averages as 3.2, 3.5 and 3 points.

☆

ONE COLLEGE in Michigan has two of last June's Tecumseh graduates. One had a B average for the first semester, and the other had 1.8, slightly below a C average.

Both had good grades in high school, and both had the same classes here. Why the difference now?

First of all, one student may just be smarter than the other. One may have a more competative spirit, which leads him to study harder. One may be less serious about studies.

There may be worries — economic, personal or social—which interfere with school work.

THE LOCAL school district can't take all the credit for an excellent student. Neither should it receive all the blame if one of its students fails to survive college courses.

Last June's graduates formed a particularly outstanding class, according to school officials. More than half of the 135 graduates went on for further schooling.

Forty-six enrolled in four-year colleges and universities, five entered nursing training, 13 joined business schools, two are taking beauty courses, three are in junior colleges, two entered technical schools and two are taking airline personnel training.

Two girls and 13 boys joined military services.

☆

HOW ABOUT the 1961 class, today's seniors?

A nation-wide test they took last year, when they were juniors, indicates that about half of them are potential college material.

Across America some 750,000 high school students took a test prepared by the National Merit Scholarship Foundation.

The test results are used not only to determine who receives the scholarships offered by this group, but as a measuring stick for other scholarship groups, and for recommending who should attend college.

Some high schools allow only their best students to take the test. A few require all students to take it.

But most, like Tecumseh, make the test available on a voluntary basis.

According to Neville Hart, high school principal, and John Pobuda, guidance counsellor, anyone who scores over 50 in the test should be able to cope with college-level training.

Eighty of today's seniors took the test.

Sixty-six of them scored in the top half of all students who took the test across the nation.

Fifty-eight were in the top 40%, 43 were in the top 30% and 27 were in the top 20% across the nation.

Fifteen Tecumsehites scored in the top 9% of the testtakes.

All in all, Tecumseh had twice as many students scoring in the top percentages as the number of those tested warranted.

Mr. Hart and Mr. Pobuda were pleased with these test results.

They said they would be even more pleased if they could broaden the high school program to benefit students who would like to enter business or mechanical training.

A start in this direction was made recently when a gift was made to the schools of some industrial arts machinery.

Grosse Ile Wins

By JIM LINCOLN

Coach Don Brazee's Tecumseh tracksters will never come closer to winning and then settle for second place as they did Saturday in the annual Jaycee Relays.

Just one-half point separated the Indians from first place, captured by Grosse Ile in the final 880-yard relay event in which GI tied the local thinclads with a time of 1:36.6.

Grosse Ile led Tecumseh by a half-point entering the event and held the lead with the breath-taking tie.

Unfortunately, the Indians and GI raced the 880 in different heats and results showing the tie were not known until after officials compared times.

Team scores were:
Grosse Ile, 57
Tecumseh, 56½
Airport, 37½
Bedford, 37
Milan, 27
Ypsilanti Lincoln, 27
St. Johns, 15
Blissfield, 14
South Lyon, 8
Monroe Cahtolic Central, 6.

☆

SIX RECORDS were toppled during the day with Airport, Bedford and Grosse Ile cracking two each.

Although the Indians failed to win a clear-cut first place in any event, the local tracksters finished second in three events, third in four races, one fourth place, and three times finished fifth.

Point winners for Tecumseh were:
Koffron, 2nd, shot put.
Tuckey, 2nd, pole vault.
Lawson, 3rd, mile run.
Koffron, 3rd, high hurdles.
Greene, 3rd, pole vault.
Bryan, 3rd (tie), broad jump.
Hathaway, 5th, shot put.
Robinson, 5th, broad jump.

Tecumseh's shuttle-hurdle team placed second, sprint medley third, mile relay third, 440-relay fourth, 2-mile relay fifth.

Jon Aho, probably the Indians' fastest sprinter, missed the event due to a pulled leg muscle.

☆

WIN IN CLASS C

Jackson St. Mary's won the Class C title of the Tecumseh Jaycee after trailing Chelsea throughout most of the meet.

Boysville made a surprisingly good showing, placing fourth in the 11-team field, which broke five old marks.

The Macon team won firsts in the sprint-medley and shuttle-hurdle events. Boys on the winning teams were Pat Collins, Bill Gager, Jim Palco, Tony Farr, Al Andreini, Larry Romanick, Roger Jozaiak and Joe Landazzi.

BEAT MILAN

Seven first places and six seconds enabled Tecumseh to keep its undefeated track in the Huron League Wednesday of last week, when the Indians trimmed Milan 59½ to 49½.

Monday night Adrian defeated the Indians here, 63-46, the first dual meet loss for Tecumseh in about two years.

Ridgeway PTA Will Install

DeKalb Honors Students

BRITTON — Four FFA members from here were honored for their outstanding work in the DeKalb Corn Achievement program at a banquet in Albion.

On hand with their instructor, Ronald Fritch, were Sam McCarty, David Houseman, Keith Steele and Joe Prochaska.

In contrast to most corn contests, the Corn Achievement program places emphasis on the ability of students to learn about the business of producing corn. Both teacher and students alike are enthusiastic about the DeKalb program because it is educational.

Each student keeps records on corn production factors like fertility, plant population, disease and insect damage and resistance, yields and costs in special record forms provided.

The excellence of this completed record is the basis for making awards to those doing the best job.

At the banquet, special recognition went to Keith who made the top score for the school.

According to Mr. Fritch, local vo-ag advisor, each vocational agriculture student plants two varieties of DeKalb Corn. He then keeps records of all field operations and costs.

After harvest the young farmers determine what it costs them to produce a bushel of corn.

The Britton boys had costs ranging from 42c to $1.01 per bushel. Bob Billau and Dick Faust the lowest cost per bushel of 42c.

Before profits can be determined, the participants make checks at harvest time to determine yields. Their yields ranged from 54.1 to 150.5 bushels per acre, with Joe Prochaska having the highest yield of 150.5 bushels.

This is one of the many ways farmers of tomorrow are learning about the economics of farming today. Many of the students, as well as many farmers, are frequently surprised to learn that growing corn is not always as profitable as they thought when all the costs of producing it are actually considered.

While at the banquet, the local boys learned about corn research efforts to combat the major corn diseases and insects.

They saw first-hand the tremendous efforts put forth by corn breeders to produce modern hybrids.

Mrs. Eberhardt was assisted in serving refreshments to her 24 guests by Mr. W. S. Niblack and Mrs. Gripton.

Time To Fix Mail Boxes on Routes

The post office department lists these suggestions for Rural Mail Box Improvements Week, May 15 to 20.

Boxes that are not properly erected, or not maintained in good serviceable condition, retard the delivery of mail and expose it to the weather.

Boxes which are no longer serviceable should be replaced.

Name of box owner should be inscribed on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door if boxes are grouped.

Boxes and supports should be kept painted preferably white, but other colors may be used.

Mail boxes on rural and star routes must be located on the right side of the road in the direction of travel of the carriers.

The approaches to boxes should be filled and properly graded and unobstructed at all times.

The above also applies to mounted route.

"I take this opportunity to thank all patrons from the Tecumseh post office for their fine cooperation in the past," states Jack Metcalf.

Faye Emerson Opens Ann Arbor Drama

Faye Emerson, John Baragrey, Nancy Kelly, Albert Dekker, Larry Parks, Betty Garrett, Donald Cook, Stephen Elliott and Ann Summers have been signed to appear in the 1961 Ann Arbor Drama Season.

Five plays are scheduled, three Broadway comedy hits, a great suspense play and a powerful drama by Eugene O'Neill, America's foremost playwright.

The plays are "The Marriage-Go-Round", "The Bad Seed", "A Touch Of The Poet", "Send Me No Flowers" and "The Pleasure Of His Company".

The Season will get under way Tuesday, May 16, and extend five weeks through Saturday, June 17.

Faye Emerson and John Baragrey, two of television's most popular performers, will inaugurate the season in "The Marriage-Go-Round", a comedy by Leslie Stevens which ran for two years in New York.

In the play, Miss Emerson will be seen as the Dean of Women at a small mid-western college and Baragrey will portray her professor husband. Their academic tenure is invaded by a statuesque girl from Sweden bent on "borrowing" the professor as the father of her "perfect" child.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

WHO CARES ABOUT THE WEATHER?

Monday, April 24, after such a wonderful Sunday, the first really warm sunny one of the year, we were most disappointed when Monday dawned dark, dreary and drippy.

About 10 o'clock however, just after I sat up, everything started happening at once and who had time to notice the weather?

Actually the excitement started a little earlier when Ida asked what the sparrows with the striped heads were White throated sparrows — wow, spring must really be here.

As soon as I was up, four of the handsome fellows hopped in to view and, as in past years, presented a question. Were they white-throats or white-crowned sparrows?

The books show little difference between the two and our small visitors were so full of business they just wouldn't stand still. I think white-throats are what they are but we enjoy them for their looks, not their name.

Their black and white striped heads and the little white patches under their chins make them very attractive.

☆

SUDDENLY OUT of the corner of my eye I noticed something happening on the creek bank just the otherside of the fence.

Leaves, little twigs and bits of dead grass were being tossed about. It looked like a small-sized whirlwind were at work. Towhees act this way and just as we were wondering "could it be" sure enough, it was.

Hopping to the bottom rail of the fence, for all the world as if he wanted to be sure we saw him, came Sir Towhee.

Smaller than a robin, jet black head, back and wings, wide band of chestnut each side of his breast and pearly-gray front—oh, what a pretty, pretty bird.

Already the morning had produced two newcomers and we weren't through yet. A dainty yellow warbler was next in view. He perched in a small tree near doctor's bridge, too far away for a sure identification and before the binoculars could be aimed and focused he had flitted away.

☆

SEVERAL MINUTES later he was back again and this time much, much closer. He was busy arranging his feathers after a quick dip in the creek and we had plenty of time to look at him through the glasses.

Most of the bird books picture the yellow warbler with noticeable red streaks on his breast but "Peterson's Field Guide" says, "No other small bird appears in the field to be all yellow."

Even through the glasses we could see not the faintest tracing of red, but right in front of us we watched the little bird for quite a while—no doubt about it, he was a yellow warbler.

What a morning, and in addition to all the "firsts" all the old faithfuls were showing off, too.

Momma and Papa Cardinal, bluejays by the half-dozen, Mr. and Mrs. Chick-a-dee, titmice, nuthatches — everybody was busy. And as if the birds weren't enough, I even saw a little 13-striped ground squirrel, or gopher, streak across the yard.

For the sake of the lawns, this newcomer is bad news but, since I don't often see one, he was cute.

☆

TUESDAY afternoon was even darker, drearier and drippier than Monday but it was equally exciting.

Once again all the regulars were at their best, the towhee came even closer than before and we added one more bird to the spring returnee list.

A brown thrasher. He was in the yard all afternoon, and what a beauty—a rich reddish brown with a heavily streaked gray breast, an exceptionally long tail and quite a large bill.

So it is that although I have been known to complain about dull, rainy days, if Mother Nature keeps enlivening them, as she did Monday and Tuesday, who cares about the weather.

'Me and My House'

Mrs. Ray Sommers presented a report on the book "Me and My House" for members of the Friends Missionary Society Thursday evening.

The book was written by Mr. and Mrs. W. Williams, former Friends Missionaries to China and ministers to the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends.

The story concerns the early childhood and family of Dr. W. Ezra DeVol whose wife and twin daughters were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Escolme, former pastor and wife of the local church, during World War II.

This book represents the lives of the various members of the DeVol family, who for two generations have served as Quaker Missionaries in foreign fields.

It tells of the early lives of the parents, Dr. W. DeVol and Dr. Isabella French-DeVol, of their childhood in faithful Quaker households; of their courtship and marriage; of their calling to the China Mission station and later on a Mission hospital under very primitive conditions; of two boys and girls being born to them one girl who died in China, of their strictness and also love towards their children, who in they acquainted early in life with their personal faith and their love for medicine and science.

The book tells of fund-raising campaigns they undertook during sickleave in the US; of ill health through overwork, both these people endured; of the Boxer uprising and much strife during that time in China; of the loss of the Mission hospital (burned down by enemy soldiers) and eventually of the death of Dr. W. DeVol at an early age, with the children not yet grown up; of the family's return to the US and then the death of Dr. Isabella, which left three young sters in tender years.

The book then tells of the lives of the children, who are now grown and themselves parents or grandparents, respectively; and traces their lives through academic pursuits and courtships to the present day.

The oldest son, Dr. Charles DeVol and his wife, Lora, are in charge of the Friends Mission in Taipei, Formosa; where Dr. DeVol also teaches botany at the University of Taipei.

He is a world renown authority on ferns; one fern that he discovered in China has been categorized in his name and is known to botanists thereby.

His wife and he have suffered the loss of their personal belongings several times over, also he has been imprisoned multiple times and both have endured much hardship and separation, yet were always glad to maintain at least their lives and have endured cheerfully.

Then there is the daughter, Catherine, who first studied medicine, but gave up in her senior year, then met and married Dr. Everett Cattell, who is at present the president of Malone College, the Friends College at Canton, O.

Before accepting this position, Dr. and Mrs. Cattell have been Missionaries to India for many years, established native congregations and helped organize the churches there; also Mrs. Cattell has a special love for the village women there and is the author of numerous books and publications for the education of these people. In her own words these women "have so little and want so little."

The youngest son, Dr. W. Ezra DeVol is in charge of the Friends Mission hospital in Chhatarpur, India, where his faith and the skill of his hands perform near miracles in surgery; for the natives are often from childhood badly deformed and suffer horribly.

His wife, Francis, who is also his assistant used to stay at the Friends Parsonage in Tecumseh during WW II, while her husband was held prisoner by the Japanese.

She lived with her twin daughters on S. VanBuren and worked at Herrick Hospital as a nurse.

In conclusion this family, described in the book; have through faith overcome much hardship, personal losses, imprisonment, probably hunger; have found many doors closed to them; yet they have never hesitated to heed just one more call: "Go ye into all the world and teach ye—" and as Mrs. Sommers so aptly concluded: "Can any of us say as much?".

Soil and Water Conservation Is Everyone's Job

"Today in our country, the farmer controls the land and use of water. Some of us are guilty of poor stewardship. We must take better care of God's resources, lest our homes, community, and nation become poverty stricken," writes Clarence Ehlert, chairman of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District.

"Soil and water conservation is everyone's job. All of us are involved, regardless of whether or not we own land, rent land, or have no land at all.

"The directors of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District are asking the ministers of this area to bring the stewardship message to their people during the week of May 7 to 14," he adds.

The Stewardship film, "The Earth is the Lord's" is available, free of charge to church groups, clubs and schools. The film is one reel of 16 mm color and sound, and runs approximately 13 minutes.

It portrays man's solemn obligation before God to take care of His land for future generations. Requests may be scheduled through the Extension Service, CO 5-5108 or Soil Conservation District, CO 5-5887.

"What can I do about this pain?"

Customers often ask questions like this. And every year we sell perhaps a ton of pain relievers. Relievers. That's the point. We can sell simple analgesics, but we can't prescribe drugs to eliminate the cause of pain. Diagnosing and prescribing are in your physician's province. We, as professional pharmacists, work with doctors, providing the drugs they order. So, if you have any kind of a persistent pain, see your physician. We shall be pleased to provide any medication which may be prescribed.

Planning Group Formed

Howard D. White, Sr., President of Revco, Inc., has been named chairman of the Lenawee Community Services Planning Committee.

Maurice Stubnitz, President of the Lenawee County United Fund," Mr. Stubnitz reported.

"It means that we are equally concerned with planning as we are with campaigning and distribution of funds raised.

"In other words, we are concerned with the orderly development of critically needed programs in health, welfare and recreation throughout the county, and with any possible duplication of agency programs.

"It also means," he continued, that this committee must be representative of all of Lenawee County and include members from non-affiliated local fund areas, including Tecumseh.

"Therefore, its relationship with the County Fund is of a semi-independent nature whose primary objectives should be of interest and importance to all community and United Funds in Lenawee County."

The Committee will be limited to 20 and of this number three to five will be from Tecumseh.

This group will have nothing to do with fund-raising.

Tecumseh VFW Given Honorable Mention

LANSING — An active suburban Detroit Veterans of Foreign Wars Post was named winner in the 12th annual state community service contest sponsored by the VFW.

Winner for the second year in succession was Roseville 2,358.

Tecumseh's was an honorable mention.

Michigan's more than 700 local posts and auxiliaries were all reported active in community service this past year and the State Department will receive an award.

Jane Crawford Hits Honor Roll

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Jane Crawford, 9250 Tonneberger Dr. is one of 266 students in the College of Arts and Sciences at The Catholic University of America here to achieve a "B" or better average at the end of the first semester 1960-61, and is on the Dean's list.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A "Tidy" Problem

Red Dolan dropped by the Widow Parker's last week to drive her to the depot. She was leaving on her annual month-long visit with her sister.

"Land sakes the folks in this town are nice," she said. "You're the fourth person that's offered me a ride today and I've already arranged to go with Mrs. Phillips. But, Red, there is one thing you can do for me."

"You name it," says Red. "Well," she replied, "in some diplomatic way would you let my nice friends know they won't do me a favor if they come in and house-clean for me. They did last year and it took me three days to get things back to rights."

From where I sit, some folks start out with good intentions and end up interfering. We may not agree with the way our friends fix up their homes and they may not agree with our preference for beer with meals, but these are choices we each have a right to make. Respect for them is the biggest "favor" of all.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications (which cost only about $4.00 and take about 20 minutes) because Ford has replaced conventional grease fittings with a sealed-in lubrication system.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes because Ford's Full-Flow oil filter gives you filtration through fibers ... trapping more dirt than any other type of filter made.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves—automatically.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized to normally last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—Just wash and clean Ford's new Diamond Lustre Finish and it continues to glisten like new. It never needs waxing.

What's Going on at Boysville

By LOUIS CIAVONE

The St. Edward High School Concert Band of Lakewood, Ohio, played a short concert in the Boysville gymnasium on Saturday morning, April 29, at 11 a.m.

The concert concluded the activities of a tour the band has been on recently.

The school is conducted by the Brothers of Holy Cross, the same congregation that staffs Boysville.

The Boysville Concert Band and Glee Club held their annual Spring Concert in the gymnasium on Sunday.

Besides the band and glee club, a solo vocalist, Mike Maher, sang a couple of numbers; and a vocal group known as Bobby and the Invitas, six students at Boysville, also sang two numbers, one of which was an original of their own composition.

Among the numbers rendered by the band were "Selections from Gigi," and "Birth of the Blues," two well known musical pieces.

The glee club sang such presentations as "Aura Lee," De Camptown Races," and "Danny Boy."

On Thursday, Boysville defeated the Sand Creek Aggies, 5-3.

Ace hurler Dick Michniak of the Knights tossed his second no-hitter in his career at Boysville.

The three Aggie runs were results of walks and throwing errors.

Although the Knight bats were not booming with their usual power, Michniak's control kept the lead secure for the Knights throughout the game.

John McGeshick, the Knights' top hitter so far this season, contributed a single and a triple, the latter coming with the bases loaded.

He drove in three runs and scored one himself.

The victory over the Aggies gave the Knights a 2-0 record in River Raisin League play. They defeated Ida last week.

The Boysville students will have a free day on May 11, Ascension Thursday. On this day Boysville will hold an open house for the nuns of this area.

If the weather is good, the nuns will have picnic lunches near the pond and be served refreshments there later in the day.

The Boysville Band and Glee Club will present a short concert for the nuns. The concert will be followed by a movie.

The Mother's Day weekend is coming closer. For the Boysville students this means two things:

► They will be home for Mothers' Day.

► The weekend vacation will be the final one before school lets out in June.

Sunday, May 21, Boysville will hold its Annual Open House. This event is open to the public, and will give many of The Herald readers a chance to come to see the lovely Boysville campus.

There will be guides to escort visitors about the campus.

There will be meals in the Dining Hall.

MOST APPROVE 550 View Film

Nearly 550 persons viewed "Operations Abolition" in two Thursday showing at the Presbyterian Church.

The program was arranged by The Herald as a public service.

The church was filled to near capacity in the evening when 450 viewed the controversial film about student riots at the 1960 House Un-American Activitis Committee hearing in San Francisco's city hall.

One-hundred attended the matinee.

Panel discussions followed each showing with the Rev. Julian Gresham pointing out inaccuracies in the movie and urging that the film be junked.

Maynard Wolfe of Toledo and Royal Welch, local councilman, argued that "Operations Abolition" had definite value and that the errors were minor in comparison to the story it tells.

The Herald gave ballots of each person attending and 331 voted on "future showing of the film."

Final results:
FOR—225
AGAINST—52
UNDECIDED—44

Many of the guests urged more screenings only if each would be followed by informative discussions, as was the Thursday session here.

"This film has received tremendous publicity all across the nation, and especially in Michigan. That was why we wanted to have a public showing in Tecumseh," explained the Herald co-publishers.

"We felt that interested residents of this area might wish to view the film, hear pro-and-con comments from informed persons afterwards and then judge for themselves if the picture is or is not worthwhile," they noted.

(Additional details on the showing here and comments by viewers can be found on the last page of this section and the first page of the next.)

Preceding the annual parade, ceremonies will be held at 9:30 a.m. in front of the city hall. The parade will form at the corner of Maumee St. and Chicago Blvd.

Veterans Monument Cost $2,000

The $2,000 Veterans Monument, recently installed on the lawn of city hall, has been a joint project of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the city.

It has taken two years of various projects to raise the needed money to pay for the memorial.

Richard Colson was chairman of the memorial committee, which included Dennis Goller, Don Maves, Carroll Conklin, Harley Slick, Gaza Kish, James Felton and Tom Corkery.

The committee gratefully acknowledges assistance it has received.

The monument will be formally dedicated prior to the annual Memorial Day parade.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN, age 39

Few events of modern history will match the heart-throbbing flight last week of Comm. Alan Shepard, Jr., age 37.

It made millions of Americans tingle—and there was one class of citizens who got a double wallop from the feat.

We upper-30 guys, reaching what some younger punks refer to as middle age, got a boost as if shot with some of that rocket fuel.

Those of us pushing 40, noting in recent years our more ample foreheads, have begun to wonder if maybe "they" were right after all, that we were over the hill.

Enter Alan Shepard, who put the needle to that balloon and made our age group come to life all over again.

The medicos who checked the commander—bless him—said our first space man was pretty average, not a superman. In good shape, to be sure, but basically a chap who has reached 37. And, after all, this is just the start of really living.

Thanks, commander.

☆

When two showings of "Opration Abolition" were arranged for last week by The Herald, there were visions of between 100 and 200 attending.

The nearly 550 who poured into the Presbyterian Church pushed reality way beyond our fondest expectations.

The discussion periods following each showing were also something to inspire . . . adult, objective, informative.

Acting as moderator, I was so impressed with the evening session when 450 were on hand, I thought possibly we might end with a prayer.

Our host, The Rev. Julian Gresham, who served so capably on the panel, was at my elbow. I whispered to him:

"Would you like to close the program with a prayer?"

He thought a moment, probably considering the fact that there were folks from many faiths in his church, then answered, "I don't think so."

With a sudden twinkle in my Irish eyes, I replied.

"Then I'll just say a 'Hail Mary.' "

Friend Julian rocked his head back with a wide grin and we both started to chuckle together, probably mystifying the audience at what was going on.

Mr. Gresham commented earlier that this was only the second time his church had been packed since his coming to Tecumseh. "And each time I didn't have anything to do with it. Besides tonight there was the wedding of Sylvia Helzerman and Blair Bashore performed that."

Cherie and I took our nine-year-old daughter to "Music Man" at the Riviera in Detroit Saturday evening.

We thought our tickets were first-row balcony, but when the usher seated us, we were almost in the last row. (Seems they were listed AA, which seemed like double A-OK to us. Turns out, A is first row, the rest of the alphabet follows and finally starts for a second time on AA.)

Conservatively, we were about as far from the stage as Harold Easton's Mobil station is from Helms Furniture.

There were 15 minutes until curtain time and on an impulse (we 39-year-olds think fast), I dashd back downstairs to the box office.

"Could I exchange these for something on the first floor, please?" (And of course fork over a few more bucks.)

The ticket gal was a doll, checking, re-checking.. She couldn't keep us all together (Cherie's mom also went), but found . . . like gold nuggets in the street . . . a pair in the first row. She also got two good singles.

I was dispatched as daughter Carol's escort and we hustled down the aisle.

Before the curtain there was time to chat with the drummer in the orchestra, who sat four feet from us.

The show, called "America's Happiest Musical," was a honey.

At one point, star Forrest Tucker stood at our side of the stage, within a free-throw toss. He stared right at Carol and grinned. This topped everything. She exclaimed later, "Mr. Tucker smiled at me. He's even nicer than Pat Boone."

☆

In closing this week, I'd like to refer once more to the 15-minute space ride of Comm. Shepard, this time in a serious mood.

I couldn't help but think while the radio announcer described the trip . . . as probably thousands of others also were doing . . . that America has truly entered a fascinating new era.

It has been coming ever since World War II, but this flight put

Nip and Tuck Vote

A nip and tuck contest for the schools' four mills is seen if the "straw vote" taken last Friday and Satudray by The Herald is indicative of the way people will vote throughout the school district on May 20.

A large "undecided" faction —over 23% of the people questioned—will determine passage or defeat of the millage.

The straw vote showed a slight number in favor of the millage, 39.39% for and 37.3% against.

Both city and rural folks were included in the survey with the rural vote decidedly against the four mills.

Out of 121 rural contacts, 52 were against, 35 for, and 34 undecided.

In the City of Tecumseh, there wre 117 for, 92 against, and 56 undecided.

A carefully-selected cross section of 386 residents, chosen from every locale in the 86-square-mile Tecumseh School District, was polled by members of the high school senior economics class.

Majority of the people voicing favorable comments, cited the need for education instead of cutting services. Those against remarked that taxes already were too high, so why add another burden to the people.

Tables for the straw vote:

FOR	152
AGAINST	144
UNDECIDED	90
Tecumseh
FAVOR	117
AGAINST	92
UNDECIDED	52
Rural
FOR	35
AGAINST	52
UNDECIDED	34

Students of Wayne Reganall who conducted the survey, presented cards to interviewers with the question: How do you feel about the proposed 4-mill school tax vote?

No names were taken nor any record desired of how individuals were planning on voting. All areas of the city were spot-surveyed as were sections of the country.

COMMENTS varied. Those "for" read:

"Should be no question about it."

"Not exactly for it but you've got to have it."

"We want the best education possible for our children, even if it will cost us more."

"We want the best education possible for our children, even if it will cost us more."

"We are in favor of an adequate amount of finance for our children and young people's education and we trust the judgment of the school authorities to invest our money."

"If this issue doesn't pass now, it will be necessary to pass a larger one in only a few years."

"I think this increase is needed for a period of a couple of years to retire the debt."

"Think only property owners should vote."

"For, if money used better than previous."

"Try to cut down on the elaborate school furnishings and unnecessary expens of school building equipment.

☆

MANY COMMENTS reported by those "against" the millage were:

"Too free with money."

"Taxes are too high now."

"Taxes have gone up every single year until it is just too much."

"Additional tax is not needed."

"There should be a cut in teachers' and superintendent's salaries."

"Could do without the tax if someone would eliminate the unnecessary activities."

"Need a business administration."

"This is a depressed area. No jobs, how can we afford taxes?"

"Four mills are not the answer to the problem."

☆

UNDECIDED comments also varied:

"Four-mill raise in taxes is needed, but present set-up needs changing."

"Expenses should be cut if possible, but is it possible? If not, four mills should be passed.

"Four mills is needed, but can't afford them."

"Don't know enough about it."

How Much Is Education Worth?

By MRS. THOMAS F. SMITH, Guest Writer
5542 Milwaukee Rd.

To our eight-year-old, education means school. Our ten-year-old described it as "the chance to be somebody."

Franklin had this to say:

"If a man empties his purse into his head, no man can take it away from him.
An investment in knowledge always pays the best interest."

My appreciation for electricity increases considerably after a temporary absence of it.

If I were to sit down for coffee, morning paper in hand, only to find that my ability to read had suddenly disappeared, what then?

It is difficult to express in words the value of education, for few things are comparable.

Every day, parents sacrifice for their children's pleasure and comfort. If asked about security, they think immediately of an insurance policy, or savings account. (I know, I'm such a parent.)

Education, like electricity, is taken for granted. The absence of it does not seem plausible, but what of freedom? The loss of this might not be temporary.

Let's think long—think hard—and vote!

Police Seeking Youth, 15 or 16

Police are searching for a 15 or 16-year-old boy who is accused of indecent exposure.

The incident was reported by three girls, who were playing in the park west of Patterson School Monday afternoon when it occurred.

The girls, two who are nine and one who is seven, told police the type of jacket the teenager wore and described the bicycle he was riding.

Police Chief George Kilbourn said that a search is being made and that all schools already have been checked. He suspects that the youth is not a Tecumseh student.

Citizens Group To Check Course in 'Human Growth'

By JIM LINCOLN

Many city and rural residents were granted their wish Monday night when the Tecumseh school board passed a resolution in favor of establishing a Citizens Committee.

The resolution includes appointment of a 10-member steering committee and an organization of 40 members.

Service clubs are asked to send in names of candidates for this committee to the board of education. Any resident of the school district is eligible, and if interested, could submit his or her own name.

The board expects to appoint the steering committee at its June meeting and begin preparations for establishing the full Citizens Committee. The steering group will appoint the balance of 30 members.

Probable first project of the Citizens Committee will be a review of the schools' "Group Guidance" course, especially the portion dealing with sex education or human growth.

Several mothers attended Monday's board session and objected in part to sex education being taught seventh graders.

All approved that some sex education should be taught, but most objected to the details and completeness.

It was also suggested that the course could be integrated into the science, home economics and physical education classes.

Supt. James McDowell told the mothers that the course was included in the curriculum through requests by the public. He said if the course was no longer wanted, it could be eliminated.

Dr. Richard Dustin, member of the board, spoke favorably of the course and told the mothers that many children do not get proper sex education at home.

Mrs. Vern Manwaring showed letters from junior high schools —Ann Arbor, Hudson, Chelsea, Grosse Pointe and others—which

Movie, Talk Planned Here by Mort Neff

Once again, Tecumsehites will have an opportunity to see and to hear Mort Neff, hunter, fisherman and explorer of Michigan's outdoors.

He's coming here Tuesday, May 16, at 8 p.m., at the Tecumseh High School gymnasium, under the sponsorship of the local Rotary Club.

Mr. Neff, referred to as "Mr. Michigan Outdoors" because of his half-hour TV program, will show colored movies titled "Golden Moments in Michigan Outdoors."

Several years ago when Rotary first sponsored the adventurer here, he filled the gym and was enthusiastically received.

Another large crowd is expected. Tickets may be purchased from any Rotarian or at Easton's Friendly Service, Elmer Eberhardt's insurance office, Green's Clothing, Kerby's Restaurant and Wright's Drug Store.

The sportsman is a graduate of the University of Michigan, formerly operated an advertising agency and has authored numerous newspaper and magazine articles pertaining to first-hand experiences in hunting, fishing and travel.

He also has hunted and fished in several South American countries.

His popularity was shown when a 15-minute radio program blossomed into the TV field with a network of six Michigan TV stations.

Board Chairman Attends Session

The Rev. Blair Bashore, county welfare board chairman, with Harold F. Hough, department director, is attending welfare conference in East Lansing this week.

The meetings will be held at Kellogg Center on the Michigan State University campus. Medical care facilities and county infirmaries will be discussed.

Fire Department Given Business Phone Number

The Tecumseh Fire Department now has a business phone to relieve many of the calls to the station.

The new phone number is HA 3-4545.

Nancy Dinse Marries Clarence Kruger

Nancy Ann Dinse became the bride of Clarence Earl Kruger Saturday at the Grace Lutheran Church before an altar enhanced with pink and white tulips, palms and other floral arrangements.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dinse, 511 E. Chicago Blvd., and the groom is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Kruger, 413 W. Chicago Blvd., and Clarence Kruger of Ridgeway.

The Rev. K. F. Koeplin performed the ceremony in candle light and the Lutheran Church Choir sang "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Coller.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a princess style street-length sheath dress of white lace with three-quarter length sleeves and rounded neckline.

Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a pearl crown. She wore a single strand choker of "baby" pearls and tiny pearl earrings, the gift of the groom.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white feathered tulips and blue velvet forget-me-nots.

Judy Baxter was maid-of-honor, wearing a light blue lace sheath dress with rounded neckline and cap sleeves.

She wore a blue leaved headdress with tiny veil and trimmed with pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink and white feathered tulips.

Donald Dean Craig served as best man and the guests were seated by Russ Hyatt and Erwin Pennington.

A reception for 250 was held in the church basement immediately following the ceremony.

A blue and white theme was used in decorating accented with spring flowers. A three-tiered cake topped with miniature couple with four heart shaped cakes at the base was featured.

NANCY DINSEY KRUGER

The ladies aid members had charge of the reception arrangements. Those assisting were Charlene Dinse and Elizabeth Studnick, nieces of the bride; Janice Wagner, Diane Fox, Peggy Newell, Mrs. Jack Manders, Mrs. Gerald Ehlert, Mrs. Richard King and Mrs. Thomas Mitchell.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Stautzenberger Business College. She has been employed as engineering secretary at Sperti Faraday in Adrian for the last two years.

The groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and served three years in the army, stationed in Germany. He is now employed at International Harvester in Fort Wayne as an IBM programmer.

He also studies engineering at Indiana Technical College.

Out-of-town guests were from Milwaukee, Wis., Port Huron, Mich., New Boston, Mich., Adrian, Britton and Dundee.

Supt. McDowell says, from an educator's view, the Tecumseh course deals in "Human Growth" (title of the textbook) and not sex education.

Safety Check Opens May 23 with Parade

One of the biggest and best vehicle "Safety Check" programs ever staged here will be held in Tecumseh May 23, 24 and 25, during the annual celebration of Michigan Week.

Several innovations are included in this year's "Safety Check," including: safety queen contest, a giant parade which may include as many as four high school bands, and a thorough, free check of local automobiles and trucks.

C. O. Butler, co-chairman of the event with Tim Neill, reminds people that there are no reprisals at the safety lanes, that the sole purpose of the event is to check the safety of vehicles.

Sponsor of the event again is the local Rotary Club and helpful friends.

Various chairmen:

Robert Karle—auto dealers activity.

Clarence Beach, assisted by Chet Beach and Mr. Butler — marshal of the parade.

Bill Davis, Ken Conway — co-chairmen, safety lane

Bob French, assisted by insurance agents with Bill Hanna chairman, a data clerks.

John Surratt—prizes

Many business people are expected to participate in the parade—advertising, business cars or trucks, etc—and are asked to call Clarence or Chet Beach or Mr. Butler for more details.

All rigs—buggies, golf carts, go-karts, antique cars—are encouraged to join the pre-check parade. It will start at 5 p.m. on Tuesday, May 23.

the fact into sharp focus.

Just as our nation passed from the Model T to the high-powered cars, and as we went from prop to jet in planes, we are in the space age with both feet.

This means a lot of things.

One of the biggest changes must come in the world of public education. What our youngsters are getting in school now is minimum.

Courses in science and advanced mathmatics will have to be added, on the high school and junior high school level.

Students will have to bear down much harder. They're going to have to master more things than previous generations ever had to.

This isn't going to be a few top scholars from all across the land. Rather, it will be many in every school district.

Can we possibly even think of cutting back in the local educational program?

Here's another excellent reason—and probably the most vital of them all—why the four mills levy should be passed May 20.

Mrs. Niblack Attends Mothers Day Weekend

BRITTON—Mrs. W. S. Niblack left Friday to attend Mothers Day Weekend at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo where her daughter Penny is a student.

They attended th Theta Upsilon Sorority luncheon Saturday noon.

Mrs. Niblack returned home Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Niblack and son of Battle Creek who were dinner guests as well as Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lidster and family.

Three Alarms Call Firemen

The Fire Department answered three alarms last week.

Monday at 2 p.m., a flooded oil water heater at the Ferris Trailer Court resulted in no damage.

Tuesday at 7:30 a.m., they were summoned to the home of Mrs. Jessie Brown, 304 E. Kilbuck St. when Mrs. Brown was overcome from fumes due to a faulty furnace.

The resuscitator was used and Mrs. Brown was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital where she remained for observation.

Then at 3:45 p.m., firemen answered an alarm at 314 S. Ottawa St. where the fire was not determined as it was extinguished before the arrival of the firemen.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

May I bother you with my views on our school problems such as closing school buildings, curtailing programs and needing four mills etc.?

It is beginning to look as though we were too hasty in building, if we can close the buldings now and manage some other way.

When building, why use so much glass and thereby increase the cost of maintenance especially in this age when we have such wonderful indirect lighting and why incur the expense of special doors for the kindergarten age—they haven't little doors to pass through at home?

Curtailment of program can be a highly controversial subject because what is important to one is insignificant to another.

However, one subject is being taught that is breaking the hearts of parents and will the students eventually. Why not streamline this subject and combine with something else?

Have you ever thought of the number of people who have become successful not only financially but mentally and spiritually without kindergarten training, physical education, swimming, music, athletics, behavior subjects, hot lunches, bus rides etc?

(While swimming is not a part of our school curriculum, I do know that many of the young and old who swim in heated pools have no desire to swim in spring-fed and fresh water lakes and the ocean and that seems a tragedy to me.)

Have you noticed how many of our teachers are teaching subjects that are not their majors? Therefore, in this crisis is it asking too much of the teachers and administrators to take a cut in salary and the administrators to be more cautious in their stretching out and contracting for things before the millage is passed to pay for them—all of this until such time as we, the people, can adjust our views and arrange for a good sound school system that is within our means.

Oh yes, I would ask the Board of Education to give their services free of charge until such time we, the people, can pay them for their effort.

(Editor's note: Boardmen receive no salary. If you'll remember, we voted last summer on a salary schedule for boardmen to conform with state law. The issue was voted down, which meant that nothing could be paid boardmen — and hasn't since that time.

(The previous year, under the old salary plan $5 was given each boardmen per meeting and $375 for the treasurer and $175 for the secretary. The board, as a group, was paid $670 for the year 1959-60. This was .00048 of the total school budget for that year, $1,386,835.67.)

I have learned that higher salaries do not necessarily mean teachers with better teaching ability.

All is well and good when the taxpayers can meet their obligations—by the way all people who pay property rentals are indirectly paying the taxes on that property.

As for the City of Tecumseh, it is giving too much of its taxable property to schools and churches tax free. Let us be realistic.

We know that there is wealth in Tecumseh and we also know that there are hundreds of families in the Tecumseh School District who do not have wealth. We also know that we have a large number of people with static incomes.

Therefore, my final plea is that the voters have courage enough to be true to their convictions and vote for or against the four mills according to the dictates of their conscience when the date rolls around and that the ones in charge of the election have adequate voting facilities available for the maximum number of voters eligible.

Sincerely,
Ruth V. Rentschler, (Mrs. T.)

LILLIAN HOGAN

She Was in Congo Since 1944

A service will be held Friday, May 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the Assembly of God Church featuring a missionary to the Congo Republic.

Lillian Hogan will show slides to illustrate the work she has been doing in the mission fields

Miss Hogan has been a missionary to the Congo Republic, the former Belgian Congo, Africa, since 1944.

During the summer of 1960, she and another woman missionary who were along at Betongwe, were advised to join the missionaries at Andudu since the national situation was rapidly deteriorating.

Most of the Europeans, especially the women, had already vacated the area.

Next day, the local officials stopped by to order all to leave immediately as the troops were rioting—80 miles away and were on the move. Missionaries and Europeans started out for the nearest airfield.

For three days they waited in hopes that they could return to their posts.

But the Congolese District official advised that all women and children be evacuated. Some were airlifted to Uganda. Others followed by car to help locate their families in Kenya with the Canadian Pentecostal Mission.

Three weeks later the missionaries returned to labor until they were again evacuated the last week of January.

However, Miss Hogan returned to the States in October for a regular furlough and is hoping to be able to take up the work again in the near future.

Mother's Day Is Theme for Sermon

"The True Purpose of Mother's Day" is the sermon topic by the Rev. William Pelly of the Raisin Presbyterian Church of Holloway for May 14.

Rev. Pelly says, "The best tribute one can pay to the Christian mother is to lead a true Christian life. We can honor motherhood by the determination to live in accordance to the gospel of Jesus Christ, which is only true faith and practice."

The Rev. Pelly spoke concerning the church camp at Alma College at the Youth Fellowship meeting Sunday evening.

Several of the group are planning to attend the camp in August.

Refreshments followed the recreation hour.

Christian Psychiatry Is Topic

Christian Psychiatry will be the subject of the talk to be given by Dr. Frederick E. Milkie at the May dinner in Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening, May 17.

He has served on the psychiatric staffs of the Ohio State Penitentiary and the Lima State Hospital for the Criminally Insane and now has a private practice in Psychiatry and Psychosomatic Medicine in Toledo.

He was challanged to examine his Christian Faith after seeing the Billy Graham film "Oil Town U.S.A." at the Devils Lake Drive-In Church on July 4, 1954.

After a five-month inner struggle, he was converted to Evangelical Christianity on Dec. 14, 1954 and now is a frequent speaker at Bible Conferences on "Freudian Psychology versus Christian principles", and other related topics in his field.

Dinner will be served at 6:30

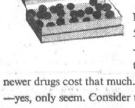
"50¢ a tablet can be cheap!"



No one likes to pay 50c for a single tablet —including us. Nevertheless, some of the newer drugs cost that much. They seem expensive —yes, only seem. Consider this: Pneumonia used to mean 4 to 6 bedridden weeks. Loss of pay. Often hospitalization. Often death. Now, a few dollars' worth of one antibiotic will generally cure pneumonia in days. And this is only one example . . . there are many others. When you consider what a few 50c pills will do for you, they seem downright cheap.

Mother Saves Seven

A mother saved her seven children when fire swept their home near Tipton last week.

Most of their clothing and furnishings were destroyed.

Mrs. Margaret Peters, who is separated from her husband, herded her family to safety Friday at 7:45 a.m. when she found a fire in the 10-room home out of control.

The house, owned by Maynard Kay who lives nearby, was a total loss. It was located north of Sheperd Rd. on Tipton Hwy.

Tecumseh and Adrian Township fire departments were called to fight the blaze.

The fire was believed to have started at an electrical inlet and worked its way through the walls and roof.

The Adrian Grange has made a collection of clothing, bedding and other necessities.

The Peters family is now renting a home from Harold Radant. It is located on the Wisner Rd. farm called Kaiser Estate, which Mr. Radant rents himself. The home has not been occupied.

They are comfortable there, but most of the family needs shoes. Their sizes are:

Becky, age 2—size 7
Bonnie, age 4—size 9½ or 10
Charles, 7—boy's 10
Karen, 9—girl's 11 or 12
Mike, 13—8 or 8½
Cheryl, 15, Sally, 16, and Mrs. Peters all wear size 7½ shoes.

The four smaller youngsters all need pajamas, socks and underthings. Bonnie and Karen are in need of dresses, size 6 and 11.

Karen was ill with the measles at the time of the fire. She and the other children were taken to the home of a married sister, Mrs. Fred Karpo.

Mrs. Karpo said that the family could use curtains, throw rugs, a davenport and chair.

BY DOROTHY GRIGG

A capacity audience thrilled to "Showboat" produced by the band and chorus in the high school gymnasium on Tuesday, opening night of the two performance musical.

From start to finish, from ceiling to floor of the huge room, the students and their instructors had extended themselves to make the evening a memorable one.

Much could be written about the wonderful showboat music, the colorful costuming and the fine performance of the students.

Especially well received was the "Swanee" number sung by Dennis Bryan and "Beautiful Dreamer" rendered by the Madrigals.

Yes, so was the 'Melodramer" and Ron Lemerand did a splendid job, as did so many others. Congratulations are in order.

By SANDRA ELLIOTT

There was a lot of scurrying around April 24 at Patterson Jim Hale of Mrs. Ray Puffer's second grade had brought a big moth to school. The next morning it emerged into a beautiful Cecropia butterfly.

Then is when the excitement began. Teachers hurried to Mrs. Puffer's room. They had heard about Jim's butterfly.

Jim was proud of his butterfly and the students in his room all went to the library to find out about the kind of butterfly it was.

What's Going on at Boysville

By LOUIS CIAVONE

The Boysville marching band travelled to St. Joseph and Benton Harbor on Saturday to participate in the Blossom Festival Parade.

The Marching Knights represented the Knights of Columbus in the parade.

Although band members had to rise early and travel 150 miles to their destination, they still had a grand time in Benton Harbor.

The occupants of DePaul recreation hall, the eighth graders, are getting the volleyball fever.

They have organized, under the direction of Brother James Reese, CSC set up a net at the end of their recreation building and are now competing with the other rec halls.

Each rec hall now has a volleyball court.

√

What would come to your mind if someone told you that the Dudes were going to play the Angels on Wednesday?

You would probably call for the boys with the white jackets.

But at Boysville, these are familiar names—of intramural softball teams.

Among the Senior League teams are the Dudes, the Angels, the Heretics, the Mice and the Goners.

The Junior League includes such weird names as the Brats, the Brains, the Savages, the Bums, and the Stars.

The person responsible for these atrocities is Brother Austin Maley CSC, director of the intramural program.

No one knows how he thinks up these names, but he does it!

√

Two trees at the main entrance to Boysville were cut down May 4.

Both nearly dead, the trees were hanging over the road and thus caused a potential hazard to cars traveling on the Clinton-Macon Highway.

The trees were removed by the Lenawee County Road Commissioner.

Trucks Create New Horizons

Michigan Week's theme—"Michigan's New Horizons" — ties in beautifully with truck transport and the service it renders the people of this State. For trucks do create new horizons through their ability to serve the most remote areas. They go wherever there are roads (and even where there aren't roads, for that matter), carrying new products, new conveniences, new services to people all over Michigan . . . Yes, trucks stand ready to play a most important role as Michigan goes marching forward to new horizons!

The Three R's

By MARJORIE COMFORT

"Reading and 'riting and 'rithmetic, taught to the tune of a hickory stick."

Some persons, faced with the bill for today's schools, have proposed the return of "School Days" such as those in this song to "get rid of the frills."

To go back that far would take schools back beyond the memory of anyone living now.

Here's a list of subjects taught in Tecumseh High School taken from a booklet published by the Board of Education for the dedication of the new high school.

English
Writing
Arithmetic
Music
Geography
Sewing
Physiology
History
Reading
Agriculture
Drawing
Chemistry
U. S. History
Stenography
French
Cooking
Citizenship
Latin
Commercial Math
Botany
Algebra
Ancient History
Farm Crops
Business Practice
Geometry
Modern History
Bookkeeping
Typing
English Literature
Advanced Algebra
Solid Geometry

Quite a change from the "Three R's." Thirty-one courses, instead of three.

But this booklet was published to honor the dedication of Tecumseh's high school in the 1919-'20 school year, for the building now known as the junior high school.

THESE WERE THE CLASSES TAUGHT 41 YEARS AGO.

THOSE WERE the days of the Model T, when the nation was recovering from its first World War, and the atomic bomb didn't exist, even in scientists' minds.

Considering the changes the world has undergone since then, there have been few changes in the Tecumseh High School curriculum.

Some of the classes have been altered. For instance, physiology and botany both come under the present-day heading of biology, and stenography now is known as shorthand.

A few courses have sprung up to handle problems the grandparents of today's students didn't face. Farm mechanics, taught today, wouldn't have been needed when the farmers' horsepower was fed on hay instead of gasoline.

Other courses now taught at Tecumseh High School and not listed in the 1919 booklet are speech, Spanish, home management, industrial arts, mechanical drawing, trigonometry, physical education, physics, U.S. government, economics, consumer education, public affairs, senior problems and sociology.

Most of these are designed to help the student take his place in the community as a householder and voter.

These are some of the items which have been called "frills."

☆

BUT THE classes themselves aren't the entire story.

Today's students also have other services their grandparents didn't have — and for which their grandparents are helping to pay today.

One of these is bus service. Until just a few years ago, students reached school catch-as-catch-can. Elementary pupils walked or rode bicycles to school. High schoolers walked if they lived close enough.

Some of the older students drove cars, and in some areas the rural school district provided transportation.

Transportation was an expense for some, but it didn't appear on any tax bill.

How about the other "special services?"

High school athletic programs are attacked by many as an unnecessary expense. So are hot lunch programs.

But neither of these services is an expense to the taxpayer. Admission charges to the athletic events and the charge for lunches cover the expenses.

Occasionally one of these services will have a deficit, and require a small loan from the general school funds. But these loans are paid back from the next year's receipts.

Not only are they not an expense, they provide definite benefits to the community.

The sports program provides entertainment for children, teenagers and adults alike. The lunch program, medical persons have told this writer, has increased the health level of today's children.

It also helps use up government stores of surplus foods, which are donated to the districts operating hot lunch programs.

☆

ANOTHER SERVICE of the schools which is enjoyed by adults is the library.

Although the tax to operate the library is levied separately from school taxes, the school district collects the money and keeps the accounts.

The money is turned over to the Library Board, which decides how the money is to be spent — for books, salaries, maintenance and equipment.

Members of the Library Board are selected by the Board of Education to represent various segments of the community.

To qualify for state support, the district must collect at least .3 mill (30 cents per $1,000 equalized valuation) in local taxes.

To make up for delinquent taxes, the Tecumseh voters approved slightly more, .32 mill (32 cents per $1,000).

Rather than turn over their money in dribbles as the late taxes were paid, the Board of Education has given the Library Board the entire amount that would be reached if the .32 mill levy were paid in full.

Because the schools are so short this practice is not being followed this year. All the money collected under this special tax will be turned over to the library, but the school's general fund will contribute only enough to assure the .3 mill figure being reached, so the state money will not be lost.

Student Pleads for School Tax

TO THE EDITORS:

As a student of one of the many fine universities available to persons in our nation, I would like to express an opinion on the school crisis which now exists in Tecumseh, and which threatens to become worse.

How can anyone who loves his children or his nation, vote to cut into a basic education? How can he justify his actions? So what if it will cost 50c or $1 a week more to keep our city and nation secure?

If I were a home owner and able to vote, I wouldn't hesitate one second to dig a little deeper to insure this security. I would gladly pay the little extra for what it would buy.

If it hurt me as much as many fine citizens of our city say it will hurt them, I'd begin to look around and see what I could do without. I'm sure I could go without a new power mower, a set of curtains for the front room, or a new chair for the family room if I could help my children to continue to have the same opportunities that I have had.

With the current state crisis, which threatens to cut down on our universities and colleges, it is even more imperative that the people of Tecumseh dig a little deeper to secure their children's right to education.

If this state crisis continues, it will be necessary to start limiting enrollment at our universities and colleges. Is this what you want? Do you want to see your children refused a chance for a good, decent living because they lack the basic education to win spots at our selective universities?

How can people who claim to be staunch citizens of our fine progressive city threaten the security of the city, and nation, by no supporting the millage proposal?

On the same note how can people who call themselves conscientious citizens of Tecumseh endanger our school system and the future of their children by not voting at all? A vote not cast is the same as a vote cast against the proposal!

Therefore, it seems imperative to me that everyone get out and vote. The person who feels that it would, indeed, be an unfortunate thing to cut down on our very important education, is to blame just as much as the person who votes against the proposal, if he doesn't take the time to vote.

The responsibility rests solely on you, Tecumseh. There is nothing your children can do. As parents and conscientious citizens of Tecumseh and the United States of America, it is your duty to insure our current right to education.

How will you feel if this proposal is defeated?

More important, how will your children and your neighbors children feel toward you when they realize that it was your fault they were denied an adequate education?

Can you afford to live with this knowledge?

The alternative is so apparent. Go to the polls and vote to continue to give your children the opportunities they have a right to!!

Sincerely,
Michael B. Fero,
Michigan State University

500 TROUT—Hundreds of Tecumseh youngsters were delighted Saturday when local sportsmen dumped 500 rainbow trout into Evans Creek. Many were legal size. Stocking the stream here is Jim Fielder, watched by Skip O'Neill and Dick Creswell.

500 Rainbow Trout Planted in Creek

Fishemen, especially the youngsters, were delighted Saturday when approximately 500 rainbow trout were dumped into Evans Creek here in Tecumseh.

Hugh Donahue, instigator of developing Evans Creek as a site for young fishermen, says about 200 trout of legal size were placed in the stream and approximately 300 trout of the four and five inch variety.

Several large trout—the size you take pictures of, or talk about—were included. A legal length for trout is seven inches.

Practically all the trout are expected to be legal size by the end of the season. Several large ones already have been caught.

Two iron grates, or nets, have been installed to confine the fish to just west of the Evans St. bridge to about one block east of the Maumee bridge.

Saturday's planting was strictly experimental, since it's not definitely known whether the trout will survive in the stream. Plans for further development of the stream by the Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce are under way.

The trout cost $190 and were paid for through solicitations. Mrs. Joseph Rohweder was a major contributor. Persons interested in donating may still do so, since there's still a balance left.

Local sportsmen plan to post the stream 50 feet from each grate to discourage fishing in these areas.

The game warden also has been notified to check fishermen for trout stamps. Youngsters under 16 do not need a license or stamp

The Jaycees plan to develop the entire stream within the city limits and welcome any contributions.

STARTER FERTILIZER PAYS OFF, even though you have plowed down fertilizer this spring. The plow-down will be very effective once the growing corn develops a good root system. But you need nutrients that are readily available when the seed begins to germinate. Crops must get off to a good start for highest possible yields. Plants will make the most effective use of a starter fertilizer if it's placed in a band 2 inches to the side and 2 inches below the seed.

USE BACKRUBBERS for controlling flies on beef cattle this summer. The more cattle can graze undisturbed by flies, the greater gains are likly to be. Important thing to remember is to take backrubbers whose they will be frequented often. Resaturate backrubbers about once a week. Oils containing a 5% active ingredient of toxaphene, methoxychlor or DDT are suitable. Figure you'll need about 1 gallon for each 30 feet of cable that you have.

EARLY CUT HAY PACKS MORE WALLOP. It can produce 20% more milk compared with later cut hay. Why?—well, early cut hay contains more protein and total digestible nutrients. It's more palatable and cows will eat up to 30% to 40% more. Where possible, try to get alfalfa cut when it's about 1/10 in bloom, clover between ½ to full bloom and grasses when they are just heading.

TUNE UP YOUR TRACTOR. A good running tractor can save you a lot on the fuel bill. Check the compression of the engine—poor compression wastes power. Make sure your carburetor is well adjusted. A poorly adjusted carburetor may waste a quarter of the fuel you burn. Keep spark plugs cleaned and properly gapped and replace pitted points.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

An Independent newspaper, published every Thursday morning at 117 S. Evans Street. Entered at the Post Office in Tecumseh, Michigan as second class matter.

VOICE of THE HERALD

A Gentle Kick in the Teeth

We couldn't have been more pleased with last week's presentation of "Operation Abolition."

Not because a majority of the audience, after seeing the film and hearing a pro-and-con discussion, agreed with our thinking.

Rather, it was because of the great number of folks who attended—about twice as many as we had estimated—and the way in which they regarded the evening's theme.

Another reason we were so delighted was the manner in which panel members expressed their views and responded to questions. They were informative, unemotional, impersonal.

People came to find out what all the fuss was over "Operation Abolition" and it's our opinion they received that information and more.

The Herald was pleased to arrange this program for its readers.

We got a special charge Monday when we discovered that carefully viewing the whole procedure, via news dispatches, was one of our "big brothers"—he in the form of an editorial writer for The Blade of Toledo.

Our gathering drew a lengthy opus in the metropolitan daily—and each paragraph directly opposed ideas which we have previously expressed.

Blade editorial pundit Bernard Judy (and incidently a friend of both your publishers) noted, in part:

"During the panel discussion following the film, Wolfe (Maynard Wolfe of Toledo, who furnished the film) admitted, according to reports, that there were two "minor errors" in this version of student demonstrations against the HUAC in San Francisco a year ago.

"These errors—compounded by a number of gross distortions in the film—may be minor in Mr. Wolfe's opinion. But they are far from minor if viewed in their proper context as this account of the demonstrations, pieced together from carefully selected film clips, unfolds.

"There is more. One of the flagrant distortions in "Operation Abolition" occurs when the narrator says, "One student provides the spark that touches off the violence when he leans over a barricade, grabs a police officer's night stick, and begins beating the officer over the head." Just why that particular incident is not shown in the film is never explained.

"One answer was provided by a jury of 10 women and two men in San Francisco last week when they acquitted the student who allegedly carried out that attack. Likewise, in earlier court action all charges against 63 other students were dismissed.

"If the Tecumseh viewers, or any others, want to judge this film on its merits, or lack of them, let them view it in light of the facts shed on it in a 15,000-word report by the National Council of Churches published to correct the bias of this HUAC promotion. The "errors" and distortions the NCC spotlights appear to be more than minor," The Blade editorialist concluded.

In addition to Mr. Judy's well-written piece, the editorial page that day also carried a cartoon which lampooned the film.

Well, such is life.

We had an interesting visit Tuesday morning with Allan Seager about the "Abolition" session last week.

Mr. Seager said that the incident depicted in the film was "small potatoes" compared to the vast problem our nation faces in keeping communism from submerging us.

He advanced an excellent idea, which we immediately began to investigate. Allan suggested that we contact the University of Michigan Extension Service and request several top men from the political science department for one or two lectures in Tecumseh on such possible subjects as "the theory of Marxism" and "how world communism works."

Late that day in a call to Dr. Lynn Eley, assistant director of the "M" Extension Service, we learned that the university would indeed be happy to arrange any sessions we might wish.

We told Dr. Eley that as soon as we could determine how much interest there might be in such two-evening series for Tecumseh, we'd call again.

"How much?" was one of our questions. He responded that based on regular University policy there would be about a $50 charge per lecture, covering transportation, meals and the speaker's stipend.

We have already received some enthusiastic support for the plan and wonder how you may feel.

Tentatively, the two-session series would be staged on May 25 and June 1.

Your opinion will be valued, please comment.

President Lincoln Had To Call Draft

(Editor's note: The last article in Miss Waldron's series on "Tecumseh and the Civil War" concluded with mention of firey Mrs. Cynthia Spofford Bissell, a "gadfly of good causes" who undertook as a personal project, to make sure all eligible local men served in the Union uniform. The stories continues.)

Perhaps there was some justification for Cynthia's barbs, but most citizens were finding plenty to do. When the first enthusiasm had worn off, the hard facts of war had slowed enlistments until in 1863 President Lincoln had had to resort to the draft.

A series of quotas were levied by townships, varying in the case of Tecumseh from 39 men in October of 1863, through 32, 30 and 44 to 83 a year later.

The calls seemed to follow each other in rapid succession, and, while Tecumseh filled each quota with volunteers, these men were given financial inducements in the form of bounties.

Veterans—men who had already served for at least nine months—were entitled to $402, which included one months pay and $ clothing allowance. New recruits received $302 and the same allowances.

There were two, much criticized, loop holes in the system. A drafted man could buy exemption for that particular draft period by paying $300. Or he could hire a substitute (amount not specified) and be exempt for the length of the mans enlistment. If some Tecumseh men bought the exemption and probably some did—there is no record and presumably the price went to some volunteer.

However late in 1864, five men—Henry C. Conklin, Webster Anderson, E. B. Wood, Lucius Lilly and A. Hanford—published the fact that they had hired substitutes.

☆

TECUMSEH, which then always meant the township, not just the village, and which then included the area which is now Clinton, took much pride in the fact that every quota was filled by volunteers.

In fact the Federal draft authorities gave the township the highest volunteer rating in the state. Other places, notably Detroit, had draft mobs, but if there was a protest in Tecumseh it was no more than grumbling.

"War meetings" were held at intervals to decide how best to raise the money necessary to pay the recruits. In most cases it was voted to spread the amount on the tax rolls.

In the meantime, individual citizens pledged sums to underwrite the tax levy, thus making the money immediately available. It may be of interest to some of our older citizens to include a list of names signed to one of those "rally calls".

They were C. A. Stacy, A. Anderson, T. Cummins, W. Anderson, E. W. Wood, R. C. Moore, A. James, William Hayden, E. A. Tribou, B. J. Bidwell, C. H. Conklin, Lucius Lilly, B. J. Baxter and Moses Wright.

At these meetings, committees were appointed to handle the details and even Cynthia must have admitted that they had their hands full.

They solicited pledges and collected—not always as simple as it sounds—and paid the money over to the volunteers. Or to the volunteer's father as sometimes happened.

In addition, they acted as recruiters and shepherded their charges until they were safely mustered in. Some times this could be done in Tecumseh, but sometimes it meant a trip to Adrian or Jackson. The diary of one committeeman in Macon Township, William H. Osborn, lists his expenses on one of these expeditions and includes the item," 37 cents for cheese and crackers for the boys".

☆

IT IS OBVIOUS that the ways and means of filling the draft quotas was a local responsibility —a grass roots operation.

In fact the impression grows on the observer that, in large measure, this was a civilian's war. Parents and wives visited camps on the very edge of battle fields, taking gifts and messages.

They nursed their own men and assisted with others and brought their sick and wounded home to recuperate.

In August 1863, the Rev. Richart of the Presbyterian Church visited troops in Nashville Tenn., taking with him an open letter to all hometown boys.

It had been written by a committee who evidently took the responsibility very seriously for its lofty sentiments and flowery phrases filled two columns of fine news print.

No doubt it cheered the soldier boys, but reading it must have slowed the progress of the war.

Other church ties were also maintained for that same year, the men of the fourth Michigan, sent a contribution of $50 to be added to the building fund of the new Methodist church.

For in spite of worry, work and personal heartbreak, life in Tecumseh seemed to go on much as usual. Rather better than usual in some respects.

Just before the war, wheat had sold as low as 75c a bushel and wool for 25c a pound and less.

Under pressure of war needs the price of both began to rise until in 1863, they were $1.45 and 55c respectively.

Ironically the Union victory at Vicksburg sent prices down but as the war continued so did the rise in values until, by the middle of 1864, wheat brought $2.25 and wool $1 a pound.

Tecumseh's economy was geared to its agriculture and there was more money available than ever before in its history.

HENCE THE new Methodist church, which was built during the war, and those of the Baptists and Presbyterians completed soon after. Other construction also went on, including many comfortable, and some really imposing, new homes, both in the village and scattered through the surrounding country—all made possible by war, wheat and wool.

In last days of the year, 1864, brought to the country and especially to the middle west a weather phenomenon, which resulted in severe suffering to both military and civilians.

That autumn came to be known as the "fall of the long Indian summer".

Mild, pleasant weather lasted for months and on into the normal winter season. New Years day, 1865, the temperature rose to 70 degrees.

By dawn the next morning, it had dropped to 20 below zero. A blinding blizzard followed the cold and the country, caught unprepared, was paralyzed. Stock losses were heavy, but the worst suffering was endured by the troops in the field who were not adequately clothed or equipped for such cold.

'Communism' on the Map' To Be Shown

BRITTON — The Britton-Macon PTA meets Monday at 8 p.m. in the gymasium.

The program promises to be interesting with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rice of Tecumseh showing pictures of their second trip to India.

Following this, the Britton Farm Bureau will present the film strip "Communism On The Map."

This is an open meeting as are all PTA meetings and everyone is invited to attend.

Building character through understanding other people of the world is the program topic.

Student's Lawyer Says Film Now in the Creek

Beth Satterthwaite sent The Herald a clipping from the San Francisco Chronicle, adding that "My brother-in-law, Judge Fred B. Wood of San Francisco suggests this (be published in The Herald) for the sake of justice and truth."

The story concerns the acquittal of Robert J. Meisenbach, 23-year-old University of California student, on charges of starting the 1960 city hall riot by striking a policeman with his own billy.

The essence of the article is noted in the reprint of portions of a Toledo Blade editorial in this week's "Voice of The Herald."

The Chronicle piece closes with a quotation by Jack Berman, one of Meisenbach's attorneys, "This knocks 'Operation Abolition' into the creek and it nails the lies in the original police department report. Both are filled with falsehoods."

So states lawyer Berman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bidle have named their new daughter Lori Ann, born April 27. They have had several guests the past week to visit the new arrival and proud parents.

FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED . . . ATTEND CHURCH!

A child's gift is especially sweet. I wish that I could give this little girl something that would mean as much to her as her flowers mean to me. But I know that just now, I can't. For she won't recognize my gift until much, much later.

Then, I hope she'll look back on her memories of me and say, "The first time I ever went to church, I went with my Grandma. You know, I don't think she ever missed a Sunday at church in her life . . ."

Though I have missed a Sunday now and then when I was sick, or had to stay home with my young ones, I never have missed going to church if there were a way to get there. And this habit—a wonderful habit—is something that I've passed along to my son, and that I've seen him pass along to his daughter.

This is a priceless heritage. For having a regular place for the Church in one's life, from childhood on, gives one a faith that endures forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Miss Universe Hopeful To Be Picked in Contest Here

For the first time in the 10-year history of the Miss Universe Beauty Pageant, a Miss Lenawee will be selected and officially qualified to compete for the title of Miss Michigan, Miss USA and Miss Universe.

The Miss Lenawee Beauty Pageant is being co-sponsored by the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, Strand Theatre, Tecumseh Herald and Radio WABJ.

It will be staged on the evening of May 25 at the Strand by a director of Pageant Enterprises of Michigan.

All judges will be non-residents of Lenawee County.

Judging for the Miss Universe Contest is based entirely upon beauty, poise, charm and personality.

Any young lady can qualify, who is 18 years old and not older than 28, unmarried and a resident of Lenawee County.

Official entry forms may be secured at the above sponsors or at any of the Bancroft Cleaner outlets throughout the county.

The winner has an exciting schedule of events in store for her. Judy Richards, Miss Michigan of 1960, will attend the Pageant in Tecumseh when Miss Lenawee will be crowned.

Next, she will be whisked away to the state finals, where she will vie for the Miss Michigan title.

Should she win here, Miss Lenawee will go to Miami, Fla. where she will rival with the beauties of the world to compete for the Million Dollar Crown of Miss Universe.

"We believe that Lenawee County girls have beauty equal to any in the world. Wouldn't it be wonderful to have Miss Lenawee become Miss Universe," says Walt Nichols, manager of the Strand and the driving force in bringing the County Competition to Tecumseh.

MISS UNIVERSE OF 1960 — Linda Bement (center), who entered the internation competition as Miss Utah, and Miss USA, won the title of Miss Universe. This year, a Lenawee County girl will be chosen in Tecumseh May 25 and she'll go on to compete for the role of Miss Michigan and maybe reach the Miss Universe finals. Flanking the '60 winner are Miss Italy and Miss South Africa. Entry blanks for the coming contest can be obtained from the Strand Theatre, The Herald, Radio WABJ or at Bancroft Cleaners.

Viewers Express Opinions on 'Operation Abolition'

When the 550 guests of The Herald had viewed the controversial film "Operation Abolition" last Thursday and heard a panel discussion on the movie, each was given a ballot.

On it was the question, "What is your opinion of 'Operation Abolition' as regards to future showings of the film?" They had three choices from which to pick—for, against, undecided.

The guests were also invited to make comments and many of them did. Printed below are most of the remarks. In case of duplications, some unsigned comments were dropped.

Final tabulation: Yes—235; No—52; Undecided—44.

They Say 'Yes'

I believe it should be shown as not documented but as controversial to spirit our seeking of further communist activities. It should be qualified, but it should be shown.
R. E. LaPRAD
209 W. Chicago Blvd.

√

I think it is important that Americans see this film. It shows how communists are using American youth. Although this movie may be said to have errors, its shows the true fact of how communists are working in our country, and any true Amercian must agree that communism should not be allowed to spread in America.
JIM WILBAR
421 N. Evans St.

√

Is this house Un-American Activities Committee an asset or a detriment to our country? Is it a mockery to our courts? If it cannot accomplish what the committee was set up for, why is it permitted to continue? We do not ask for controversy. We want clarification.
MRS. ANN E. ZELLE

I think it is a very nice film, it should teach the kids of the community a few things on how to act if it ever does happen here.

I hope this film can continue to be shown. I also hope the appropriations for the House Un-American Activities committee can be doubled in the future.
JOHN L. KELLY

√

Even though it presents, at the best, one side of a problem, it should be shown. Bias is normal and we should use our own intelligence to determine how accurate it is.

In any event, it is one way to combat a canker in our midst and any legal or other method within the Constitution should be utilized.
AL RUSSELL

In listening to comments from people in the room, I'm convinced that too many people are ill-informed. They don't realize the danger that is present.

Is this hubbub just to gain interest in this picture?
Unsigned

√

Before we quote National Council of Churches and others we should find out about communistic activities in it and other so-called "Christian" organization which they really aren't.
Unsigned

√

The only "proof" we have that the riots were communist-inspired are the remarks accompanying the film. Thinking people should be allowed to make their own judgement. Suppression now, after all the publicity, would be more "controversial" than the film itself.
Unsigned

√

I think the film should be shown, but not as propaganda. It defeats its own purpose by not being completely honest and I think if the moderator showing this film would explain before showing, that its full meaning would be obvious to everyone and there would be no controversy and the message would be very clear to all.
Unsigned

√

I am for the film because I believe it can be used to awaken the people of America as to how Communism works and how a few persons can influence many and divert their true thoughts and motives.

Communism is no more than a Satanic force, and America is so called Christian nation. Therefore, we should flee Communism and turn back to God before it is too late because America could well be spanked as was Israel many times. The only answer is to get right with God.

Can we have a little spot of cancer and not expect it to spread? America, wake up, seek God before it is too late.
NORMAN W. FELLER
Box 443
Tecumseh, Mich.

This film should be shown to bring to mind the undermining of innocent people. Whether it's right or wrong, true or false, there's a possibility it could happen any place. My opinion is the same now as it was when some of these reels were shown on TV. It happened once and it could happen again. Why not keep reviewing the course of communism?
MRS. ROBERT MOHR
103 W. Brown St.

√

It is a truly controversial film. Both sides are shown to let the people decide. The students were right in wanting to be in the hearing room. They also got into being "duped." I think, though, that they could have been more content to just picket and listen to the loudspeaker placed outside.
JAMES OSBURN
512 Seminole St.

√

This film should be shown to everyone. The American people are natural-born optimists and few of us are aware of the daily war being waged against us in our country. This film shows one segment of this war.
WILLIAM MARX
Adrian

√

Needs a little re-editing and improved mechanics (especially of sound.) True or false, it is bringing the issue before the people of the country. This is definitely good.
JOE RICE

√

Criticism of the film, even though it has errors, surely brings much pleasure to communists.

If we want America to remain free, we better have more investigation by Un-American Committee of things not American.
MEL PARTRIDGE
206 W. Chicago Blvd.

The film seems to have interestd many people who might not otherwise have thought seriously of the threat communism is in our country and what communism really is. This would justify showing the film to me.
MRS. C. L. COOK
140 W. Brown St.

√

I would call there students "victims of mass inticement."

This film does put the American people in an undesirable position; however, instead of being idealistic, we must be realistic and accept certain facts as true.

We must also realize that communism is being spread by using all phases of pseuedo-democratic and unrighteous means and we must detect these clever means of deceit.
SUSAN HARRIS
116 W. Kilbuck St.

√

We need this information very much. It is very valuable to the American people.
C. G. HEIMERDINGER
Rt. 1, Clinton

√

As a parent, I feel it is our duty to consistently teach our children the facts about the enemy we face: communism. Then we need have no fears when they leave for college and come face-to-face with the evil of anti-freedom propaganda which is fed to them by these propagandists.
MRS. ROBERT HUNT
Rt. 2, Tecumseh

√

I think this film should continue to be shown to point out the threat of communist influence upon our youth. However, discussions pro and con, such as tonight's, will provoke thought as to methods of the committee in editing the film.
ORVILLE BISHOP

√

It is my opinion that this movie should be shown to every citizen of the United States of America as a precaution to prevent further growth of the Communist party. The fact that this film could be paritally incorrect does not, and will not, influence my opinion.
JOAN LANGHAM
705 Outer Dr.

√

How many people are conscious of the communistic stronghold in America? If this film helps to open the eyes of true Americans, then I say show it to all—young and old. You can't get rid of a "bad thing" by hiding from it.
MRS. CALVIN DIXON, JR.
404 Seneca St.

These Folks Voted 'Against'

If there are so many controversial errors in this film, why isn't a film of the truth forthcoming, not discounting that the communists are always seeking ways and young people are easily swayed. A truthful film would clean up this matter once and for all.
ELWYN MERZ
716 S. Occidental Rd.

√

This film isn't worth showing. The conversation in most of the film is unintelligible. There is no continuity. The scenes could have been from any mob group. Have seen many of same type on news reels and TV for years.
Unsigned

√

Worse than not allowing the public to view some of the workings of Communism, is to allow anyone to see a film which has been endorsed by a government committee and yet does not tell the whole story or the whole truth.

Is this not the same type of propaganda that the communists used, to put their point across without mentioning the workings against them?
Unsigned

√

I believe that it would give people ideas about communism that didn't have them before. I AM AGAINST "OPERATION ABOLITION."
LYNN GOMEZ
213 N. Pearl St.

UNDECIDED

I failed to get the point of this film in regard to the Communism that is taking place in this country. I believe we Americans should know more about this subject. We people do not know how they will approach us.
Donald Shourds
574 Grand St.
Adrian

√

Undicided

Film is misleading. McCarthy is dead! Thank goodness. Changed my mind after listening to discussion. Show it. The discussion following is very worthwhile.
Unsigned

√

But I do think, if these things are allowed to happen in this country, the communists will win without ever firing a shot. I would hate to think the committee is unable to arrest the leaders because of uprisings against them. It is time for people to help uncover these things.
Unsigned

√

If we could only be sure the film was true 100%—fine, show it. As long as all people are aware of the untrue facts it can't do too much harm to view it.
Unsigned

√

We need to be shaken out of our lassitude and be alerted to what is going on under our noses. But truth must prevail.
Unsigned

√

Rather than being undecided my opinion of the movie is that it should be shown with stipulations. If the movie is shown with a discussion following it, much as our city discussed the film, I believe the movie should be shown and people should now the facts and misconceptions. However, "Operation Abolition" shown and people should know neither should it be banned, for it actually happened and should not be hidden.
Unsigned

√

I see nothing wrong with it when it's explained as Mr. Wolf and Rev. Gresham did to us.
Only to be shown with honest discussion groups.
Unsigned

√

From what I have observed I am for it, although in further research I may think differently, since not all the facts were revealed. I think it was good that any errors in the movie were revealed and explained.
Unsigned

√

I am undecided since I don't really know all the facts. One shouldn't believe superficial facts and appearancs. The congressmen have said that the film was wrong.
Unsigned

√

I don't know, but may God grant that we never have to live under communism.
Unsigned

As a student it is hard for me to say if the film is really good or bad. I can see how these students were easily deceived and caught up in the fervor of the rioting. But if professional and reputable people and eye witnesses state that there are falsities in the film and the facts are misconstrued, then the showing of this film is serving no real purpose and solving no problem.

Therefore I hope for a better and less controversial solution to combat communism. All citizens truly desirous of rdding America of this communist stigma need to be shown the truth.
LINDA DEAN
Ridgeway

√

What the students did probably should not be approved. However college youth have often been accused of being apathetic in regard to issues of our times.

I believe that this incident is a good indication that the youth of America are concerned and should be commended for their concern.
H. LANG
Rt. 4, Adrian

√

Prior to World War I the sedition act was passed and suspicion was created among the American people. We have progressed economically but not mentally.

Again we are brought to a point where hate is again among the American people. The film has no purpose other than this.
ROGER WITTRUP
205 W. Chicago Blvd.

√

I think that the fundamental message of the film does a good job in portraying the dangers of Communism in America, but I don't think that this justifies any distortions. If the film is corrected, I am all for it, but not until that time.
ARTHUR COLLINGSWORTH
402 W. Brown St.

√

Because the film doesn't explain that it really is a falsehood It leads you to believe that the kids are really at fault.
MRS. MIKE GOMEZ
213 N. Pearl St.

I would prefer to believe in the character and minds in the majority of our youth and have faith in their ability to think for themselves and resist the Un-American and/or communism.
DOROTHY DABE
502 Stacy St.

√

The reasons I am against this film are:

1—It tossed the word "communist" around too freely.

2—It did not tell the reasons for the student riots.
PHILIP MILLER
408 Outer Dr.

I think this film is good only if it is discussed and explained like it has been tonight. However I feel the truth is bad enough.
MACY BEACH
210 Pine St.

√

"If the committee (House Un-Amrican) was going to put out a movie, it ought not be one in which members admit there are mistakes. It should not be doctored in any way. It should be clean as a whistle."
ALLAN SEAGER
309 W. Chicago Blvd.

√

I am all for the Committee on Un-American Activities. There are too many rigid freedoms in the Constitution. Freedom of the press has turned into a slanderous, cold and overbearing instrument of newspapers to merely sell their stories to a greedy-eyed, emotional public.

This also applies to freedom of the speech. I believe that these people who speak and act in an Un-American way should be held up to the public for analysis. Therefore I am in favor of the committee and not in favor of the film.
PAUL WILT
Rt. 1, Tecumseh

√

I think that this film should not be shown until all the errors are taken out.

As for the Un-American committee's investigations, I think they should not be carried on until they have amended the Constitution. It states that a person should not be made to testify against himself in the Fifth Amendment.

This film goes against the U.S. Constitution. It makes people testify against themselves when they shouldn't have to as it states in the Constitution.

This film contains errors of the greatest amount. It claims that people are communists, yet do they get a chance to defend themselves? No. This film does not show the true reason behind the riots and disorder and should not be shown.
LELAND GREEN
Rt. 3, Adrian

√

I resent the implication that those who (on panel) speak out against the film are "crazy." He also implied that the Rev. Robert Moon, a minister, who has written much against this film, is a communist.
JOSEPH H. MILLS
Berkey, O.

√

I think this picture is of bad taste. I am against communism, but I think some of our boys have much better films that will do more good against this dread than this film ever could.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

HOME, SWEET HOME

This time of the year there is so much happening that it is almost impossible to keep track of everything. I thought I was doing a fairly good job til the other day when Dad asked about mourning dove nests.

"Hit and miss affairs" I replied, "Usually just some twigs carelessly thrown together. Why?"

He then proceeded to point out such a nest—there was even a dove on it. I had apparently been so interested in the happenings this side of the creek—new birds, leaves popping out on the trees, Doctor's wild flowers coming up, etc.—that without realizing it, I had not noticed much that was going on elsewhere.

☆

OF ALL the places to build a nest the dove could hardly have picked a worse one. Precariously perched on some horizontal branches, it really looks as if it would take precious little to dump the whole thing into the creek. Somehow I think baby mourning doves would not prove to be the best swimmers in the world—we'll just hope they don't get dunked.

We have been trying to keep closer track of things lately and my, but Mrs. Dove is a faithful little thing. In fact, they both are. She patiently sits on the nest most of the time but when she does leave, he is "Johnnie-on-the-spot" and takes over until her return. They certainly must be tending eggs—wonder how long before they hatch.

Of course, for better than a month now, the robins have been busy with home construction. We can see none of their handiwork from our windows, but it has been fun watching them collect materials. During the last snow we had a most thoughtful bird.

Billfull after billfull of dried grass she presented for inspection. A big fat robin, with a mouthful of grass, standing in the snow makes quite a sight. For the two days that the snow lasted she did this but we have not seen her since. Guess maybe her job of cheering us up, making us believe that Spring really was coming, is over.

☆

FOR A WHILE we thought there would be some chick-a-dee nesting news to report. Beth had a pair of the cute tiny ones who were showing great interest in an old downy woodpecker hole. We still have chick-a-dees. It's the first time they have stayed so late in the season, but many times each day they come to the feeder and nibble at the sunflower seeds or suet.

What fun if our birds were the ones Beth hoped would raise a family in her tree, but I checked the other day and no luck. It might have been the same pair, of course, but she has seen no sign of nest-building lately. In fact, she hasn't even seen any chick-a-dees.

And now we come to the best, the most thrilling of all. Guess who is building a nest in the trellis in front of the window right next to the garage door? Mama and Papa Cardinal! Both are working at it and in true cardinal fashion, the work is progressing at a slow but steady pace. Each day they work a little and how convenient: They are using twigs from the honeysuckle bush itself. Nothing like having material close at hand, is there?

Mom laughed the other morning at Papa C. He pulled and tugged and had a terrible time with a little branch. He finally made it, though, and was, oh, so proud to hop with it to the nest. Apparently Mama C. has the last word about the "interior decorating," because only after she removed a dead leaf was the twig acceptable

☆

SO IT is that for a while now our car can't be put in the garage, venetian blinds at the window cannot be opened and we must be very, very careful about turning the light on.

After all, the cardinals are building their home sweet home right next to ours. We shall try to make them as happy as we are.

WILHEIM SPYCHER NEAR TIPTON FARM FEATURES SWISS COW BELLS

Swiss Bells on Stock Mark Farm

"The Swiss Cow-Bell Farm," owned by Wilheim Spycher of Tipton, was featured as last week's mystery farm. It is located on Kemp Rd. and derives its name from the half-dozen Swiss cow bells found there about the necks of their Brown Swiss cattle.

Mr. Spycher's parents settled in Michigan, having come from Switzerland. When Wilheim "Bill" Spycher visited in that country, he brought back the cow bells.

In addition to the 180 acres that Bill farms, he also works in carpentry.

This is evidenced in the many changes made on this farm, such as a new chicken coop, tool shed, combined grainery and corn crib, and remodeling of the home.

He and his wife, Anna, are members of the Farm Bureau. Their children, Diane, 13; Rosalie, 9, and Billy, "Little Wilheim", 5, are busy in 4-H activities.

Besides the cattle, the Spychers care for some 800 chickens.

Mrs. Don Woods was the first to identify the farm and receive two free passes to the Strand Theatre.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

LENAWEE COUNTY'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

SERVING TECUMSEH, BRITTON, RIDGEWAY, MACON AND TIPTON

VOL. 110 — ONE HUNDRED ELEVENTH YEAR — NUMBER 32 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1961 | 16 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

If you think you have troubles, pity poor Mrs. Harry Farley of Holloway.

Mrs. Farley, whose first name is Dorothy, volunteered to serve as our correspondent from that community last week and we said "fine", we've been hoping someone from Holloway could start news flowing from that direction once again.

So Mrs. Farley got busy, started calling all of her neighbors for news.

To them, Mrs. Farley reminded, "Watch for your story in this week's Herald." (Being the alert reporter she is.)

Well, the edition arrived in Holloway and not a single line by Mrs. Farley.

A mild disaster had once again struck in the plant — too much news, too little space.

So the Holloway column along with quite a few other items were left at "the post."

We, of course, felt badly.

But not nearly as much as did the red-faced Mrs. Farley, who learned in an awful rush how difficult the newspaper business can be at times.

"Where was my story?" she was asked in call after call. Poor Dorothy just didn't have the answer.

Here she was yet to have her first column in print and she was already catching the devil.

We're sorry, Mrs. Farley, and we apologize to your news sources.

Let's hope we're a little more on the ball from now on. (Oh, you hope so, too.)

☆

You'll find a full-page ad headlined "PEACE", prepared by a group who opposes the four-mill school levy in this week's edition.

They are putting a reverse twist on the slogan "WAR," which has been adopted by citizens favoring the millage.

WAR stands for "We Are Responsible." PEACE means "Practical Education and Controlled Economy."

The advocates of PEACE have chosen to use clips from The Herald in their presentation.

We always stand behind what we have written. However, it's important that one note when it was written and what has transpired since that time.

(Note: many papers lauded Castro three years ago, BEFORE he showed his true self. The same publications now rightfully condemn his actions.)

After you carefully check the PEACE ad, please return here and read the following comment.

Nearly one year ago The Herald editorialized: "The school board now has its work well defined. It must fine-tooth-comb the entire budget of $1,029,000 for next year, find out where it can be cut."

"There is a $53,000 deficit to think about, which makes the situation even rougher."

Parade Opens Safety Check

Tecumseh's biggest and gayest "Vehicle Safety Check" will be held here next week, beginning Tuesday when a giant parade will kickoff the festivities.

The parade promises to be one of the largest ever held here, according to chairman C. O. Butler.

Sponsoring organization is the Rotary Club.

Tuesday's parade will form at 4:30 at Oneida and E. Chicago Blvd. and then proceed west on Chicago through the downtown area at 5 o'clock.

Safety Check Queens and four school bands — Tecumseh High and Junior High, Boysville and Britton—will highlight the march

Also included will be a color guard, American Legion Auxiliary Drill Team, R. H. Moore as Chief Tecumseh, Scouts, new and antique cars, trucks and farm machinery, go-carts, golf carts, bicyles, business vehicles, fire department equipment and any others wishing to participate.

Those interested in joining the parade are requested to contact Mr. Butler or Tim Neill or Clarence Beach.

Those already in the parade are asked to call either of the three for their parade positions.

Each auto dealer will have a queen riding in a convertible. Judges will select the winner after the parade at the safety lanes on S. Pearl St.

The local dealers also will have an outdoor auto show on a vacant lot next to the safety lane.

Car owners are urged to have their vehicles checked next week —it's free and no reprisals of any kind by police are assured.

The safety lane will be open Tuesday 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.; Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and Thursday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Floyd Barrett has returned home from St. Joseph Hospital, where she had been a surgical patient.

Michigan Week Will Be Busy

Tecumseh will be a busy place during Michigan Week, which opens Sunday.

Following tradition, the annual state event starts on a religious note as churches throughout the area note the occasion.

Then follows the packed program:

MONDAY — Mayor Gene Jenison of Dowagiac will be in town in the first half of mayors' exchange. Banquet that evening at 6:30, Country Club, $2.50 each.

Speaker will be Dr. Walter Freeman. (Story on Dr. Freeman, second section, page six.)

TUESDAY — Student government day with Tecumseh High scholars running the entire city. (Story elsewhere on this page.)

Safety-Check parade and start of three-day program. (Story elsewhere on this page.)

WEDNESDAY — Mayor and Mrs. Harold Easton go to Dowagiac to be honored at banquet in Elks Club after tour of city.

THURSDAY — Canoe race from Clinton, down River Raisin, into Red Mill pond. Winner to be awarded prize by Miss Michigan.

That evening, Miss Lenawee County will be chosen for beauty pageant at Strand Theatre.

FRIDAY — Miss Lenawee will return to visit downtown stores.

BUY A BUDDY POPPY? — Mrs. Harold Meade and Harley Slick, chairman and co-chairman of the Veteran's of Foreign Wars, invite Tecumseh area residents to assist them with the rehabilitation of veterans and the care of their families by purchasing poppies this weekend. Volunteers will be in the downtown area Friday and Saturday. A window exhibit is on display in the window of Rushia's Apparel.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Here Is the Real Issue

One of the most controversial issues to arise in the five-year history of the Tecumseh School District reaches a climax Saturday.

That's when residents of the 86-square-mile district vote on a proposed four-mill increase in operating funds.

From the time the four-mill vote was announced on March 16, the issue has burned red hot.

Not even the $1,900,000 building bond issue — first major step after the surrounding rural districts had been annexed to Tecumseh—produced as much comment.

Some of the present opposition is tied directly with personal antagonism towards school superintendent Jim McDowell. Many who don't like him are making Mr. McDowell the issue, not the four mills.

This can dangerously becloud voter thinking.

Although not perfect in all aspects, Mr. McDowell is a dedicated educator. He has guided the School District through its re-organization and mammoth building program.

Mr. McDowell's public relations need improvement, but he is honest, skilled and devoted to the education of children.

We're not voting on Jim McDowell Saturday, rather we're passing our opinion on the future educational opportunities we wish the youngsters of this district to have.

Shall it be stiffled and weakened?

Shall it be kept on the present plane and strengthened in future years?

This is the real issue.

Economically, the question is simple. In 1951 it cost $171.47 to educate a child for one year. The state furnished 70% of the funds.

Today the amount is $306.92 per child, per year and the state now pays only 50%.

Voting will take place in the Tecumseh High School gymnasium from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m.

The Herald advocates that you vote "yes."

Candidate Considered for Chief

He Now Serves with State Police

Given the opportunity of being fired or resigning, George Kilbourn relinquished his post as Tecumseh police chief here last week by turning in his resignation to City Manager Ed Nelson.

Kilbourn's resignation climaxed months of friction at city hall where he and the city manager did not see eye to eye.

Early last year, Kilbourn was dismissed by Nelson but was reinstated by Council after appealing his case following a Council session.

Nelson reports that "most of the reasons for the action taken was that George Kilbourn has not taken police administration training, and if he had, there would not have been quite the confusion in the department."

The city manager also cited the former police officer as not being efficient in his operations.

It is now understood that a lieutenant in the state police is being solicited for the Tecumseh post and his acceptance or declination will be known this Saturday.

Liquor Permit Delayed

Routine matters were handled by Council at a short session Monday night.

Council delayed appointments to replace the late Mr. Titley on the Board of Supervisors and the Cemetery Board until the next meeting.

Youths Will Run Tecumseh

If citizens think a youth movement has hit city hall next Tuesday, they'll be right.

That's the day that Tecumseh High students are going to take over complete operation of the city.

In a hotly-contested election at THS, a slate of seven councilmen were chosen.

Jon Aho was named mayor.

The council will name a police and fire force, city manager and office force.

Just for good measure, they're also selecting co-editors for The Herald.

Serving in the Aho administration as council members will be Larry Titley, Tom Barton, Ron Lemerand, Janet Murphy, Harvey Spreeman and Helen Miller.

To help prepare the young people for their tasks, Mayor Harold Easton and City Manager Ed Nelson will meet with them this Thursday afternoon at 1 to explain functions and duties of city officials.

Visit Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams and daughter of Battle Creek spent the weekend with their daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ruhl Jr.

Miss Michigan Rejected $10,000

Judy Richard is a 20-year-old girl who turned her back on $10,000 and still can wear a happy smile.

A sophomore at Eastern Michigan University, Judy was crowned Miss Michigan last year and competed for the title of Miss USA in the Miss Universe competition in Miami Beach last summer.

When she won the state title, Judy was immediately besieged by offers for television shots, model jobs and various public appearances.

Such assignments could easily have netted the lovely Judy $10,000.

Yet it would have meant dropping out of school, so she refused.

That doesn't mean Judy was not kept busy playing the role of Miss Michigan. She has been doing it on a "part time" basis, weekends and during vacation.

For example, last Friday night she flew to the west coast to be on the Lawrence Welk show as a representative of Michigan Week

This weekend, it's a radio appearance on the Don McNeil Breakfast Club show in Chicago.

And next week, Tecumseh!

Judy will be in town Thursday, May 25 to help out as Miss Lenawee County is chosen.

The event comes during a three-hour stage show at the Strand Theatre and is attracting entries from young ladies, 18 to 28, all around the county.

The county winner will compete for the state crown now worn by Judy.

The Miss Michigan winner will travel all expenses paid to Miami Beach to compete in the Miss

VFW Poppy Sale

Tecumseh Veterans of Foreign Wars Post and Auxiliary will hold their annual Buddy Poppy sale Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Harold Meade, said, "While we well realize that people today are literally swamped with requests to contribute to many fund raising drives, we feel that the Buddy Poppy Campaign is one that cannot be ignored."

This is one of the few chances local people have of paying homage to those who gave so much for their country during times of war.

"If you give 25 cents for a Buddy Poppy, most of your contribution stays right here in our community, where the local post uses the money to help needy veterans and their families.

"One and one-half cents goes to the state VFW welfare program; one cent to the VFW National rehabilitation service; one cent to the VFW National Home for widows and orphaned children, and the remainder to cost of materials and to pay the hospitalized veterans who assemble the Buddy Poppies," said Mrs. Meade.

The VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids is an especially praise - worthy project, where the VFW has set up a model child village.

The children live in regular homes. The youths range from infants to high-school age youngsters. Five to ten children are housed in each home, supervised by a housemother.

Each child has regular chores, tends public schools, attndse a church of his own choosing and in general leads as normal a life as is possible without having parents of his own.

"It is because of such projects that the VFW has become an integral part of almost every community in the United States.

"Everyone in this community should join the VFW in making such projects possible by purchasing a Buddy Poppy," Mrs. Meade concluded.

THIS WAY, JUDY — Walt Nichols, manager o f the Strand Theatre, shows Judy Richards, Miss Michigan, how to hold a Michigan Week poster. Judy and Walt will be teaming next week in Tecumseh to help select Miss Lenawee County here. The photo was snapped at Metropolitan Airport, minutes before Judy boarded a plane to Los Angeles and the Lawrence Welk show. Miss Richards is such a busy gal, this was about the only time Walt could get to talk with her regarding the coming beauty pageant in Tecumseh. Story on page one.

Smothers Flames

Quick thinking helped save a River Acres resident Saturday.

When clothing of 63-year-old Russell T. Smith, 1103 River Acres Dr., was suddenly ignited in a freak accident, quick reaction saved his life.

Mr. Smith was preparing to burn off weeds near his home with a small flame thrower.

Under pressure of about 20 pounds, the hose to the nozzle of the unit ruptured, spraying Mr. Smith with kerosene, which quickly burst into flame.

His clothing afire, Mr. Smith smothered the blaze by rolling on the ground.

Then he walked to his home and his wife drove him to Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Doctors are now treating him for second degree burns around his left hand and third degree burns across his back.

His condition was reported as "real fine" Wednesday.

Mr. Smith's daughter, Mrs. Ralph Hiatt of Adrian, said that he suffers considerable pain, but still manages to joke with family members.

Mr. Smith has been affiliated with Tecumseh Products Co. as a manufacturer's representative for 20 years.

He operates a district office, which sells to compressor customers in Michigan and parts of Ohio and Indiana.

LONG & SHORT

(The deficit is now well over $100,000.)

The board and administration took nips, and slices out of the 1960-'61 budget midway through the year. These totaled $32, 727.-42.

Then, early in 1961 they made major slashes in the proposed spending for the coming year—taking out $67,423.

Of this latter amount, about $28,000 would be restored if the millage issue is OKed.

These major slices to the school's operating budget, we feel, satisfied demands for economy within the schools.

It's my opinion that further cuts dare not be made less we permanently injure the program here.

The editorial we wrote on July 14, 1960—nearly a year ago — made good sense then. It helped to prompt action, which was what folks wanted .

Now we can see that lopping off upwards of $100,000 isn't the only solution.

Our schools need more operating millage.

Program Hits 700 in a Row

Station WABJ of Adrian carried the 700th consecutive broadcast of a paid religious program, Sunday, May 7.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tecumseh, broadcast his first sermon in this series on Radio Station WABJ on December 7, 1947.

During the month of August the programs are taped so there will be no summer interruption.

The Rev. Bashore stated that this program on Radio Station WABJ offers a constant challenge to give the hundreds of listeners in southern Michigan and northern Ohio a meaningful message regardless of denomination.

Bashore Wants Citizen School System Study

Various aspects of the four-mill tax levy were discussed Monday evening at a town-hall meeting in the high school gym.

About 200 attended the session, arranged by Kiwanis, Rotary, Exchange and Jaycees.

A panel of Milton Porter, Herb Long, Art Eaton, Aden Mead and the Rev. B. O. Bashore answered questions from the audience.

Don Murphy served as moderator.

Mr. Porter said that the Tecumseh School district is not the only one in need of funds. The situation is common place in much of the area.

He said that Tecumseh is fortunate to have one of the best property valuations—more than $33 million—for a district its size.

The Rev. Mr. Bashore said he knew that half-day sessions would hurt, yet he felt a citizens committee should first take a year to study the entire system and then come up with recommendations.

He added that he put little value in the recent University of Michigan survey.

Mr. Eaton pointed out that Tecumseh was not operating on nine mills, since the district was actually going deep into the hole, as well as receiving gifts topping $300,000.

Industries To Display Products

A special feature of Michigan Week in Tecumseh will be the display of various locally-made products.

Six local industries will have downtown exhibits, which were arranged for by Dick Hicks, manager of the D&C store.

Castings and molds from Bruce Foundry will be shown in the windows of the Rosacrans Store.

A variety of refrigeration compressors from Tecumseh Products Co. will be on view at Baldwin's Hardware.

H. W. Tuttle Co. is exhibiting some of its heating units in the Adrian Federal Savings & Loan.

G & J Wood Products Co. will display in Eggleston's Jewelry window.

Marshall Coulter, who manufactures deer hunter's distress flares, will exhibit his work in Green's Men and Boys Wear.

Jack Morehouse, whose product is a fish scaler, will have a display at Gaston and Son Jewelry.

HERALD ADS PAY OFF!

School Articles Summarized

By MARJORIE COMFORT

For three months now your school writer has been digging into the Tecumseh Public Schools, trying to answer the questions many residents and taxpayers have been asking.

Dozens of reports have been examined, and scores of figures checked. Your writer has listened to the comments and explanations of city, township, county and school officials, and has talked with citizens from throughout the school district.

Here is a summary of the three-months' work:

Q. How do Tecumseh's school costs compare with its neighbors' costs?

A. Tecumseh's basic operating costs in the last school year were $289.02 for each child. This is $30 MORE than the lowest district in the county, Sand Creek, but $97.61 LESS than the highest, Adrain, and $29 LESS than the second-place school, Deerfield. The costs of Tecumseh, Britton-Macon and Blissfield are only $1.16 apart.

Tecumseh's costs are at least $34 BELOW the state average.

Q. Are teacher salaries too high?

A. The average salary for Tecumseh's teachers is $5,391.62. To this may be added the pay for extra-curricular activities, such as athletic coaching or sponsoring clubs. This brings the average pay to $5,471.50.

This is far less than Adrian, and less than Blissfield pays. It is $409 LESS than the state average.

Taking into consideration the facts that Tecumseh's class loads are larger than its neighbors', and that the school day and school year are longer here, Tecumseh's teacher pay goes into the lower half of the scale of Lenawee County districts.

Q. Are building costs too high?

A. Tecumseh has paid considerably above state average costs for its building program in the 1950s. Both the square - foot costs and per-pupil costs are above those of neighboring school districts.

Q. How did the school budget get into the hole?

A. Most of the school deficit came from spending general fund money to equip the schools, instead of asking for enough bond money in a vote to both build and furnish the schools. A part of the deficit came when the school year was extended two weeks, increasing costs by about $36,000.

Q. Why have my taxes gone up?

A. This is a combination of larger families, inflation and changes in the school district itself.

After marking time for 15 years, because of the depression and World War II, the schools throughout the nation started large building programs in the post - war years. They were needed to replace worn-out buildings and to make room for the pupils from the war years' "baby boom."

Teacher salaries, which had lagged behind the general economy, began catching up, increasing school costs.

Some taxpayers were in the enviable position of having their children educated in the Henry Ford experimental school system, which Mr. Ford himself financed.

Even those who operated their own schools had few expenses. There was no overhead for principal, superintendent or office workers.

The cost of educating elementary pupils is much less than for high schoolers, and the small districts sent their high schoolers to Tecumseh.

They had no bond debt for buildings, and state aid paid a large part of the school expenses.

State aid also at one time paid 77% of Tecumseh School District's operating costs. This has dropped steadily and now is about 51%.

Q. How good is the education Tecumseh's students receive?

A. Judging by the honors won in colleges across the nation, Tecumseh's students are above average in their accomplishments. This also is borne out by the scores received in nation-wide examinations.

Murph Reports

By DON MURPHY

Mayor and Mrs. Harold Easton, Mrs. Murphy and myself attended Senator Hart's Michigan Mayors Conference in Washington earlier this month.

Upwards of 100 mayors attended.

Senator Hart said that municipal governments should know more about "Federal Spending." He pointed out that there were many different kinds of Federal Aid that too many people did not know about.

He also said that there is a right way and a wrong way to apply for this aid, and if it is done the right way much money and time could be saved and still achieve the same results.

Right off the bat, Mayor Easton said, "If I had known that we could have saved ourselves a lot of time on our new post office deal."

This the Mayor said after he listened to the head of the General Services Administration explain that all procurements and sales of the Federal Government is handled through his office.

There is much interest in such projects as Federal Aid to Airports and Federal Aid to Education.

We came back with knowledge concerning many things and literature concerning all Federal spending and know that it will be very helpful when problems come up concerning any of the categories covered in this conference.

Mayors from Adrian, Hillsdale, Morenci and Dearborn were represented.

Church Also Will Perform Impossible

An ad in a New York paper had these words "We Specialize in Doing the impossible."

Then followed a list of difficult services, and a challenge to inquire about some other service that seemed impossible to do.

The Church specializes in doing the impossible, for it believes in man and the power of God to transform lives.

This will be the subject of the Rev. Allen Wittrup at Tecumseh Methodist Church, Sunday, May 21 at 10 a.m.

The Officers of the WSCS will be consecrated and there will be baptism of infants and children in the service.

At 3 p.m. there will be a class for new members. Persons desiring to unite with the Church May 28 will be present.

Mother's Day was observed at Tecumseh Methodist Church in the morning service. Over 110 mothers were present.

Mrs. Donald Sprague was the youngest mother and Mrs. J. R. Hill was the eldest mother present.

The Rev. Mr. Wittrup presented a potted plant to each one.

At the close of the service every mother present received a potted petunia in remembrance of the day.

Beauty

Unchanging beauty is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon "Soul and Body" to be read at all Christian Science churches Sunday.

Pastor Explains Ceremony

The Rev. K. F. Koeplin spoke to members of the Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid Society May 10.

The pastor explained the wedding ceremony as performed in the local church with emphasis on the character of music used.

Harry Hans, president of the congregation, made several requests on behalf of the building committee and church council.

A committee was appointed to provide drapes for the new parsonage.

Members voted to serve lunch after the dedication services for the parsonage in June.

Plans wre discussed for an annual appreciation banquet for Pioneer boys and girls and their leaders and parents. It will be held May 25.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wayne Kaiser, Mrs. Oakley Baxter and Mrs. Koeplin.

Spring Concert by Music Club To Be May 21

The Tecumseh Music Club will present its annual spring concert at the Baptist Youth House Sunday, at 3:30 p.m.

The Music Club Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Paul Brantingham, will sing three numbers.

There will also be a piano and duet. Younger musicians will be represented by the Honors Quartette from the High School Chorus and a select Clinton grade school chorus directed by Mrs. Herbert Dillon.

A feature of the program will be the presentation of the short American opera "Sunday Excursion". This is the light-hearted tale of two girls and two boys returning from an uneventful excursion, but the train ride home proves far more interesting.

This will be one of the few remaining times to hear the duet team of Linda Dean and Dan Harvey before they embark on their good wil ltour of South America with the Michigan Chorale.

Refreshments will be served following the concert. There will be no admission charged.

2 Eye Doctors Will Help Out on Glaucoma Test

Dr. Carl Benz and Dr. Landis Stewart will be present at the glaucoma test clinic here May 24 from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Tecumseh High School Gymnasium.

The Lenawee health department has arranged a series of clinics for people over 40 years of age under the direction of Dr. Eleanor Skufis, health director.

The tests are painless and take less than three minutes. Drops are placed in the eyes. There is no charge for the tests, which will be made by 10 Lenawee physicians.

The doctors will be assisted by registered nurses, members of the Auxiliary of the American Medical Society and the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Volunteers from local men's clubs will also assist.

These are four main points to remember about glaucoma:

1. It strikes after 40 in most cases.
2. It is difficult to detect in the first stages.
3. It can usually be checked if detected early.
4. It tends to be hereditary.

The signs suggesting glaucoma include:

1. Frequent changes of glasses, none of which is satisfactory.
2. Inability to adjust the eyes to darkened rooms such as theaters.
3. Loss of side vision.
4. Blurred or foggy (fuzzy) vision.
5. Rainbow colored rings around lights.

The best protection against glaucoma is:

1. Have your eyes checked at one of these clinics.
2. Have an eye examination at least every 2 years after age 40.
3. Better still, why not include it with your annual physical examination?

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Teacher Learns a Lesson

Fuzzy Goodwin may hold a half-dozen important positions around town—chairman of the school board included—but he's still the same modest fellow that I grew up with.

At the last PTA meeting, Fuzzy made a point of getting together with some new teachers. One of them, a lady with some strong ideas about education claimed that none of the others had gone to the right college—hers.

"Well, Miss, that isn't so bad," Fuzzy told her. "One of our board members didn't even go to high school, let alone college." "No! Who?" she said. "Me," he said.

From where I sit, some of us want people to be carbon copies of ourselves. But that just isn't the American way. Our heritage of freedom implies the right to be different, even in little things—like your choice of tea or coffee and my preference of a glass of beer. I say "be yourself" and no "studying up" to be like each other.

Win Nurse Scholarship

The announcement that Barbara Jane Maddux has been awarded the American Legion 40 et 8 scholarship highlighted the program following the banquet of the Future Nurses Club May 2.

The banquet was held in the high school cafeteria and marks the second anniversary of the event.

Larry Cote, Tecumseh chairman of the tag days sales for the 40 et 8 scholarship, announced that May 6 was Barbara Jane Maddux day according to Mayor Harold Easton.

The Future Nurses assisted with the sale.

Inez Boltz, president, introduced the officers of the club and welcomed Beth Satterthwaite, a guest.

Miss Boltz thanked Mrs. M. R. Blanden for her help and advice throughout the year.

A few of the projects the club accomplished this year, taken from Miss Boltz' summary are:

► Sponsoring a dance following the football game.

► Formal initiation of 32 girls in October.

► Planned programs with speakers from many varied medical fields.

► Making tray favors for the hospital at Christmas.

► Delegating active representatives to district meetings.

► Field trips to various schools of nursing and colleges.

► The adoption of a Burmese orphan.

This last project is the first of its kind undertaken by the club and both members and advisors feel it most worth while.

The little girl is seven years old, the daughter of an opium addict who left his wife alone with the children.

The mother went begging and when passing the Catholic School left the child with the sisters.

The school, operated by Catholic missionaires, is in Kentung, Burma, where 300 other orphans would also like to be adopted through the Foster Parents Mission Club.

Dan Harvey, accompanied by Dexter Bailey, sang "His Eye Is On the Sparrow" and Leslie Bennett also sang a solo.

Mrs. Mervyn Boltz spoke, thanking all who have helped the club this year and stating that this has been one of the most successful years of the club.

It was announced that more senior girls are entering nursing or related fields next fall than ever before.

Fifteen girls were introduced and told where they plan to attend school.

An invitation was extended to parents to attend meetings next year.

Dr. Patricia Wentz spoke on medicine as a career. She told of the attitudes that will bring success in the medical fields.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

Jim McDowell didn't like my letter last week. He says that there are inaccuracies in it and he thinks that the public should be informed that the information is biased.

It occurred to me that we might ask the voters to make a game of it and see who can find the most untrue statements in the letter. Perhaps we can offer a small prize.

I have no bones to pick with anyone connected with the school system. I was just trying to get them to go the second mile with us.

Really, I am not a person to talk poverty, but sometimes something tells me that it is time to analyze and evaluate. It depends on where you are standing as to where the light shines and the shadows fall.

In looking at things objectively I came up with the points that I made in the letter. As a result I am considered uncultural in my views, but it finally dawned on me that the things I've plugged for such as full time are teachers, an auditorium, etc. don't belong in the schools or communities — just libraries — but are reserved for us when we enter the mental institutions.

I know because I visited Ypsilanti State Hospital during Mental Health Week and our tour began in their worthwhile auditorium and the arts and crafts departments were tremendous.

Since nobody pays any attention to what I say, surely Jim hasn't anything to worry about. Furthermore, influential letters have appeared in your paper and, no doubt, that little pressure special with WAR at the top must have reached everyone.

Please ask every voter to think for himself next Saturday when he votes and surely we will come up with the right answer.

Sincerely,
Ruth V. Rentschler (Mrs. T.)
311 West Shawnee Street

P.S. By the way, don't you think that we should work toward another plan to finance schools that would be fairer to everyone? Maybe a plan other than taxes is around the corner. Take into consideration the increasing number of people who have compulsory retirement each year. Their income goes down, but their taxes go up.

—o—

TO THE EDITORS:

At the meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, May 12th ,it was voted unanimously to thank and commend you for your part in helping to bring "Operation Abolition" to Tecumseh, and for the publicity given to it in the Herald.

We feel that The Herald is doing its part in the fight against Communism.

Yours sincerely,
Hazel F. Dickinson (Mrs. F.)
Correpsonding Secretary pro tem.

—o—

TO THE EDITORS:

I, too, am a responsible citizen. I resent the implication by the group calling itself WAR, that I am either irresponsible or a Communist, just because I do not agree with their views.

I have a job which I thoroughly enjoy, but I am attending night classes at Adrian College two nights a week to become a teacher. Even so, I intend to vote "No" on the 4-mill proposal because I do not believe that either the school board or the school administration has sincerely tried to economize.

They have come to believe that all the luxuries and frill courses are necessities. At present my eighth grader is carrying only three basic courses, Math, English and Science, his other courses being Life Adjustment, Physical Education, Chorus and Shop.

Has the board or the administration suggested cutting one of these last four (my choice would be Life Adjustment!), or taking half an hour from each of two of them?

No indeed, they have tried to stampede us with threats of a 22 minute reduction of each class including the three basics. (From the Herald editorial of March 23.)

To me this just isn't good sense!

I feel certain that economics could be effected without cutting education at all. Some weeks ago the Chamber of Commerce sent a letter to the school board, offering to set up a committee of business men.

This committee would go over the financial condition of the school and see if it could not come up with some help in the present "crisis".

Even The Herald seems to believe that the school administration needs help in the business department and I quote from the Herald editorial of April 27 regarding Mr. McDowell. "Also, and this is admitted by him (Mr. McDowell) he needs help in the business department."

Why, then was this letter never brought up at an official board meeting? Why wasn't this offer of help accepted? Why did the board wait until the last meeting, and then ask for a citizens committee? Why have all these weeks been wasted?

My answer to these questions is going to be a "No" at the polls on Saturday.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Warren Sharpe
9255 Tonneberger Dr.

—o—

TO THE EDITORS:

In your editorials and your newspaper as a whole, you seem to support or be one of those people who promoted the "W A R" issue.

The writer or writers of "W A R" describe the methods of communists as a continuous systematic program of propaganda, infiltration and sabotage.

Your paper has promoted and been part of continuous propaganda which also seems to fit a systematic pattern, as it does not all reach the public the same day.

The little "WAR" pocket tabs must have been exclusive material since I didn't see any in the area where I work.

When teachers use school time to fill the minds of their students with "WAR" talk, then sends them home to try to "brainwash" their parents, this in my opinion is infiltration. In at least one case this turned a child against a parent. Isn't this sabotage?

I think the "WAR" issue insinuates that those who vote "no" are communistic or at least "pink". I think those who published the "WAR" issue have most efficiently described themselves.

How responsible are those who would gamble with a child's future? They infer that there may be other issues than the four mills that will sway the vote, but refuse to bring them out.

Three Russians Visit Brablec Farm

By FREIDA ROWLANDS

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. George Brablec and sons were hosts to three Russian students Saturday at their farm east of Britton.

The guests were escorted to Britton by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brablec of Roseville.

Carl is a Regent of the University of Michigan, where the students have spent the past year under the American Student Basis.

The Russians were:

► Lev Kostikov, 33, is married and has one child. He is an instructor at the Higher Technical Institute of Moscow.

► Valerie Postnov, also 33, married and has one child, teaches engineering at the Leningrad Shipbuilding Institute.

► Peter Arkhipov, 27, is married has two children and teaches English at Vilnius Secondary School.

Carl thought the men would enjoy seeing some American farming operations and farm living on an average American farm so he made arrangements with his brother, George, for the students to spend the day.

Unfortunately, the Brablecs could not show them any plowing, fitting, or planting because of the moisture in their ground due to recent rain.

☆

THE MORNING was spent touring the farm and inspecting the machinery, driving the tractors around the premises and riding a motor scooter, which they thoroughly seemed to enjoy.

They also enjoyed riding in the three passenger airplane which is owned by Pug the eldest of the three Brablec sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Simeck of Milan arrived in their plane and took them on short sightseeing air tours of the countryside.

When the guests were seated for dinner prepared by Mrs. George Brablec and Mrs. George Brablec, Sr. Lev remarked, "So much food, this is like Thanksgiving."

During dinner a discussion was held as to the vast differences in the attitudes of the majority of college students in the two countries.

It seems in Russia, after high school, the students work for two years in the field of their choice. Then if they are satisfied and capable, enter an institute which offers the same field of education on a formal basis.

They feel that in many many cases the American college student wastes from one to three years before deciding on the career he wishes to pursue.

☆

THEY HAD nothing but praise for the faculty and facilities of the U. of M., but felt that much of the time money and energy spent was in vain.

When asked what impressed them most since their arrival Leo replied, "The hospitality of the American people."

After their arrival in New York they toured the New England States, Niagara Falls and Philadelphia.

Upon completion of the college term they plan to visit Chicago, Miami and Washington D.C., then to Paris and home via jet.

They are expected to arrive in Russia about the middle of June.

☆

IN THE afternoon they visited the C. M. Brown farms, west of Ridgeway, and were greatly impressed with the 1,000 head of steers and the feeding facilities for them.

At the Lee Taylor farm on Pocklington Rd. they inspected machinery. Peter spent most of the time playing with the Taylor's three-year-old son Perry.

He told Mrs. Taylor about his two children, age one and two, and how much he missed them.

Lee remarked that he was worried that his four-and-a-half year old son would not recognize him when they returned home.

They witnessed the operation of acres of tomatoes bing planted at the Douglas Palmer farm on Centennial Rd.

Valerie spent much of the time there playing with Queenie, the Palmer's pet shepherd dog.

☆

THE REST of the afternoon was spent at an informal skeet shoot in the Brablec orchard and inspecting Carl's collection of shooting irons, among them a genuine Kentucky rifle complete with ram rod and powder horn.

Leo was then dressed as a cowboy with 10-gallon hat, boots, gun and holster and string tie. He looked the part of an American cowpoke as he posed for pictures and said, "Guess I better look up that place what you folks call Hollywood."

As the afternoon grew to a close and it became time to return to Ann Arbor the men seemed reluctant to leave.

They were most gracious in thanking their hosts and telling them what a wonderful day it had been.

PEACE

HERE IS OUR RIGHT TO BE HEARD

From The Herald Feb. 16, 1961

About midnight Monday, my partner Jim Lincoln was heading into Harvey's Grill for a welcome cup of coffee after covering the school board session.

A voice with a grin asked "Will you be able to sit down OK?"

"Why?" was his tired rejoiner.

"Well, with all those barbs you caught tonight I was just wondering?" There was quiet laughter.

The questioner referred to some statements made about The Herald to Jim during the course of the evening.

Our weekly wasn't on the meeting agenda, but it got attention —practically all adverse — for stories about the schools we have printed, going way back to last summer.

I realize the current school crisis has rubbed a lot of nerves pretty raw.

Like many a similar situation, tart remarks are said in the heat of a discussion, which under calmer conditions would be broached in more diplomatic terms—and chatted about amiably.

First of all, Jim and I aren't angry with anyone. We like the folks of this area. We're for the best possible educational opportunities for the youngsters — ours included — in this area.

We're also for a balanced school budget.

We realize the schools are in a bind.

We know that a budget deficit well over $100,000 is a problem which effects every taxpayer in the district.

We know that a solution can be reached, because we have faith in America, which may seem like a strange utterance, but come on along and I'll explain.

This democracy of ours is a rare bird.

IT CALLS FOR COMPLETE FREEDOM OF THOUGHT AND EXPRESSION.

A lot of times you and I would cheerfully throttle some uninformed character who blats out a statement based on hard-headiness, pride, perverseness — and pure stupidity.

Yet we don't.

He has a right to speak and we a right to refute him.

This workings of a democracy, although sometimes bitter to swallow, usually evolve into a good solution.

Although the guarantee of free speech also carries with it a responsibility to be honest and fair, this is often completely disregarded by many.

Freedom of the press also carries this responsibility, and I think you'll agree, it is seldom violated.

The newspaper of a community has the obligation to bring before its readers the things which affect them.

It must be truthful, informative and objective. This, Jim and I have and are doing.

In our VOICE of THE HERALD editorials and in this column, personal opinion has been expressed—and will continue to be spoken.

A newspaper is a sounding board. It actually can assist public bodies as they go about the vital function of charting a course for the future.

Giving possible plans and proposals a good public airing is healthy Americana.

This has been proven again and again over the 185-year history of our nation.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION AND CONTROLLED ECONOMY

PRACTICAL

The teaching of such subjects as to enable our children to fit themselves for a place in society, with the knowledge that our youngsters are not devoid of practical experience!

EDUCATION

To deliver to our children subjects which are basic to their intellectual, social, physical and moral growth and welfare and credit to some extent reliance on other favorable environment, such as home and church, to assist in the development of the whole personality.

CONTROLLED

The planning and execution of programs, within economic means, to give to our children the BEST possible educational guidance . . . the best not necessarily meaning the most or quantity not being confused with quality.

ECONOMY

The study and application of sounder programs of finance, including but not limited to a longer term bonded indebtedness with a financial administrator, and the freeing of superintending personnel to do a better job in the positions for which they were retained.

CONGRATULATIONS to the CLASS of '61

it's GOOD BUSINESS to... GIVE A GRADUATE A JOB!

Did You Know That . . . . . ?

The schools got one break this year. Because of the general slowdown in business and industry in the area, the pupil enrollment grew much less than had been expected. Only 77 children were added this year, although last spring the school administration was expecting around 225.

(Taken from column by Marjorie Comfort)

Will There Be Even Less Enrollment If The 4-Mill Issue Passes?

VOTE – but before you vote, ask yourself these questions:

Do we need four mills, why not one, two or maybe five?

When will the spending stop?

When will we need a new high school?

When will we need a new elementary school?

Has the school board taken every step to eliminate waste?

Why was a new school built without funds for furnishings and landscaping?

Why is it necessary to cut down only elementary school time?

Since Tecumseh already has a more extensive curriculum than other neighboring schools, would cuts in the high school affect our North Central standing?

Is it necessary to teach home economics to boys and shop to girls?

If it were a necessity to build additional schools in the past, as our administration advised us and consequently approved by voters, how can we possibly close them down now when we were told previously that we had to have them?

VOICE of THE HERALD

HERALD JULY, 1960

Writing Is on the Wall

The voice rang clear:

"We refuse to pay more taxes for schools. You'll have to find some other solution."

Speaking were the people of the Tecumseh District. The secret ballot carried their message.

The school board and its superintendent were their target.

There was absolutely no question about the reaction of the voters to the proposed two-mill levy. They said, "NO," and they meant it.

This throws the problem back into the collective lap of the board.

This newspaper had spoken wholeheartily in favor of the issue and advised people to OK it. We feel the sting of defeat, but not so harshly that we can't bounce back and review the matter from a new angle.

Folks don't want a new tax — because they can't afford to pay more. This is particularly true in rural areas, where school taxes go up almost $4 a thousand next year EVEN WITHOUT THE PROPOSED LEVY. If it would have passed, the jump would have been in the neighborhood of $8 more per thousand property valuation.

The school board now has its work well defined. It must fine-tooth-comb the entire budget of $1,029,000 for next year, find out where it can be cut.

There is a $53,000 deficit to think about which makes the situation even rougher.

But the writing is on the wall, bold and black. The board has no alternative, as far as we're concerned.

Citizens have said "NO" to more taxes at this time and they'll say "NO" in two months, six months and probably the next year.

This will be the long, hard road to travel, but businessmen, industries and households have been faced with the same problem from the Year One. It has been resolved before, it must be resolved now.
